

Sept 10 1976

The New York Times

LATE CITY EDITION

Weather: Showers likely today and tonight. Partly cloudy tomorrow. Temperature range: today 63-73; Thursday 60-79. Details, page D17.

XXV No. 43,329

© 1976 The New York Times Company

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1976

25 cents beyond 30-mile zone from New York City, except Long Island. Higher in air delivery areas.

20 CENTS

A Pattern of Partisan Support for Ford and Carter

FORD CARTER SUPPORTERS

People surveyed were asked if they think of themselves as Republican, Democratic or Independent. Those who answered Independent were asked toward which party they leaned.

(The height of the bars shows the percentage of registered voters in each category in The New York Times/CBS News poll.)

The chart shows that President Ford's support is predominant among Republicans and that Jimmy Carter's support rises steadily along the Democratic end of the spectrum. For example, 22 percent called themselves Republicans. Among these Ford had roughly a seven-to-one advantage.

Chart Shows Ford Trailing in Bid for 2 Voter Groups G.O.P. Needs

By R. W. APPLE JR.

President Ford is trailing Jimmy Carter by telephone during the week that ended Sept. 5, immediately before the formal start of the general election campaign on Labor Day.

The New York Times/CBS News poll was not designed to predict the outcome of the election but to analyze the thinking of the electorate as it stood early this month. Nonetheless it reflected the same over-all standing of the candidates as recent surveys by the Gallup and Harris organizations, with Mr. Carter leading the President by a margin of roughly 4 to 3.

Continued on Page A19, Col. 3

MAO TSE-TUNG DIES IN PEKING AT 82; LEADER OF RED CHINA REVOLUTION; CHOICE OF SUCCESSOR IS UNCERTAIN

KISSINGER IS CAUTIOUS

Discerns No Setback for U.S. Relations With China, but Sees Hazards in a Change

By BERNARD GWERTZMAN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9—Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said today that he did not think Mao Tse-tung's death would set back Chinese-American relations, but he cautioned that "when any historical figure disappears it is extremely difficult to predict everything his successor will do."

At a brief news conference Mr. Kissinger reflected Washington's uncertainty about the future in light of Mao's death. Officially, Secretary Kissinger and President Ford expressed confidence that the trend toward improved relations started by the Chinese leader and President Richard M. Nixon in 1972 would continue.

In Moscow, diplomatic observers said the death of Chairman Mao raised the possibility of a relaxation of tensions between the Soviet Union and China. Page A17.]

Kissinger Met Mao Five Times

The Secretary of State, who has met Mao five times since 1971, tempered the official optimism with the caution that because China was probably on the verge of major changes, the eventual trend of its policy could not be predicted with assurance.

"We have to remember that when a towering figure disappears from the scene, not even his successors can know exactly what the shape of events will be and it is premature to speculate as to what the future evolution should be," he said in answer to a question.

Mr. Kissinger, in a signal to Chinese leaders, said that since the opening to China, it and the United States had "created a durable relationship based on mutual confidence and perception of common interests."

Continued on Page A17, Col. 6

Mao Tse-tung is shown in 1969 at the Ninth Party Congress, proclaiming the triumph of his Cultural Revolution over disgraced President Liu Shao-chi.

Political Uncertainty in China

Natural Disasters and Reports of Indiscipline Leave Analysts Fearful of Forecasting Events

By FOX BUTTERFIELD

HONG KONG, Sept. 9—The death today of Chairman Mao Tse-tung comes at a time when China's political situation seems more uncertain than at any point since the end of the Cultural Revolution.

Over the last 18 months four other members of the nine-man standing Committee of the party's Politburo, China's highest decision-making body, have died, including Prime Minister Chou En-lai. Since last winter Peking has been preoccupied with a divisive political campaign, there have been growing reports of a breakdown in public discipline, and there have even been some isolated incidents of violent conflict.

There have also been other misfortunes for China. Last July parts of northern China were devastated by the world's worst earthquake in a decade, and both northeast and southwest China have recently been hit by strong tremors.

No analysts here believe that the Communist regime is likely to be seriously jeopardized by these troubles. But few of them would dare to forecast the shape of events.

The most likely course of events in China after the funeral, some analysts believe, is that a transitional collective leadership, following current party ranking, will emerge centered on the new Prime Minister, Hua Kuo-feng.

The tall, burly, crewcut Mr. Hua, a career party administrator, seems to have swiftly strengthened his grip on the levers of leadership in Peking. He headed relief efforts after July's earthquake and last week, in a major speech, he called for the strict restoration of law and order against "class enemies."

Background and Philosophy Cloudy

Little is known about Mr. Hua's personal background or political philosophy. But judging from his few public statements, he seems to share the pragmatism of his late predecessor, Chou, and yet to be keenly aware of the need to use some of the language of Chairman Mao's more radical followers, lest the party be further split.

Whoever emerges as the dominant figure, if anyone, it is possible Peking may not actually fill Mao's place as party chairman in the immediate future. For one thing, it would be a symbolic recognition that no one was capable of succeeding Mao. North Vietnam has never filled Ho Chi Minh's post as party chairman.

Moreover, Peking's leaders may find it

Continued on Page A16, Col. 3

INSIDE

Spending Limit Voted

Congress has voted to limit spending to about $413 billion, $13 billion more than President Ford has projected, in the fiscal year 1977. Page A18.

British Strike Threat

The British Government and its allies in the labor movement held meetings in an effort to prevent a strike that could damage the economy. Page D 1.

Medicaid Law

A new state law intended to prohibit kickbacks by clinical laboratories may actually have legalized the practice, city health officials said. Page E2.

Antiques	C14	Notes on People	D17
Art	C14-15, 18	Obituaries	D16
Books	C23	Op-Ed	A25
Bridge	C22	Real Estate	A23
Business	D1-12	Sports	B4-8
Crossword	C23	Theaters	C1-3
Editorials	A24	Transportation	D17
Family/Style	A22	TV and Radio	C24-25
Financial	D1-12	U.N. Proceedings	A6
Games	C5-8	Weather	D17
Music	C1-5, 9, 13	Weekender Guide	C1
		News Summary and Index	Page B 1

Ford Asserts Rival Would Create Peril To Defense of U.S.

By JAMES M. NAUGHTON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9—President Ford said today that Jimmy Carter's plans to reduce Pentagon spending and troop levels overseas would make it "impossible to have a defense adequate to maintain our freedom and the freedom of our friends."

Addressing the national convention of B'nai B'rith one day after Mr. Carter did, the President departed from a prepared text to read notes sharply critical of the national security positions of his Democratic challenger.

Says Carter Invites Crisis

Mr. Ford contended that the former Georgia Governor's proposals would, among other things, require the United States to rely on "a nuclear strategy of massive retaliation" and thus "invite a major crisis with our allies, including Israel."

Mr. Carter, meanwhile, took issue with Mr. Ford's remarks yesterday, in which the President embraced proposals for a constitutional amendment to limit abortions. The Democratic nominee said that he thought the sensitive abortion issue could backfire on any Presidential candidate who attempted to exploit it.

Even Mr. Ford's running mate, Senator

Continued on Page A21, Col. 1

AGREEMENT REACHED TAX REVISION BILL

House Adopts First Reform of State Levies in 35 Years

By EDWIN L. DALE JR.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9—House and conferees agreed tonight on all provisions of the sweeping tax revision act adopting the first major reform of the nation's system of estate taxes in final version of the bill, it was estimated to give the Treasury $1.6 billion more in revenues in the fiscal year thus meeting the demands of the Congressional Budget Control Act, which greatly augmenting the bill's revenue increase would rise to $2.4 billion from now, offset in part by losses from the new estate tax form.

Mr. Carter, meanwhile, took issue with Mr. Ford's remarks yesterday, in which the President embraced proposals for a constitutional amendment to limit abortions. The Democratic nominee said that he thought the sensitive abortion issue could backfire on any Presidential candidate who attempted to exploit it.

Continued on Page D17, Col. 5

Radar Images From Venus Depict Vast Area of Possible Lava Flow

By JOHN NOBLE WILFORD

Astronomers who have obtained the first detailed radar images of the surface of Venus say they reveal a possible lava flow the size of Oklahoma, an impact basin much like the moon and evidence of tectonic processes, similar to that which shaped the Earth.

Venus is completely enveloped in thick clouds, the radar images represent a relatively clear picture of the planet's surface, which appears to be covered by an area of about four square miles in the northern latitude. The most distinctive feature in the north of Venus, as shown by the radar, is a very bright Oklahoma-size area that the scientists said looked like a broad lava field. It appears to be a sharply defined feature overlying an older surface.

The scientists said that the area did not have a shape that might have been created by the impact of a meteorite, but instead seemed to be a result of processes internal to Venus, such as a volcanic eruption of lava. The feature has been tentatively named Maxwell, for James Clerk Maxwell, the 19th-century Scottish physicist.

Maxwell's surface appears extremely rough and apparently contains long parallel ridges.

Continued on Page A18, Col. 5

Panel on Paperwork Assembling A Litany of Constant Redundancy

By MOLLY IVINS

The Commission on Federal Paperwork convened in New York City yesterday to communicate on the feasibility of implementing a restriction in the ongoing paperwork flow.

The commission, which reports to both the Congress and the President, has been assigned the almost insuperable task of doing something about the sea of forms, applications and reports that threatens to engulf everyone.

The members of the commission seem almost awed by the dimensions of the paperwork problem: They estimate that paperwork and red tape cost the nation's economy $40 billion a year, not counting paper clips. But they are making inroads on the problem.

They have a way to go, as was shown by Philip Toia, Commissioner of New York State's Department of Social Services, who arrived trailing a 45-foot-long string of forms—the result of one year's paperwork on a single child in the program of aid to dependent children.

Clients Ping-Pong

The commission has been holding a series of hearings around the country, and this one focused on the paperwork in income maintenance programs.

James Reed, director of the Monroe County Department of Social Services, explained his department's procedure for Supplemental Security Income recipients. It was a five-minute litany of recipients getting ping-ponged between agencies, punctuated by requirements to fill out 22-page forms.

Tales of the labyrinthine inner workings of assorted New York welfare departments on a single child on Aid to Dependent Children.

Continued on Page B18, Col. 1

PARTY IN UNITY PLEA

Appeal to People Is Coupled With Delayed Disclosure of Chairman's Death

By PHILIP

PEKING, Sept. 9—Mao Tse-tung, the pre-eminent figure of the Chinese Communist revolution and the leader of his country since 1949, died today at the age of 82.

His death, at 12:10 A.M. after a long illness, left uncertain the question of who was to succeed him. There is no designated heir, nor is there anyone among his subordinates who commands the awe and reverence with which he was regarded among the 800 million Chinese.

Obituary article appears on pages A13-15; text of announcement, page A16.

The party leadership delayed the announcement of Chairman Mao's death for about 16 hours until 4 P.M. [4 A.M. Thursday New York Time]. The announcement included an appeal to the people to uphold the unity of the party that he had bequeathed.

Plea to Follow Mao's Policies

It said China must "continue to carry out Chairman Mao's revolutionary line and policies in foreign affairs resolutely."

It urged the people to "deepen the criticism" of former Deputy Prime Minister Teng Hsiao-ping, who was toppled in the power struggle that followed the death in January of Mao's closest comrade in arms, Prime Minister Chou En-lai.

After the disgrace of Mr. Teng, Hua Kuo-feng, regarded as a centrist, was made Prime Minister and First Deputy Chairman of the party.

Funeral music followed today's announcement broadcast over the Peking radio, and 2,000 people gathered in the vast Tien An Men Square, many wearing black armbands, some weeping. Flags fluttered at half staff.

'Internationale' Heard Across City

"The Internationale," the world Socialist anthem, echoed over the city from loudspeakers at dusk as bicyclists made their way home from work.

Eight days of memorial ceremonies were scheduled to begin Saturday and end Sept. 18 with the entire nation standing in silent tribute for three minutes but with trains, ships and factories sounding sirens.

The announcement said that no foreign leaders would be invited to Peking during the period of mourning.

Chinese embassies abroad, it said, would express gratitude to foreigners wishing to come, but would "inform them of the decision of the Central Committee of our party and the Government of our country not to invite foreign governments, fraternal parties or friendly personages."

It was believed the actual cremation or burial would be attended only by the

Continued on Page A16, Col. 1

Borman Son Denies Bribe at West Point

By CHARLES KAISER

WEST POINT, N. Y., Sept. 9—Lieut. Frederick P. Borman, a 1974 West Point graduate, categorically denied tonight that he had received $1,200 to change his vote on an honor-code board.

"It's completely false," Lieutenant Borman said of the allegation, part of an affidavit sworn to by two cadets who had been accused of cheating at the United States Military Academy here.

[Lieutenant Borman's father, Frank Borman, the former astronaut who is president of Eastern Airlines, said in an interview with The Associated Press that he had no intention of stepping down as chairman of a five-member special West Point review panel appointed by the Secretary of the Army.]

[Robert K. Koster, another cadet accused of cheating in affidavits signed by other cadets, said he had resigned from the Academy. He is the son of Maj. Gen. Samuel W. Koster, a former West Point superintendent who stepped down from his position after charges that, when he commanded the Americal Division in Vietnam, he had helped to cover up the alleged massacre by American soldiers at My Lai.]

Lieutenant Borman said that he had

Continued on Page A11, Col. 1

SAFETY INFORMATION: DADDY! Love, Doodles, & Lovers—Advt.

Capital of Laos Gets Food Again, at Least for the Time

By DAVID A. ANDELMAN
Special to The New York Times

VIENTIANE, Laos—There is food again in the small neighborhood markets that supply this capital city.

This contrasts sharply with the situation in July, when meat, fish, poultry and vegetables virtually disappeared from the streets and tables. With a drought threatening, their return could be just a brief interlude.

Laos, struggling to build a self-sufficient economy after decades of dependence on foreign food and foreign aid, is having a difficult time in the first year since the Communist victory.

Confusing directives from the Government, a halt in foreign assistance, the flight of hundreds of thousands of producers and merchants into exile and the sudden closing of the Mekong River frontier with Thailand, and natural disaster as well, have complicated the situation.

When it comes to feeding a family, if you are a Government employee—and the Communist-controlled Government is far and away the largest employer these days—there is a small network of cooperative stores that, though sparsely stocked, sell rice, tinned milk and a few other necessities at official prices.

Open-Air Village Markets

Most people, including the bulk of Government workers, rely on the small open-air village markets that have replaced the sprawling morning market in downtown Vientiane. They stock, though with great uncertainty and irregularity, the basics—rice, meat, fish, poultry, vegetables and sundries—at wildly fluctuating prices far in excess of anything in the Government stores.

A gray market, it is never officially sanctioned but is tolerated because, as the Government found to its chagrin earlier this year, tinkering with it is to risk famine in the major cities.

There is also a whole range of black markets, run openly by Indian and Chinese merchants who still peddle their wares, preferably for American dollars or Thai baht.

In one of the extralegal markets, the family of Boonsong has for many years been operating its rice stall on the fringe of the crowded and noisy area that is the largest of the neighborhood markets in Vientiane.

Expensive Meat and Fish

His wife, who sits behind the sacks, does not take in much money these days—less than 5 percent profit, compared with more than five times as much two years ago—but at least the stall is open after being closed for nearly a year on orders of the new Government.

The rice is costly, she conceded. While the official price is 4,500 kip ($4.50 at the black-market exchange rate: $22.50 at the official rate) for 100 kilograms (220 pounds), her rice sells for 6,000 to 35,000 kip, depending on grade and origin. Given typical workers' salaries in the range of 6,000 to 10,000 kip a month, it is difficult to see how a family can make ends meet if it goes to the black market.

Elsewhere in the same market prices are similarly high: buffalo meat at 600 kip a pound, sea fish at 800 kip, a piglet ready for raising at 3,500 kip and a slightly larger one at 10,000.

Residents of Vientiane bartering at the Nong Douang market. Despite prices considerably higher than in Government stores, most Laotians rely on these small local shopping places for basic foodstuffs.

Several old women squatting in a corner offer live chickens, their legs tied, for 800 to 900 kip apiece. The women said they came up from Pakxane, about 80 miles southeast of Vientiane, on the Mekong. "We must still ask permission from our local official," one woman said. "But at least we can come, so we can make a little money."

Sellers of vegetables and fish who pick up their wares from the ferry at Tha Deua, where ethnic Vietnamese merchants bring supplies over from Thailand, are also able to reach Vientiane.

For some time neither the trip from Pakxane nor the transfers at Tha Deua were possible—in the first instance due to regulations prohibiting travel in the countryside and in the second because of the closing of the Mekong frontier.

The travel restrictions reflected the Communists' fixation on self-sufficiency for each region. In Vientiane this took the form of orders for residents to grow their own vegetables, dig fishponds and raise chicks bought at special prices. It was not enough, and by early July Vientiane had extensive food shortages.

A Drought Is Feared

There is another element in the food outlook. In the area around Tha Ngone, one of the most fertile rice regions in the Vientiane plain, there are fears that the drought that has hit northeastern Thailand and much of Laos will reduce rice to the danger point later this year.

At the agricultural college at Nabong, Khamphou-Vissapha, an agronomist, said that this year's yield might be as low as a half a ton an acre—less than half of last year's. Though cooperative farms are being formed in the region to try to overcome the loss, there may be little surplus for the cities.

At the same time wide areas of the most fertile parts of the country, particularly the Plain of Jars, are virtually unexplored because of vast quantities of unexploded ordnance left after years of bombing during the Laotian civil war. Government officials said that clearing operations had begun, but there is little advanced equipment, so it may be years before the plain is fully reopened to farming.

Senior Communist officials, while acknowledging all the problems, attribute most of the economic difficulties to the sudden abandonment of Laos by the countries—not least the United States—that for so many years subsidized its economy, falling to promote the country's self-sufficiency that, the officials maintain, should be possible in view of the country's rich natural resources.

JERSEY TODAY

Colorful, young, with close-to-the-body fit, button placket front, button cuff and straight collar. Jersey knit of machine-washable cotton/polyester. Rust, beige, black, navy or brown. By Roland S, m, l, xl. 25.00. Men's Store, main floor, Fifth Avenue (212) MU9-7000, branches.

B. Altman & Co.

Mediterranean flavor
A delicious addition to any home. Features Dutch top with adjustable shelves and sliding glass doors. Tops a handsome four-door credenza. Wall unit measures 78" x 16" x 72". Reg. $740. Sale $649. Credenza alone, reg. $399. Sale $349. Traditional Occasional Furniture (D 421) 9th Floor Herald Square and your Macy's except First Bush. Sorry, no mail, phone or C.O.D. orders. Sent within delivery area only.

Macy's

we tailor
PURE CAMEL HAIR

Rich, lustrous camel hair...one of nature's luxury materials here presented in our own make sport jackets. Cut on our 2-button model in brown window-pane on camel ground, brown houndstooth on camel ground...also (not shown) camel herringbone pattern. $210

Our own make extension waistband
Odd Trousers of pure camel hair, $70

Use your Brooks Brothers charge account or American Express.

ESTABLISHED 1818

Brooks Brothers
CLOTHING

Men's & Boys Furnishings, Hats & Shoes

346 MADISON AVE., COR. 44th ST., NEW YORK, N.Y. 10017
111 BROADWAY, NEW YORK, N.Y. 10006
696 WHITE PLAINS ROAD, SCARSDALE, N.Y. 10583

ATLANTA
BOSTON
CHICAGO
CINCINNATI
DALLAS
DETROIT HOUSTON
LOS ANGELES
MIAMI PITTSBURGH
ST. LOUIS
SAN FRANCISCO
WASHINGTON, D.C.

SOVIET STATEMENT STIRS BEWILDERMENT IN BEIRUT

Special to The New York Times
BEIRUT, Sept. 9—Reacting with surprise to Soviet criticism of "ultra-leftists" in Lebanon, the Lebanese alliance of Moslems and leftists sent a delegation to the Soviet Embassy here today to ask if there had been a change of policy.

Lebanese right-wing Christian leaders acclaimed the Soviet stand, which was contained yesterday in an authoritative article in Pravda.

The article gave the first Soviet public criticism of what it called the "ultra-leftist elements" in Palestinian and Lebanese Moslem ranks, and said that they were as much to blame as Lebanon's radical right-wingers for obstructing a peaceful solution to the Lebanese conflict.

Excerpts from the article were given front-page display in most newspapers here today.

THE NEW YORK TIMES
229 West 43d St., N.Y. 10036 (212) 229-1224

Published daily, except on Sundays and public holidays. Second-class postage paid at New York, N.Y., and at additional mailing offices.

MAIL SUBSCRIPTION U.S. TERRITORIES

Yearly in Advance	$17.00	6 Mos.	$9.00
Yearly in Advance	$17.00	3 Mos.	$4.50
Yearly in Advance	$17.00	1 Mos.	$1.50
Sunday only	$7.00	12 Mos.	$17.00
Sunday only	$7.00	6 Mos.	$8.50
Sunday only	$7.00	3 Mos.	$4.50

Rates for other countries on request.

The Associated Press is entitled exclusively to the use of reproduction of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and most news items appearing hereunder. Rights of reproduction of all other matter herein are also reserved.

INTRIGUING IN ANY WEATHER: THE MISTY HARBOR® TRENCHCOAT ZIP-LINED

Crisp gabardine in the new longer length...ready for the chilliest weather in a zip with wool and nylon plaid lining. And eye the trenchant details: buckle-tapped sleeves, epaulets, windguards, British tan or black Daaron® polyester and cotton, 8 to 20. British tan for petites 6 to 16. $115 Rain 'n Shine, 3rd Floor.

GIMBELS

Buy it on your Gimbel's account or open an account at Gimbel's nearest you. Gimbel's Broadway at 33rd Street, 5100; Gimbel's East at 34th Street, 348-2300; also at Rochester, Paramus, Roosevelt Field, Valley Stream

SEND FOR FREE COPY OF CANDLE LIGHTING BLESSINGS & PRAYERS

CANDLE LIGHTING TIME
FRIDAY
SEPT. 10th
6:45
SABBATH ENDS
8:06

Barton's
Continental Chocolate Shops
80 De Kalb Ave.
Brooklyn, N.Y. 11201
Attn: Sarah Gold
THE NAME BARTON'S IS YOUR GUARANTEE IT'S KOSHER

FEAST ON A 7 COURSE DINNER IN A 94 YEAR OLD LANDMARK FOR ONLY 8.95

Free Valet Parking at Dinner

Luchow's
110 E. 14th St. 477-4600

LEATHER JACKETS $39
BLAZERS $39
TRENCHES $99

Reg. Retail $125-$200/Value

Buy Direct From Mfg. Must Continuously Sell Down Overstocks. Top Grain Leather. Many Models for Men & Women. Large Sizes.

LFO
380 Fifth Av. (36th St. Entrance) 8th Floor—Rm 803
Tel. 279-2463 Mon-Sat. 9-4

AUTUMN ESSENTIAL

A shirt-styled corduroy jacket this casual and versatile fulfills a real need in your fall wardrobe. Fully lined and well-endowed with pockets. Pure cotton in medium blue. Sizes 38-46. Regulars and longs. $60.

Please add $1.50 for mail orders.

First Floor Sportswear

FR. TRIPLER & CO.
Established 1886
366 MADISON AVE., AT 46TH ST., N.Y. 10017 • (212) MU 2-1760

Handwritten Arabic text: ١٠٠٠

Viktor I. Belenko, Soviet Air Force officer, being taken to Tokyo airport for a flight to the United States.

Soviet Pilot Who Defected on MIG Down to U.S. For Political Asylum

Special to The New York Times
CYO, Sept. 9—The Soviet Air Force pilot who landed a MIG-25 jetfighter in a field today aboard a commercial airplane to the United States, where he has been offered political asylum.
The Soviet Union, in an "official statement" delivered to the Foreign Ministry, immediately after the MIG and the pilot's arrival, said the pilot's landing "is clearly an act unfriendly to the Soviet Union."
The statement said that a "third party" is intervening in the affair.
The pilot, who is believed to be a possible ally to the United States, is intervening in the affair.
The pilot, who is believed to be a possible ally to the United States, is intervening in the affair.

THREATS FAIL TO END ARGENTINE CAR STRIKE

Workers Defy Arrest and Warnings of Reprisals—Some Plants Are Able to Resume Output

By JUAN de ONIS
Special to The New York Times
BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 9—Militant auto workers remained on strike today for higher pay in defiance of arrests and threats of strong reprisals against organizers of the strike by Argentina's military Government.

The protest movement in the automotive industries, which is the worst labor problem the military junta has faced since taking power in March, eased in some factories but was worse in others, particularly at Ford and Fiat.

Industry and union sources said there had been arrests of workers at the Ford plant, which was guarded by troops after workers who refused to carry out job orders were expelled, and at Chrysler. The Government viewed the continuation of the strike movement as a challenge to the authority of the armed forces by clandestine union leaders, linked to left-wing guerrilla movements, that are said to have penetrated key industrial plants.

The workers at the struck plants said they were holding out for higher pay because a 12 percent wage increase, granted by the Government last week, was far less than the rise in prices since wages went up last June.

Ford and G.M. Paralyzed
The auto workers have been the best paid industrial labor for a decade, but the average pay on the assembly is $100 a month due to a reduction in hours worked since a recession in auto sales began in April.

Some 4,000 workers went back to work at the two Chrysler truck and auto plants, but Ford and General Motors remained paralyzed. Ford published advertisements advising all workers who were not back on the job tonight that they would be discharged without severance pay.

In this showdown the auto plants have strong backing from the Government. The decree issued yesterday against the organizers provides a prison sentence of 3 to 10 years for promoting a work stoppage. The Ministry of Labor is concerned over the development of an underground labor leadership, representing Peronist and left-wing revolutionary groups that have formed a so-called General Confederation of Labor in the resistance.

Wreck Is Thought to Be Bonhomme Richard

By WALTER SULLIVAN
A British-American expedition believes it has found the wreck of the Bonhomme Richard, flagship of John Paul Jones, in 180 feet of water, where it sank after defeating the more heavily armed British warship Serapis in 1779.

It was during the battle that Jones, defiantly replying to a question concerning possible surrender, said, "I have not yet begun to fight!"

The battle took place off Flamborough Head, on the coast of Yorkshire, where Jones had been harassing British shipping. Both ships were heavily damaged and burning. The American vessel finally sank after the English captain had surrendered.

News of the discovery came in a telephone call from Sidney Wignall, a naval historian who has been conducting the search aboard the Decca Recorder, a highly instrumented survey ship of Decca Survey, Ltd. The ship, normally used in support of oil operations and other offshore activity, was loaned for the search.

Fisherman Helps Search
Mr. Wignall reported on the finding to Derek Goodwin of American International Media in Washington, D. C., who is serving as a spokesman for the venture.

While contemporary news accounts and historical records were used to narrow the area where the ship probably sank, the first specific clue came from a retired fisherman named Pockley. Nineteen years ago he hauled up an iron muzzle-loading gun with a swivel mount and with trigger guard and other fittings of brass.

On the trigger guard, which had resisted corrosion, was inscribed the date 1773. The location of the find pointed out by Mr. Pockley was near the outer edge of the "high probability" area deduced from historical records.

Dutch fishermen had pinpointed a wreck in that vicinity that had repeatedly snagged their nets. The Decca Recorder, equipped with side-scan sonar, located three wrecks there. Two, shown by the ship's magnetometer to be of iron or steel, may have been victims of World War I or II.

Ballast Yields Clue
The third was nonmagnetic except for certain areas. One was heaped-up ballast, still rising nine feet off the bottom. Additional magnetic readings, obtained at certain points along its 120-foot length, are suspected to be cannon. The indicated width of about 30 feet also conforms to the beam of the Bonhomme Richard.

Proof of the ship's identity must await the salvage of one or more cannon, or examination of the ballast or other preserved features. The tally of such items aboard the ship is known, to varying degrees of accuracy, from records of the Revolutionary War. For example, it is believed that the ballast consisted of 40 tons each of pig iron bars, stone, gravel and French shot.

In an effort to save the ship Jones had the heaviest cannon, capable of firing 18-pound shot, rolled overboard. The Bonhomme Richard had 40 guns, compared with 50 aboard the Serapis. Although the British ship surrendered it prevented Jones from attacking the convoy it was escorting.

The name Bonhomme Richard had been adopted by Jones as his translation of "Poor Richard." This was the pen name used by Benjamin Franklin, then minister plenipotentiary in France, which had provided the ship.

It is not clear whether an attempt will be made this year to dive to the wreck and examine it further. Specialists in underwater archeology, such as Mr. Wignall, usually refrain from blind dredging in such a situation lest irreparable damage be done to the find.

Mr. Goodwin said the project is low on funds and efforts to reach Mr. Wignall in England were unavailing. Mr. Goodwin reported that the sonar recordings and other records would be studied by Dr. Harold E. Edgerton of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, a pioneer in the use of sonar and photographs to locate and identify submerged wrecks.

Recent weather conditions off Flamborough Head have not been conducive to diving operations. After one of the calmest North Sea summers in many years the season recently turned stormy. As the Decca Recorder headed out on one of its last sweeps it met 30-foot waves and passed the mast of a newly sunken fishing boat protruding from the water, according to a letter from Mr. Wignall.

The project was given official sanction as part of the American Bicentennial celebration but received no federal financial support. It appears to have been primarily the assistance of the Decca company that made it possible.

Of sterling silver. A. Ball point desk pen with alternating bands of 14 karat gold. Blue ink one end, red ink the other, $115.
B. Plain polished sterling, ball point, $10.
C. Spiral-textured, ball point, $13.
D. Plain polished sterling, felt-tipped, $16.

TIFFANY & CO.
NEW YORK SPECIAL PHONE ORDERS: (212) 759-9110 • FIFTH AVENUE & 5TH STREET
ATLANTA • CHICAGO • HOUSTON • SAN FRANCISCO • BEVERLY HILLS
Add one dollar for shipping plus sales tax where applicable • American Express • BankAmericard • Diners Club

MY VELOURS SHIRT IS THE SOFTY OF THE RUGBY SET

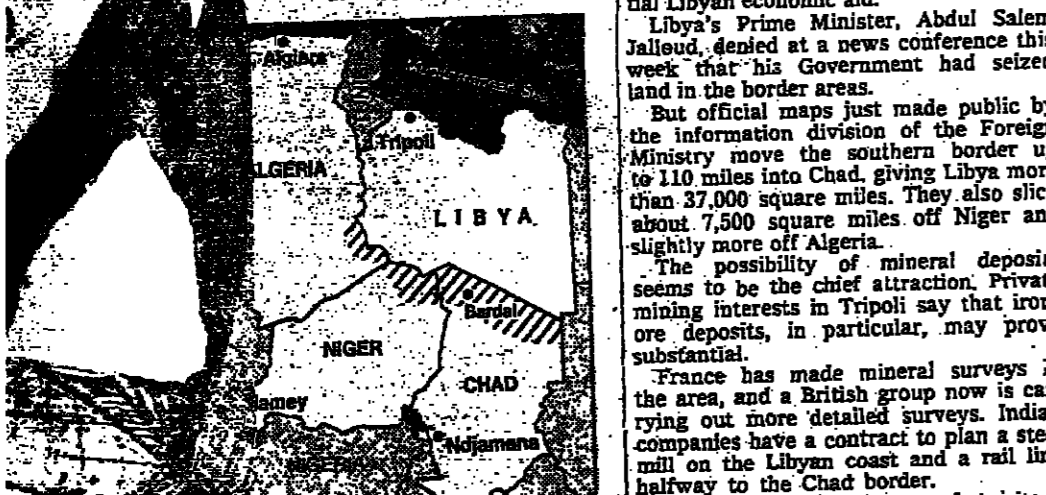

Can't get over that rugby look. And I love the sumptuousness of velours. So, naturally... it's a combo I can play with. And do. In multi-striped blue, navy, and white, or camel, brown, and blue, cotton and polyester. Small to extra large sizes, $30. Located at the Contemporary Shop, Sixth Floor. Call (212) PL 3-4000. Add sales tax on mail and phone, 1.25 handling charge beyond our regular delivery area.

We understand you at SAKS FIFTH AVENUE CONTEMPORARY SHOP
NEW YORK • WHITE PLAINS • SPRINGFIELD • GARDEN CITY

Libyan Maps Annex Some Territory

TRIPOLI, Libya, Sept. 9 (AP)—Without fare or protests from its neighbors, Libya has issued new official maps extending its southern border to take more than 52,000 square miles of territory from Chad and Niger.

The New York Times/Sept. 7, 1976
Shaded area shows approximate area added to Libya in maps.

2 Britons Get 8 Years in Soviet

MOSCOW, Sept. 9 (AP)—A Soviet judge today sentenced two British men, to eight years in a labor camp on conviction of having smuggled 73 pounds of marijuana into the country.

An engraving of the fight between the Bonhomme Richard and the Serapis, whose bow is at right, during the Revolutionary War.

Pearls so delicate and fine, you'd never expect this kind of chain reaction.

Rich toned, fresh water pearls from China. Each unique in shape and subtle shading. Spaced on 1/20 12 karat gold filled chains. 15" choker, 30.00; 24" strand, 50.00; 36" matinee length, 80.00 To wear one at a time, or all at once. A look whose time has come from Les Bernard. Fine Jewelry, First Floor
Mail and phone. Call (212) EL 5-2600 any hour. Add 1.35 outside delivery area and sales tax where applicable. Fifth Avenue at 56th, New York Manhattan Scarsdale Short Hills

Classic the Halston hat

Brown tweed speckled with soft autumn colors. The shape, pure Halston, pure Lord & Taylor style. By Commodore in wool and polyester, 20.00. Street Floor, Lord & Taylor. Call WI 7-3300. Fifth Avenue, Manhasset, Westchester, Garden City, Millburn, Ridgewood, Paramus, Stamford.

change our plumage
aring. Dashing. Guaranteed to tickle your audience. The feathered backpiece with its own little touch filled with varicolored feathers to change as you please. Sterling silver slide and tips on a cord to be tied long or short. Vicky Grossfeld or Zentall. 15.00. Jewelry, the Arcade, New York and fashion branches.
bloomingdale's
100 Third Avenue, New York. 355-5900. Open late Monday and Thursday evenings.

An Affluent German Explains Why He'll Vote for Social Democrats

By CRAIG R. WHITNEY
Special to The New York Times

DORTMUND, West Germany, Sept. 6—A 37-year-old market researcher for the third largest steel company in Europe can hardly be accused of being a Socialist. Yet Rainer Brenzinger gets up at dawn every Sunday to distribute election material attacking the conservative Christian Democratic Party's slogan, "Freedom instead of socialism."

Mr. Brenzinger is a Social Democrat, and he wants Chancellor Helmut Schmidt to win in the vote Oct. 3. He is also a symbol of a little-noticed but far-reaching sociological change in West German politics: academics and professionals now outnumber the "workers" in the traditional German workers' party 3 to 1. He isn't even a union member.

Millions of professional people like the Brenzingers began voting for the Social Democrats late in the 1960's, attracted by the promise to reduce international tensions with West Germany's Communist neighbors and to push for social reforms.

Party's Total May Drop

Mr. Brenzinger's enthusiasm has not waned, although there are signs that Mr. Schmidt's party will not win as many votes this year as it did in 1972. But many of the new class will stay with it, and Mr. Brenzinger wanted to explain why.

The Brenzingers—Rainer, his wife, Elfriede, who is studying to be an elementary school teacher, and their 6-year-old son, Christoph—live here in the capital of the industrial Ruhr. It is a workers' town, but theirs is a middle-class life style.

Mr. Brenzinger's father, a lawyer, became a Nazi party member and died on the Soviet front in 1942. "My mother," the young man says, "raised me and my brother to be critical and individualistic—and to be aware of injustice." She is now 74, living on a pension in Trier.

"I don't vote for the Social Democrats because they've brought me any material gains," Mr. Brenzinger says. "but my mother has been able to afford the $15-monthly charge for a telephone in the past three years because the Government has raised retirement payments—for the first time, she's been able to put aside a little money."

Mr. Brenzinger, a tall redheaded man, says he makes good money with the Hoesch steel headquarters in Dortmund, and they have two cars: He owns an Alfa Romeo sports car, while she uses a small, slow Citroën to drive to the university.

"I have to pay higher taxes now because of a lot of costly reforms that Social Democratic governments have put through," he said, "but I know from talking to colleagues in Holland that taxes are higher there. We get something from the state, at least, in return."

Cannot Afford a House

But for the moment, he says, he cannot afford to buy a home for his family, though he would like to. Their second-floor four-room apartment is spacious and cheerful, with an enormous picture window and a balcony overlooking a rose garden.

The scenery on the horizon is rather bleak, and typical of Dortmund: smokestacks, oil refineries, slag piles and rows of gray apartment houses built after the war. "We're both from the Moselle River valley," he said, "and Dortmund was a bit of a shock at first."

Mr. Brenzinger says he votes the Social Democrats because he supports their social reforms, and their policy of improving relations with the Soviet bloc.

"My mother always told us that my father joined the Nazi party because he couldn't see how the democratic parties in the Weimar Republic could solve the problems of unemployment and inflation," he said. "I believe we've been able to eliminate that kind of erroneous thinking with measures like providing for protection for people who lose their jobs. But if you're going to make social progress you have to keep changing society—and the Christian Democrats want to avoid that." His partisan view is that "the freedom the Christian Democrats pose as the alternative to socialism is the freedom the privileged classes enjoy, not more freedom for the underprivileged. There are a lot of little people in this country who don't have it easy," he said. "Small shop-owners, gasoline station owners, and so on have really very little protection from the big companies that supply them, and we could do more for them. I'm for a free market, but I know from my own work as a market researcher that when you have things like oil, and raw materials, the market really isn't free—it's regulated and even fixed."

"For me," he said, looking toward the vote, "the 'Freedom or Socialism' slogan is just a way for the Christian Democrats to fool people into voting for them. I'm proud of this country and I'm working hard to help Helmut Schmidt win."

now flannel has its fling. It's the time of year for plaid to go into its fall warm-up. In comfortable soft-napped cotton flannel. A multitude of excellent plaids to wear alone or over a turtleneck. Sizes S (14-14½), M (15-15½), L (16-16½), 10.00.

Undergraduate Shop, Young World, 2nd Floor, New York, and all fashion branches.

bloomingdale's
the undergraduate shop

1000 Third Avenue, New York. 355-5900. Open late Monday and Thursday evenings.

Usually you're quite practical.

But sometimes you let your fantasies go to your head in the most extravagant way.

A maribou cuffed chenille cap embellished with gold tassels.

The rich peasant topper from Don Kline in black, brown or salt and pepper, for one size, 40.00.

Millinery Salon, Sixth Floor

BONWIT
TELLER

No mail or phone please.
Fifth Avenue at 56th Street, New York Manhattan Scarsdale Short Hills suitable for boys only

The straight dope on what's what in fashion for boys. It's a showing by Calvin Clothing of the right, wearable clothes for the special times in a boy's life. Designer Jay Levinson will be on hand to help select the most becoming suit or sportjacket for the occasion. Meet him and ask his advice in our New York store Saturday, September 11 from 11:00 to 3:00, and with Mr. Gus SanFilippo in Garden City on Saturday, September 11, from 11:00 to 3:00. Young World 2nd Floor bloomingdale's/young world

1000 Third Avenue, New York. 355-5900. Open late Monday and Thursday evenings.

A Danish furniture system for children.

One your children can grow up with. One with endless possibilities.

Basically, the VAR system consists of three chest styles plus matching desk, leg and shelf units. But it really depends on how much desk, drawer or shelf space you need.

This furniture system is incredibly flexible. Plan your own version; components can be disassembled and moved with ease. Available in polished pine or red stain.

the children's room

318 East 45th St., N.Y.C. 10017 (212) 679-3535

Send one dollar for our brochure

PLEXIGLAS® & LUCITE®
BUY DIRECT AT THE FACTORY!

Saturday, Sunday &
Daily 11:00 - 4:00

ALSO FORMICA® PARSONS TABLES & MANY OTHER ITEMS
PLEXI-CRAFT, 195 Chrystie Street, N.Y. N.Y. 10002

SEND $1.00 FOR ILLUSTRATED CATALOG (Continuation of 2nd Avenue below Houston Street) Telephone: (212) 673-4550

YOU ARE HOW YOU FEEL

Feeling and looking good doesn't just happen. It's discovered. The Pleasurable Way To Fitness And Health At

The New York Health Club

12th Street east of 9th Avenue, 924-4600

1433 York Avenue corner 76th Street 737-6666

20 West 96th Street, 593-1500

*All rates are subject to availability. For membership information call us now. Club opening subject to all regulations, signs, etc.

MAKING YOU LOOK AND FEEL GREAT IS THE NEW YORK HEALTH CLUB'S TOP PRIORITY.

That's why we offer individual programs supervised by highly trained professionals and that's why we offer so many different and exciting ways to keep in shape, something for everyone: luxurious spa facilities, swimming pool, whirlpools, sauna, sun rooms, the most scientifically designed body conditioning equipment made AND 17 free classes daily in calisthenics, yoga, karate, swimming, dance exercise and more!

PRE-OPENING SPECIAL RATES

are now available. Because we are opening a new branch at 20 East 90th Street, a special savings of $110 is available now through Sept. 15th. (Applies at all three clubs.) Take advantage of the superb facilities and services of the NYHC 360 days a year for men and women for less than 75¢ a day. You can afford to be fit at New York's finest health club. You can't afford not to be.

TENNIS INSTRUCTION

Only $5.50 per half-hour of air conditioned practice courts. Introduce yourself to tennis or improve your game with semi-private instruction at The Village Courts, opening in October. Reserve now and save! Call 924-4600.

LAST WEEK! $110 Savings Offer Ends Sept. 15th.

Plant Shed 515 EAST 72nd BETWEEN YORK AVE. & RIVER Sale FRI. SEPT. 10 to Days TUES. SEPT. 14

FICUS BENJAMINA or DRACAENA MARGINATA

$9.99 EA.

WE ARE DIRECT IMPORTERS OF WOVEN BASKETS FROM ALL OVER THE WORLD AT DISCOUNT PRICES.

IMPORTED BASKETS $1.99 EA. 3 for $5 SPECIAL SELECTION FROM 6" x 6" TO 14" x 14"

THESE ITEMS NOT AVAILABLE AT WAYNE STORE NEW YORK 515 EAST 72nd ST. DELIVERY SERVICE AVAILABLE. Plant Sheds open Mon., Tues., Wed., Fri., Sat., & Sun. 11:00 P.M. - Thurs. 9 P.M.

Handwritten signature or note at the bottom of the page.

OFFICIALS

Social Democrats REPORTED KILLED AROUND CAPE TOWN

Force Against Racism Spreads Through Nonwhite Townships—18-Year-Old Is Said to Die

By JOHN F. BURNS
Special to The New York Times

JOHANNESBURG, Sept. 9—At least 18 were shot to death by the police as a ring of nonwhite townships around Cape Town exploded in violent protests against apartheid. It was the single day's death toll in years for the "colored" people, as the Government calls those of mixed racial ancestry.

An 18-year-old boy was said to have been among the 18 killed. The figure is the unofficial toll of three days of unrest. Because of a sense of solidarity with the victims, who all have white forebears, the bloodshed has spread to many whites here almost as fast as the widespread and continuing violence in South Africa's black townships, in which more than 300 lives have been lost since June.

There has been pressure for years, even from the ruling National Party, for a coalition of the 2.3 million colored people in a firm alliance with the country's 4.2 million whites, who are outnumbered by its 18 million blacks. However, the unrelenting opposition of the Government to any move toward integration was restated unequivocally last week by Prime Minister John Vorster.

Prime Minister Vorster, addressing a party conference in Bloemfontein, a center of conservative Afrikaner opinion, drew applause when he promised that "colored people" never sit in Parliament, which is reserved for whites. Parliamentary representation was one of the principal recommendations of a Government-appointed commission into the status of colored people, submitted in June and rejected.

Vorster said that the most the Government would offer was a Cabinet composed of representatives of the colored and Indian communities. He said that that council would have "a status" and would consider issues of common concern, but would not rule. The Government has previously rejected a number of other reforms, including equal pay for whites and nonwhites who do the same kind of work. Last week, hundreds of young demonstrators staging protest marches in the center of Cape Town were broken up by police. This week, the protests have been confined for the most part to the townships reserved for colored people in the areas of Cape Town and other parts of the Cape peninsula. The intensity of the protests has steadily grown, leading to frequent use of firearms by police.

12 Killed in Worst Outbreak

The worst of the day's violence came in Manenberg, a section of the sprawling township, under 10 miles from the center of Cape Town and within sight of the magnificent Table Mountain, which dominates the city. At least 12 youths were killed during the day, in addition to four who were killed overnight, all victims of police rifle and pistol fire. Some According to police accounts, killings occurred when riot squads fired on looters, most of them who had pillaged stores that had been looted and burned by demonstrators. Included in those incidents were a general store and two liquor stores. It was in those incidents that the 18-year-old boy was said to have died, the reports, carried in Cape Town newspapers, gave no details of his death. The nightfall violence subsided into clashes between policemen and demonstrators setting fires and trying to burn roads. But there was major trouble there on the peninsula, a wine-producing area where more than a million whites live, at least 200,000 of them in shanty towns. Reports have indicated at least a dozen such areas were burned, some of them 35 miles from Cape Town.

One of the areas hit hardest appeared to be the city of Paarl, 30 miles from Cape Town, which is famous for its wine, and grapes harvested by mostly by nonwhites at as little as $10 a week. The main business district was reported closed after hundreds of youths set shops and cars on fire. At another point, police were said to have fired birdshot at youths trying to storm a police station. One youth was reported to have been killed.

Deaths were also reported from Elsiesburg, in the eastern outskirts of Cape Town, and Grassy Park, a colored township that borders on white suburbs in the south of the city. What happened in Grassy Park was said to have been an eruption of violence that spread over the white areas of "Retreat" and "Smitsdal" last night.

Stellenbosch, 20 miles east of Cape Town, the police closed several roads leading to nonwhite townships after they stoned vehicles. Vehicles on the road through the Hellshoogte Pass, a scenic spot east of the city, were grouped in hourly convoys, under police surveillance, after youths had attacked cars and trucks with stones.

Meanwhile there were reports of unrest in several black townships around the country. In Alexandra, a township in Johannesburg's northern suburbs, the 18-year-old boy was said to have been a member of a gang, armed with clubs and knives, that was attempting to keep students from going to school.

In Kimberley, the diamond-mining city in the center of the country, police clashed with a crowd of about 700 students, but no deaths were reported. In Umtata, the capital of the Transkei "homeland," a hostel at a girls' school was burned down.

3 Journalists Held in Soweto

JOHANNESBURG, Sept. 9 (Reuters)—At least three more black South African journalists were detained by the special security forces today in Soweto, the black township outside Johannesburg. This brings to 10 the number of black newsmen taken into custody in the last month. The three men were identified as Willie Khehla, 28 years old, a photographer, Jan Mokoena, 22, a reporter, both of The Daily Mail, and Duma Ndlovu, a reporter for the black newspaper, The Star. The Rand Daily Mail quoted the security police as saying that Mr. Khehla, Mr. Mokoena and Mr. Ndlovu were being held for repatriation under the Internal Security Act.

59th Street. Photograph by Peter Fink

New York

classic

Lord & Taylor

glamour in gabardine

For the unpredictable, mysterious woman who follows no voice but her own. Our dinner suit to glide through the night with elegant ease. Blazer, vest and lean pants from Kirkland Hall in aubergine or midnight navy wool, 6 to 14, 160.00
Third Floor, Lord & Taylor—Call WI 7-3300
Fifth Avenue, Manhasset, Westchester, Garden City, Millburn, Ridgewood-Paramus and Stamford.

we're convinced that you... and have adjustable... Y's largest collections... wood veneers and white... All in stock. If you're...

march

AVAILABLE PRICES NEW MODELS

Teletron Plus - 14" Color TV All on Sale

315

365

SOUNDS LTD.

61-62 N.Y.C. 834

DISCOUNTS - GIFTS

LOOK AND... GREAT IS THE NEW... CLUBS... SPECIAL RATES... 30 East 50th Street... $110 is available... of all three... separate facilities... day a year... New York's finest beach...

INSTRUCTIONS

110 Savings Office Ends Sept. 15th

Criminal Justice Courses Urged By Black Police Officers' Group

By THOMAS A. JOHNSON
Special to The New York Times

ARLINGTON, Va., Sept. 9—The newly formed National Organization of Black Law Enforcement Executives urged today that all American high schools offer courses in criminal and social justice and that the nation establish equitable and uniform penalties for convicted criminals. These and other recommendations by the more than 60 senior black police officers from 24 states were included in a package of more than 30 goals set by the group in an effort to insure equal treatment of minorities under the law.

The black police officials, each above the rank of captain, formed their association yesterday after agreeing that the expertise of senior black law enforcement officers was needed in the nation's war on crime and that it was not being utilized at present.

More Black Police Sought

Their two-day meeting at the Twin Bridges Marriott Hotel was sponsored by the Joint Center for Political Studies, the Police Foundation and the Federal Law Enforcement Assistance Administration. Their planned discussions centered on ways to reduce crime in black communities.

Other recommendations by the group included lateral movement into police positions by blacks in other fields, an increase in the recruiting of all ethnic minorities into police departments, the creation of a civilian complaint process for all police departments and the development of programs to sensitize police forces in dealing with ethnic minorities. Others included an all-out national war on narcotics, sanctions against foreign countries producing narcotics that are sold in the United States, a ban on handguns and an enlargement of both crime victims assistance programs and police-community relations efforts.

"Too often the police and the community are so busy fighting one another that the criminal slips through both groups," declared Reginald Eazes, Atlanta's commissioner of public safety.

The new association's chairman, Hubert Williams, the Newark police director, said that the association was of vital importance to both blacks and to the nation. He said in an interview: "We intend to address basic issues of criminal justice because the way the country is moving, the civil liberties of all Americans are being jeopardized. The old ways have failed—it is time now for new voices, new policies and for legislation that is progressive and aimed at making the system work for all America's people."

Rhodesian Blacks' Main Grouping Reported Split Up

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania, Sept. 9 (Reuters)—The African National Council, an umbrella grouping formed to unite Rhodesian black nationalists, has broken up, a nationalist leader said here today. The Rev. Ndabaningi Sithole, president of the Zimbabwe African National Union, said at a news conference that his group had decided to pull out of the council. The Sithole organization takes its name from what the nationalists call Rhodesia. The African National Council was formed in December 1974 at a conference of nationalist leaders in Lusaka, Zambia. Mr. Sithole said he was now formally withdrawing his signature from the Lusaka declaration, drawn up after that conference. He said further that the Zimbabwe African Peoples' Union, led by Joshua Nkomo, had already withdrawn from the council.

Lag in Military Activity Decried

The Rhodesian movements now seem divided once more into the factions that were united by the Lusaka declaration. Mr. Sithole said that the nationalist leader Bishop Abel Muzorewa now heads what remains of the council. The Lusaka declaration, Mr. Sithole said, had been followed by nearly two years of "confusion and unproductiveness," adding that "the A.N.C. was supposed to have brought unity, but in fact it has caused more divisions."

He said the creation of the council had held up military activities for a long time, that the council had formulated no political or military strategy, and that some factions thought the enemy was opposing nationalist groups, rather than the white Government of Rhodesia.

The overall grouping, he said, was unable to control the guerrillas fighting in Rhodesia, and they had no confidence in the council's leadership. Mr. Sithole said

The U.N. Today

Sept. 10, 1976
GENERAL ASSEMBLY
Special Committee on Decolonization — 10:30 A.M.
Committee on Review of U.N. in Disarmament — 10:30 A.M. and P.M.
Third Conference on Law of the Sea: First Committee and Third Committee — 10:30 A.M.

Tickets are available at the podium desk, in the main lobby, United Nations Headquarters. Tours: 9 A.M. to 4:45 P.M. of those dissident guerrillas, "Eswatini has proved them right although many are long dead because of our mistakes."

sloane's new concept in floor decor:

color-scheme

YOUR OWN RUG

select from over 35 area rug designs to be hand-crafted for you in your choice of 35 different yarn colors.

Exciting new way to create your own one-of-a-kind color scheme in your choice from a brilliant collection of contemporary rug patterns. Come pick your favorite pattern—there are more than 35! Then pick the yarn colors you prefer for each color area in the pattern. Result: a magnificent rug that's exclusively yours because you color-schemed it yourself. It will be hand-crafted for you with thick plushy pile of 100% sturdy nylon in your choice of sizes and shapes. Prices vary according to the number of colors you choose. For example, one group ranges from 149. for size 4'x6' to 699. for size 9'x12'. Come see them at Sloane's and create your rug today!

Third Floor, Fifth Avenue, and all stores.

Convenient credit facilities available. We accept the American Express card.

For expertise and a superb selection, consult our Interior Design Studio on Four and all stores. Or call 695-3800, ext. 270.

W&J SLOANE  FIFTH AVENUE at 38th
garden city • manhasset • white plains • paramus • short hills • red bank • jenkintown • stamford

Fifth Avenue • daily 10 to 6 • Thurs. 10 to 6 • Short Hills, Stamford, White Plains, Garden City, Manhasset • daily 9:30 to 5:30 • Monday & Thurs. 10 to 6 • Jenkintown & Red Bank • daily 9:30 to 5:30 • Wed. & Fri. 10 to 6 • Paramus • daily 9:30 to 5:30 • Sat. 10 to 5:30

Handwritten signature or note in a box.

MAJORSKA

the VODKA for all seasons

Sale

Lightweight nylon to go
Save on roomy travel bags, each with full length zipper, 3 hangers, secure tablock closure. Black or cocoa. The man's holds 3 suits, regularly 25.00 now 17.99; the woman's holds 6 dresses, regularly 27.00 now 19.99
Luggage, Seventh Floor, Lord & Taylor, WI 7-3300
All Lord & Taylor stores

Lord & Taylor

OUR NEWEST STYLE... (READY FOR) IMMEDIATE DELIVERY Imported Scandinavian Furniture

BEDROOMS / LIVING ROOMS
DINING ROOMS / WALL UNITS
RECLINERS / DESKS / LAMPS / RYA RUGS
TEAK / WALNUT / ROSEWOOD

Come and see... then compare!

Scandinavian Imports Inc.

25 MIN. G.W. BRIDGE OR LINCOLN TUNNEL
374 Route 46, Parsippany (Westbound) N.J. / 201-227-3367
PARSIPPANY SHOPPING PLAZA
Open daily - 10 to 9 / Sat - 10 to 6 / Closed Wednesday

WE SHIP ANYWHERE IN THE UNITED STATES.

Up
The U.N. T
 Sept. 10, 1976
GENERAL ASSEMBLY
 Special Committee on Disarmament — 10:30 A.M.
 Committee on Peace-keeping Operations — 11:30 A.M.
 Third Conference on Disarmament — 10:30 A.M.

DETROIT NEWSPAPERS CIRCULATION WAR

Appointment of an Editor at News Sets Stage for Long Struggle to Reverse Diminishing Sales

By REGINALD STUART
 Special to The New York Times

DETROIT, Sept. 7.—The recent selection of an executive editor by the largest afternoon daily newspaper, Detroit News, has set the stage for a difficult struggle by The News to reverse its diminishing circulation lead over its fiercest competitor, The Detroit Free Press, the state's only morning daily paper.

The News, which has seen its daily circulation decline over the last decade by more than 100,000 copies, has started publishing a morning or "early" edition to compete with The Free Press. Scheduled at midnight and in circulation by 11, the "early" edition is being sent to regions of the state that have long considered the domain of The Free Press and have been ignored by The News.

In its morning edition already rolling off the presses, The News will soon be led by William E. Giles, a 49-year-old news executive who recently retired from The Dow Jones & Company, the financial research and publishing organization.

The New York Times/Andrew Szasz
 Detroit News editors checking front page of new "early" edition.

to overhaul its news operations. Giles, who says that he will earn an aggregate salary in excess of $100,000 a year, was hired last month after a nationwide search that lasted more than a year.

Giles, in an interview, characterized himself as "a stranger in town," unfamiliar with Detroit's people and the newspaper. But he added: "I do have a lot of experience to draw on in an area of reporting and writing. The Detroit News does not have experience in bringing them a different point of view. And if you can improve your product, then you can attract more readers."

Mr. Giles was understood to have presented The News with proposals for improving the paper's operation, but he declined to say what his plans were. The marked shift in the activities of The News comes as at a time when The Detroit Press is eating into The News's wide circulation margin in the city and retail zone. The conservative afternoon paper's circulation of 630,000 on weekdays and 816,000 on Sundays is now an average of just 44,000 a day more than The Free Press. The gap was once as large as 125,000 a day.

The shift also comes at a time when newspapers have been losing circulation in the inner city because whites have been moving to the suburbs and blacks have not had much interest in the news. While the objectives of The News with respect to covering Detroit, the nation's largest city, are a subject of heated debate here, the paper is putting millions of dollars into its expansion effort geared to people who live out of the city.

Editors Are Screened
 At a cost of more than $30 million, The News has modernized its printing and distribution operations and moved into suburban Sterling Heights. To estimate its drive to build circulation outside the city and retail sales zone, it is hiring dozens of people for its sales and distribution organization.

The search for an heir apparent to Mr. S. Hayden began in the spring of last year. Initial speculation was that the job would go to Paul Poorman who had served as managing editor for six years under Mr. Hayden. But that speculation ended in June 1975 when Mr. Poorman resigned from The News shortly after learning that he was not the sole contender for the job. He is now editor of The Ohio Beacon Journal.

Top editors of a number of major daily newspapers in several major cities were screened for The News by Ron Curtis Company or by Mr. Hayden or Peter Clark, the former Yale economics professor who is publisher of the paper.

In their search for an editor, they found there were many people whom they did not care for and vice versa.

"I thought it was the right job with the right title with the right money on the wrong paper in the wrong city," said editor of one major paper who had been seriously considered for the job.

Mr. Giles, who is editor in residence at the School of Journalism of Baylor University in Waco, Tex., will join The News in January. He is expected to be named editor of The News next June after Mr. Hayden, an employee of the paper for 46 years and its editor since 1958, retires.

Mr. Giles, who started his career with The Jones as a reporter for The Wall Street Journal, one of its publications, was the first editor of The National Observer, another Dow Jones publication, for a decade in that post. He was named to the company's management committee. He retired from the company this summer.

MY NEW REEFER SHIFTS INTO REVERSE.
 HOLD THE HOME FIRES—
 I'M GOING OUT.

I used to despise the shiver season. Until Rena Rowan for Jones New York came along. Now I can't wait to stand off the snow in this warm and wondrous garb. My legs adore plaid flannel. To match the lining of this two-faced trench. All this front stitching and poplin pockets. Tied buttoned over wide-ribbed mohair—a turtleneck to be snug in. Trench in a navy, orange and inroon plaid wool. 4 to 12 sizes, $125. Wool flannel pants in a matching plaid, sizes 4 to 12, $42. The turtleneck comes in magenta or dusk, wool, mohair and nylon, sizes small, medium, large, $42.

Young Dimensions Sportswear, Seventh Floor, Call (212) PL 3-4000. Add sales tax on mail and phone. 1.25 handling charge beyond our regular delivery area.

I'm going to SFA today, to meet Rena Rowan and see the other marvelous collectables she's done for Jones New York. Informal modeling from 12:00 to 4:00.

We understand you at Saks Fifth Avenue

for graduate assistance

...and graduate assistants.
4 answer-machines from Rockwell

A. 64 RD. Scientific slide rule. Large, bright 12 digit display. Scientific notation, algebraic logic. Memory, polar co-ordinations, degrees, minutes, radians. Log, trig, square root, reciprocal functions. Complete with batteries and carrying case. 40.00. Optional adaptor, 10.00.

B. 44 RD. Extra large 9 digit display. Algebraic logic, scientific notation, log, trig, square root functions. Complete with batteries and carrying case. 27.00. Optional adaptor, 10.00.

C. 24 RD. Four key memory, large 8 digit display, percent key. Algebraic logic. Figures square roots, discounts. Complete with battery. 19.00. AC adaptor optional, 10.00.

D. 24 K II. Electronic calculator with 4 key addressable memory. Figures square roots, percents. Complete with rechargeable batteries, adaptor, ball point pen all in a handsome billfold with space for credit cards and check-book 35.00.

Radio, Television, 6th Floor New York and at Bergen County, Chestnut Hill, Fresh Meadows, Garden City, Jenkintown, Manhasset, New Rochelle, Short Hills, Stamford, and White Plains. Mail and phone orders filled. We regret no C.O.D.'s.

bloomingdale's

1000 Third Avenue, New York. 355-5900. Open late Monday and Thursday evenings.

Fresno Newsmen on Prison Farm Develop an Insight Into Freedom

By WALLACE TURNER
Special to The New York Times

FRESNO, Calif., Sept. 9—The scene is surreal. The four men in badly fitting white trousers do not look like prisoners. The place is not like a prison. The guards seem more like attendants.

Above all else, no one has the look of a martyr, suffering to support an abstract principle that means more than freedom.

As they laughed and joked today with C.K. McClatchy, editor of the newspapers that his family publishes here and in Sacramento and in Modesto, the four men seemed merely to be sharing camaraderie with the boss at a company picnic.

The jovial visit took place in a pleasant setting of neatly trimmed lawns surrounding new one-story brick buildings.

The cordial guards served lunch to Mr. McClatchy and other visitors. But the cold truth was that this was the Fresno County Prison Farm. And George Gruner, the 51-year-old managing editor of The Fresno Bee; James H. Bort Jr., 51, the newspaper's ombudsman; William K. Patterson, 49, the legal affairs reporter, and Joe Rosato, 34, the county government reporter, were in jail with no release date in sight.

Concern Behind the Jokes

Behind the jokes there was concern. Mr. Rosato was deadly serious when he said over soup in the guards' lunchroom: "You don't appreciate personal freedom until you're under somebody else's control."

The "Fresno Bee Four" can go free immediately if they are willing to tell Judge Hollis Best of Fresno County Superior Court how they obtained secret grand jury testimony last year.

They will not do so. One of them promised that the source would not be disclosed. Mr. Gruner and Mr. Bort said today that they never knew the source.

A series of three articles in The Bee last year described the testimony. Mr. Patterson and Mr. Rosato wrote the articles; Mr. Gruner and Mr. Bort edited them and ordered them published.

When Mr. Patterson was asked if he had talked with the source lately, he conferred with Mr. Rosato, who thought over the question and then said, "The source has been seen lately, but not about the case."

All four of the newspapermen testified under oath that the information about grand jury testimony had not come to them from a lawyer or court official or other person bound by a so-called "gag order" issued 13 months ago by Judge Denver C. Peckinpah, who since has retired.

Lawyers and court officials who handled the grand jury transcripts also testified that they had not made them available to The Bee reporters.

What Order Provided

The judge's order was directed to prevent discussion of what was happening in grand jury hearings where evidence had been taken about local corruption in awarding a garbage collection contract. It did not forbid a newspaper such as the Fresno Bee to publish matters about the grand jury testimony.

Fresno newspapermen charge that the courts have failed to discover through lawful inquiries what happened and have turned to extra-legal steps by holding The Bee employees hostage.

In Washington, the Reporters Committee for Freedom of the Press has called the jailing of the four newsmen "an outrage" and an attempt by the court to use the press as an investigative arm of the court.

"I wouldn't have done it any other way," said Mr. Bort, when asked if he felt that mistakes had been made.

The four are still newspapermen. Mr. Gruner told Mr. McClatchy, "I've been reading the paper carefully, and I wish you'd do something about those typos."

Appeals Court Ruling

However, the State District Court of Appeals held that it was legally proper to try to coerce the newsmen into telling how they had got the grand jury testimony despite the sworn testimony that no violation of the judge's gag order was involved.

The California Supreme Court and the United States Supreme Court have refused to interfere with the contempt process in this case. So on Sept. 3 the four newsmen went to jail.

The newsmen hope for a hearing in 10 days on the question of whether their continued "coercive incarceration" is likely to force them to disclose how they got access to the grand jury testimony.

Get set for Fall at Altman's in your Times, Sunday, September 12

Our new 64-page book of sales and news for your home. Plus fashion, the family, beauty, beauty, lots more. If our magazine isn't in your Times, we'll send you a copy. Write to J. D. Russo, B. Altman & Co., P.O. Box 18, New York, N.Y. 10016

ADVERTISEMENT

JUDGE SPIEGEL

"has demonstrated superior ability, scholarship, and judicial temperament. He is one of the most respected and highly regarded members of the New York State Supreme Court"

-CITIZENS UNION

In the 5 way Surrogate race, CU has preferred SAM SPIEGEL and one other to the rest.
Committee for Spiegel, 381 9th Ave., N.Y.C. 10018
Treasurer Sol Ostrofsky

ADVERTISEMENT

PERCY SUTTON

Borough President of Manhattan

AL BLUMENTHAL

Majority Leader, State Assembly

URGE YOU TO VOTE FOR

JUDGE SPIEGEL

FOR SURROGATE, DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY, SEP
Committee for Spiegel, 381 9th Ave., N.Y.C. 10018
Treasurer Sol Ostrofsky

ABRAHAM

A&S ONE DAY MATTRESS SALE!

WE'VE STAYED AWAKE NIGHTS THINKING OF SAVINGS FOR YOU ...NOW YOU CAN GET SOME SLEEP ON THESE MATTRESSES

EXTRA FIRM
30, 33, 36, 39 Twin x 74 or 80" Extra Long	$58 ea.
Full Size x 74 or 80" Extra Long	$68 ea.
SUPER FIRM
30, 33, 36, 39 Twin x 74 or 80" Extra Long each $ Full Size x 74 or 80" Extra Long each $

SATURDAY! FIND SELECTED STYLES FROM

- STEARNS
- AND FOSTER
- SEALY SERIA
- ECLIPSE
- RESTONIC
- RITEFOAM
- KING KOIL

COME IN EARLY AND DISCOVER 100% cotton felt or cotton felt and rubberized hair pads...layered with polyurethane foam both top and bottom. Different coil counts and gauge wires to give desired firmness creating extra firm, and super firm feel. Look and find smooth tops, printed quilts, damask quilts, stripe tufteds and more.

KING AND QUEEN SETS ON SALE FOR THIS EVENT, TOO! 19 STYLES TO CHOOSE FROM... SOLD IN SETS ONLY

Queen 60 x 80 or 60 x 74 extra firm set $178
Super firm set $198
King size 76 x 80 or 76 x 74 Extra firm set $248
Super firm set $268

THIS SUIT AT FINE STORES NATIONWIDE $260

AT THE NEW YORK MANUFACTURER $149

Less than one year ago, Saint Laurie, a fine men's clothing manufacturer for 63 years, introduced a unique selling concept in New York.

What started as a gratifying response, has built into an ever growing legion of extraordinarily dressed, true believers.

The concept is simple: Saint Laurie sells their exquisitely tailored classic American and European cut suits to the most expensive stores throughout the country.

They will continue to sell to stores in New York, but not under the Saint Laurie label, and offer their vast collection (over 25,000 suits) direct to the consumer.

Nothing like Saint Laurie exists in New York. To our knowledge, anywhere.

The enormous selection, impeccable tailoring, costliest fabrics with prices at the factory ranging from $115 to $210, turns the most critical shopper into a delighted customer.

If smashing suits are important to your business or personal life and you've been spending $275 to $300 for them at better stores, come to Saint Laurie and see what feeling and looking good is all about.

Saint Laurie Ltd.
84 Fifth Avenue at 14th Street
6th Floor
Mon.-Sat. 8:30 am to 5:30 pm
212-242-2539

The best days of the week begin Friday morning in Weekend in The New York Times

Handwritten signature or note at the bottom of the page.

save tomorrow, Saturday only, in 2 Altman floor-fashion sales

Sale #1 luxurious plush nylon broadloom sq. yd. installed, tomorrow only 16.50 reg. 21.50

Save 5.00 on every square yard of "Sorbonne," a rich, opulent carpeting of thickly piled, densely woven, heavy nylon cable yarn. Beautiful. Exceptionally durable. Easy to maintain. A great investment at this 1-day saving. Choose from 15 decorator colors, like amber gold, lemon frost, Victorian beige, honeycomb, gull gray, holiday blue, and others equally dramatic. Comes in 12' width. And in wanted room size rugs, for example:

Size	Reg.	Saturday only	Save
12x9'	221.50	161.50	60.00
12x10.6'	256.75	186.75	70.00
12x12'	292.00	212.00	80.00
12x13.6'	327.25	237.25	90.00
12x15'	362.50	262.50	100.00

*We'll install, tackless, over our rubberized waffle pad on normal flat surfaces.
Altman Broadloom, fifth floor, Fifth Avenue and branches.

Sale #2 Save 1/3 to 1/2 on fine wool imported rugs Saturday only, Fifth Avenue Store only Important savings on exciting rugs in our great international collection. Remember, these are off regular prices for 1 day only.

Floral designs from Portugal 39% and 49% off

Two multicolor designs in hand-woven wool in 3 area sizes.
Just 7. 4x6' reg. 295.00
Saturday only 150.00
Just 7. 6x9' reg. 595.00
Saturday only 299.00
Just 6. 9x12' reg. 995.00
Saturday only 599.00

Turkish Kilims in older designs 1/3 off

Flatweave rugs hand-woven in geometric tribal patterns.
Just 40. For example, 6'1"x11'11" reg. 795.00
now 495.00

Flokati rugs from Greece 50% off

Thick, fluffy native rugs hand-crafted of wool in off-white.
Just 26. 4x6' reg. 85.00
Saturday only 42.00
Just 16. 6x8' reg. 149.00
Saturday only 74.00
Just 30. 2.6x5' reg. 55.00
Saturday only 27.00

B. Altman & Co.

Altman Imported rugs, fifth floor, Fifth Avenue store only. Sizes approximate. Save off regular prices. Use our Deferred Payment Plan and take months to pay for purchases of $100 or more.

Traditional designs from Persia 39% off

Older types in classic all-over patterns handmade of native wool.
Just 12. 9x12' reg. 3795.00
Saturday only 2295.00

Oriental design rugs 40% off original prices. Machine woven in America.

Size	Reg.	Now
26"x4'	105.00	57.00
210"x5'	175.00	105.00
8x10'	975.00	585.00
10x14'	1550.00	890.00
116"x14'	1800.00	990.00
116"x16'	2050.00	1100.00

Just 31 Moroccan tribal rugs 1/3 off

For example: 4'11" x 7'11", reg. 495.00 now 260.00
Handsome wool flatweave rugs handmade in dramatic muted geometrics.

T. PAY DEFERRAL STILL NOT SETTLED

Continuing in Effort to Reach Agreement — Layoffs Said Have Been Reduced Some

By DAMON STETSON
cent D. McDonnell, chairman of the Mediation Board, met yesterday representatives of the city, the U.F.T. and the Board of Education in an effort to work out a pay deferral arrangement acceptable to them and the Emergency Financial Control Board. McDonnell said that the session ended last evening, and that negotiations for the teachers and the board will meet again today to discuss the union's proposal. "Boothering them on the mathematics (of the issues involved) and some points on the city's three-year plan," McDonnell said.

Layoffs Reported Reduced
Private conferences earlier this week for the board and the city were held to have arrived at a new and figure on necessary teacher layoffs they hoped would open the way for agreement with the U. F. T. to apply for-living adjustments or other funds and a further reduction in layoffs. Teacher sources they were confident not only about possible trade-off deferrals of cost-of-living adjustments but also about the possibility of longevities increases but also about the possibility of their salary increments being based on length of service and differentials that teachers get for postgraduate academic credits. Robert Shanker, president of the U.F.T., emphasized the teachers' unwillingness to surrender these increments and differentials that they have had in their pay schedule "as long as anyone can remember."

Supervisors Accept Cut
The Council of Supervisors and Administrators has agreed to give up this year's cost-of-living raise, expected to amount $320 for each member, to save the salaries of 308 supervisors scheduled for dismissal under the board's economy plan.

Mr. Robert J. Christen, the board president, told Mr. Shanker that he would welcome a similar arrangement with the teachers' union. But a spokesman for the teachers said that the chapter chairmen had rejected the proposal since their increments and differentials were frozen too. Without a restoration of step increments and differentials and an absolute ban against future layoffs during the life of the contract, we'll not give up our cost-of-living adjustment," the spokesman said. An effort to find some basis for compromise, however, board and city officials earlier this week and were reported to have concluded that the number of teachers to be laid off might be less than the 3,500 originally projected. It was on the basis of the original figure of nearly 3,500 dismissed notices have been sent out, with 2,000 additional notices expected to be eliminated through normal attrition. Under the new prognosis, according to a source, only about 2,000 dismissals would be required, with 2,000 or perhaps more expected to leave because of attrition.

Act Ends Walkout at Adelphi Campus Classes Resumed

By ROY R. SILVER
Special to The New York Times
GARDEN CITY, Sept. 9 — A strike by Adelphi University faculty that began yesterday ended today when the faculty and administration agreed on a new two-year contract. The agreement provides for a 5.7 percent increase in salaries and a 1.8 percent increase in fringe benefits in the first year and a cost-of-living increase ranging from 4 percent to 8 percent in the second year. Members of the Adelphi University Faculty Association ratified the contract by a vote 178 to 15. The agreement was achieved after 30 hours of continuing negotiations that ended at 3:15 A.M.

As a result, classes resumed tonight and all sessions will start tomorrow. A spokesman for Dr. Timothy W. Costello, the president of the university, said that the package in the first year will be between $450,000 and $500,000, with no estimate available for the second year.

The administration spokesman emphasized that there would be no increase in tuition for the 11,000 students in this academic year as a result of the settlement.

A spokesman for both Adelphi and the member faculty union termed the agreement "fair and equitable." The provisions in the contract, which is retroactive to Sept. 1, are in-creases in payments for personnel whose salaries are considered substandard, increased allowances for medical costs and in promotion increments. The across-the-board increases in the first year are $1,350 for full professors, $1,000 for associate professors, $800 for assistant professors and $750 for instructor the former contract, salaries ranged more than $18,000, Dr. Costello said. The range was just more than $10 to $30,000 for full professors. The strike, which started on the first day of classes yesterday morning, was the first in the 80-year history of the university. It came after both sides failed to solve the impasse in negotiations by Sept. 4.

Gov. Rockefeller Proclaims Veterans Day
WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 (UPI)—President Ford today proclaimed Oct. 25 as National Veterans Day and urged Americans to observe the national holiday by visiting the graves of veterans and to show "they have not been for-

Get set for Fall at Altman's your Times, Sunday, Sept. 13

ALTMAN'S

JUDGE SPIEGEL

PERCY SUTHERLAND

AL BLUMEN

JUDGE SPIEGEL

ABRAHAM

DAY PRESS

SELECTED STYLES

Correction Commission Planning Hearings on an Incident at Attica

By RICHARD J. MEISLIN

The New York State Commission of Correction will conduct hearings into an incident earlier this year in which eight guards and one inmate were injured at the Attica State Correctional Facility, Stephen J. Chinlund, chairman of the commission, said yesterday.

Irving Younger, a professor at Cornell Law School, will serve as special counsel to the commission and with a staff of four law students will begin preliminary work next week. He promised an impartial investigation.

"We will go where the facts take us," Mr. Younger said. "There are no preconceived conclusions here. We are interested in finding out what the facts are."

The inquiry will attempt to uncover the reasons for an outbreak last July involving Albert McQueen, an inmate who is regarded as a spiritual leader of the prison. The outbreak was one of the first indications this year that conditions at the prison were apparently deteriorating.

Mr. Chinlund also announced yesterday that the commission would add two ex-inmates, Donald Lemire and Tony Patron, to its review staff. The commission, which is the watchdog agency for the State Department of Correctional Services, has been criticized in the past for failing to have inmates represented on its staff.

An organization that advocates prison reform, meanwhile, warned yesterday that unless the news media are more vigilant in reporting conditions in the state prisons, uprisings are bound to continue.

"The press must break through the screens being put around the prisons," said Haywood Burns, a member of the National Conference of Black Lawyers. "These men are telling us they're going to have to speak out again, and I don't know what form that will take."

In a news conference held outside the offices of Attica Now, a prison reform group, five years to the day from the beginning of the uprisings at the Attica State Correctional Facility, Mr. Burns said little progress was being made in improving conditions.

"The kind of things that have been accorded to were small in the first place, and even they are not being observed," he said.

Damaging of a Notebook Called a Factor by Police In Killing Near Columbia

The police said yesterday that they now believe that a 22-year-old man who was killed near Columbia University on Saturday night was murdered because he had damaged a small, spiral-bound notebook his assailant was carrying.

"We think that's what kicked him off," said Lieut. Richard J. Gallagher, the head of the Fifth Homicide Zone, which is investigating the murder.

William Wright, the victim, was slain outside Butler Library on 114th Street while he and a friend, Mark Tormey, were trying to recover some of Mr. Tormey's belongings from a man who had apparently broken into Mr. Tormey's car.

The police said that the two men had told the assailant they would not call the police if he would return what he had stolen, and that while searching the man for their property they came upon the notebook.

"They saw that it didn't belong to either of them, so they dropped it and it fell in a puddle," Lieut. Gallagher said. "Witnesses heard [the assailant] say, 'You didn't have to do that,' and then he pulled out the knife and stabbed [Mr. Wright]."

The police released a composite drawing of a suspect they were trying to locate in the case, based on accounts by Mr. Tormey and other witnesses. They asked anyone with information in the case to call 965-9093.

UNION DIME PRESENTS THE ART OF THE WOMEN'S MUSEUM GROUP

Paintings, sculpture and photography by artists of the Women's Museum Group will be on exhibit at Union Dime. Come in and enjoy our special gallery and the fine works of our women artists from:

September 7 thru 30 at our Murray Hill Branch (Madison Avenue & 39th St.)
October 4 thru 29 at our Park Avenue Branch (Park Avenue & 50th St.)

Member FDIC
UNION DIME SAVINGS BANK
Main Office: 1065 Avenue of the Americas & 40th

Just this side of innocence

The difference is Trevira®

in our softly tailored dress with scallop-edge pleating on the bodice and a braided self-tie belt. Discovery 1's first fall walk-on in beige or blue 100% Trevira® polyester.

Sizes 8 to 16, 46.00

Town Shop, Second Floor, Lord & Taylor, WI 7-3300

Fifth Avenue, Manhasset, Westchester, Millburn, Garden City, Ridgewood-Paramus, Stamford

CUMMING A HILL, THE WIND IN MY FACE, BRISK, CHINA-BLUE SKIES. IT'S BEEN A LONG TIME SINCE I TIED ON A PAIR OF OXFORDS.

And why has it been so long? Now they're in calf-skin. Shaped for comfort, wonderful to wear, just like I want them. And remember them to be terrific. They keep me in touch and on my feet. In grey and lush chocolate brown, sizes 7 1/2 to 11 1/2. There's just one of the many reasons I can walk out of the Young Dimensions Shoe Salon, Seventh Floor.

We understand you at
Saks Fifth Avenue

Introduce your children to the wonderful world of Montessori books

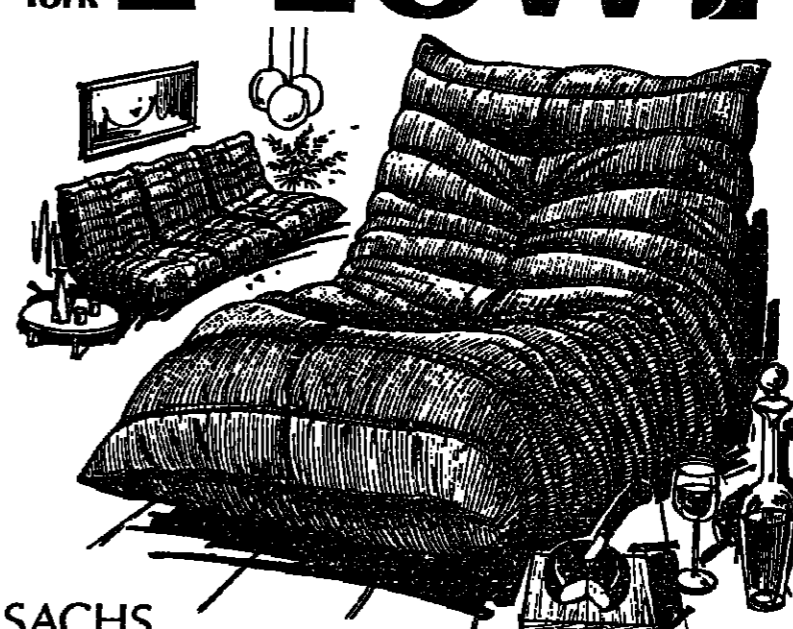

MONTESSORI BOOK HOURS
AT GIMBELS BROADWAY ON SATURDAY, SEPT. 13
NOON TO 4 P.M. AND 3-4 P.M.

Bring your 3 to 6 year-olds to one of our exciting Montessori book hours. We'll show you how to turn their playtime activities into learning experiences. The Montessori method of education helps your children to develop powers for order and logical thought and a firm foundation for success in the three R's. With Montessori books, special Montessori books have been published. And Gimbel's has a wide selection. Come and get acquainted with Montessori books. Seating will be limited.

GIMBELS

PESS IN BOOTS

Sachs New York Now!

SACHS NEW YORK

cuddle up to the newest, super-softest chair fashion in town—our French pouf of bouncy, flexible, sink-in molded foam sheathed in velvety quilted corduroy with shirred front and back. One's wonderful, two's company and three's an exciting sofa! $129

15 West 34th, nr. 5th Ave. • 157 East 86th, nr. Lex.
and throughout the metropolitan area

All stores open most evenings; Sunday, noon to 6
Sachs New York Charge-Plan Accounts, Master Charge, BankAmericard Invited
Free Quality-Controlled Delivery.

Handwritten note: 157 East 86th

الجمعة 10

LIUTENANT DENIES WEST POINT BRIBE

Continued From Page A1

Whether the allegation was false his father believed him. "I'd like to know when the affidavit was dated because I have a feeling one after my dad was named in a view panel, though I could be the lieutenant said. "Lieutenant Borman is now the kicking the Academy's football team. "I want to see the guys who paid me," he said, adding, "They can hook a lie-detector machine and I'll find out if they can follow." West Point cadets also reacted skeptically today to allegations that nearly 700 of their past and present colleagues had cheated, lied and committed more serious offenses. The allegations are contained in affidavits sworn by 65 cadets who have been accused of cheating. Spokesmen for the Academy said today that the institution itself could not comment because the affidavits had not been made available to them. "I get the impression it's somewhat a case of sour grapes," said John Prall, a member of the Class of 1977, who was not implicated in the cheating scandal. "Some of the guys who are named aren't even around any more." "I wouldn't say that we're upset," Cadet Prall said of his classmates. "We're sort of anxious to get it over and done with." A total of 84 cadets have now resigned from the Class of 1977, including 52 last Tuesday, because they were implicated in the cheating scandal involving an electrical engineering take-home examination. Two cadets from the Class of 1978 have resigned after volunteering that they had committed other violations of the honor code. "I don't know exactly how wide it is but I don't think it is as wide as they say," said William Vanark, a 1977 class member from Milwaukee, who had been accused of cheating on the examination, but was later exonerated. He added that he thought that those who had been named in the affidavits knew that they had been named, although they did not necessarily know their alleged offense. "Many of the first-year cadets received their appointments to the Academy before the current scandal broke last spring. "It kind of surprised me—I hadn't known anything like this had been going on," said one member of the Class of 1980 from Manning, S.C. "But it didn't really shock me, it didn't change my opinion about coming." A few cadets reacted with vehemence to the allegations. "They're trying to blackmail the institution," said Buford Burks, Class of 1979, of Birmingham, Ala. "I would say the allegations are from a group whose standards are less than everyone else's," agreed Gary L. Moore, of Salt Lake City. "In my group, we hold the opinion it's not like that."

'A Public Duty'

In an interview with The Associated Press, Frank Borman said: "It's too bad these unsubstantiated allegations can get this kind of publicity." He said the five-member special review panel on which he serves would convene for the first time at the end of September. "I have no intention of stepping down because I don't think I have a reason to step down," he said. "I look at this as a public duty."

Wider Cheating Alleged

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9—Secretary of the Army Martin R. Hoffmann once again pledged here today to investigate any new reports of Honor Code violations by West Point cadets, and he urged lawyers representing students accused of cheating at the United States military Academy to give the Army such reports "without condition." "No such evidence has been forthcoming," Mr. Hoffmann said. The Secretary was replying to reporters' questions concerning his reaction to new disclosures today that nearly 700 cadets had been accused of violating the Academy's honor code in affidavits sworn by 65 of their colleagues, who were among 202 West Point students already accused of cheating in an engineering take-home examination last spring. "It's essential that all charges be dealt with in a systematic and even-handed manner so as to protect the rights of cadets and to assure equality of treatment among cadets similarly situated," Mr. Hoffmann said. "For this reason, we cannot act on any information or affidavits which are offered under conditions such as those imposed by claims of attorney-client privilege."

You've found your look.
The three piece suit.
And you're always finding new ways to wear it.

It started out as simple sportswear. Graduated to the office. Next thing you knew, it was dinner every Saturday night. Perfect tailleur. It's your look, because it always looks right. With a silk shirt, as we show it here. With a sweater. Or the vest all on its own. And take your choice of the pant or the skirt. You can't go wrong. Black or taupe wool gabardine for 6 to 14 sizes, by Larry Levine. 148.00 each. Miss Bonwit Coats and Suits, Eighth Floor, Fifth Avenue at 56th, New York. You've changed. We've changed, too.

BONWIT TELLER

Chinatown Reacts to the Death of Mao With Intense but Mixed Emotion

Three decades and half a world away from the China he left in 1941, Fai-Ching, a chef in a Chinese restaurant, sat, stunned, in a dimly lit Chinatown bookshop yesterday and spoke of the death of Chairman Mao Tse-tung.

"I am very sad," he said quickly. "We have lost a great man." He had just been talking about the death, in Chinese, with the proprietors of the bookshop.

"My brother in Canton is a farmer," Mr. Fai told a visitor. "Before the revolution he worked for the rich people. Now he has his own farm," a reference to his brother's share in a collective farm.

"My own parents died from hunger," Mr. Fai said. "I saw everybody sitting around, doing nothing—starving." He was recalling life in the small village on the mainland, near Hong Kong, where he was born.

A red-and-black bulletin in ideographs, announcing the event, was posted on the door of the Chinese Consolidated Benevolent Association at 62 Mott Street.

Some Smile, Others Are Jolted

An endless procession of passersby stopped to note the news, some smiling, others widening their eyes in surprise.

Editions of the three major Chinese-language newspapers sold out in an hour, according to Marilyn Louie, a Chinese whose father operates a newsstand on the Bowery. As soon as the papers reached the stands, she said, people were "running up to see what was happening."

Not all reactions to the death were sympathetic. Many people expressed outright disdain for what Mao Tse-tung had done since the Chinese Communist victory and the start of the revolution, in 1949.

"I understand everybody got disgusted on account of what he ruined and the suffering he caused," said Charles Young, a visitor from Toledo. "To me—let's face it—I think the people are suffering more," Mr. Young said. "There is no food; they are not free." He is a retired restaurateur who was born in Canton and came to this country in 1923.

A man on Canal Street attempted to pay a reporter not to write anything about him or his views. Another, reading the bulletin on the door at 62 Mott Street, said: "I don't care. I'm an American."

"Rooted Here—This Is Our Home"

A delegate to the triennial convention of the Gea How Oak Tin Association of America asked: "Why should it seem strange? Human beings pass away. He died. We are rooted here. This is our home. We love freedom. We're more removed from it all than anyone in the Chinese mission to the Nations, the lobby of the space, the building was empty and still. It was yet filled with white flowers on the a token of mourning for Chairman Mao. There were following the death of En-lai and Chu Teh.

J. C. Lin, an attaché said that a number of condolences will be open to the sign from 10 A.M. to 5 P.M. at the mission from Monday through Saturday.

At the United Nations, Secretary General Kurt Waldheim led tributes to Chairman Mao. Two conferences were interrupted for such tributes. Mr. Waldheim said Chairman Mao had won the respect of the world by his "untiring search for the achievement of international understanding and world peace."

WILLOUGHBY
PEERLESS

We display more photo equipment than other stores stock!

Our 48th Street Store Open Sunday 9:30 AM To 4 PM

MINOLTA FACTORY DEMONSTRATION & CAMERA CLINIC
Bring in your Minolta for a free check-up by Minolta experts. See the entire line of Minolta Cameras... now available at special low demo prices.

FRIDAY at Our 48th Street Store 4:00PM To 6PM
SATURDAY at Our 43rd Street Store 10:00AM to 5PM

MINOLTA XE-7 35mm SLR with F1.7 MC Rokkor-X Lens $319

Minolta's most advanced SLR has an exclusive, electrically-governed shutter... continuously variable speeds to 1/1,000th second... multiple-exposure capabilities... Truly the camera of tomorrow.

New From Minolta!

MINOLTA 110 Zoom Single Lens Reflex Camera $179.95

World's only zoom SLR 110 Automatic Camera! Sharp Rokkor lens gives you "normal" shots... tele-photos... even macro for close-ups. Has through-the-lens viewing... an electronic shutter.

New From Minolta!

MINOLTA XL Automatic Super 8 Sound Movie Camera $199.95

Everything's automatic from the exposure controls to audio level controls. It has power-zoom and LED under-exposure signals. Microphone and monitoring earphone are included. Model 255.

Movie Cameras and Projectors

- BELL & HOWELL 1634Z Dual 8 Zoom Projector $99.95
- MINOLTA XL 250 Auto Zoom Super 8 Camera $129.95
- ELMO 311 Super 8 Power Zoom Camera $149.95
- EUMIG SD 801 Super 8 Sound Movie Projector $229.95

YASHICA Electro 35 GSN Automatic Camera with F1.7 Yashinon Lens $99.95 (including case)

Take great pictures automatically... indoors or out. A CdS metering system handles all adjustments... sets shutter speed to 1/500th second. There's a built-in self-timer, too.

35mm Photo Equipment

- YASHICA Wide Angle and Telephoto Lens Set with Viewfinder and Case $49.95
- KONICA C35 Automatic Camera with F2.8 Hexanon Lens $79.95
- OLYMPUS 35 RC Automatic Camera with F2.8 Lens $99.95
- ROLLEI XF 35 Automatic Camera with F2.8 Sonnar Lens and Case $109.95

BESELER 23C Professional Condenser Enlarger with Wide Format Versatility $169.95

A professional enlarger for handling color or black and white with formats from 8mm to 2 1/4" x 3 1/4". Lamphouse tilts 90° for wall projection. Rugged, rigid double-post construction.

Darkroom Equipment

- Computerized DuLite Film Loader $7.95
- Professional Tripod with Panhead $39.95
- Supreme Stabilization Processor $129.95
- Beseler PMSL Color Analyzer $169.95

KEYSTONE 1100 Remote Control 35mm Slide Projector $59.95

An F3.5 lens gives you sharp, clear pictures... a 500-watt lamp insures their brightness. Remote control handles forward or reverse. Uses Kodak or Keystone trays.

For Slide-Show Fans

- SAWYER'S 570R Remote Control 35mm Slide Projector $69.95
- KODAK 604 Carousel 35mm Slide Projector $84.95
- DALITE 45" X 45" Bi-Concave Lenticular Screen $19.95
- Carousel-Type Trays for 35mm Slides $2.19

WILLOUGHBY PEERLESS

Prices in Effect 9/11/75. While Quantities Last!

Send order to Willoughby/Peerless, Box 119 GPO, N.Y., N.Y. 10001 79/70

PLEASE RUSH ME THE PRODUCTS LISTED ON THE ATTACHED TOTAL $

American Express Master Charge
 Diner's Club BankAmericard

NAME _____ EXP. DATE _____
ADDRESS _____
CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____

Charge it!

• 43RD ST. & LEX. AVENUE
• 110 WEST 32ND STREET
• 66 WEST 48TH STREET

FOR PHONE ORDERS: CALL (212) 564-4603 For All Other Business: Call (212) 564-1600

sloane's sale of splendid used, new and rare oriental rugs

- vast selection, almost every type and size
- sloane's, with its 133 year history, is noted oriental rug authority
- every rug a superb investment for your home
- you can always depend on sloane's

ALL ARE LABELED AS TO EXACT CONDITION: E (Excellent), G (good), F (fair), W (worn).

USED ROOM SIZES, PARTIAL LISTING

Size	Type	Cond.	SALE	Size	Type	Cond.	SALE
8,4x5	Afghan	E	388	9x5,6	Fine Ardabil Rust.	E	1348
9,2x6,1	Pak. Buk. Ivo.	E	398	9x5,10	Ardabil Gold	E	1348
7,10x5	Yazd	E	448	9,2x5,6	Ardabil	E	1348
6,8x5	Fine Pak. Buk. Beige	E	528	10,6x6,2	Fine Pak. Cauc.	E	1348
7,10x5,3	Pak. Buk.	E	598	9,9x6,10	Afghan	E	1348
9,6x6,3	Fine Pak. Buk. Gold	E	848	11x8	Herz	E	1448
9,4x6	Pak. Caucasian	E	848	9,7x7,4	Fine Pak. Buk. Ivo.	E	1448
8,4x5	Fine Pak. Buk. Ivo	E	868	10,10x7,1	Fine Pak. Buk. Dk. Bl.	E	1448
10x6,6	Pak. Cauc. Dk. Bl.	E	888	9,8x6,2	Mir-Sarouk	E	1448
8,7x6,3	Fine Pak. Buk. Dk. Bl.	E	888	9,10x6,10	Afghan	E	1448
9,2x6,3	Kerman	E	848	9,9x6,6	Fine Pak. Buk. Ivo.	E	1448
8,6x5,4	Fine Pak. Buk. Brown	E	948	11,4x7,2	Ardabil	E	1548
9x6,2	Fine Pak. Buk. Ivory	E	988	10,9x7,4	Fine Pak. Buk. Beige	E	1548
8x5,4	Kashgari	E	988	11,3x8,7	Afghan	E	1548
7,8x5,6	Kazak	E	988	10x6,8	Ardabil Ivory	E	1548
8,10x6,3	Fine Pak. Buk. Red	E	1048	11,8x8,3	Pak. Buk. DeLuxe	E	1598
10,7x5,7	Fine Pak. Buk.	E	1048	11,8x8,7	Pak. Buk. DeLuxe Rust	E	1648
9,2x5,5	Fine Pak. Buk. Iv.	E	1048	9,10x6,4	Bukara Green	E	1648
10x6,4	Fine Pak. Buk.	E	1048	9,9x6,5	Koyseri Piz.	E	1648
9,8x6	Kazak	E	1048	12,8x9,3	Pak. Buk. Ivory	E	1648
9,7x6,4	Fine Pak. Buk. Brown	E	1088	11,10x8,5	Ardabil	E	1998
9,7x6,2	Fine Pak. Buk. Gold	E	1098	11,9x9,1	Bakshah	E	1998
7,4x5,4	Bukara Ivory	E	1098	8,9x5	Fine Kerman Dk. Blue	E	1998
9,10x7,1	Afghan	E	1098	11,4x8	Pak. Persian Ivory	E	1998
7,5x6,3	Fine Pak. Buk. Ivory	E	1148	12x9,2	Fine Pak. Buk. Dk. Blue	E	1998
10,5x7,1	Fine Pak. Buk.	E	1248	4,6x3	Chinese Blue	E	2748
9,5x7	Ardabil Ivory	E	1248	10,9x7,9	Isfahan	E	2748
9,5x6,3	Fine Pak. Buk. Ivory	E	1248	9,4x6,2	Fine Pak. Persian Ivo.	E	2998
9,7x6,3	Ardabil Blue	E	1248	12x9	Semi-Ant. Chin. Gold	E	3198
9,5x5,6	Ardabil Rust	E	1248	11,2x8,8	Tabriz Ivory	E	3198

USED LARGE SIZES, PARTIAL LISTING

Size	Type	Cond.	SALE	Size	Type	Cond.	SALE
13,6x10	Mashed Ivory	F	1248	17,6x10,9	Arak	E	329
13,8x10	Kerman	G	1398	14,5x11	Mir-Sarouk	E	339
14,8x10,6	Arak	G	1498	14,8x10,6	Kashan Rose	E	348
14,2x10,6	Mahal	G	1598	19,9x8,9	Sarouk	E	348
13,5x10,1	Mir-Sarouk	E	1598	16x11,3	Serapi	E	348
13,5x9	Herz	E	1448	18,4x11,4	Kerman Rose	E	479
14,5x11,4	Herz	E	1448	13,2x9,7	Fine Kashan Ivory	E	529
13,9x10,2	Ahar	E	2698	13,5x10	Fine Tabriz Rust	E	529
13,10x11	Akbar	E	2748	14x9	Fine Pak. Persian Des.	E	579
15,8x10	Chinese Green	E	2798	18x11,7	Fine Tabriz Gold	E	719

COLLECTOR'S ITEMS, PARTIAL LISTING

Size	Type	SALE	Size	Type	Cond.	SALE
4x2	Chinese Blue	168	5x3,2	Joazan Blue	E	84
3,5x2	Afghanistan	188	5x3,5	KUM Dk. Bl. with silk	E	86
3x2	Abedeh	218	5x3,2	Fine Tabriz Blue	E	108
4x2,9	Bargama	238	6x4	Antique Cabistan	E	119
5,2x3,4	Meshkin	258	6,2x4,1	Kashan Des. Blue	E	149
4,6x3	Fine Belouj Ivory	348	5,1x4	Silk Tabriz Des. Ivory	E	249
5,4x3,4	KUM Rose	388	6,2x4,1	Silk Kashan Design Ivory	E	289
5x3	Kerman	448	5,2x3,7	Silk KUM Beige	E	449
5,2x3,2	Milas	488	8x5,2	Nain Ivory	E	519
6,8x3,3	Milas	588	7,3x4,7	Silk KUM Rose	E	579

For decorating assistance, consult our Interior Design Studio.

Third Floor, Fifth Avenue store only
Convenient credit facilities available.
We accept the American Express card.

W&J SLOANE  FIFTH AVENUE at 38th

garden city • manhasset • white plains • paramus • short hills • red bank • jenkintown • stamford

5th Avenue • daily 10 to 6 • Thurs. 10 to 5 • Short Hills, Stamford, White Plains, Garden City, Manhasset • daily 9:30 to 5:30 • Monday & Thurs. 10 to 4 • Jenkintown & Red Bank • daily 9:30 to 5:30 • Sat. 10 to 5:30

Handwritten signature or note in a box.

Sept 10 1976

Chairman

Leaders in Moscow Look to Improvement in Chinese Ties as Leverage Against U.S.

SEE CHANGES IN GENERATION

Appears Ready to Explore Possibilities — Soviet Party Sends Condolences

CHRISTOPHER S. WREN

Sept. 9—The death of Mao raised a possibility for a new generation to emerge in China, a development that will ultimately affect Moscow's relations with the Soviets of China here.

The Kremlin is thought to be exploring the possibility, in part through a slight thaw in the chilly relations with the United States, that it may give more leverage to the one-sentence report in the middle of the 6 P.M. news.

Experts on the Communist Party promptly expressed their sympathy for the deceased and his family, and the Soviet message, made through the Tass press agency.

An original member of the radical "Shanghai set" of the Communist Party, he is Deputy Prime Minister and a possible serious candidate for top leadership of the party.

China's top military figure for several years, he is now Minister of Defense. Former army marshal, not considered a major candidate as successor to Mao because of age.

China's top military figure for several years, he is now Minister of Defense. Former army marshal, not considered a major candidate as successor to Mao because of age.

Hua Kuo-feng, Chang Chun-chiao, Wang Hung-wen, Yeh Chien-ying, Chiang Ching, Li Hsien-nien

Sketches of 6 Chinese of Major Influence in Leadership

Hua Kuo-feng. A Mao protégé who rose to prominence in the Cultural Revolution, he was chosen by the Chairman to be Prime Minister, succeeding the late Chou En-lai last April.

Chang Chun-chiao. An original member of the radical "Shanghai set" of the Communist Party, he is Deputy Prime Minister and a possible serious candidate for top leadership of the party.

Wang Hung-wen. A radical in the Mao tradition, he is second-ranking party deputy chairman. A figure in last spring's successful campaign to depose Deputy Prime Minister Teng Hsiao-ping.

Yeh Chien-ying. China's top military figure for several years, he is now Minister of Defense. Former army marshal, not considered a major candidate as successor to Mao because of age.

Chiang Ching. The widow of Mao, she is the most prominent member of the Communist Party's radical faction. Once an obscure actress in Shanghai known as Lan Ping.

Li Hsien-nien. Deputy Prime Minister in charge of economic affairs, he is sole survivor at top Politburo level of group of key administrators Chou En-lai surrounded himself with when Communists began rule in China.

KISSINGER CAUTIOUS ON CHINA RELATIONS

Continued From Page A1

"I don't think even the Chinese know what the impact of the death of such a tremendous figure will be for them," he added. "And I don't think any of us know what the new Chinese leaders will do. I would think that interests having brought us together, common interests will keep us on a parallel course."

Asked at the news conference whether the new leaders, currently headed by Hua Kuo-feng, might not move closer to the Soviet Union and disrupt the American policy assumption that the Chinese-Soviet split is permanent, Mr. Kissinger replied: "We believe the basic line of the Chinese policy towards the Soviet Union has been determined by the fundamental interests of China not by the personal preferences of an individual. It is therefore likely that the main line of Chinese foreign policy will be continued, though there could be modifications of tactics."

Any significant Chinese move to reduce tensions with the Russians would upset the American premise that Soviet defense policy has to take into account potential adversaries on both its western and eastern frontiers.

Since the death of Prime Minister Chou En-lai in January, American analysts have been struggling with the question of Chinese leadership.

Mr. Ford, who met Mao during a trip to China last year, said in a formal statement that he read to reporters: "Chairman Mao was a giant figure in modern Chinese history. He was a leader whose actions profoundly affected the development of his country. His influence on history will extend far beyond the borders of China.

San Clemente, Calif., Sept. 9 (Reuters) — Former President Richard M. Nixon described Mao Tse-tung today as a "unique man in a generation of great revolutionary leaders" and said he was confident that détente between the United States and China would continue under Mao's successor.

Tokyo Expresses Regret

TOKYO, Sept. 9 (Reuters) — Prime Minister Takeo Miki of Japan sent a message of condolence to the Chinese Government on the death of Mao Tse-tung. The Prime Minister said he was "shocked and grief-stricken."

In Taiwan, Smiles and Cheers
TAIPEI, Taiwan, Sept. 9—When the death of Chairman Mao was reported here late this afternoon, students in classrooms and workers in offices and factories broke into broad smiles and even cheers.

During the evening, firecrackers exploded in many neighborhoods in celebration. Many Nationalist Chinese saw hope in the death of Mao that a severe struggle for succession would divide and weaken the Communist leadership in Peking.

In India, Reaction is Quiet
NEW DELHI, Sept. 9—Indians reacted stoically to the news of the death of Chairman Mao.

In formal messages to the Peking, Prime Minister Indira Gandhi and President Fakhruddin Ali expressed their condolences.

No Comment in South Korea
SEOUL, South Korea, Sept. 9 (AP)—There was no official reaction in South Korea to the death of Chairman Mao, but Foreign Ministry officials were worried that any Soviet-Chinese move to improve relations as a result could mean stronger backing for North Korea.

True slashes tar in half!

Down to only

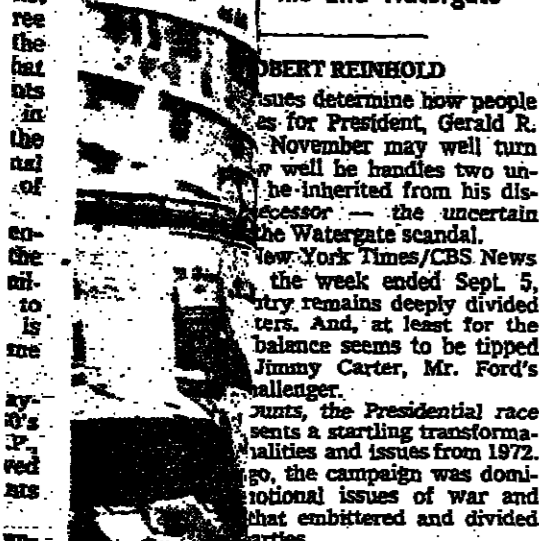

Today's True, lower than ever in tar. And a taste worth changing to. Think about it.

Caution: The Surgeon General Has Determined Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

Regular and Menthol: 5 mg. "tar", 0.5 mg. nicotine, av. per cigarette, by FTC Method.

Lacks Picked Issues Fighting Ford

As Carter Holds Edge Over Those Who Link Ford to Ills and Watergate

George Hudson, a CBS News reporter, is seen in the photograph above. He is wearing a dark jacket and a light-colored shirt. The background is dark and indistinct.

...nearly three-quarters of the...
...held liable by...
...from the 1960's...
...The...
...launched in 1967...
...rights...
...found that Mr. Carter was...
...nearly 2-to-1 margin among...
...felt the economy was either...
...of the voters who perceived...
...economy that Mr. Ford had...
...near his challenger.

...more, despite some indications...
...economic conditions have improved...
...beginning of the year, the poll...
...signs that the American elec...
...elected the economy to be bet...
...by the Times and CBS News...
...economy was improving, but...
...the figure has dropped to 24...
...month.

...Feel They're Better Off
...out a third of the voters said...
...lies better off financially...
...ago. And although more peo...
...of Mr. Ford's handling of...
...my than disapproved, Mr. Car...
...as more capable.

...mistakable indication that par...
...ly has re-emerged as a prime...
...force this year is the fact that...
...that "few" most sharply bet...
...candidates are the ones...
...clearly divide Democrats from...
...They are issues like national...
...ance, inflation and unemploy...
...arantees, welfare and Water...

...the split is clear-cut on...
...of government-paid national...
...ance, which is favored by Mr...
...Democratic leaders and op...
...Ford and his party. Voters...
...he concept favored Mr. Carter...
...an 2 to 1, while those against...
...Mr. Ford by nearly the same...

...is mainly a partisan phe...
...because Democratic voters suc...
...favored the health care...
...while Republicans opposed it...
...force. Independents were al...
...divided, with those favoring...
...preferring Mr. Carter and...
...R. Mr. Ford.

Selected Issues From Poll

Do you approve or disapprove of the way President Ford has been handling the economy?

Do you favor an amendment to the Constitution which would make abortions illegal, or do you oppose such a change in the law?

In the long run, it was probably right to pardon former President Richard Nixon.

Do you favor an amendment to the Constitution which would make the President ineligible for a second term?

Do you favor an amendment to the Constitution which would make the President ineligible for a second term?

Do you favor an amendment to the Constitution which would make the President ineligible for a second term?

Do you favor an amendment to the Constitution which would make the President ineligible for a second term?

Do you favor an amendment to the Constitution which would make the President ineligible for a second term?

Do you favor an amendment to the Constitution which would make the President ineligible for a second term?

Do you favor an amendment to the Constitution which would make the President ineligible for a second term?

Do you favor an amendment to the Constitution which would make the President ineligible for a second term?

Do you favor an amendment to the Constitution which would make the President ineligible for a second term?

Do you favor an amendment to the Constitution which would make the President ineligible for a second term?

The New York Times/Sept. 10, 1976

Poll Shows Ford Trailing in Bid For 2 Voter Groups G.O.P. Needs

Continued From Page A1

still-uncertain economy and the Watergate scandal (Page 1).

The best news for Mr. Ford to emerge from the poll was a substantial body of evidence that an unusually large number of voters were either undecided or less than certain about their preferences.

Almost one voter in five described himself or herself as undecided, a much higher figure than usual at this state of a campaign. In Gallup polls taken about Labor Day in 1960 through 1972, the undecided total was 6 or 7 percent.

Only 60 percent of the voters who say they have made their decisions call themselves "strong" supporters of either Mr. Ford or Mr. Carter.

Since the nominating conventions, a sizable number of voters said their impression of Mr. Carter was more favorable than it had been, but many of them were still unwilling to commit themselves to vote for him.

The hesitancy of the electorate appears to result, at least in part, from the relatively recent emergence of both candidates on the political stage. Neither Mr. Carter nor Mr. Ford was a major national figure as recently as three years ago, a situation without parallel in the last 50 years.

Ultimately, some responses to survey questions suggested the current softness in voters' attitudes could rebound to Mr. Ford's credit. About 55 percent of all respondents said, for example, that they had a clearer idea of what kind of President Mr. Ford would be.

In any event, the large undecided group gives the President at least the mathematical opportunity to overtake the former Georgia Governor, particularly if Mr. Ford can dominate their three scheduled debates.

Race Closest in the West
Mr. Ford's campaign from January through the Republican National Convention was shaped by the critical need to beat off the challenge from Ronald Reagan within his own party. In the process, he was obliged to emphasize the conservative elements of his politics and his rhetoric. Then, having survived at the convention, he felt compelled to pacify the Reaganites by choosing Senator Robert J. Dole of Kansas, a conservative, rather than reaching out to moderates or liberals.

Mr. Ford's difficulty as November approaches is that only 34 percent of those willing to categorize themselves politically call themselves conservatives, according to the poll. And Mr. Carter leads among the liberals, who account for 25 percent, and the dominant moderates, who account for 41 percent.

The President leads in no region, although he trails by only a narrow margin in the West, which was Mr. Carter's weakest area in the primary campaign.

In the South, the Georgian holds a huge lead, better than 5 to 3, and in the populous East and Middle West, where both candidates expect the outcome to be decided, he holds a solid advantage of 10 percentage points.

As matters now stand, Mr. Carter has reconstituted the old electoral coalition of Franklin D. Roosevelt, pulling back into the Democratic ranks most who defected in 1968 and 1972. A healthy majority of the Democrats who supported Richard M. Nixon said they would vote for the Georgian this November, and nearly all of those who voted for George McGovern said they planned to support Mr. Carter this time.

The prospect, in short, is for a return to the kind of partisanship that characterized elections in the immediate postwar period. More than 85 percent of Republican voters who have decided intend to vote for Mr. Ford, and a similar percentage of Democrats plan to vote for Mr. Carter.

Three decades ago, that would have suggested a close election. But as the Republican Party has shrunk to less than a quarter of the electorate, the independent sector has grown rapidly, and thus the Republicans have had to depend on it in national elections.

Mr. Ford trails Mr. Carter among independent voters by about 5 percentage points; to win, presuming that Republicans and Democrats vote overwhelmingly for the candidates of their own party, the President would need to take more than two-thirds of the independent votes, a Herculean task, given his present weakness in that group.

Since World War II, only Dwight D. Eisenhower, in the landslide of 1956, and Mr. Nixon, in the landslide of 1972, have won the votes of two-thirds of the independent voters.

Mr. Ford has accomplished the minor political miracle of rebuilding the Roosevelt majority, he has in one sense turned it on its head.

Roosevelt Majority Inverted
President Roosevelt carried the South because he was a Democrat and the region then voted for nothing else; he carried the Northeast largely because of his personal popularity in his home region. Mr. Carter, the survey data indicate, leads in the South because he is a native son and leads in the Northeast, now a Democratic stronghold, because he is a Democrat.

Elsewhere in the nation, conservative voters prefer Mr. Ford to Mr. Carter. But in the South, the only region where conservatives constitute a plurality of the electorate, the former Georgia Governor outdistances the President among conservative voters.

Southerners, in other words, are more inclined at the moment to vote their regional identity than their ideology, which would appear to preclude any real possibility of Ford inroads in the area.

The Times/CBS News survey rebutted, to some degree, the contention of Ford strategists that Mr. Carter is in trouble with Roman Catholic voters. The Georgian leads Mr. Ford among Roman Catholic Democrats by almost a 5-to-1 margin.

Do you think the economy is getting better, getting worse, or staying about the same?

Based on N.Y. Times/CBS News Polls
The New York Times/Sept. 10, 1976

Liberal Party Will Endorse Carter; Conservatives Weigh Backing Ford

By FRANK LYNN

The Liberal Party set the stage last night for an endorsement of the Democratic Presidential ticket at its convention tomorrow.

The party's 31-member policy committee voted unanimously to recommend endorsement of the Democratic ticket, Jimmy Carter of Georgia and Senator Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota. Senator Mondale is scheduled to deliver an acceptance speech on behalf of the ticket at tomorrow's convention, while Mr. Carter is expected to speak at the annual Liberal Party dinner Oct. 14.

Meanwhile, Republicans and Conservatives have started discussions on a Conservative endorsement of President Ford and his running mate, Senator Robert J. Dole of Kansas.

In both cases, the minor-party endorsements could be pivotal if there is a close contest in New York State. At the moment, even Republicans concede that the Democratic ticket is the favorite here.

Led by Political Unknown
A complicating factor for the Democrats, however, is the threat of an independent candidacy by former Senator Eugene J. McCarthy. A small band of McCarthy supporters in the state has stepped up a petition drive to file enough signatures by a Monday midnight deadline to put Mr. McCarthy on the ballot.

Paul Seidman, 36-year-old political unknown from Flushing, Queens, and coordinator of the McCarthy petition campaign said that he hoped to have up to 100 signatures collectors on the streets this weekend—a far cry from the thousands Mr. McCarthy mobilized for his 1968 Presidential campaign in the state.

Mr. McCarthy needs 20,000 signatures of registered voters of any party who did not vote in the April Presidential primary and did not sign a petition for another Presidential candidate. At least 100 valid signatures must be completed in at least 20 of the state's 39 Congressional districts to indicate that support is broad-based.

A relatively small number of signatures could inspire a challenge of the petitions by supporters of Jimmy Carter who presumably would lose votes to Mr. McCarthy. When Gerard F. Doherty, the Carter campaign coordinator in New York, was reached at his Boston office yesterday, he did not rule out such a move.

Some Opposition to Alliance
The Democratic-Liberal coalition will be consummated with both parties endorsing a joint slate of Presidential electors—35 Democrats and three Liberals, including Alex Rose, the Liberal leader. The Liberals are scheduled to endorse the slate tomorrow and the Democrats next Friday at a state committee meeting.

The Conservatives want a similar arrangement with the Republicans, who endorsed an all-Republican slate of electors at a G.O.P. state committee meeting in Albany yesterday.

However, Conservatives could be substituted for some of the Republicans. In 1972, the G.O.P. refused to designate any Conservative electors, but the third party, under pressure from then President Richard M. Nixon, went along with the G.O.P. electors. There is some opposition from the right wing of the Conservatives to any alliance with the G.O.P.

The alliance is important for President Ford, who already faces an uphill battle in the state. If the Conservatives went their own way, they would presumably siphon votes from the President.

The President's son, Jack Ford, assured the Republican state committee in Albany that Mr. Ford had not abandoned the state only moments after Richard M. Rosenbaum, the Republican state chairman, had disclosed that the Ford campaign had allotted only $200,000 to the state—less than the primary expenditures for at least four of the five Democratic candidates for the Senate.

In 1972, the Nixon campaign spent $3 million in the state. Mr. Rosenbaum described the allocation as "a very limited budget" and "a new experience for us."

McCarthy's Impact On Vote for Carter Feared by Strauss

By WARREN WEAVER Jr.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9—Robert S. Strauss, the Democratic national chairman, conceded today that the independent Presidential candidacy of Eugene J. McCarthy was causing "some concern" for his party's national ticket by its current strength in the polls.

Mr. Strauss told a reporters' breakfast that a recent survey taken by the national committee showed the former Minnesota Senator getting 5 or 6 percent of the vote and drawing four times as much of it from Jimmy Carter as from President Ford.

"It's real," the chairman said of the potential McCarthy vote, "and it's more than passing interest." Later he added, "It is of some concern."

A 8 percent McCarthy vote that reduced the Carter vote by 4 or 5 percent could be decisive in shifting close states from the Democratic to the Republican column. If these were populous states with large electoral votes, the outcome of the Presidential election could be affected.

A poll taken by Louis Harris gave Mr. McCarthy 6 percent of the vote nationally in a three-way contest with the President and Mr. Carter. But in the five largest Northern industrial states—New York, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Michigan—as well as California, he received 7 percent.

Despite the McCarthy vote, the Democratic ticket carried the national Harris poll by 49 to 38 percent, but in the six big states, the margin was only 43 to 40. In the 10 largest states, Mr. Carter defeated the President in the poll, 44 to 39, with Mr. McCarthy getting 7 percent of the vote.

Mr. Strauss predicted that the actual McCarthy vote in November would be smaller because "people don't really like to throw their vote away."

45 Hurt as Train Jumps Tracks
VAIDEN, Miss., Sept. 9 (UPI)—A Panama Limited Amtrak passenger train jumped the tracks early today in a rural area of central Mississippi, injuring at least 45 persons.

Phone (212) P65-5100 today, order board open 24 hours everyday

GRANDPA WORE THIS AT THE TURN OF THE CENTURY and today his granddaughters follow the look when it's time for sweet dreams. Super soft long hair is right in a brightly colored with white curfs and collar. 100% cotton by Jennifer Dale. Sizes 6 to 14.
Junior Boys. Fourth Floor.

GIMBELS
Gimbels Broadway at 33rd Street, P65-5100;
Gimbels East of 86th Street, 348-2300;
Westchester, Paramus, Roosevelt Field,
Valley Stream, Stamford and Bridgeport.

little woody two shoes

Whither do they wander? Everywhere you do. Over your new hot socks, under your jeans. And let's not forget those new tweeds. The classic by Diesse, in brown or navy suede, 20.00, tan or brown leather, 21.00. The braided trim in navy suede, tan or rust leather, and the woven panel in tan or rust leather, by Mio of Sweden, 23.00. Sizes 5-10, medium width. Clog on down to see all the innovations afoot in our new Shoe-In, part of Saturday's Generation, Metro Level, New York, and all fashion branches.

bloomingdale's
1000 Third Avenue, New York, 355-5900. Open late Monday and Thursday evenings.

From Venus Possible Lava

Venus, produced by heat... telescope at Arecibo in... surface about the size of... lava field. This is the... thick cloud cover.

When a Wedding Is Canceled...

By ENID NEMY

Thelma Golden was to have been married last month. Several hundred engraved Cartier invitations had been sent out, her dress had been custom made, the flowers were ordered and a prestigious midtown hotel had been booked for the reception and dinner.

Thirty-six hours before the ceremony, Miss Golden (a pseudonym) canceled her wedding. She had discovered that her fiancé, whom she shall call John Lambert, had throughout their year-long courtship, been lying to her about his academic and professional achievements.

At first she didn't want to listen to the facts, which she learned after The New York Times had checked details of the marriage announcement she had submitted for publication, and had discovered discrepancies. She was 29 years old, in love and, peripherally, thinking about the out-of-town wedding guests already en route, the house they had rented in California, where they were to make their home, the newly monogrammed linens about to be delivered, the family heirlooms and wedding gifts that had crossed the continent, and a hundred other details.

"I was certain John could explain everything," she said. The certainty was short-lived; John, whose parents had a good deal of money and had rarely been called to account about anything, denied everything without explanation. It was only 48 hours before the scheduled ceremony, Miss Golden insisted on a meeting with Mr. Lambert and his parents, and it paper announcements were canceled. "Mother merely said that 'some things were revealed to us and Thelma decided she couldn't go through with the marriage,'" Miss Golden said.

Reaction was varied. "Some women said to my mother that I should go through with it, and that if it didn't work out, I could get a divorce," Miss Golden recalled. "Another told me that she had put her daughter in a situation where the daughter was forced to go through with the marriage but that she, the mother, now regretted what she had done. Some of the mothers, particularly those with divorced daughters, thought I was lucky to find out before the marriage."

Miss Golden said that a number of her own friends indicated their regret that they hadn't followed a similar course. Some of them realized before their marriage that they had made a mistake but were too caught up in the ramifications of the wedding to bow out.

The financial ramifications in Miss Golden's case came, she said, to about $15,000 in wedding expenses that were prepaid and forfeited, in addition to the cost of wedding invitations, the dress, and incidentals such as monogrammed linens.

"The wedding—hotel, flowers, orchestra—was going to cost about $20,000," she said. "We had to forfeit about 75 percent of it because the food and flowers had already been ordered for us. Some things had was then that she extricated the fact that Mr. Lambert had, indeed, not been truthful and that, apparently, he had been less than truthful in other areas in the past.

She was 29, in love, and preparing for her elaborate wedding. Then, 36 hours before the ceremony, everything fell apart.

"I felt as though the whole world had blown up in my face," Miss Golden said. "I couldn't look at him and respect him."

Nevertheless, she made no immediate decision. She bypassed her own apartment and went to her parents' home to consider.

"I can't begin to describe what strength both my parents had to allow me to make the decision alone," she said. "My father only said, 'I know you are under tremendous pressure but there isn't much time... you must make a decision.' And he gave me a deadline of midnight."

Initially, she said, she had some difficulty sorting out the essentials. "I had to clear my mind by separating the materialistic aspects, the people invited, the gifts, my things en route to California and all that, from the emotional," she said.

Question of Love

"Then I said to myself 'Do I love him?' and the answer was 'Yes, but not as a mature wife should love and respect a husband.' I realized I could not marry him because there was no trust and with no trust, there is no foundation.

"I had to separate my values," she continued. "For the first time in my life, I had to face myself and what was important to me. I came to the conclusion there is nothing fearful in the future as long as one is satisfied with the decision in the present."

There was, however, "tremendous guilt" at the money that had been spent, the gifts, showers, and disruption of guests' plans. There was also shame.

"But I learned that you must put yourself first, above material involvements, social involvements, family considerations, because you have to live with yourself on a day-to-day basis. No one else has to face this."

The physical aspect of canceling the wedding started on Saturday morning. Mr. Golden called business associates who had been invited; Mrs. Golden called friends and relatives who, in turn, called others in somewhat of a chain effect. News-already been prepared and the musicians had reserved the date and refused other engagements.

"We put our all into that wedding," Miss Golden said. "It was going to be exquisite... But do you know something? It can all be done again, and anyway, it doesn't matter."

Most of the flowers, the white roses for the table centerpieces and the 20 long-stemmed roses that were to be the bride's bouquet, and a good deal of the food, including the cake, were sent directly by the florist and the hotel to a hospital chosen by the Golden. Both Mr. Golden, a successful professional man, and Mrs. Golden, who is involved in the arts, are active in charitable organizations.

Miss Golden, who has a master's degree and has worked in several fields, hasn't yet decided in what direction she'd now like to head.

"This whole thing has left me with both positive and negative feelings," she said. "The positive is that in my heart, I realize no matter how much difficulty one goes through, you must never sacrifice your own feelings and beliefs."

"The negative is that, at this point, I'm doubtful of people whereas I used to be completely trusting... Maybe it's a good thing it's taught me to be a little more guarded... but I hope to get over this feeling of defensiveness."

Began Dating

She had, she said, started seeing a few male friends "because I have to start restructuring my life immediately or I will dig myself into a deep hole of depression."

Her last-minute decision, which, according to the banquet manager of the hotel, was only the second he had encountered in 25 years, has left her with no regrets.

"Some people don't know whether to congratulate me or sympathize with me, but in all, I've gained," she said. "I feel as though I've been given a new lease on life."

"I hope other people with doubts learn from my experience that it's never too late to say 'No.' They should divorce themselves from other considerations and do what they think is right for them. It's not a negative decision to not do something. It can be positive."

The New York Times/Bill Adler
Ava Bergmann is the designer behind the new appliqué look in bed ensembles from Bloomcraft. Spread features landscapes and still lifes.

By NORMA SKURKA

A check of the linen and bedspread departments in stores this fall will find murals popular as design themes. Inspired by antique patchwork and appliqué quilts, designers have picked up the charm and pictorial whimsy of the 100-year-old quilts and adapted them to new designs for pillows, bedspreads, comforters, wall hangings and even shower curtains.

The manufacturing techniques have changed, however. Instead of scraps of fabric, painstakingly cut, hand-assembled and hand-stitched, as they were on the old patchwork quilts, much of the fabricating has been taken over by machines. The designs, too, have a fresh, contemporary interpretation. They are bolder and larger.

A leading lady of the new mural look in domestic designs is Ava Bergmann. Bloomcraft is producing her designs for bedspreads, comforters, pillows, shower curtains, table linens and coordinating fabrics, sold by the yard, as well as the original appliqué pillow line that started Ava Bergmann in business four years ago. The bedspreads to be available at Bloomingdale's and Gimbels the middle of this month, will sell for $125 to $150. The 18-inch-square pillows will sell for $15 for the screen-printed versions and

A Mural Effect for Homes—And Not a Mural in Sight

$26 for the hand-appliqued models. The fabrics will sell for $7 a yard.

A typical Ava Bergmann design features whimsical still lifes and landscapes. The themes, loosely inspired by nature and also by French Impressionist paintings, are naive and sophisticated at the same time. On a shower curtain, one may find a Bonnard-style cat sitting on a tile floor eyeing a bowl of milk. Or on a bedspread, a Matisse-like flower arrangement and mountain scene. The bed ensembles from Bloomcraft look handmade but they are not. The designs are screen-printed and then outlined in hand-guided top stitching.

Began by Accident

Mrs. Bergmann is neither a trained designer nor an entrepreneur. She entered the business by accident when her marriage of 21 years ended in separation, her film-producer husband went bankrupt and she fled to Bucks County, Pa., to "drop out."

"I never worked a day in my life," said the Texas-born woman, who is in her mid-40's and has two sons in their 20's. "But I had to survive." Five years ago, she bought a small fabric shop in nearby Lambertville, N. J. Surrounded by fabrics all day, she tried an appliqué pillow design. Soon she had several pillow patterns. A friend introduced her to a buyer at a New York City store.

In the first three weeks, Mrs. Bergmann sold 60 pillows. In the next six months, she sold 2,000.

To fill the orders, she advertised in the local newspaper for women to sew and stuff the pillows at home. She was deluged with replies. It was the beginning of a small "cottage industry," which Mrs. Bergmann still retains for her hand-appliqued pillows. (These are now made in Pennsylvania but stuffed and sold through Bloomcraft.)

Encouraged by the reception in the stores in New York and Washington, Mrs. Bergmann plane-hopped across the country, visiting as many as three cities in a single day to show department stores her pillows and bedspreads. They, too, bought the line. The designer estimates that in the last three years she has sold 20,000 of her hand-appliqued pillows and about 300 of her handmade bedspreads.

"The rest is ancient history," she said.

That history culminates in the new Ava Bergmann Gallery collection from Bloomcraft and in a new collection of caftans, hostess shirts, wraparound beach dresses, tunics and pants from Swirl Inc., all bearing the distinctive appliqué work that is her trademark. Bonwit Teller will introduce the resort line in November. Her next was designing sheets.

In face of her "instant" success Mrs. Bergmann has strong opinions about what makes it happen.

"You have to tune in and come she said. "Anybody can have an idea, but the trick is in getting executed. At first, I did everything myself—picking fabric, cutting, sewing, stuffing, selling and getting to the stores. I had no idea how it was to physically manufacture things and then sell it nationally at the right price—until I did it."

Motivation Counts

Motivation and dedication are much as inspiration, she says.

"As long as somebody else is the rent, you aren't motivated," she said. "I always had tremendous drive but I took it out on gardening, out on charity luncheons—I pretty privileged life. You do anything with your life until rock bottom."

With the need to support Mrs. Bergmann lost all her income she said, adding, "I didn't care of my old friends saw me through Bloomingdale's with a ping bag bulging with samples my venter. When it gets down vital, your values change."

PARENTS/CHILDREN

Are Schoolchildren Taught Reading Too Soon?

By RICHARD FLASTE

You don't have to ponder it very long to begin to suspect that too many children are being labeled "learning disabled" these days. One widely heard estimate is that 10 to 20 percent of the nation's children suffer from such learning disabilities as subtle perception disorders and hyperactivity.

Can it be? Is there something in the air or water that would so pervasively disable children? Actually, it has been asserted that the culprit might be pervasive indeed, perhaps food additives.

But Dr. David Elkind, a University of Rochester psychologist who began his own school to deal with the learning-disabled two years ago, holds a different belief.

Dr. Elkind, a prominent proponent of Jean Piaget's theories on how children develop, believes that, while in many cases learning disabilities may be exactly what they are diagnosed to be, more often children suffer from what he calls "curriculum disabilities"—they've been handicapped by current teaching methods.

Some Specific Notions

Labeling them learning disabled, he said, can be the easy way out. It puts the disability somewhere inside the child and evades the need to look at the "more difficult interaction between the child and the world."

Dr. Elkind has some specific notions on how the school curriculum should be reorganized and on how parents ought to respond when told they have a learning-disabled child.

He believes that lifelong problems can originate with reading instruction that begins too early, in first grade or before. On the average, he said, children are 6½ or 7 years old before they have the logical powers to comprehend the complexities of a word, before they can absorb, for instance, the idea that a letter possesses its own name and varying sounds, depending on the context.

So for many children reading lessons in kindergarten or first grade, according to Dr. Elkind, are a trap that almost guarantees failure. He would put most formal reading lessons off until second grade.

Waiting until 6½ or 7 is not a new idea—although Dr. Elkind is bringing Piagetian thinking to it. It was a familiar notion in the United States in the 1930's and '40's, and it prevails now, Dr. Elkind said, in the Soviet Union.

That's an irony, because what pressured academics in this country to begin teaching all manner of things earlier and earlier, in Dr. Elkind's view, was the Soviet Union's apparent superiority at the time of Sputnik in the early '50s.

Sputnik, he said, brought university academicians into the teaching field who drew up perfectly good curriculums that were, however, confusing to children who weren't ready.

Many children succeeded, of course. But many didn't. And Dr. Elkind sympathizes with parents who have bright children that just haven't matured at the same level as other kids or who have different skills, but verbally they're not given a chance. "And if the curriculum is of the sort that would be confusing even to adults, as Dr. Elkind says it sometimes is, then the chance is even slimmer."

Incites Greater Difficulties

For the failing children, he said, the act of not learning "leaves them so upset, so troubled and angry" that it leads to greater difficulties both at home and in school. This "emotional overlay," he said, makes any attempt at quickly diagnosing what's wrong very difficult if not impossible.

With the children who succeed early, Dr. Elkind, of course, doesn't think parents ought to stand in their way. He said that from one to three out of every 100 children attain the level of logic needed for true reading by the age of 4. Parents who see a child eager to read ought to follow the child's lead; help when help is requested. But they should also let the child give up when he wants to.

Other children only appear to be reading early. They're learning by rote, which worries Dr. Elkind. He said he believes that it then becomes difficult to unlearn rote habits and to think more logically when the mind is ready for it.

As for what children might be taught in first grade, Dr. Elkind suggests that the proportion of arithmetic to reading be reversed. Instead of three hours of reading and one of arithmetic make it just one hour of reading-related exercises—learning to print, telling stories—and three on numbers.

Numbers, in beginning arithmetic, he said, are much less complex than words, and children relish them and use them naturally, while words remain elusive.

If, in the next several months, your child is diagnosed as learning disabled, perhaps hyperactive, Dr. Elkind's advice is that you don't accept that diagnosis right away—and certainly don't agree to the use of drugs—before trying something similar to what he's been doing at his Mount Hope school in Rochester.

The school's technique includes having one teacher for each child and often using what is called the "language-experience" approach in which a child dictates a story, which is written down by the teacher. The child then tries to read it.

The main thing is that the teacher has to establish an accepting, rewarding relationship with the child, much the way a psychotherapist would, so that the fear of failure recedes.

Dr. Elkind says that parents should not try this themselves—they're too emotionally involved, bring too much pressure to the situation. It's better to look around for a sensitive teacher at the school or university.

At the same time parents understand the child's difficulty keeping in mind one of the sons of Piagetian thought: don't think like adults even appear to.

Dr. Elkind talks about the son Bobby, who was 4, came room and announced that it was 4:30. Dr. Elkind knew 4-year-old normally couldn't do the adjustments needed to realize, for instance, that cases the 6 on the clock meant 30.

But like any parent, he ju conclusions: "I thought I had on my hands." Or else something serious was going on. He wal the other room, where the was solved—the digital clock those digital clocks.

The 'Musts'—as Cartier Sees Them

By ANGELA TAYLOR

To collectors of status symbols, owning a Cartier "Santos" watch—or its later variation, the tank watch—is a must. Louis Cartier first made the watch in Paris in 1907 and named it for a French aviator, Santos Dumont. It started a fad for wristwatches among the international smart set and continues to be a way an "in" person recognizes a brother in taste.

Cartier doesn't think that the watch is the only must for Beautiful People.

To simplify well-heeled shopping, it has collected what it considers all its absolutely must-haves under one roof, a boutique called Les Must de Cartier. It opens officially on Monday with its own entrance at 4 East 52d Street.

The shop has, of course, the Santos and tank watches with their gold cases and Roman numerals, priced at $900 in styles for both men and women. But to the cognoscenti, the watch alone isn't enough—one must have the special Cartier folding buckle, which raises the price by $300.

Once you've a Cartier watch on your wrist, you really need one of the oval lighters, even if you don't smoke and use it to light other people's cigarettes. An 18-karat patterned gold one will set you back $1,200 or go up to $10,000 if the top is paved with diamonds. A gold-plated lighter is comparatively cheap—$195—and has more cachet than those throwaway plastic numbers you can buy for $1 or so.

Now move on to the new Cartier luggage, in wine-red leather and suede stamped with the founder's LC monogram. The man at customs will be very impressed with your $1,000 golf bag or your snappy luggage, which will have cost you anywhere from $275 for a portfolio to $950 for a really smashing "coach" bag.

In your pockets or handbag, you must have a Cartier wallet ($60) or a coin purse ($45) and a spectacle case ($45). And a well-dressed desk will display diaries and address books all monogrammed LC. You might add a pretty clock with an enameled frame, or a miniature one in a case to travel with. Tags here range $150 to $190.

This is the first Les Must boutique in the United States, but you'll find others all over the world if you need a refill for your diary.

Among Cartier "musts": oval travel clock, left, $150; rings of various gems with diamond double C's, $980; gold and onyx ring, $310.

Moccasin, Italian style with all of Amalfi's refinements for fall—the tapered toe, the newly slender stacked walking heel and the marvelous soft suede colors: mocha navy or smoke grey. 55.00 Casual Shoes. Fourth Floor, Lord & Taylor and all Lord & Taylor stores.

APR 10 1976

OXS-33H

Real Estate Y. Housing Agency Mastering Subsidies on Units

ALAN S. OSER

For the first year or more the New York Housing Agency has been the art of administering a Federal housing subsidy. Housing officials know it as the program for existing housing, to Section 8 subsidies for major rehabilitation.

a key element in making the program work is getting landlords to offer apartments to Section 8 tenants. There is no shortage of interested applicants.

At present the authority has signed contracts with 125 owners of more than 400 properties containing 42,000 apartments. There is no clear way to convert those figures to numbers of apartments actually available at a given time, but there are evidently many available apartments with no takers and many sought-after apartments that are unavailable to the seekers.

As the rents that the owners are allowed to receive rise, and streamlining speeds the troublesome and lengthy processing, more owners may join.

Permissible Section 8 rents in the city for elevator buildings (including gas and electricity) are $200 a month in studio apartments; $228 for one-bedroom, $268 in two-bedrooms; $305 in three-bedrooms and $346 in four-bedrooms.

For nonelevator buildings (again including gas and electricity) the figures are $181 a month for studios; $205 for one bedroom; $241 for two bedrooms; $278 for three bedrooms and $314 for four-bedrooms. There are reports that the Government may increase the limits by 20 percent in October.

Nevertheless, there is wariness and fear on the part of many owners. First there is the fear that Government may eventually use its economic leverage to force owners to accept unwanted tenants, or otherwise interfere in management practices. There is impatience with an administrative process that, for example, requires a tenant, landlord and Housing Authority inspection of each individual apartment before it is rented, although the authority has eased this in respect to landlord inspections.

Others say the rent structure is too low for buildings that would meet the considerable inspection standards, while buildings in the greatest economic distress might not qualify because they could not meet the standards.

In May the Government sought to meet some of the fears by adjusting the regulations. For example, a requirement that a building with Section 8 tenants could not be sold to a new owner without government approval was dropped.

In practice, the Housing Authority has been playing a considerable role in helping tenants with family eligibility certificates to find apartments. Its information on available apartments is computerized.

"Over 50 percent of the applicants ask us for help," said Mr. Sole. He said that the "lapse rate"—caused when certified apartment seekers rent nothing in the 60 days with possible extension that they are allowed—has been "not negligible but not overwhelming." He said it could be 5 percent or 10 percent.

It found that by and large they were families of low income—50 percent to 60 percent of the median income in the census district. A third of them were elderly; 80 percent took apartments of two bedrooms or less; a majority were on welfare; over 70 percent of the families were headed by women; minorities accounted for a third of the recipients.

But the experience of different regions and cities is likely to vary widely. In New York it is mainly the elderly and working low-income families that are benefiting. They are often going into large postwar housing developments, well spread throughout all boroughs except Staten Island.

Specialists think of Section 8 as the natural heir to the Section 23 leasing program, in which housing authorities directly leased apartments in private buildings for poor tenants. The new approach gives tenants more freedom of choice. Insofar as it utilizes the existing housing stock, it is the city's best hope for continuing to improve housing conditions for the poor.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

July 26, 1976
NOTICE TO CREDITORS: In accordance with the provisions of the Federal Reserve Act, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, as the trustee of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, has received notice from the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, New York, that the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, New York, is a party to the liquidation of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, New York, and that the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, New York, is a party to the liquidation of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, New York.

PRE-SEASON CLEARANCE SALE!

Imported
Sheepskin
Coats & Jackets

up to 50% SAVINGS

on selected groups.
Now open on Saturdays

Cepelia imports genuine Sheepskins from Poland... exquisitely tailored or embroidered, superbly created by Polish master designers, casual or elegant. For men and women.

Cepelia

63 East 57th Street, New York (Between Park & Madison Ave.)

Swedish potato pancakes,
Danish meat patties,
Norwegian fish mousse,
Finnish cucumber soup

—these and over 150 other original, sought-after Scandinavian recipes (accompanied by 19 gorgeous full-color photographs) make SCANDINAVIAN COOKING one of the most attractive bargain books of the year.

Scandinavian Cooking

Only $2.95 hardcover, 100+ of our best recipes in one book. $4.95 paperback. One Price, N.Y. N.Y. ISBN: 0-14-001-111-1. Add $1.00 shipping and handling.

OVERWEIGHT?

If you are 20 or more pounds overweight—
If you've gone up and down like a yo-yo—
If you've tried diets, pills, injections and/or fasting and you're as fat or fatter than ever——here at last may be an answer to your quest.

Before I published this book I tested the program myself. In 120 days I dropped 83 pounds—going from 240 to 157. I've never felt better. I've become thin again after 20 years of unsuccessful "dieting" . . . and just about when I'd given up all hope of ever being thin again!

You can do it too.

Lyle Stuart

At All Booksellers

EMINENTLY WELL SUITED

WE JUST LOVE THIS ALL WOOL THREE-PIECE VERSATILE SUIT THAT IS MUTEDLY SHADOW STRIPED IN CHALK GREY. SIZES 2-14, $150.00. OUR PURE SILK SHIRT IN ALL COLORS AND SIZES $28.00.

JUST ONE OF OUR THOUGHTFULLY SELECTED COLLECTION OF THREE PIECE SUITS FOR FALL.

CHARIVARI

2307 Broadway (bet'n. E 83rd & 84th Sts.) N.Y.C. (212) 873-1424
SORRY, NO MAIL ORDERS.

REAL ESTATE MARKETPLACE

Residential Towers.
0 Down Payment.
Interest Free Loans.
Buy-Back Agreement.

Find out how easy it is to own a 1 or 2 apartment in the Lincoln Center area.

BIG, MODERN 1 & 2 BEDROOM SUITES
Many with commanding views.
$31,823 to $41,140
Monthly maintenance $449.41 to $580.03

UTILITIES INCLUDED
50% tax deduction (est.)

Residential Towers is an 18-story luxury apartment building with a great location, shopping and all public transportation. Building features central air-conditioning, 24 hour doorman, cable TV and usually spacious apartments.

APARTMENT OPEN EVERY DAY 10-5
PHONE: 877-9664

315 West 70th St.

This advertisement is not an offering which may be made by a formal prospectus.

A Country Place in Greenwich

Individual condominium houses in softly weathered wood. Privacy, security, convenience — and the comfortable neighborliness of New England village life.

Townhouses, too.

Remaining homes from $114,500.

Wynover Street, Greenwich, CT (203) 831-5080

Lyon Farm

This advertisement does not constitute an offering which can only be made by formal prospectus NY 406.

U.S. GOVERNMENT SALE
PRIME INDUSTRIAL AREA

SEALED BID OPENING OCTOBER 13, 1976
2:00 P.M. LOCAL TIME
NEW YORK, NEW YORK

FORMER CAMP KILMER MILITARY RESERVATION
PARCELS A, B AND C
PISCATAWAY AND EDISON TOWNSHIPS
MIDDLESEX COUNTY, NEW JERSEY

BID NO. GS-02-PK-(S)-TQ-0001

Parcel A contains 16.95 acres with improvements and is located on the western side of Plainfield Avenue, approximately 300 feet south of Ethel Road. This parcel has approximately 3.10% of frontage on Plainfield Avenue and is zoned for commercial development.

Parcel B contains 48.54 acres with improvements and is located on the eastern side of Plainfield Avenue, approximately 370 feet south of Ethel Road. This parcel has approximately 3.10% of frontage on Plainfield Avenue. Approximately 17 acres are located in Piscataway Township and are zoned for Business Professional and Residential use. An approximate 32 acres located in Edison Township are zoned Light Industrial.

Parcel C contains 0.29 of an acre of unimproved land located on the eastern side of Plainfield Avenue, approximately 150 feet south of Kilmer Road. This parcel has approximately 2.9% of frontage on Plainfield Avenue and is zoned Light Industrial.

The Garden State Parkway, New Jersey Turnpike, U.S. Route No. 1 and Route 287 all provide daily high speed transportation from major cities. The local area is also served by Conrail. Located on Kilmer Road between Plainfield Avenue and Sutton Lane is the Kilmer Industrial Campus which contains a wide variety of modern warehouse and office space.

Bids to purchase Parcel A and B will be offered for all cash or on credit. Parcel C will be offered on an all cash basis only. Bids may be submitted for one or more parcels by individual bids for each parcel.

Detailed information regarding the offering and the required bid forms may be obtained from:

GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION
PUBLIC BUILDINGS SERVICE
REAL PROPERTY DIVISION
26 FEDERAL PLAZA
NEW YORK, NEW YORK 10007
Telephone: (212) 264-2614

To place want ads in The New York Times
OX5-3311
9 A.M. to 5:30 P.M.

FOR SALE
Office Bldg.—40'x114'
Completely Finished
Central Air Cond.
Flushing Ave. N. Union Twp.
Near All Passways
For Professional Office or Sales Office — Must See to Appreciate.
Call 571-4747

Lakeridge

The new Lakeridge color brochure. It's almost as beautiful as being there.

SEND FOR YOUR COPY TODAY.
Lakeridge, Burr Mountain Rd., Torrington, Conn. 06790

NAME _____
ADDRESS _____
CITY _____ STATE _____
ZIP _____
PHONE (N 910) _____

Or if you want to see Lakeridge itself just go north on I-684 to Exit 9; East on I-84 to Exit 20; North on Rt. 8 to Exit 45 (Burrville); follow signs to Lakeridge. It's only 2 hours from New York City.

Open daily 10-5, weekends 'til 6 (appointment recommended). Call toll free at 1-800-243-5374. In Connecticut call collect at 482-3591.

Two to four bedroom townhouses, from $46,000 to $68,500.

This advertisement is not an offering. No offering may be made until the Home Owners Association's map is approved by the State of New York. Such filing does not constitute approval of the issue or the sale thereof by the Attorney General of New York.

Editor

John S. Service

Recollections of Talks With Mao in Yen-an in 1944

By John S. Service

BERKELEY, Calif.—Mao Tse-tung, when I first met him in 1944, was 51 years old. For four months I saw a good deal of him, certainly two or three times a week; perhaps 50 occasions in all under all sorts of circumstances, official and relaxed—private conversations, group discussions, meals, theater and other entertainments, public speeches, and even Saturday night dances during warm summer evenings on the packed earth of an orchard.

I was attached to the staff of Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell and a member of the first United States Army Observer Group to visit Yen-an and establish direct contact with the Communist Party leadership.

My job was to report the views and statements of Chairman Mao and other leaders of the party. How Mao looked, his mannerisms and the impression he made, the general conversation—all these seemed hardly relevant to official reports and were largely omitted. But Mao Tse-tung was not a person one forgets.

When one first met him there was not quite that feeling of immediate warmth and almost instant rapport that one experienced with Chou En-lai. Mao was large for a Chinese but not heavily fleshy as he later became. He moved somewhat slowly, and there was an air of gravity and dignity about him. It was not pomposity though. He was courteous and cordial. Perhaps it was a sort of shyness and reserve; one got a little of the feeling that he was sizing you up.

Things changed, of course, when one became better acquainted with him. Lacking perhaps some of the suavity and urbanity of Chou, Mao could also be more lively and spontaneous. Conversations were likely to sparkle with witticisms, Chinese classical allusions and sharp and surprising statements. Apt and obvious conclusions were snapped out of the air before they seemed logically to have been reached. Conversations also wandered in unexpected and wildly diverse directions. There were few subjects in which he was not interested and few about which his omnivorous reading had not given him some knowledge.

It was normal, I suppose, that he usually seemed to be leading the conversation. You felt at times that it was you who was being interviewed. Yet this was done with a great deal of finesse. He did not monopolize the conversation, there was no "hard sell" and you were not being overpowered. In fact, in group meetings he was usually meticulous that each person present had a chance to join in and express himself. Very often, Mao would then sum up the sense of the meeting. Whenever I saw this done, his summarization was masterfully fair, complete and succinct.

Herzog Vissal/Liaison

Mao's clear and undisputed leadership of the party had only fairly recently been achieved. But there was an easy and relaxed atmosphere among the top Communist leaders that amazed those of us who had had contact with the Chungking Government leader, Chiang Kai-shek, and saw the tension he created among all below him.

Deference was paid to Chairman Mao, and it was clear that he was the events of the past, and even a willingness to differ in opinion—though not in front of foreign guests on any issues of basic policy.

Policy was what chiefly occupied Mao's time and thought; policy in best winning the support of the peasants in the guerrilla areas behind the Japanese lines; policy in using the strength derived from this peasant support in the inevitable coming contest for power against Chiang Kai-shek's one-party dictatorship; policy that might persuade the United States to take an evenhanded or neutral role in this Chinese domestic contest.

These were subjects, in all their aspects and ramifications, that Mao preferred to talk about. Details, day-to-day affairs, the routine of governing he was content to leave to others. Capable associates, as Chou En-lai or Chou Teh, for instance, were not lacking.

But if I wanted more detail than he was interested in, or felt able to give, he would regularly refer me to some other leader. He sent me, for instance, to Liu Shao-chi to talk about party affairs, strength and organization. Po Ku, one of the Soviet-trained leaders and one of Mao's former rivals within the party, was the man he picked to talk to me about postwar economic policies. A Japanese Communist leader in exile was Mao's nominee to talk to me on the Chinese party's views about the question of the future of the Japanese Emperor.

This willingness to delegate responsibility and his obvious trust and reliance on associates were but one of the many contrasts with what I had observed in Chungking, where few decisions could seemingly be made without Chiang Kai-shek.

Since our group in Yen-an was an Army one and charged with assessing the military potential of the Communist forces in the war against Japan, our first meeting dealt with getting up detailed briefings and procedures. But it was known to the Communists that I was a civilian and reporting both to General Stilwell and the State Department.

As one of the early meetings broke up and Mao could speak to me privately, he said with a quizzical half-smile that he assumed I wanted to have a talk with him but that he also wanted to talk with me. However, he went on, he thought our talk would be more mutually useful if we both first had a chance to get acquainted and if we Americans were able to see something of the Communists.

It was not until just a month later, then, that I was invited for my first real talk with Mao alone. With a break for supper, when Chiang Ching, his wife, joined us, it went on for eight hours. Other talks followed but none of so strenuous a length. The groundwork had been laid.

One of the things that struck me most about that talk was that Mao's characteristic calm air of strength and serenity was not a pose. He was absolutely confident of the eventual success of his cause and the Communist Party. The contrast with their actual circumstances in the Yen-an caves at the time was overwhelming. It took us Americans some time to adjust to it, and another considerable period to come to the conclusion we finally reached: that Chairman Mao was right in that confidence.

When I was able to revisit China, in 1971, it was remarkable how many of the themes stressed and restressed by Mao in those 1944 talks in Yen-an seemed still alive and full of meaning.

The party, he had said, must serve the people, and accept (as in the Cultural Revolution) the criticism of the people. Intellectuals must learn something of manual work, and education must be practical, not excessively theoretical. China could develop itself only through self-reliance. The peasants were capable of great creativity and prodigious accomplishments when motivated. China should fear no dangers and difficulties. The spirit is superior to the machine. And all is possible to patience and firm persistence.

Some subjects, such as relations with the Soviet Union, were less sharply dealt with by him. We are first of all, he always insisted, Chinese. We seek friendly relations, but we take nobody's dictation. We will always make our own decisions and always apply Marxism according to the actual circumstances of China. And, he was obviously thinking even then that a friendly United States was China's necessary balance to an overbearing Soviet Union.

Not all that Chairman Mao thought and fought for has of course been accomplished. Since those early probings in 1944, for instance, Chinese-American relations are still in an unsatisfactory twilight zone. But on the whole, what man has accomplished more in a lifetime! China has stood up in the world. The face of the country has been transformed. And its people have been led through a long, still-unfinished revolution forging a new egalitarian society that has brought the great mass of the people a sense of purpose, confidence, security and well-being that most of them could never have dreamed of.

I used to ask Chinese Communist friends why they thought Mao had won out over his many rivals and become the acknowledged leader. The answer was always the same. It boiled down to one phrase: "He saw far."

John S. Service served in China for 12 years with the State Department, 1933 to 1945.

The Conservative Poets

and Kings

Depart

By James Reston

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—In early 1976, Mao Tse-tung was already in the shadows of his final trends which would lead to his freedom and death. I viewed the rise of the party in New York, which sacrificed so much for the nation.

I now fervently hope that the country has become a free society. Conservative Party, unfinished may take of the Republic. I, old friends, can we just philosophy: this is our efforts be washed.

I further hope in the Party of New York. Chairman Mao knew that alternative of a less of greatness is the impact on the future of China when he was gone.

I share in the hope of Chou En-lai to succeed and herein some time, and Chou struggled to ward that goal to arrange an orderly succession to the post of Deputy Prime Minister. Mr. Chou died of cancer, and Chairman Mao was gone.

liberal and angry, it is a presumption, liberal eye, the eyes of a grieving China Conservative Party impertinence, to speculate "successor." The chances of asking the Party will be no successor, for should not become a myth, which could be stronger in death than in life; Carter and the world still wonders who will be the next.

And if the government in Peking, whoever Republican has chosen four men to over the ceremony of burial, the Chinese, more than most, die by symbols; these four, from the rest, have attracted attention from the China political and academic circles of the United States. Hua Kuo-feng, vice-chairman of the Communist Party, and Minister of the State Council; Wang Wen, another vice-chairman of the young fortyish secretary of the Communist Party; and Lin-chiao, head of the party of the Chinese aimed at the international defense, now in his here also pay attention to the figure in the Chinese Ch'en Hsi-wei, also a vice, the State Council, and more, current military commander of the armed forces in the nation, protecting and commanding the capital.

WASHINGTON

armed guess here—and it is hard that—is that it will be before anybody emerges as of the party, and that maybe leadership will be collected, than, personal for a very le, speculation is centered command of the Chinese, and whether this will time being to the old man prestige. Yeh Chien-ying, Minister of Defense, or to this, Washington is more in the philosophy of China's Tse-tung than in its present. Does it want to cooperate and more just order of the as it still see itself as the isolated "middle king" does it want to trade with and become a new modern cooperative, interdependent by the end of the century? what Washington, after paying tribute to the personal of Mao Tse-tung; would now. The internal struggles in China are important to

on. The last three United States representatives in Peking since to China—David Bruce, now head of the C.I.A., and Gates—have tried to find they have been isolated and smothered by politeness of information.

all been consulted since of Chairman Mao about "China," but they do not know. The government here is waiting and know what men and political emerge in China after the of the Communist Party, Shanghai Communiqué, with Washington on at appointed terms? Will it become a realistic after Mao; and differences with Moscow? This is the anxiety here—Chinese leaders try to put the Sino-Soviet alliance and the free world with a solid bloc in the Eurasian continent of Moscow to Berlin?

ains, the poets and the change, but in the Communist world, there are often fundamental changes from a Lenin to a Stalin to a Khrushchev. Mao wonders about this. Mao, mainly because in the dark. His guess for it is that the policies of Mao and Chou En-lai will a while, at least until the succession is over.

re, the balance of political world, will be in doubt, in the main power centers of the world, who or what's

The Abortion Issue

By Tom Wicker

President Ford is playing a dangerous and highly political game in his support for a constitutional amendment that would permit the states to ban abortion. His repetition of that support at a White House news conference left little doubt that he intends to press this issue.

Yet, abortion—while many Americans are profoundly opposed to it—is not one of the very real social, economic and international problems with which the nation is faced. Those are the kinds of problems—unemployment, for example, or health care or Soviet-American relations—with which politics can best cope, and then not always effectively. To concentrate instead on matters of personal behavior and morality can only divert attention from the real issues of the campaign, while raising false hopes of resolving such a complex question as abortion.

An anti-abortion amendment is not really likely to be ratified by two-thirds of Congress and three-fourths of the states. And even if it were, the lamentable experiment with Prohibition should have taught Americans that a constitutional amendment cannot resolve such questions. Once abortion has been legitimated, to the extent it has been, the notion that both the clock and the law can be turned back is not realistic; and since the amendment Mr. Ford seems to favor contemplates abortion in some states but not in others, it probably would create more, not less, conflict and controversy.

Even that limited form of an anti-abortion amendment is coercive, in that it could force millions of Americans to accept under protest the moral views of millions of other Americans—always a prescription for trouble. On the other hand, as things stand now, no one is forced to have or approve abortions; anyone profoundly opposed to abortion can express and personally act upon that conviction.

The religious element in the abortion matter makes it all the more difficult. The active pursuit of a constitutional amendment of a coercive nature by the Roman Catholic hierarchy is bound to reawaken religious echoes not heard in politics since 1960. Since the chief target of this campaign is a Southern Baptist candidate, Jimmy Carter, the potential for religious conflict is greatly increased.

Mr. Ford has put himself in the position, moreover, of pursuing political profit from a religious issue. His strategists make no secret of the fact that one of their prime targets is the Catholic voter in the bloc of industrial states stretching from New Jersey to Illinois; polls apparently show many of these voters cool to Mr. Carter. The appeal for an anti-abortion amendment from the White House, therefore, is essentially a political appeal to a religious conviction—a tactic usually considered deplorable.

Aside from lowering the level of political discourse and diverting attention from issues more relevant to politics, Mr. Ford's insistence on an anti-abortion amendment may backfire on him. In the first place, some sizable segment of the American population is strongly opposed to such an amendment—even though, as individuals, these Americans, like Mr. Carter, may be opposed personally to abortion.

In the second place, there is no evidence that voters who are Catholic are moved more by the abortion issue than by any other. Many, indeed, may believe their religious and moral convictions can be pursued personally without injecting them into politics or imposing them by constitutional amendment on others. Surely many Catholics will be far more influenced by this fall by what they perceive as their general political and economic interests—which party and which candidate, for example, might more nearly provide suitable health insurance or keep the economy stable or deal with the problems of deteriorating neighborhoods.

IN THE NATION

Finally, the passions aroused by such a volatile issue as abortion are not easily controlled. In addition to the responsible millions who favor an anti-abortion amendment, there are enough zealots to create real problems. Already Mr. Carter has been roughed up in one anti-abortion crowd; and even Senator Robert Dole found out in his last Kansas campaign that "help" from anti-abortionists can get out of hand. A backlash vote for Mr. Carter is entirely possible if extremists among the anti-abortionists begin to dominate the campaign.

For his part, Mr. Carter can stand fast on the tenable position he has taken—that he is personally opposed to abortion but cannot support a constitutional amendment to make it unlawful, either for all Americans or for all those in states with an anti-abortion majority. That is a position sound in concept and consonant with democracy, since it coerces no one. It gives Mr. Carter opportunity, moreover, to show that he will stand by a strongly held view even under the most difficult pressures of a political campaign.

THE BANK OF NEW YORK

New York's First Bank—Founded 1784

You're one of the lucky ones. Because it was a good will, you won't have to hassle to get the money. The will is properly drawn. Clearly written. Understandable—not subject to delays. The attorney who wrote it worked with the trust officer and the Bank was named co-executor. It was all part of a total financial plan. Up to date, as it should have been. It was not locked in a safe deposit box, leaving the heirs without access to their money for days or months or—yes, it's happened—years. Good wills don't make it easier for people we love to die. Good wills make it easier for people we love to live. Is yours a good will? Now that you're $400,000 richer, make sure.

The Bank of New York. The bank that manages money.

YOU JUST INHERITED $400,000.

MOBIL SHOWCASE

presents

EVERYBODY RIDES THE CAROUSEL

An animated look at the merry-go-round of life

Created by John and Faith Hubley

Based on the works of Erik Erikson

Introduced by Cicely Tyson

8:00
TONIGHT

CBS
CHANNEL 2

Mobil[®]

Handwritten Arabic text in a rectangular box.

May Allow Spectators Sought Beating of 14 Village Park

JOSEPH B. TREASTER

Washington Square Park was as quiet as a tomb yesterday, a day after a beating of 14 youths in the park. The attack, which was reported by several youths who were hospitalized and one was in critical condition yesterday.

The Associated Press reported that the attack occurred on Wednesday night, Sept. 8, at about 10 p.m. The youths were reportedly beaten by a group of white youths who were selling inferior or fake marijuana.

St. Vincent's Hospital yesterday reported that a 27-year-old man, who suffered a cervical fracture, recalled being thrown off his bicycle in a flurry of blows. He said he was shouting to get those Puerto Ricans.

John Meehan, the detective who is directing the investigation, said the youths were "definitely making progress in inquiry indicated."

Meehan would not discuss the details of the case, but he said the youths were being repeatedly questioned. He said that the youths were being questioned about the attack on Wednesday night.

Injury in Chinatown Gang Fight; Flare-Up Follows Month's Truce

By LESLIE MANTLAND

A flare-up between two rival youth gangs in Chinatown late Wednesday left five young people injured and police in the area reeling from fear of a new wave of street fighting after a one-month truce.

There is no doubt that things got worse, said Detective Neil Meehan, who investigates the Chinatown area and operates from the Fifth Precinct, on Elizabeth Street.

"We're wary of retaliations, but they won't have to happen here. The truce has held over the city."

Police are not sure just how the incident started, but say that the first one reported to them was the major Chinatown gang, the White Eagle gang, and three youths in the case are thought to be shadow gang members.

Alleged perpetrators, charged with homicide and possession of guns, were identified as David Lee, 18 Jackson Street, Paul Kwon, 19 Avenue Street and Peter Chan, 20 Confucius Plaza.

... $75 ...
... $45 ...
... $20 ...
... $10 ...
... $75 ...
... $45 ...
... $55 ...
... $75 ...
... $45 ...
... $20 ...
... $10 ...
... $75 ...
... $45 ...
... $55 ...

Police officers, visitors and residents of the area in Washington Square Park yesterday talking about the previous night's violence

"All I remember was just getting hit. There was no cop, no cop. It was crazy."

The police said the one officer assigned to the park had been on his evening meal break and that the two radio cars patrolling the area had been some distance away.

Capt. William F. Fortune, the commander of the local precinct, said that he covered the park as his manpower permitted but that some nights there were no officers at all posted there. Last night, he said, 12 officers were scheduled for duty in the park.

One of the victims, who declined to give his name, as did the police, was at the stationhouse yesterday with his hand in a bandage. A bullet was still lodged in his finger.

As a stream of police officers came into the room and asked how he was feeling, the youth just sat silently smoking, refusing to answer all questions. He said he did not know who shot him or why.

"When you know who your adversary is and you know what he's capable of, then you don't talk about it," one of the officers mused.

"We're almost used to the lack of response from the community to help us cope with the youth-gang problem," Detective Mauriello explained. "We investigate, and we arrest people, but the cases are few and far between where we get help."

Although about 20 shots were fired Wednesday night, residents in the area questioned about the incidents yesterday, said they did not know a shooting occurred. Merchants appeared particularly uncomfortable when asked about gangs—believed by the police to specialize in extortion, demanding money from businessmen in exchange for "protection."

"We have no problem at all about youth gangs in Chinatown," said Joseph Mei, vice president of the influential Chinese Consolidated Benevolent Association, which is on Mott Street, a block from the Bayard Street scene of Wednesday's shooting.

According to the police, there are about 200 gang members who terrify the people of Chinatown, but it is a rare resident who admits to the problem, and when he does, he will not give his name.

THE COMPLETE STRATEGIST

Who else has

- 5,000 Military Miniature & Fantasy Figures including two great new lines—Grenadier & Hinchcliffe
- A volume devoted to each of 80 British Regiments—plus hundreds of titles of military history and reference
- And the largest selection of war & fantasy games in the world—with all the newest—including FIRE-FIGHT from Simulations

Who else!

THE COMPLETE STRATEGIST
11 East 33rd Street
Tel: 685-3686
10:30-6 Monday-Saturday
Thursday 11-9

Rosh Hashanah

Friday thru Sunday
Sept 24th-26th

Traditional Meals...
Cantor Gadi Eilon

Normal Rates Preval

Downingtown
Golf & Tennis Resort Inn

FOR RESERVATIONS CALL TOLL FREE:
New York City: (212) 692-6200
Philadelphia: (215) 981-7077
U.S. Int. 30 882 23 - PA TOLL
Downingtown, PA 19335

Weekend

shows you a good time Friday in

The New York Times

24 Persons Hurt By an Explosion In Perth Amboy

By EDWARD HUDSON

Twenty-four persons were injured, four of them critically, as a result of an explosion last night in a Perth Amboy, N. J., chemical and asphalt plant.

Three of the critically injured were plant workmen. The fourth was a fireman.

The blast, whose cause was not immediately determined, occurred shortly before 8 o'clock at the Witco Chemical Company installation, 1000 Convery Boulevard.

A police officer six blocks from the scene said he heard the explosion and saw "a big mushroom-like cloud with reddish flames" that quickly died down.

"Then a cloud of acid covered the whole area," he related. "That's what caused most of the injuries."

Hissing Sound Is Heard

A hissing sound could be heard at the plant as the acid cloud was released, the officer said. After several minutes, he went on, the hissing ceased as workmen apparently turned off a valve.

Firemen responded to the scene but there was no report of any extensive fire.

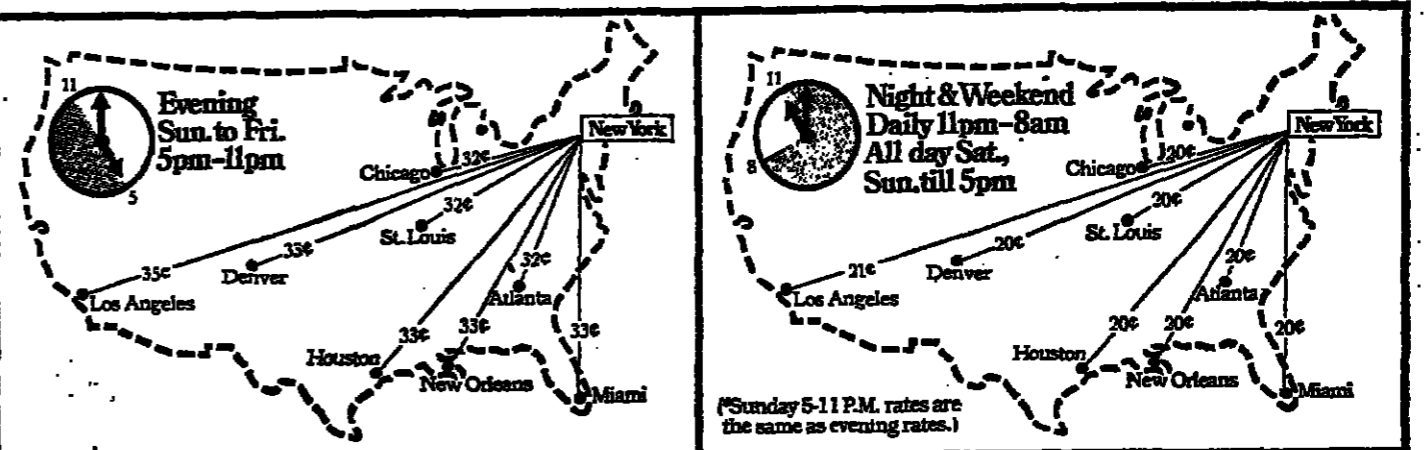

A spokesman at Perth Amboy General Hospital said the three critically injured Witco employees suffered burns. He said they were Nick Lettieri of Cranford, N.J., Alfred Keiser of Bellford, N.J., and John Papierowicz of Perth Amboy.

The fireman in critical condition was identified as William Schultz.

Another Witco employe, Ronald Raji, and a fireman, Steven Baron, were also admitted in fair condition. The 18 other persons—seven Witco employees, 10 firemen and a first-aid squad member—were treated and released.

Mr. Carroll, the plant official said an investigation of the blast would be undertaken today.

The cost of a call to St. Louis won't give you the blues.

Not if you dial direct, without operator assistance, after 5 P.M. That's when Long Distance rates are 35% cheaper than daytime rates.

If you decide to hold off on that call until after 11 P.M., you get an even bigger break on Long Distance rates. Direct dialed calls are 60% cheaper after 11 P.M. and over the weekend.*

Suppose you want to chat with your cousin in California, for example. When you dial direct after 11 P.M., it doesn't cost much to make ends meet. Just 21¢ for the first minute. Additional minutes are even cheaper.

The charts above will show you how inexpensive Long Distance rates really are when you dial direct and watch the clock.

So why not call your Aunt Ethel in Hollywood and make her feel like a star. In fact, why not call a friend or relative anywhere in the country? They don't have to know how little it costs.

Interstate Rate Discount Periods

	Mon.	Tues.	Wed.	Thurs.	Fri.	Sat.	Sun.
8am to 5pm	Day Rate Period—Full Rate
5pm to 11pm	Night and Weekend Rate Period—60% Discount
11pm to 8am

Long Distance. It's cheaper than you think.

ORIENTAL RUGS CONNOISSEUR SALE (Partial Listing)

- Turkish Anatolian 14.6x11.4.....$500.
- Hamadan, Boteh 6.4x4.3.....$600.
- Hamadan Camel Hair 4x6.....$800.
- Ming Chinese 8.11x11.5.....$900.
- Lavar Kerman 5.5x3.8.....$900.
- Kiva Boukara 6.3x7.9.....$1,000.
- Royal Sarouk 13.7x10.7.....$1,500.
- Ispahan 14.5x10.....$2,000.
- Royal Sarouk 10.9x17.10.....$2,500.
- Bijar 18.7x11.....$6,000.
- Kirman 11.4x17.6.....$6,000.
- Persian (Manchester—Wool) Kashan Gold 12x18 (Priceless).....$8,000.

All listed pieces are of exceptionally high quality.

RARITY DETERMINES THEIR VALUE

We welcome your Scrutiny!
No Dealers, Please

WE ARE OPEN TODAY—FRIDAY
SATURDAY 9-5 P.M.
SUNDAY 11-5 P.M.

Alexander

THE ORIGINAL ALEXANDER—SINCE 1837
410 COLUMBUS AVENUE (bet. 78-80 Sts.)
OPEN SUNDAY (212-774-8500)

drawing - henny near TIQUE ISPAHAN ORIENTAL RUG in Cond.—Now on display at ALEXANDER. Purchased in 1940 for $5—today insured for $10,000.
is masterpiece of craftsmanship is considered to be one of the my "Lost Arts".

September 10, 1976

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1976

Borg, Nastase Advance Into Semifinals

Orantes Defeated in 3-Hour Match And Stockton Loses to Rumanian

By NEIL AMDUR

It's a good thing Bjorn Borg's heart beats only 40 times a minute. That way, he doesn't get excited when players like Jaime Fillol, Brian Gottfried and Manuel Orantes are pulling all this high-powered drama at his expense in the United States Open tennis championships.

Yes, Orantes was at it again yesterday, crawling back from the dead for a second straight year. Only this time, his opponent with the long hair and headband was not Guillermo Vilas but the 20-year-old Borg. And the second-seeded Swede refused to give the defending men's singles champion the satisfaction of victory.

In a 3-hour-10-minute stadium thriller, Borg outlasted Orantes, 4-6, 6-0, 6-2, 5-7, 6-4, after the Spaniard had rallied from 0-4 and match point at 4-5 in the fourth set.

The Borg-Orantes quarterfinal was one of the more dramatic matches of the tournament, and the West Side Tennis Club crowd of 16,184 responded with repeated standing ovations. It followed an equally interesting 2-hour-12-minute struggle in which fifth-seeded Ilie Nastase, down a set, overhauled a determined Dick Stockton, 4-6, 6-4, 6-2, 6-3.

only to watch Orantes answer supportive stadium cries of "Man-olo," "Man-olo" with a barrage of winners.

"He's a player who never gives up," Borg said.

"I think if you're going to lose," Orantes added, "leave everything there. Finish in a good way."

He did. From 0-4 in the fourth set, he played his way back to 4-5. Then, with Borg serving at match point, 40-30, Orantes gunned a backhand passing shot down the line that caught the back sets of the baseline. Borg promptly dropped the next two points and the game.

The Swede, noted for that slow heartbeat and customary cool, lost the cool and the fourth set two games later, serving a first serve on a second serve and doublefaulting, after Orantes hit these winners in succession: top-spin forehand lob, backhand pass down the line, forehand cross-court pass.

Thoughts of Vilas Acknowledged

"Were you thinking about the Vilas match last year?" someone asked Borg afterward, referring to the Orantes comeback from five match points and a fourth-set deficit of 0-5.

Borg laughed and said, "yeh."

Were you afraid at two sets all? Borg was asked.

"At two sets all, anything can happen," he said.

Borg broke first for a 4-3 lead in a tense game that played to deuce four times. He trailed, 15-40, in the eighth game, struggled through three deuces but finally held.

Even then, however, after Orantes survived still another series of deuces, Borg had to hold serve for the match. Orantes opened with a forehand passing shot down the line. The game reached 30-all when the Spaniard netted one of his few backhand drop shots. Borg suddenly changed the pace, Ilie Nastase stooping low to return a shot to Dick Stockton yesterday. Nastase moved into semifinals with a 4-6, 6-4, 6-2, 6-3 victory.

Bjorn Borg defeating Manuel Orantes in U.S. Open at Forest Hills yesterday.

Nastase-Borg, Connors-Vilas

So the men's semifinals tomorrow—the women's are today—will pair Nastase and Borg in a rematch of their Wimbledon final (which Borg won) and top-seeded Jimmy Connors against the third-seeded Vilas.

An informal poll of 20 pros in the clubhouse yesterday gave the edge to Connors and Borg. But with the strange dramatic turns that have followed Borg and Nastase through the first nine days of this 12-day tournament, majority opinion means little.

Borg already has come from 3-5, in the final set against Fillol, and two sets to love against Gottfried. Yesterday, he ran off a string of games between the second and fourth acts, 16 of 18,

Life With Nastase: It's Tempestuous, But Love Shines Through the Tears

By TONY KORNHEISER

Just as she was about to marry Ilie Nastase, just before she would say, "Oui," Dominique Grazia listened very carefully to the words, "pour le meilleur, et le pire"—for the best and the worst.

Words to live by, as it turned out.

"I married two men," Dominique Nastase now says. "There is the man I see at home, and that other man I see on the court. I love the two parts—the good and the bad. It is the special thing about Ilie, the I don't know how you say in English. You either love him, or hate him. You see, there is no middle with Ilie."

Dominique, the daughter of the French upper class. Beautiful does not do her justice. Writers searching for a reason to explain her grace assumed she was born to nobility. It just seemed to fit.

"Call me Nikky. Or Nasty. Or Nicely," she says. "Anything you want."

She has heard them all. She has heard worse.

Crowd's Tamis Hurt Her

"I hear them bait him," Nikky says, coming to her husband's defense. "I hear the crowd call him, 'Communist Pig.' I hear it when they say, 'Go back to Rumania.' He cannot be cool. He has no answer. I sit there and watch until I cannot sit anymore. I get sick in my stomach sometime, and I have to leave. I can have ulcer, I think."

It is a beautiful day in Forest Hills. The sun is shining in a cloudless sky, turning the West Side Tennis Club into a chateau in France, perhaps not unlike the one she grew up in, near Namur. But she is not even seeing the sun. Nikky Nastase is thinking back to the day late last week, when her husband and Huns Jurgen Pohmann played on center court, in the match that some people will remember all their lives.

They Met at Forest Hills

"I think Ilie was really crazy, really near to cry when he was playing Pohmann," Nikky says. "It was the crowd, I think. All I think is they want him to get mad on the court. Like, they pay the money, and they come to see crazy things on the court. It was the lions and the Christians. I was waiting for them to put the thumbs down, to call for him to be killed."

There is a slight shudder and a small smile.

And then another shudder, as if a cold breeze had crept under her shirt and up her back.

Nikky and Ilie met in 1973, here at Forest Hills during the United States Open tennis championships. Nikky had come with her sister, Natalie, who was 14 years old then and such a fan of Ilie that his pictures and clippings from the newspapers about him filled two of her albums.

"Ilie was her idol," Nikky says. "Me? I like tennis, but I had no idol. I knew the name, Nastase. That was all."

It happened one day that Nikky and Natalie were watching a doubles match, cheering for Nastase and Ion Tiriac on one of the side courts. Nikky remembers that Tiriac thought she was Rumanian, because she was the only one capping. Nastase noticed her, too. A few minutes after the match he sent someone over to her.

"It's hard to believe," Nikky says. "but Ilie said he saw me in the crowd and immediately knew he wanted to

Continued on Page B7, Col. 2

The New York Times/Baron Silverman Dominique Nastase at Forest Hills

Knicks Obtain McMillian; Nets Seeking Archibald

By SAM GOLDAPER

The Knicks purchased Jim McMillian in the Buffalo Braves yesterday and Nets were close to a deal for Nate Archibald of the Kansas City Kings.

The Archibald deal, the Nets would buy Brian Taylor, Jim Eatkins, their first-round draft choice and would part of Eatkins's salary.

The deal is contingent on the Nets' ability to sign Taylor, whose two-year contract expires Wednesday. There is an option clause in Taylor's contract, he would then become a free agent. He signed with a team other than the Knicks, which holds his National Basketball Association draft rights, the Nets would have to be compensated.

The addition of McMillian gives the Knicks a player with a team concept I strengthens their front line, which struggled since the retirement of his Reed and Dave DeBusschere.

McMillian averaged 15.3 points last year and was among the league stars in field-goal percentage and accuracy. The announcement of the deal will be made today at Madison Square Garden.

McMillian and Bill Bradley, who is expected to retire after next season, give New York two of the finest all-around forwards in the N.B.A. They have similar skills and played similar parts for their teams. Each stands 6'5 inches, plays "textbook" basketball and works hard.

McMillian has come a long way from the slums of the East New York section of Brooklyn, where the streets are littered, empty lots strewn with garbage and broken bottles and houses boarded up. He remained those streets when he attended Thomas Jefferson High School and then went to Columbia University.

He lived in a three-room apartment with his mother and younger sister and brother, first on Jerome Street and then on Miller Avenue.

In a confidential memo by Simon Gourdine, deputy commissioner of the N.B.A., drafted March 12, 1975, which went later into the public record in Federal District court, McMillian was listed among the 10 best forwards with a salary of $200,000 a year.

His Unhappy in Kansas City

After he had been named the New York metropolitan area's top collegiate player for three consecutive seasons and had become Columbia's career scoring leader with 1,758 points, he became the No. 1 draft choice of the Los Angeles Lakers. He signed a three-year contract.

In his rookie season he averaged 8.4 points. He broke into the starting lineup the following season, 1971, and averaged 18.8, playing a key role as the Lakers won the N.B.A. championship.

After the next season he averaged 18.9. The Lakers, in need of a center after Wilt Chamberlain had jumped to the now-defunct American Basketball Association, traded McMillian to Buffalo for T-1 Elmore Smith.

Archibald had expressed displeasure at playing in Kansas City, and said he wanted to complete his career with the Knicks. Instead, according to the reports, he will wind up with the Nets, one of the new N.B.A. teams.

Archibald, a New Yorker from the South Bronx, would make the Nets a more exciting team. They already have Julius Erving, the game's most exciting player.

The Nets obtained the 6-11 Bakins from the Virginia Squires as a backup center in the middle of last season.

Out of the Shmz

Hill, like me, is not a good one-on-one player," McMillian said recently. "I don't imagine him in a playground. He'd look terrible. I never looked at those games."

The Braves, seeking to cut their huge payroll, made McMillian available when they made Adrian Dantley, the 21-year-old star, their first draft pick. Dantley was the top scorer for the United States team that won the Olympic gold medal. He totaled 116 points in six games.

The Braves and Dantley were far from in contract talks and the sale of McMillian was affected to hasten signing.

Yankees Down Brewers by 4-2; Lyle Placated

By MURRAY CHASS

The Yankees took one small step toward harmony and another big step and the division title last night.

First, Manager Billy Martin and Lyle had a closed-door chat. The Yankees went out and beat the Milwaukee Brewers, 4-2, and Ken Holtzman's pitching and home run hitting of Thurman Munson and Chris Chambliss.

In the 13th in the last game, raised the Yankees' lead to 4-1 over the Baltimore Orioles, lost to Cleveland, and reduced the "hot number" to 13. Any combination of Yankees victories and Orioles losses totaling 13 would eliminate Baltimore from the race.

Lyle thought he might have been treated from Martin's relief pitching and harshly criticized the manager's treatment of him. However, they argued before the game and, Lyle said, "reached an understanding."

Everything 'Fins' With Lyle

"That's all I wanted," said Lyle, who pitched in only one of the last 17 games. "We just talked things over, as nothing big. Everything is fine

Steve Cady

New York Discovers Bridgeport

In rapid-fire order, the player wearing the purple jersey designating Post Position 8 moved down the opposition.

First, he broke through Churrua's service, picking up a point. Then, with points doubling for the second round of the 7-point singles match, he polished off Elu, Lecube and Aramayo.

"A perfect game for Egurbi," the announcer reminded spectators in the matinee crowd at Bridgeport's new jai-alai fronton on the Connecticut Turnpike. José Antonio Egurbi, known simply as "Egurbi" in the theatrical, single-name world of cestas and pelotas, had just paid $15.40 for $2 in the 10th game of a 12-game afternoon program the other day. Now he was sitting backstage, a thick-armored, stocky man whose intense eyes and long, sloping nose give him the look of an eagle.

Even by Basque standards, Egurbi's nose stands out. Naturally, his colleagues on the 40-man roster at Bridgeport Jai-Alai call him "Chato," meaning Short Nose.

"It's good here," said the frontcourt man. "The people come, they gamble, it's good for everybody. I'm working harder now than I ever did, and earning more money."

Egurbi slipped an elastic brace off his right elbow, a protective bandage he wears because of the acrobatic style of his rebote. A rebote is a shot on which a player returns the ball from the back wall of the three-sided court with forehand or backhand. Those who supposedly know about such things say Egurbi's rebote is the best in the business, a flamboyant return that often brings his elbow into contact with the floor.

In the month of August, Bridgeport averaged $430,000 a night for betting, 6,608 for attendance. Last Saturday, 5,011 watched the matinee program, and the night card drew 8,816. Per-capita wagering, lifted by city dwellers and suburbanites from metropolitan New York, has averaged $63 at night and $85 at the heavier-betting matinee. Last Wednesday afternoon, it was $95.

Ask gamblers why New York City has no jai-alai fronton and the answer is usually, "The horses." For decades, downstate harness-racing interests have kept the Basque game pronounced "Hi-lie" out of New York as a parimutuel venture. In 1938, Mike Jacobs and Lee Shubert promoted some jai-alai matches at the old Hippodrome, near Times Square, with a rhumba band and Cuban singers—but no betting. It didn't last long. Neither did a plan in the early 1960's to build a nonbetting fronton in the Bronx.

Now the pigeons, or rather the pelotas, have come home to roost. Hartford Jai-Alai, 63 miles from Bridgeport, has been drawing even larger crowds since its opening last May 20. Another Connecticut fronton, at Milford, gets going next year. And the way Bridgeport has been thriving, there's no telling how high the sky is there.

All Roads to Bridgeport

Only an hour's drive from New York City, the Bridgeport operation six nights and two afternoons a week has been getting as many as 40 percent of its customers from metropolitan New York. They come by plane and boat across the Sound from Long Island, by car and bus up the Connecticut Turnpike, or by rail. For the Saturday night performances, New Yorkers arrive in chauffeur-driven limousines.

"New York City could support at least three or four frontons," said Egurbi, back again after a third-place finish in the 12th and final game of the matinee session. "Madrid has three frontons year round, and Barcelona has nine going at the same time."

In the auditorium, the cleanup crew was moving through the aisles to attack the discarded parimutuel tickets and empty popcorn boxes and other debris left by the matinee crowd. Barely an hour later, at 8 P.M., the gates would be opening for the evening crowd.

By 5:30 P.M., early arrivals already were lining up outside the main entrance to the fronton. Fresh from the parking lot, Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Cohen of Beechurst, Queens, were inquiring about dinner reservations.

"We love jai-alai," said Mrs. Cohen. "We see it on winter vacations in Florida. Let's hope the horse-racing people stop fighting it in New York. If they don't, we'll just keep coming up here to Bridgeport."

Red Smith is on vacation.

Everything obviously is fine with the Yankees on the field these days. Not the presence of Henry Aaron could be the Yankees' inevitable forward pass last night.

Ervin, who might have been playing last game in New York (he isn't expected to start tonight), wasn't satisfied with his batting practice efforts in the game.

"I'm," he said, walking out of the stadium, "that was useless."

In his first time at bat in the series, when the pitches were real, the 12-year-old designated hitter lined up along the left-field line, driven

Continued on Page B6, Col. 3

TALL Towers over ordinary 120s

Not just extra puffs but extra tobacco.

And costs no more than 100s.

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

Filter: 20 mg. "tar", 1.5 mg. nicotine; Menthol: 18 mg. "tar", 1.5 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette by FTC method.

You don't have to be Chivas to be regal.

Bombay Gin, imported from England. Superbly dry and gente. One taste and you'll be one of its loyal followers.

BOAT AFLOAT Today Thru Sunday NORTH ATLANTIC 5th Annual BOAT SHOW

The World's Largest In-The-Water Boat Show And the first fall boat show of the year... your first chance to see the hundreds of new '77 models...

UNICORN YACHT SALES, Inc. MONTAUK HIGHWAY AT ROUTE 231 / BABYLON, L.I., N.Y. 11702 (516) 669-6945 Bayfield 23/25 & 30/32 SEE US AT THE NORWALK SHOW

NEW YORK POWER SQUADRON Registration For FREE SAFE BOATING COURSE 6:30 PM September 20 High School of Art and Design Second Ave. at E. 57th Street For information call: PAT SHAW between 9-5 Mon.-Fri. OR 7-0950 New Jersey Residents Welcomed

CONTESSA 26 NEW GIRL IN TOWN Built to order for cruising... 44' 1978 CONCORD SEDAN 179,542.00 33' 1972 PACEMAKER 179,542.00 34' 1967 PACEMAKER Sedan 179,542.00 34' 1976 COUS CRAFT 179,542.00 35' 1976 PACEMAKER 179,542.00 34' 1977 FERRISARI Trimmer 179,542.00 31' 1978 PACEMAKER 179,542.00 31' 1978 PACEMAKER 179,542.00 31' 1978 PACEMAKER 179,542.00

Major League Scores

Table of Major League Scores for Wednesday Night, September 9, 1976. Includes games between Detroit vs Boston, Philadelphia vs Pittsburgh, Cleveland vs Baltimore, and others.

The Standings

Table showing the current standings for the American League and National League as of Friday, September 10, 1976.

Yankees Down Brewers by 4-2; Lyle Placated Continued From Page B5 ing in the first of two runs off Holtzman in the first inning.

Yankees Down Brewers by 4-2; Lyle Placated (continued) Holtzman referred to a fly ball Aaron hit to deep left-center in the eighth inning with one on and two out.

Yankee Box Score

Box score for the Yankees vs Brewers game, showing runs, hits, errors, and other statistics for both teams.

A's Need 4 Pitchers to Hold White Sox and Gain 2-1 Victory

OAKLAND, Sept. 9 (AP)—The Oakland A's needed the efforts of four pitchers today to beat the Chicago White Sox, 2-1, and keep the pressure on Kansas City in the American League West.

BACK IN ACTION: Minnie Minoso, 53-year-old first-base coach of the Chicago White Sox, is being placed on the active list, the club announced yesterday.

Table titled 'World Open THE LEADING SCORES' listing various golfers and their scores.

Table titled 'The Standings' for the American League and National League.

Table titled 'Pro Transactions' listing various professional transactions in baseball.

BASEBALL BALTIMORE (AL)—Sold Tim Lincecum in trade to the Yankees.

BASEBALL HOUSTON (AL)—Waded Jim White, defenseless and Albert Burdette, defenseless and...

Baseball Roundup PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9 (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies, given a one-minute standing ovation on their return home from a poor road trip, beat the Chicago Cubs, 4-2, tonight with the help of a walk, an error and a passed ball in a four-run second inning.

League Leaders BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS AMERICAN LEAGUE BATTING, HOME RUNS, PITCHING, NATIONAL LEAGUE BATTING, HOME RUNS, PITCHING.

Yankees' Record Table showing batting and pitching statistics for the Yankees.

Mets' Record Table showing batting and pitching statistics for the Mets.

U.S. Open MEN'S SINGLES QUARTERFINAL ROUND, WOMEN'S DOUBLES QUARTERFINAL ROUND.

Wednesday's Fight ISTANBUL, Turkey—Cerna Kamaci, Turkey, outpointed Luciano Lafranchi, Italy, in rounds welterweights.

Auto Advertising Appears on Pages 13, 14, and 15

Her Tempestuous Life With Nastase

Continued From Page B5
meet me. Maybe for him it was love at first sight."

For her it wasn't. They dated awhile, and she found herself attracted to him. He had something different, something she couldn't quite identify. But he was on the road too often for her to really be sure that she loved him. And when he asked her to marry him in November of 1971, she said she preferred to wait.

"Tennis players have so much temptations," she remembers saying. "I thought he still might find someone else. Or that maybe I find someone else. I just wasn't sure."

Married Twice

By December of 1972 she was sure, and they married—twice. Once in France, at her home. Once in Rumania. Now Ilie, 30, and Nikky, 26, have a daughter, Nastale, 17 months. Named for Nikky's sister, without whom they would never have met.

Ilie is still on the road a lot. Nikky rarely travels with him, now that Nastale needs so much attention. But Nikky is not so much worried about the temptations on the road anymore.

"Maybe I'm too confident," Nikky says. "But I don't think he fools around. Nothing serious, anyway."

There are some fights at home. Yelling and screaming. Nikky thinks it keeps their marriage healthy.

"If we not have fights, it would be very boring," she says. "This way, it's so much better after making up. You see, he has Latin blood; I have Latin blood. It is the way we are. I know him five years, and I know he will not change. I will not change. We are who we are."

Except sometimes on the tennis court when Ilie is not who he is—when he is someone else, some crazy man who is either very nervous or very scared.

Nikky thinks they might be the same thing.

"I don't know why he act like that," she says. "I see him out there playing, and he is like the Walt Disney person, Peter Pan. The way he moves. The way he jumps, so lightly."

"But sometimes something happens. He goes mad, I guess. I think there are times when he does not know what he is doing, when he does not know where he is. All he really wants is the crowd to enjoy him. But he cannot control himself. Sometimes I am embarrassed by it. Because the crowd does not understand him. Because he seems so mad out there."

Shades of Alfred Hitchcock

And when Ilie goes mad, it is like nothing else in sports. There is screaming, and threatening and cursing. It is bizarre, almost a psycho-drama.

"He is like a child, I guess," Nikky says. "He just cannot keep it inside him; it must come out when he feels it. I hear him curse, and I think how many times I say to him, 'Ilie, you speak five other languages—French, Rumanian, Italian, Spanish and Russian. Why in America you curse in English? I think how many times I want to run on court and say, 'Ilie, come on. Shut up.'"

"But he cannot stop, and I cannot stop him. He comes to me and says he is sorry, that he'll never do it again. I say think to him sometimes that he makes me so upset when he goes completely mad on court that I will never come watch him play again. But he does what he does, and the next day I am back watching him."

"I know some people write that he should be banned from tennis. But tennis is his life; he loves it so much. If Ilie didn't exist, I think tennis not exist. He brings so much interest. The people all come to see him."

Nikky is playing tennis now. Not as well as she'd like, but pretty well. Sometimes she plays with Ilie. And in the back of her mind she keeps a nasty thought. Just once she'd like to be playing with Ilie, and make a bad call on him. Just once. Just to see how he'd react.

The action's at Norwalk...

1 1/2 miles of big boats in the water sail and power on-site parking for 2,000 cars a fleet of small boats on shore plus marine accessories famous restaurant beautiful, easy to reach location Norwalk Cove Marina, Norwalk, Conn.

THE INTERNATIONAL IN-WATER BOAT SHOW

Sept. 16-19

East 16, Conn. Turnpike (1-95) Thursday & Friday, Sept. 16 & 17 Noon-7 pm Saturday & Sunday, Sept. 18 & 19 10 am-7 pm Admission: $3.75 Children under 12 with adults: $2.00

ABC SPORTS PRESENTS NCAA FOOTBALL

Heisman Trophy candidate Tony Danza looks for another big game against the Fighting Irish!

PITTSBURGH VS. NOTRE DAME

Saturday 4:00 PM

Orantes blowing on fingers in games at Forest Hills

g, Nastase semifinals; Orantes Ousted

Continued From Page B5
Orantes to the net with off-stroke and scored with success.

Orantes to stay with Borg because he never gets tired," said the young Orantes, who has spent this summer searching for an ailing left arm. "He always on the same level."

Only was the quality of play court outstanding, the spectators was improved. Maybe it was

Yankees Stroke Analysis

	Nastase	Stockton
Winnings	8	0
Losses	0	8
Serves Made	88	88
Errors	27	31
Points	27	24

Bob Smith Ties Watson, Burns For Lead at 65

PINEHURST, N.C., Sept. 9(AP)—Bob Smith, often a challenger but not yet a winner on the pro tour, one-putted 12 times on his way to a six-under-par 65 today that tied him with Tom Watson and George Burns for the first-round lead in the $200,000 World open golf tournament.

Smith, Watson and Burns, a tour rookie, all took advantage of ideal conditions—mild, almost windless weather—to lead the assault on the No. 2 course at the Pinehurst Country Club, a 7,007-yard layout in the Carolina hill country.

Gay Brewer and Forrest Fezler each shot 66. The group at 67, four under par, included David Graham, winner of the American Golf Classic two weeks ago, Jerry McGee and Jerry Pate, the rookie who won both the United States and Canadian Opens.

Hale Irwin headed a group at 68 that included Gibby Gilbert, Charles Coody, Bobby Mitchell and Bobby Walzel. The Masters champion, Ray Floyd, was at 69.

More than three dozen players broke par. But Jack Nicklaus wasn't among them. Nicklaus, who won here last year and who won $100,000 in last week's World Series of Golf, had to birdie two of his last three holes for a 72.

Screvane Calls Charge Against OTB Inaccurate

The charge that legalized off-track betting has created 90,000 new customers for illegal bookmakers was denounced yesterday by Paul R. Screvane, OTB chairman and president, as "inaccurate, unfair and based on questionable statistics."

In a letter to Charles H. Morin, chairman of the Commission on the Review of the National Policy Toward Gambling, Screvane said: "I feel strongly, and I think you will agree, that it is unfair for OTB to be publicly represented as having created a large number of illegal bettors when the statistical basis for this statement is in question, when your staff's analysis of this question has not been concluded, and when the only other hard evidence that bears upon this matter, the survey of New York City betting compiled by Oliver Quayle in 1972, points to the opposite conclusion."

The statement that OTB had spurred illegal betting was attributed to James Rickles, the commission's executive director, at the House Special Committee on Professional Sports hearing in Washington on Wednesday.

Creavy, at 78-149; Leads Seniors Golf by 2 Shots

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Sept. 9 (AP)—Jack Creavy ballooned to six over par today in the second round of the New York State Senior golf championship at the McGregor Country Club, but still managed to hold a two-stroke lead. Of the 78 golfers over 55 years of age who were invited to compete in four age divisions, 72 were slated for the final round tomorrow.

Creavy, 60, of Eastchester, the runner-up last year, has shot rounds of 71 and 75. His 149 leads Jack Klink of Camillus and John Grandeo of Eudora, tied for second at 151. Grandeo, fourth yesterday, had a 75 to top the scoring today.

Auto Advertising Appears on Pages 13, 14, and 15.

Advertising now appears near Business Opportunities on the last of Classified Advertisements.

TOUGH CHOICE

Not only does Toyota make four of the toughest toughest, most dependable trucks around, but trying to decide which of our four models to buy can be one of the toughest decisions you'll ever make. That's because all four are built with a rugged, welded-steel frame. And that makes them strong enough to carry up to 1,100-pound payloads—a truck full of furniture, farm supplies or three full-sized dirt bikes.

Talk about power. Every Toyota truck comes with the revolutionary 20R power plant, our 2.2-litre aluminum head overhead cam engine with the biggest displacement and highest torque rating in its class. Designed from the ground up to give maximum power and still meet emission controls without adding a lot of extra hardware. The 20R will take you from 0 to 55 in a quick 11.8 seconds. And combined with the electric fuel pump and our durable 5-speed overdrive transmission it's a performance story that's tough to beat.

Talk about a tough choice. We offer the widest selection of trucks in our class. Each one with man-sized cabs that offer more head, shoulder and hip room than our leading competitor. Will you choose our Long Bed with an optional 5-speed transmission or our SR-5 Sport Truck Long Bed with a standard 5-speed overdrive? Or our 4-speed models available on either the regular or Long Bed? Or our SR-5 regular bed with a standard 5-speed? Or would you rather have our optional automatic transmission on both bed sizes? It's all available and it's all up to you.

Talk about service. That's the one thing that isn't tough. There are 1,000 Toyota dealers all across America staffed with Toyota trained mechanics ready to give you the quality service quality trucks deserve. We believe we make the toughest quality line of trucks in the world. That's what gives us the confidence to say...if you can find a better built truck than a Toyota...buy it!

YOU GOT IT.

TOYOTA TRUCKS

See your NY, NJ or Conn. Toyota Dealer.

CBS SPORTS WEEKEND

U.S. OPEN TENNIS

WOMEN'S FINALS SATURDAY, 3-6 PM

MEN'S FINALS SUNDAY, 4-7 PM

Live coverage from Forest Hills. Plus highlights of today's action at 11:30 P.M.

NFL FOOTBALL

GIANTS VS. REDSKINS SUNDAY, 12:30 PM

The 1976 season kickoff game. Plus "The NFL Today," presented live before, during, and after the game.

SPECIAL GET ACQUAINTED OFFER. We've reduced our rates for the month of September...

LEGAL NOTICE OF PROPOSED CONTINUATION AND GEOGRAPHIC EXPANSION OF MEMBERSHIP...

LEGAL NOTICE OF INQUIRY. Inquiry is hereby made to any person having knowledge of the names, addresses, and present residences...

Giants and Jets Are Both Underdogs in Opener Sunday

By WILLIAM N. WALLACE. The National Football League's 57th season opens on Sunday with a television treat, the Steelers-Raiders game from Oakland on Channel 4 at 4 P.M.

quarterback in spite of sore ribs. Calvin Hill and John Riggins will open at running back with Mike Thomas and Larry Brown in relief.

backs, Preston Pearson and Robert Newhouse, are injured with Charles Young and Scott Laidlaw as replacements.

he is ready, a rookie, Stumm will start. He averaged 21 yards in preseason. Betting favorite: St. Louis (4-2) at Seattle.

Jets Keep Shifting Players; Two Dropped, One Recalled

HEMPSTEAD, L.I., Sept. 9—In the confusion of the Jets' locker room, players marched in and out today like recruits at induction center.

performers of some repute around the league. No one knows how good any of the 11 rookies—more than a quarter of the squad—will be once the "real" season starts on Sunday.

Sports Today

BASEBALL. Yankees vs. Milwaukee Brewers, at Yankee Stadium, River Avenue and 161st Street, the Bronx, 8 P.M.

BOXING. Carlos (Caja de Boia) Gil vs. Benny Escobar, junior welterweights, 10 rounds, at Sunnyside Garden, Queens Boulevard and 114th Street, Sunnyside, Queens, 8 P.M.

FOOTBALL. Brooklyn College vs. New York Tech, at Astro-Turf Field, Bedford Avenue and Avenue H, Brooklyn, 8 P.M.

HARNESS RACING. Yonkers Raceway, Central and Yonkers Avenues, 8 P.M.

TENNIS. United States Open championships, at West Side T.C. Forest Hills, Queens, 11:30 A.M.

THOROUGHBRED RACING. Belmont Park, Elmont, L.I., 1:30 P.M.

3 Games Escape Blackout. The National Football League announced yesterday that all but three games on Sunday's opening day of the 1976 season would be blacked out in home areas.

Champions' Race Adds 3. LOS ANGELES, Sept. 9 (UPI)—Gordon Johncock, a top USAC driver, and Buddy Baker, a stock-car driver, and Al Holbert, a road racer, were added today to the 12-man field for the International Race of Champions, leaving one position to be filled.

AMERICAN CONFERENCE

Pittsburgh (5-2) at Oakland Raiders lost an entire defense through injuries.

Baltimore (2-4) at New England Patriots took a blow when Tom Lead, their best backer, was injured.

San Diego (3-3) at Kansas City Chargers have 20 new players in 13 are rookies, three of whom start.

MIAMI (6-0) at Buffalo (2-4)—R Hooks, injured as a rookie and no rushing record, is the replacement for O. J. Simpson.

MONDAY NIGHT FOOTBALL. Miami (6-0) at Buffalo (2-4)—R Hooks, injured as a rookie and no rushing record, is the replacement for O. J. Simpson.

High Tides Around New York

Table with tide information for Sandy Hook, White Plains, Shinnecock, Fire Island, and Mattituck. Columns include date, time, and tide height.

ABOUT REAL ESTATE keeps you up on a changing city. Wednesday and Friday in The New York Times

HOUSES - BROOKLYN. AVE I "High Quality" completely furnished 1 bdr, 1 bath, full kitchen, full drive. L.S. 253-9600

HOUSES - QUEENS. HOLIS HILLS DESIGNERS HOME. 1200 sq ft, 3 bdr, 2 bath, full kitchen, full drive. L.S. 253-9600

HOUSES - QUEENS. HOLIS HILLS DESIGNERS HOME. 1200 sq ft, 3 bdr, 2 bath, full kitchen, full drive. L.S. 253-9600

HOUSES - QUEENS. HOLIS HILLS DESIGNERS HOME. 1200 sq ft, 3 bdr, 2 bath, full kitchen, full drive. L.S. 253-9600

HOUSES - QUEENS. HOLIS HILLS DESIGNERS HOME. 1200 sq ft, 3 bdr, 2 bath, full kitchen, full drive. L.S. 253-9600

HOUSES - BROOKLYN. AVE I "High Quality" completely furnished 1 bdr, 1 bath, full kitchen, full drive. L.S. 253-9600

HOUSES - QUEENS. HOLIS HILLS DESIGNERS HOME. 1200 sq ft, 3 bdr, 2 bath, full kitchen, full drive. L.S. 253-9600

HOUSES - QUEENS. HOLIS HILLS DESIGNERS HOME. 1200 sq ft, 3 bdr, 2 bath, full kitchen, full drive. L.S. 253-9600

HOUSES - QUEENS. HOLIS HILLS DESIGNERS HOME. 1200 sq ft, 3 bdr, 2 bath, full kitchen, full drive. L.S. 253-9600

HOUSES - QUEENS. HOLIS HILLS DESIGNERS HOME. 1200 sq ft, 3 bdr, 2 bath, full kitchen, full drive. L.S. 253-9600

To place want ads in The New York Times 9 A.M. to 5:30 P.M. OX5-3311

Handwritten signature or mark.

Openers

he is ready, a rookie will start. He averaged 10.3 points a game in preseason. Being a St. Louis (4-2) at quarterback as Bill Buntz, a lefty rookie, is reported from Detroit as the coach who is expected to start on Tuesday. Terry Bradshaw, who was named MVP of the Super Bowl, is expected to start at quarterback for the Pittsburgh Steelers. The Detroit Lions have started 126 straight games, but they are expected to start at quarterback, Dennis Green, in two years from now. The Detroit Lions have started 126 straight games, but they are expected to start at quarterback, Dennis Green, in two years from now. The Detroit Lions have started 126 straight games, but they are expected to start at quarterback, Dennis Green, in two years from now.

CLUSIVES
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.
COLONIAL
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.
COACH
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.

ROCK
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.
HAYES
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.
STUTZMANN
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.

EDWIN M. KEUSEY
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.
HAZEL SMYTHE
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.

STUTZMANN
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.
HAYES
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.

ROCK
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.
HAYES
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.

COACH
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.
HAYES
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.

COACH
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.
HAYES
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.

COACH
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.
HAYES
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.

COACH
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.
HAYES
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.

COACH
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.
HAYES
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.

COACH
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.
HAYES
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.

COACH
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.
HAYES
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.

COACH
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.
HAYES
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.

COACH
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.
HAYES
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.

COACH
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.
HAYES
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.

COACH
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.
HAYES
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.

COACH
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.
HAYES
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.

COACH
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.
HAYES
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.

COACH
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.
HAYES
on a 14 wooded acre lot in the heart of the city. Call 212-697-1200.

NYC REALTY, INC. 100 E. WASHINGTON ST. N.Y.C. 10022. Listings include: Bayside, Nassau, Suffolk; Woodbury, N. New York; Poughkeepsie; Buffalo; and various Long Island Sound and Westchester properties.

Gracious Colonial, Toppen Zee Realty, RAMAPO, LOVELY LOC, PANORAMA HOMES, HILL TOP HOMES. Listings include: Ramapo, Lovely Loc, Panorama Homes, Hill Top Homes, and various Long Island Sound properties.

ALPINE, BAYVIEW, KEHOE, BASKING RIDGE, DYNAMIC WAY, BAHRS. Listings include: Alpine, Bayview, Kehoe, Basking Ridge, Dynamic Way, and Bahrs properties.

WESTCHESTER COUNTY

Westchester County listings: Ardley Vic-Ardley Schis, CHAPPAQUA, DOBBS PERRY, HARTSDALE & VIC, LYNDON JOSEPH, MERRITT, MULDOON, GETTE, WELCOME!, YATES. Includes various real estate agents and their contact information.

Westchester County listings: DOERN, JULIA B. FEE, SCARSDALE & VICINITY, VAN WERT, REID & HERRMANN, WOLFF, Ellinghouse & Stacy, BEATY. Includes various real estate agents and their contact information.

Westchester County listings: YORKTOWN'S LARGEST CALL TOLL, MARKATO, LAWSON ASSOCIAT, MERRITT, VAN WERT, DOERS PERRY, BEAUFORT, THRESHOLD REALTY, BRICK-2-FAMILY. Includes various real estate agents and their contact information.

Mc Clellan In Pelham. Handwritten note: 9/11/76

Real Estate - Connecticut

NEW CANAAN (cont'd) 171
NEW CANAAN (cont'd) 171
NEW CANAAN (cont'd) 171

DAVIS & HOYT
Gorgeous limestone col.

JACK McLAUGHLIN
SOMETHING OLD

SOMETHING NEW
Spectacular pondside

CARRIAGE TRADE
DRAMA

FINCH
Associates-Realtors

Keeler & Durant
RANCH

WILLIAM PITT
RIDGEFIELD

Gordon Walsh
Gallery of Homes

Real Estate - Connecticut

STAMFORD (cont'd) 171
STAMFORD (cont'd) 171
STAMFORD (cont'd) 171

JACK McLAUGHLIN
SOMETHING OLD

SOMETHING NEW
Spectacular pondside

CARRIAGE TRADE
DRAMA

FINCH
Associates-Realtors

Keeler & Durant
RANCH

WILLIAM PITT
RIDGEFIELD

Gordon Walsh
Gallery of Homes

Gordon Walsh
Gallery of Homes

Real Estate - Connecticut

STAMFORD (cont'd) 171
STAMFORD (cont'd) 171
STAMFORD (cont'd) 171

JACK McLAUGHLIN
SOMETHING OLD

SOMETHING NEW
Spectacular pondside

CARRIAGE TRADE
DRAMA

FINCH
Associates-Realtors

Keeler & Durant
RANCH

WILLIAM PITT
RIDGEFIELD

Gordon Walsh
Gallery of Homes

Gordon Walsh
Gallery of Homes

Real Estate - Connecticut

STAMFORD (cont'd) 171
STAMFORD (cont'd) 171
STAMFORD (cont'd) 171

JACK McLAUGHLIN
SOMETHING OLD

SOMETHING NEW
Spectacular pondside

CARRIAGE TRADE
DRAMA

FINCH
Associates-Realtors

Keeler & Durant
RANCH

WILLIAM PITT
RIDGEFIELD

Gordon Walsh
Gallery of Homes

Gordon Walsh
Gallery of Homes

Real Estate - Connecticut

STAMFORD (cont'd) 171
STAMFORD (cont'd) 171
STAMFORD (cont'd) 171

JACK McLAUGHLIN
SOMETHING OLD

SOMETHING NEW
Spectacular pondside

CARRIAGE TRADE
DRAMA

FINCH
Associates-Realtors

Keeler & Durant
RANCH

WILLIAM PITT
RIDGEFIELD

Gordon Walsh
Gallery of Homes

Gordon Walsh
Gallery of Homes

Real Estate - Connecticut

STAMFORD (cont'd) 171
STAMFORD (cont'd) 171
STAMFORD (cont'd) 171

JACK McLAUGHLIN
SOMETHING OLD

SOMETHING NEW
Spectacular pondside

CARRIAGE TRADE
DRAMA

FINCH
Associates-Realtors

Keeler & Durant
RANCH

WILLIAM PITT
RIDGEFIELD

Gordon Walsh
Gallery of Homes

Gordon Walsh
Gallery of Homes

Real Estate - Connecticut

STAMFORD (cont'd) 171
STAMFORD (cont'd) 171
STAMFORD (cont'd) 171

JACK McLAUGHLIN
SOMETHING OLD

SOMETHING NEW
Spectacular pondside

CARRIAGE TRADE
DRAMA

FINCH
Associates-Realtors

Keeler & Durant
RANCH

WILLIAM PITT
RIDGEFIELD

Gordon Walsh
Gallery of Homes

Gordon Walsh
Gallery of Homes

Real Estate - Connecticut

STAMFORD (cont'd) 171
STAMFORD (cont'd) 171
STAMFORD (cont'd) 171

JACK McLAUGHLIN
SOMETHING OLD

SOMETHING NEW
Spectacular pondside

CARRIAGE TRADE
DRAMA

FINCH
Associates-Realtors

Keeler & Durant
RANCH

WILLIAM PITT
RIDGEFIELD

Gordon Walsh
Gallery of Homes

Gordon Walsh
Gallery of Homes

Real Estate - Connecticut

STAMFORD (cont'd) 171
STAMFORD (cont'd) 171
STAMFORD (cont'd) 171

JACK McLAUGHLIN
SOMETHING OLD

SOMETHING NEW
Spectacular pondside

CARRIAGE TRADE
DRAMA

FINCH
Associates-Realtors

Keeler & Durant
RANCH

WILLIAM PITT
RIDGEFIELD

Gordon Walsh
Gallery of Homes

Gordon Walsh
Gallery of Homes

Classroom sale, remodeling, and other local service ads including 'CLASSROOM SALE', 'REMODELING', and 'CONCRETE WORK'.

Real estate listings under 'CLASSROOM AVENUE, 170' and 'CLASSROOM AVENUE', including details on property features and contact information.

Real estate listings under '45 ST 330 W', 'VILLAGE AREA', and 'NEW OWNER/MGMNT', focusing on studio and apartment units.

Real estate listings under '60'S WEST', 'LINCOLN CENTER', and 'MILFORD CENTER', highlighting luxury living and building features.

Real estate listings under 'ONE LINCOLN PLAZA' and 'DORCHESTER', featuring studio apartments and multi-level units.

Real estate listings under '330 E 46 ST', 'STUDIO APT', and 'BEAUTIFUL 3 ROOM APT', including details on room counts and prices.

Real estate listings under '50'S WEST', 'PRE WAR BLDGS', and 'TOP OF THE ONE', offering various apartment styles and amenities.

Real estate listings under '50'S E. Moid's Room' and 'J.J. SOPER & CO.', detailing studio and bedroom options.

Real estate listings under '30'S E. MURRAY HILL' and 'Flex2BR$648', featuring renovated apartments and studios.

Real estate listings under 'GEORGETOWN PLAZA' and 'CORLEINGTON AVE', including 2-bedroom and studio units.

Real estate listings under 'PARKER GRAMERCY' and 'STUDIO $310', highlighting studios and 1-bedroom apartments.

Real estate listings under 'UNBEARABLE VALUE 16 W 16 ST' and 'CHELSEA LANE', featuring studios and 2-bedroom units.

Real estate listings under '17 ST, 201 E' and '300 E. 40th St.', including studio and 1-bedroom options.

Real estate listings under '30'S E. ALSO 20'S & 30'S CORPORATE APTS' and 'DELMONICO'S', offering corporate-style apartments.

Real estate listings under '60'S WEST' and 'LINCOLN CENTER', similar to the second column.

Real estate listings under 'ONE LINCOLN PLAZA' and 'DORCHESTER', similar to the third column.

Real estate listings under '330 E 46 ST', 'STUDIO APT', and 'BEAUTIFUL 3 ROOM APT', similar to the fourth column.

Real estate listings under '50'S WEST', 'PRE WAR BLDGS', and 'TOP OF THE ONE', similar to the fifth column.

Real estate listings under '50'S E. Moid's Room' and 'J.J. SOPER & CO.', similar to the sixth column.

Real estate listings under '30'S E. MURRAY HILL' and 'Flex2BR$648', similar to the seventh column.

Real estate listings under 'GEORGETOWN PLAZA' and 'CORLEINGTON AVE', similar to the eighth column.

Real estate listings under 'PARKER GRAMERCY' and 'STUDIO $310', similar to the ninth column.

Real estate listings under 'UNBEARABLE VALUE 16 W 16 ST' and 'CHELSEA LANE', similar to the tenth column.

Real estate listings under '17 ST, 201 E' and '300 E. 40th St.', similar to the eleventh column.

Real estate listings under '30'S E. ALSO 20'S & 30'S CORPORATE APTS' and 'DELMONICO'S', similar to the twelfth column.

Real estate listings under '60'S WEST' and 'LINCOLN CENTER', similar to the second column.

Real estate listings under 'ONE LINCOLN PLAZA' and 'DORCHESTER', similar to the third column.

Real estate listings under '330 E 46 ST', 'STUDIO APT', and 'BEAUTIFUL 3 ROOM APT', similar to the fourth column.

Real estate listings under '50'S WEST', 'PRE WAR BLDGS', and 'TOP OF THE ONE', similar to the fifth column.

Real estate listings under '50'S E. Moid's Room' and 'J.J. SOPER & CO.', similar to the sixth column.

Real estate listings under '30'S E. MURRAY HILL' and 'Flex2BR$648', similar to the seventh column.

Real estate listings under 'GEORGETOWN PLAZA' and 'CORLEINGTON AVE', similar to the eighth column.

Real estate listings under 'PARKER GRAMERCY' and 'STUDIO $310', similar to the ninth column.

Real estate listings under 'UNBEARABLE VALUE 16 W 16 ST' and 'CHELSEA LANE', similar to the tenth column.

Real estate listings under '17 ST, 201 E' and '300 E. 40th St.', similar to the eleventh column.

Real estate listings under '30'S E. ALSO 20'S & 30'S CORPORATE APTS' and 'DELMONICO'S', similar to the twelfth column.

Glenwood Management Corp. Real estate listings for Manhattan, including properties like 'The Stratford' and 'The Pavilion'.

Real estate listings for Manhattan, featuring 'Flex3BR$725' and 'Unique 2 Bedrm'.

Real estate listings for Manhattan, including 'New Owner/Mgmt' and 'Riverside Dr 1380'.

Real estate listings for Manhattan, featuring 'Central Park West' and 'Westside No Fee'.

Real estate listings for Manhattan, including 'Six Rooms & Over' and 'Appts. Uptown - Bronx'.

Real estate listings for Manhattan, featuring 'Appts. Uptown - Bronx' and 'Appts. Uptown - Brooklyn'.

Real estate listings for Manhattan, including 'Appts. Uptown - Bronx' and 'Appts. Uptown - Brooklyn'.

Real estate listings for Manhattan, featuring 'Appts. Uptown - Brooklyn' and 'Appts. Uptown - Manhattan'.

Real estate listings for Manhattan, including 'Appts. Uptown - Manhattan' and 'Appts. Uptown - Brooklyn'.

Real estate listings for Manhattan, featuring 'Appts. Uptown - Manhattan' and 'Appts. Uptown - Brooklyn'.

Cooperative Apartments-Condominiums

Cooperative listings for Manhattan, including 'SUNNY SPAC 4 BDRS' and 'SUNNY SPAC 4 BDRS'.

Cooperative listings for Manhattan, including 'CPW, STAGE SACRIFICE' and 'CPW-10 TOWER APT'.

Cooperative listings for Manhattan, including 'OPEN HOUSE' and 'EAST END AVENUE'.

Cooperative listings for Manhattan, including 'THRESHOLD REALTY' and 'THRESHOLD REALTY'.

Cooperative listings for Manhattan, including 'THRESHOLD REALTY' and 'THRESHOLD REALTY'.

Cooperative listings for Manhattan, including 'THRESHOLD REALTY' and 'THRESHOLD REALTY'.

Cooperative listings for Manhattan, including 'THRESHOLD REALTY' and 'THRESHOLD REALTY'.

Cooperative listings for Manhattan, including 'THRESHOLD REALTY' and 'THRESHOLD REALTY'.

Cooperative listings for Manhattan, including 'THRESHOLD REALTY' and 'THRESHOLD REALTY'.

Cooperative listings for Manhattan, including 'THRESHOLD REALTY' and 'THRESHOLD REALTY'.

Advertisement for 'The New York Times' with contact information and a date stamp 'Sept 10 1976'.

THE NEW YORK TIMES

FOOD SALES

Annual Opportunity... Food Sales... Various food-related business ads including Bakeries, Confectioneries, and Food Processing plants.

Housekeeping/Cook

Housekeeper/Cook... Jobs for experienced housekeepers and cooks, including positions in hotels and private homes.

Business Opportunities

Beauty Salons, Nightclubs, Franchises, and various other business ventures for sale or lease. Includes categories like 'Beauty Salons', 'Nightclubs', and 'Franchises'.

Lubin Galleries

Outstanding Estates Sale! Saturday, Sept. 11, 11 A.M.

Contents of homes & estates removed from 20 Beekman Place... Niccolini, Inc. Secretaries • Commodore • Onyx game & marble top tables • Mirrors • Vitrines • Consoles • Chandeliers • Marble.

Victoria Galleries

105 Greenwich Ave., N.Y.C. Tomorrow, Sept. 11, at Noon... Features: Magnificent Chinese Carved Art, Dragon Table, Porcelain, etc.

PLAZA

795 B'way, N.Y.C. Estate Auction... Sept. 11, Sat., 10:00 A.M. Includes jewelry, paintings, and decorative objects.

Antique Auction

Monday, Sept. 13th... Various antique items including furniture, silver, and art objects.

Columbia Auction Rooms

218 Outfield St., E. Type, N.Y. Sept. 11, P.M. Includes paintings, sculpture, and decorative arts.

Antique Auction

Monday, Sept. 13th... Various antique items including furniture, silver, and art objects.

Teacher's Pet

Students all over the Northeast are finding school work less like work and their teachers are finding their work easier, too. The New York Times in the classroom.

Furniture, Machinery, Merchandise

Regency Auction Gallery, Inc.

1050 2nd Ave (56th St.) N.Y., N.Y. 10022. 212-688-0042

Opening of the New West Auction Gallery at the Manhattan Art & Antiques Center. Unrestricted Public Auction on Saturday, Sept. 11 at 11 A.M.

PB Eighty-Four

Auction: Tuesday, September 14 at 10 A.M. Exhibition: Saturday 10 to 5, Monday 9 to 2.

ORIENTAL WORKS OF ART

Auction: Wednesday, September 15 at 10 A.M. Exhibition: Saturday 10 to 5, Monday 9 to 2. Includes porcelain, pottery, and bronzes.

York Antiques Ltd.

12 East 12th St., N.Y.C. Today, Fri., 10 A.M. Includes antique furniture, paintings, and decorative objects.

A-1 Country Auction

215 West 116th St. Sept. 11, 9 P.M. Includes furniture, paintings, and decorative arts.

Small advertisements for 'SHERIFF'S EXECUTION SALE' and other services.

Paperwork Panel Amassing Redundancies

Continued From Page A1

partments filled the morning hearing at the United States Court House.

Alfred Maceiras, a welfare supervisor in the Brownsville section of Brooklyn, said he had been "ranting and raving" about it for years.

The members of the commission hope that a program called Single Purpose Application with Automatic Referral Service will alleviate the paper problem. The computerized system has been tried in some of the mountain states and the commission hopes it will work in cities like New York as well.

Rather than having separate application forms for various kinds of social services, states like Utah and Colorado have developed a single form, which is simply shuffled to the appropriate department.

Dr. James H. Boren, president of the International Society of Professional Bureaucrats in Alexandria, Va., and author of "When in Doubt, Mumble," said his organization had been following the work of the Paperwork Commission.

"At first we were a little apprehensive that they might really attack the paper we love and in which we nestle, but we are no longer concerned since we realize that we can produce more paper faster than they are able to implement their nondirective projection of paper reduction," said Dr. Boren, who actually talks like that. Dr. Boren said he was disappointed at not having been named to the commission.

Although members of the Paperwork Commission and its staff do tell stories about prize bureaucratic horrors they have uncovered in their hearings, the panel's co-chairman, Senator Thomas J. McIntyre, Democrat of New Hampshire, made it clear that the commission was dealing with the larger picture.

And it is a very large picture indeed, with redundant and unnecessary reporting requirements clogging up almost every kind of enterprise. The commission's chairman, Representative Frank Horton, Republican of New York, estimated that red tape cost the country $40 billion a year, not to mention the confusion, aggravation and even tragedy of individuals who are helpless in the paper maze.

Representative Horton said that one level of the commission's efforts was simply "weed cutting."

The commission has an ombudsman who tries to deal with individual cases of outrageous paperwork, but, Mr. Horton said, "it grows back, like weeds."

President Ford has supported the commission's work and has made changes where possible by executive order, Representative Horton said.

The Federal Government has managed to reduce the different kinds of forms by 12.5 percent in the last year, but the commission members were somewhat crestfallen to learn that the "paper burden"—the amount of time people spend filling out the forms—had scarcely declined at all.

The commission's long-range goal is to make members of Congress "paper conscious," to make them consider the paper impact of proposed legislation as they do the environmental impact."

SWINE FLU CAMPAIGN RECALLS '18 TRAVAIL

Continued from Page B1

United States. There was an outbreak in Needles, Calif., in mid-October. Within four weeks 11 states reported outbreaks. By December there were epidemics all over the country. The first wave was finished by the end of January, but the virus returned the next winter. It has been estimated that Hong Kong flu caused 33,000 deaths in the United States and cost about $3.2 billion in doctor bills and other expenses.

The Asian flu pandemic of 1957 caused twice as many American deaths as did Hong Kong flu and probably twice the expense.

In a history of Type A influenza, Dr. Walter R. Dowdle and colleagues of the Center for Disease Control said that the Asian flu apparently began in Central China in February 1957 and spread rapidly to Hong Kong, Taiwan, Singapore and neighboring countries. By June there were flu-like illnesses in Europe, the United States and the Middle East.

By July it was in South America and Africa. By late September it was widespread in North America and Europe. It peaked in those two regions in October.

By far the worst flu outbreak in modern history was the pandemic of 1918. Its early history is only imperfectly known. Even the continent where it first appeared is a matter of conjecture. In most places doctors did not have to report cases of flu. Furthermore, the world was at war and thus preoccupied.

At the time, it was called Spanish flu, in his book "Epidemic and Peace 1918," Alfred W. Crosby Jr. suggests that this name probably only reflected the fact that Spain was at peace, therefore had no censorship and was more open than other nations in letting the world learn of its influenza problems. Spain had eight million cases of flu in a nation of fewer than 22 million.

"If we insist on contemporary documentary evidence from qualified physicians," said Mr. Crosby, "then we must say that the new influenza appeared first in March and in the United States."

His book, published by Greenwood Press this spring, is probably the most comprehensive modern account of the pandemic. It notes that by 4, 1918, masses of soldiers stationed in Kansas, poured into fatal with coughs, fevers, he aches and all the other types of flu and that there were pneumonia, including 48 months.

By spring and summer Europe hard, but unaccounted for the United States.

Mr. Crosby's book says the sailors in Britain's Gravelly with flu by May 10 and in London in three weeks.

No one knows why the 1918 was so fierce or why it 1930's or 1940's or why it usually to disappear during latter half of the 19th century 1840's to the late 1880's.

No one does anyone know to happen in the winter. Influenza virus has always been unpredictable. The infection disease who propose program against flu hope one step ahead of the virus they admit that no one can predict this fall or winter, later.

Taste the taste of Old French Canadian.

Go ahead. Have a sip of the one premium Canadian whisky distilled, aged and bottled only in French Canada. Taste our O.F.C.

When you do, you'll find our Gallic heritage of attention to detail and good judgment has fathered something very special.

Under our watchful eyes, O.F.C. is distilled, then aged in hand-charred oak for an extraordinary eight years.

It is blended at its peak, achieving prime smoothness as well as the rich, full flavor characteristic of the best Canadians.

Then, unlike many other Canadians, O.F.C. is bottled where it's blended—right here in Québec. (Chalk that up to our French pride.)

So that's why we stand by the fine whisky our three initials stand for. And why we wouldn't stand for less.

O.F.C. means Old French Canadian 8 Year Old Whisky

Lac St-Francois, Valleyfield, Québec.

86.6 PROOF DISTILLED, AGED AND BOTTLED AT CANADIAN SCHENLEY DISTILLERIES, LTD., VALLEYFIELD, PROVINCE DE QUÉBEC, CANADA.

The Thoroughbred. The Kisses of a Million.

THOROUGHBRED RACING IS BACK AT BEAUTIFUL BELMONT PARK

The finest of the fastest or in the world, acres and acres of green grass, oaks, maples and that are as lovely as they are warm sunshine and plenty of The beauty of Thoroughbred racing, along with the excitement to feel it, you have to be

Belmont Park
First race 1:30. Everyday except Sun.

Oriental Rugs

Visit One Of The Largest Selections Of New And Used Oriental Rugs.

We Buy Old Oriental Rugs And Take Them In Trade.

Kaoud Brothers RUG GUIDE

37 Danbury Rd., Rt. 7, Wilton, Conn. 0
Exit 40 Merritt Parkway, 1 1/2 miles North
1-(203)-762-0376
Sun. 12 to 4, Tues. thru Sat. 10 to 5:30, Fri. 11 to 5
Orange: 334 Boston Post Road—795-5
Hamden: 2369 Dixwell Ave.—288-64

ADVERTISEMENT

ROBERT F. WAGNER
HERMAN BADIER
URGE YOU TO VOTE FOR
JUDGE SPIEGEL

FOR SURROGATE, DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY
Committee for Spiegel, 311 5th Ave., N.Y.C. 10016
Treasury: Sid Osherson

BIG AND SHORT MEASUREMENTS
Custom Made SUITS Fit You Best And We Offer The Best

Finest English Materials styled to your exact measurement by skilled craftsmen.

only $125 to $185
Reg. Price $145 to $250

Thomson's
CUSTOM TAILORS LTD.

1133 Broadway (26th St.) Suite 1019 Tel: 929-7779
Open 10 AM to 7 PM, Mon. to Sat.
Also we make any size & style. Alterations, remodeling.

OFFER GOOD Until Sept. 11

Looking for a big, big! Look for it in the Business Finance section of the Sunday New York Times. And under CAREER MARK PLACE... in the Business Finance pages every Tues

Handwritten signature or mark.

SEPTEMBER 10, 1976

The Hottest Cabaret Act In Town Page C3

Boulevard of Art Deco Page C17

Visit to Czech East Side Page C20

3 Chances to See the Craft Of Comedy

By WALTER KERR

IN DON WIDENER'S book about Jack Lemmon, succinctly called "Lemmon," there's a story about the late and lovely character actor Edmund Gwenn, a story that's apt to haunt any actor or actress you care to name. Gwenn, ill and out of funds, had finally been persuaded to retire to the Actors' Home, to which he summoned a close friend, the director George Seaton, one day. Seaton waited a long time before Gwenn opened his eyes and spoke.

"I think I'm going to die," he confided. "Yes," Seaton agreed with quiet candor. "I know." "George, I don't like it. I don't like it a bit. There is no feeling of peace, no feeling of anticipation. George, it's awful. It's frightening and I hate it."

Seaton, groping for words, tried to soothe the old man by agreeing: "I guess dying can be very hard." Gwenn seems to have thought about this for a moment or so, then turned to his friend. "Yes," he said. "But not as hard as playing comedy."

According to the author, those were Gwenn's last words, and I'm sure that—whether Gwenn was having one last little joke or whether he meant it with all the rue that was in him—they are words to which a thousand performers would be willing to murmur a solemn "Amen," including some you can catch this weekend. I was watching Sandy Dennis, who has replaced Ellen Burstyn in "Same Time, Next Year," a few matinees ago and I wondered just how she was going to cope with a rather elaborate, and rather artificial, joke about a steel plate in somebody's head.

Actually, there's no steel plate at all. Bernard Slade's "Same Time, Next Year" is an agreeable and certainly a funny comedy about once-a-year infidelity over a span of 25 years, but it never did have quite a clear conscience about its comic level. The best lines were home truths, the second-best (and sometimes second-best with a thump) were vaudeville gags. Between the two there were air-pockets, and you know what to expect from "them." (The show is rather better now than when it opened, mainly, I think, because it's gentler and less pushy, making the shifts of altitude easier.)

Anyway, the male member of the liaison (now Ted Bessell, and fine) is worried that his wife will find out

Continued on Page C10

These Concerts, Fiddle n't Bad

By JOHN ROCKWELL

CARNEGIE RECITAL HALL is normally the scene of nervous singers and instrumentalists undergoing that most cruel of the New York debut recital, a filled with something quite the other day.

It was extraordinary was the imagine a double string quartet which the second quartet is the (Arnold Steinhardt, John Michael Tree and David Soyer), the best-known ensemble of its the world today.

st quartet consisted of three great violinists of the day—Ern, Itzhak Perlman and Finnerman (who was playing violin—Leonard Rose, the cellist.

rehearsal was a rehearsal of the Spohr Double Quartet in D (Op. 65). It will be heard tonight at 8 in Carnegie Hall as part of a five-concert series titled Isaac Stern and Friends.

series began last night at the John F. Kennedy Center in Washington, tonight at 8 P.M., tomorrow afternoon at 3 P.M., and tonight at 8 P.M. at Carnegie Hall.

back down to Washington or three concerts, and tonight with a performance here on at 3 P.M.

of the series is not hyper-sensitive really seen to be friends, bond isn't just indicated by willingness to split a single fee performances when they command far greater money to appearances. It is also shown smiles when somebody plays a particularly beautifully and the taking camaraderie of the Spohr.

Belmont

it's enough just to play the ota," Mr. Stern informed his as soberly at one point. "There some phrasing, too."

on Mr. Perlman, the most in-joker among the first quartet, to some Cajun country fiddle other points he would sustain off a quick passage and Stern "What's that?" half as a half as a genuine question. ver once was Ysaye and another, Glazunov.

other point, at the beginning of

Continued on Page C25

"Isaac Stern and Friends"—Participants in a five-concert festival of chamber music that begins this evening at Carnegie Hall are (front row) David Soyer, Isaac Stern, Pinchas Zukerman; (middle row) Itzhak Perlman, Michael Tree, Alexander Schneider, Leonard Rose, Jean-Bernard Pommer, Jaime Laredo; (back row) John Dalley, Richard Stoltzman, Yo-Yo Ma, Yefim Bronfman, Arnold Steinhardt. Also taking part in the program are Edward Druzinsky, Maureen Forrester, Julius Levine and Jean-Pierre Rampal. The program runs through Monday and returns for a performance on September 19.

THOROUGH RACING BACK BEAUTIFUL BELMONT

Belmont

Oriental Rugs

Visit One Of The Selections Of New Oriental Rugs We Buy Old Oriental And Take Them

Kaoud Bro

ROBERT F. W. HERMAN BA

JUDGE SP

BIG And SHORT Custom Made SUITS FR

Shambis

Looking for a big Look for it in the finance section of the New York Times under CAREER PLACE in the finance pages even

WEEKENDER GUIDE

Friday

SOME ON PIER 15

JUDGE SP

BIG And SHORT

Shambis

Looking for a big

COMEDY IN BROOKLYN

Arts groups flourish in Brooklyn Heights, and the oldest, established, permanent, floating Off Broadway group there is The Heights Players. It has a board of directors and an executive committee, and at 8:30 tonight it opens its 21st season. It will do this with an old reliable—Kaufman and Hart's "You Can't Take It With You"—and it will do it at the Heights Players Theater, 26 Willow Place. The performance will be repeated tomorrow night, and then on Sept. 17, 18, 24 and 25. There will also be a matinee Sept.

LIVELY ROCKLAND ARTS

There are all kinds of things to do in Rockland County tonight, one of them being to listen to the Manhattan String Quartet, and another to have dinner and then watch "Cheers!" an 1890's musical melodrama based on "The Drunkard." The Manhattan String Quartet, with Abba Bogin as guest pianist, will perform at 8:30 in the Rockland Center for the Arts.

26 at 2:30 P.M. Tickets are $3, and you can make reservations and get information by calling 237-2752.

27 Old Greenbush Road in West Nyack. Tickets are $3.50 for the general public, $1.50 for the elderly and students. The phone number for the center is (914) 358-0877, and you get there by turning off at Exit 12 on the Gov. Thomas E. Dewey Thruway, heading south down Route 303, and then crossing Route 59 and taking Old Greenbush Road. You can also get off the Thruway at Exit 11 and find yourself at the Tappan Zee Inn and Restaurant. The brand new Tappan Zee Repertory Company will do "Cheers!" there at 8:45, and the restaurant buffet opens at 5:30. The price is $14.95 for dinner and show, or $5 for the show alone. On Sunday the show is at 5 P.M., and the price for dining and theater is $9.95. For information and reservations, call 583-0100, (914) 358-8400 or (914) 358-6470.

ing will be the small ships. They will race in the first Cutty Sark model sailboat competition at Conservatory Lake in Central Park, north of 72d Street near Fifth Avenue. The sailboats, which cannot be longer than 50 inches or have more than 800 square inches of sail, will be radio-controlled and will compete in six races, with no more than seven boats allowed in each. If there are more than seven boats, radio frequency jam, which may cause a loss of rudder control and other small marine disasters. There is no admission charge.

ing will be the small ships. They will race in the first Cutty Sark model sailboat competition at Conservatory Lake in Central Park, north of 72d Street near Fifth Avenue. The sailboats, which cannot be longer than 50 inches or have more than 800 square inches of sail, will be radio-controlled and will compete in six races, with no more than seven boats allowed in each. If there are more than seven boats, radio frequency jam, which may cause a loss of rudder control and other small marine disasters. There is no admission charge.

ing will be the small ships. They will race in the first Cutty Sark model sailboat competition at Conservatory Lake in Central Park, north of 72d Street near Fifth Avenue. The sailboats, which cannot be longer than 50 inches or have more than 800 square inches of sail, will be radio-controlled and will compete in six races, with no more than seven boats allowed in each. If there are more than seven boats, radio frequency jam, which may cause a loss of rudder control and other small marine disasters. There is no admission charge.

ing will be the small ships. They will race in the first Cutty Sark model sailboat competition at Conservatory Lake in Central Park, north of 72d Street near Fifth Avenue. The sailboats, which cannot be longer than 50 inches or have more than 800 square inches of sail, will be radio-controlled and will compete in six races, with no more than seven boats allowed in each. If there are more than seven boats, radio frequency jam, which may cause a loss of rudder control and other small marine disasters. There is no admission charge.

ing will be the small ships. They will race in the first Cutty Sark model sailboat competition at Conservatory Lake in Central Park, north of 72d Street near Fifth Avenue. The sailboats, which cannot be longer than 50 inches or have more than 800 square inches of sail, will be radio-controlled and will compete in six races, with no more than seven boats allowed in each. If there are more than seven boats, radio frequency jam, which may cause a loss of rudder control and other small marine disasters. There is no admission charge.

ing will be the small ships. They will race in the first Cutty Sark model sailboat competition at Conservatory Lake in Central Park, north of 72d Street near Fifth Avenue. The sailboats, which cannot be longer than 50 inches or have more than 800 square inches of sail, will be radio-controlled and will compete in six races, with no more than seven boats allowed in each. If there are more than seven boats, radio frequency jam, which may cause a loss of rudder control and other small marine disasters. There is no admission charge.

ing will be the small ships. They will race in the first Cutty Sark model sailboat competition at Conservatory Lake in Central Park, north of 72d Street near Fifth Avenue. The sailboats, which cannot be longer than 50 inches or have more than 800 square inches of sail, will be radio-controlled and will compete in six races, with no more than seven boats allowed in each. If there are more than seven boats, radio frequency jam, which may cause a loss of rudder control and other small marine disasters. There is no admission charge.

ing will be the small ships. They will race in the first Cutty Sark model sailboat competition at Conservatory Lake in Central Park, north of 72d Street near Fifth Avenue. The sailboats, which cannot be longer than 50 inches or have more than 800 square inches of sail, will be radio-controlled and will compete in six races, with no more than seven boats allowed in each. If there are more than seven boats, radio frequency jam, which may cause a loss of rudder control and other small marine disasters. There is no admission charge.

ing will be the small ships. They will race in the first Cutty Sark model sailboat competition at Conservatory Lake in Central Park, north of 72d Street near Fifth Avenue. The sailboats, which cannot be longer than 50 inches or have more than 800 square inches of sail, will be radio-controlled and will compete in six races, with no more than seven boats allowed in each. If there are more than seven boats, radio frequency jam, which may cause a loss of rudder control and other small marine disasters. There is no admission charge.

ing will be the small ships. They will race in the first Cutty Sark model sailboat competition at Conservatory Lake in Central Park, north of 72d Street near Fifth Avenue. The sailboats, which cannot be longer than 50 inches or have more than 800 square inches of sail, will be radio-controlled and will compete in six races, with no more than seven boats allowed in each. If there are more than seven boats, radio frequency jam, which may cause a loss of rudder control and other small marine disasters. There is no admission charge.

ing will be the small ships. They will race in the first Cutty Sark model sailboat competition at Conservatory Lake in Central Park, north of 72d Street near Fifth Avenue. The sailboats, which cannot be longer than 50 inches or have more than 800 square inches of sail, will be radio-controlled and will compete in six races, with no more than seven boats allowed in each. If there are more than seven boats, radio frequency jam, which may cause a loss of rudder control and other small marine disasters. There is no admission charge.

ing will be the small ships. They will race in the first Cutty Sark model sailboat competition at Conservatory Lake in Central Park, north of 72d Street near Fifth Avenue. The sailboats, which cannot be longer than 50 inches or have more than 800 square inches of sail, will be radio-controlled and will compete in six races, with no more than seven boats allowed in each. If there are more than seven boats, radio frequency jam, which may cause a loss of rudder control and other small marine disasters. There is no admission charge.

ing will be the small ships. They will race in the first Cutty Sark model sailboat competition at Conservatory Lake in Central Park, north of 72d Street near Fifth Avenue. The sailboats, which cannot be longer than 50 inches or have more than 800 square inches of sail, will be radio-controlled and will compete in six races, with no more than seven boats allowed in each. If there are more than seven boats, radio frequency jam, which may cause a loss of rudder control and other small marine disasters. There is no admission charge.

ing will be the small ships. They will race in the first Cutty Sark model sailboat competition at Conservatory Lake in Central Park, north of 72d Street near Fifth Avenue. The sailboats, which cannot be longer than 50 inches or have more than 800 square inches of sail, will be radio-controlled and will compete in six races, with no more than seven boats allowed in each. If there are more than seven boats, radio frequency jam, which may cause a loss of rudder control and other small marine disasters. There is no admission charge.

ing will be the small ships. They will race in the first Cutty Sark model sailboat competition at Conservatory Lake in Central Park, north of 72d Street near Fifth Avenue. The sailboats, which cannot be longer than 50 inches or have more than 800 square inches of sail, will be radio-controlled and will compete in six races, with no more than seven boats allowed in each. If there are more than seven boats, radio frequency jam, which may cause a loss of rudder control and other small marine disasters. There is no admission charge.

ing will be the small ships. They will race in the first Cutty Sark model sailboat competition at Conservatory Lake in Central Park, north of 72d Street near Fifth Avenue. The sailboats, which cannot be longer than 50 inches or have more than 800 square inches of sail, will be radio-controlled and will compete in six races, with no more than seven boats allowed in each. If there are more than seven boats, radio frequency jam, which may cause a loss of rudder control and other small marine disasters. There is no admission charge.

ing will be the small ships. They will race in the first Cutty Sark model sailboat competition at Conservatory Lake in Central Park, north of 72d Street near Fifth Avenue. The sailboats, which cannot be longer than 50 inches or have more than 800 square inches of sail, will be radio-controlled and will compete in six races, with no more than seven boats allowed in each. If there are more than seven boats, radio frequency jam, which may cause a loss of rudder control and other small marine disasters. There is no admission charge.

ing will be the small ships. They will race in the first Cutty Sark model sailboat competition at Conservatory Lake in Central Park, north of 72d Street near Fifth Avenue. The sailboats, which cannot be longer than 50 inches or have more than 800 square inches of sail, will be radio-controlled and will compete in six races, with no more than seven boats allowed in each. If there are more than seven boats, radio frequency jam, which may cause a loss of rudder control and other small marine disasters. There is no admission charge.

ing will be the small ships. They will race in the first Cutty Sark model sailboat competition at Conservatory Lake in Central Park, north of 72d Street near Fifth Avenue. The sailboats, which cannot be longer than 50 inches or have more than 800 square inches of sail, will be radio-controlled and will compete in six races, with no more than seven boats allowed in each. If there are more than seven boats, radio frequency jam, which may cause a loss of rudder control and other small marine disasters. There is no admission charge.

ing will be the small ships. They will race in the first Cutty Sark model sailboat competition at Conservatory Lake in Central Park, north of 72d Street near Fifth Avenue. The sailboats, which cannot be longer than 50 inches or have more than 800 square inches of sail, will be radio-controlled and will compete in six races, with no more than seven boats allowed in each. If there are more than seven boats, radio frequency jam, which may cause a loss of rudder control and other small marine disasters. There is no admission charge.

ing will be the small ships. They will race in the first Cutty Sark model sailboat competition at Conservatory Lake in Central Park, north of 72d Street near Fifth Avenue. The sailboats, which cannot be longer than 50 inches or have more than 800 square inches of sail, will be radio-controlled and will compete in six races, with no more than seven boats allowed in each. If there are more than seven boats, radio frequency jam, which may cause a loss of rudder control and other small marine disasters. There is no admission charge.

ing will be the small ships. They will race in the first Cutty Sark model sailboat competition at Conservatory Lake in Central Park, north of 72d Street near Fifth Avenue. The sailboats, which cannot be longer than 50 inches or have more than 800 square inches of sail, will be radio-controlled and will compete in six races, with no more than seven boats allowed in each. If there are more than seven boats, radio frequency jam, which may cause a loss of rudder control and other small marine disasters. There is no admission charge.

ing will be the small ships. They will race in the first Cutty Sark model sailboat competition at Conservatory Lake in Central Park, north of 72d Street near Fifth Avenue. The sailboats, which cannot be longer than 50 inches or have more than 800 square inches of sail, will be radio-controlled and will compete in six races, with no more than seven boats allowed in each. If there are more than seven boats, radio frequency jam, which may cause a loss of rudder control and other small marine disasters. There is no admission charge.

ing will be the small ships. They will race in the first Cutty Sark model sailboat competition at Conservatory Lake in Central Park, north of 72d Street near Fifth Avenue. The sailboats, which cannot be longer than 50 inches or have more than 800 square inches of sail, will be radio-controlled and will compete in six races, with no more than seven boats allowed in each. If there are more than seven boats, radio frequency jam, which may cause a loss of rudder control and other small marine disasters. There is no admission charge.

ing will be the small ships. They will race in the first Cutty Sark model sailboat competition at Conservatory Lake in Central Park, north of 72d Street near Fifth Avenue. The sailboats, which cannot be longer than 50 inches or have more than 800 square inches of sail, will be radio-controlled and will compete in six races, with no more than seven boats allowed in each. If there are more than seven boats, radio frequency jam, which may cause a loss of rudder control and other small marine disasters. There is no admission charge.

For John Russell's review of a centuries-old art at Japan House, see page C14.

THE AMERICAN SHAKESPEARE THEATRE

MICHAEL KAHN, Artistic Director

FINAL 1976 PERFORMANCES

'AS YOU LIKE IT'

Evenings of 8:00 PM Sept. 3, 7, 8, 10, 11.
Matinees of 2:00 PM Sept. 4, 5, 9, 11, 12.

"A NEW VERSION OF SHAKESPEARE'S 'AS YOU LIKE IT'. I LIKED IT RATHER A LOT. THERE IS SO MUCH TO 'AS YOU LIKE IT.'"
CLIVE BARBER—New York Times

"THE PRODUCTION IS DELIGHTFUL FROM BEGINNING TO END. THIS COMPANY HAS BOTH PLAYING AND DIRECTION OF THE HIGHEST CALIBRE."
YOMA MCMURRAY—New York Daily News

"SUMPTUOUS SHAKESPEARE. THE ENSEMBLES WORK APPROACHES PERFECTION. SHOULD TOP YOUR SUMMER 'MUST DO LIST.'"
JOSEPH PORTER—Cue Magazine

"'AS YOU LIKE IT' AT ITS BEST. EASILY THE BEST PRODUCTION IN YEARS."
EMORY LEWIS—Seymour Hertz

"SPARKLING PERFORMANCES, EXPERTLY DIRECTED BY MICHAEL KAHN, MAKE 'AS YOU LIKE IT' SOMETHING THAT EVEN NON-SHAKESPEAREAN BUFFS WOULD ENJOY."
ED GERSHBERG—UPI Audio

Subscribers and other ticket holders for all performances scheduled after September 12 may exchange their tickets for the remaining schedule or receive refunds by calling the box office.

Program subject to change.

Single Ticket Prices:
Tues., Wed., Thurs., (Mats. and Evs.) DRCH, and MEZZ, $6.00; Balc, $5.00
Fri., Sat., Sun. (Mats. and Evs.) ORCH, and MEZZ, $10.00; Balc, $6.00
No Refunds. Tickets may be exchanged by mail or in person up to 24 hours prior to performance time.

Locations: The American Shakespeare Theatre is located off exits 31 and 32 of the Connecticut Turnpike or exit 335 on the Merritt Parkway. Only an hour and fifteen minutes drive from New York City.
For Further Information call (203) 375-4457 (CT) or (212) 956-3900 (New York City-Toll Free)

INSTANT-CHARGE™
Mon thru Sat, 10am to 6pm Sun, 10am to 3pm.
American Express, BankAmericard & Master Charge honored.
In Conn. (203) 378-1864. In N.Y. (212) 961-5021.

World Theatre and the Crisis of Modern Man

9 lectures by ALLAN LEWIS
Dr. Shakespeare Institute Professor, Univ. Bridgeport

A concentrated analysis of significant developments in contemporary theatre of Europe and the U.S. with emphasis on historical and philosophical background and the emergence of new forms.

(#53) Wed., 8:55 p.m., $50.
Course begins Sept. 28.

IN-PERSON REGISTRATION OPENS SEPT. 13
Mon-Fri., 1:00-4:00 P.M.
Saturday 9:00 A.M.-1:00 P.M.

The New School
America's First University for Adults
66 West 17th Street
New York, 10011

"A MUSICAL EXPLOSION"

Wed. & Thurs. at 8 P.M. at 5pm
Fri. & Sat. at 8 & 10:30 pm
Tickets $10 - $7.50

FOLLIES

GATE THEATRE
2nd Ave. & 10th St.
Reservations: 533-8010
Credit Cards: 239-7177

"FLAWLESS"

SEXUAL PERVERSITY

CHICAGO

YU 9-2020

Broadway | John Corry

Circle in the Square Returns to Its Old Spirit of Adventure

CIRCLE IN THE SQUARE is expanding its downtown self, and returning in a way to the kind of experimentation it was famous for when young. On Oct. 7, the downtown Circle will present "The Club" by Eve Merriam, a musical that takes place in a men's club at the turn of the century. It will be directed by the dancer and choreographer Tommy Tune. Moreover, the downtown Circle will also do workshop productions of Sandra Hochman's "Walking Papers," which Phyllis Newman will direct, and "Richard III," which Arthur Sherman will direct; Ron Leibman will play Richard. "Our philosophy is to give creative people a chance to be creative," Ted Mann, the Circle's artistic director, says, adding that henceforth, the downtown Circle will also search out new American plays.

In "The Club," four gentlemen of various ages and marital status meet to talk, joke and sing songs. Since Miss Merriam is a dedicated feminist, it is probable that there is more to it than just that, but Mr. Mann says that it there is a message in the musical it is delivered with restraint. He also says there is a bellhop, a butler and a pianist in the cast.

"Walking Papers" is also a musical, adapted by Miss Hochman from her own novel. In it, the heroine is watching her third marriage dissolve with, as one book reviewer said, "her heart on her sleeve and her soul in a sling." It will be Miss Hochman's first play and it will be Miss Newman's first attempt at directing. The music will be by Gary Friedman.

Geoffrey Holder who may direct a new "Kismet" "I'm a very fortunate man... I really adore life"

This is the report: Edward Albee, the eminent playwright, has discovered a new playwright, whose work he greatly admires. Mr. Albee, who last season directed his own "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" to wide acclaim, would like to direct the new playwright's work on Broadway. Moreover, Mr. Albee would like Angela Lansbury to star in it. A spokesman for Mr. Albee said, "No comment," about all this, and said that even if the report were true, Mr. Albee had other projects in mind, too.

So, how often does an Israeli musical come to Broadway? Hardly ever, of course, but on Nov. 1 an Israeli musical called "Don't Step on My Olive Branch" will open officially at the Playhouse Theater on West 48th Street. It is a satirical musical, wherein some young Israelis sing about the United Nations, anti-Zionists, international conferences and other things, and it is being produced by Norman Kean and Jonathan Karmon. Mr. Kean has produced and managed a great many Broadway productions, among them "Me and Bessie," which is on Broadway now. Mr. Karmon, who is also directing and choreographing "Olive Branch," has brought other Israeli performers here before, and he was once the artistic director for the Olympia Theater in Paris. The new production goes into rehearsal Sept. 20 and begins previews Oct. 19; already, the producers say, the first theater parties have been arranged.

It is almost an indictable offense to talk about Geoffrey Holder and not say that he is protean. Mr. Holder does everything, or almost everything, and he is represented on Broadway now by "The Wiz," for which he won Tonys for both directing and costuming. It is also almost indictable not to mention that Mr. Holder is 6 feet 6 inches tall, and seems to orchestrate his speech to an unseen cello drum. Mr. Holder, in short, is an original.

He is now negotiating to direct a new production of "Kismet," which would be unlike other "Kismets" because it would be set in Mali. Mr. Holder will not talk about his new "Kismet," or say with whom he is negotiating, but he will say whom he would like to cast: Eartha Kitt, Sammy Davis Jr. and Gilbert Price. "Ooooooh," he says (and now you can almost see that drum) "imagine a bearded Sammy Davis, in a caftan."

Mr. Holder staged a production of "The Wiz" in Los Angeles last June and then fell apart with pneumonia. "Boo-oo," he said the other day, and spreading wide his arms he indicated the depth of his collapse. It was sizable.

"But I used my illness," he said. "The phone rings 100 times a day, but when I was ill I had an excuse not to answer it. I painted. I love painting. A canvas is like a blank stage. I look color, line, composition!"

Mr. Holder opened his hands, index Then he mimed himself seeing color, tion!

"I'm a very fortunate man," he said. I really adore it, but when I say I sound like Little Mary Sunshine."

Mr. Holder put his hands to his face, his fingers over his shaven skull. Little Mary Sunshine.

Mr. Holder said that he loved fan things, and that when he read a simultaneously design costumes for himself, was wearing a blue blazer, ascot, and turquoise jewelry; he reached into a dark closet and put it comes up with. He said that he directed "Threepenny Opera," and even "Rex" and "1500 Pennsylvanians" which did not. He said that he had when he did a soft shoe to "Tum Tum" the age of 7, and that he had his first direct a movie. He said it would be him.

"What about a straight play?"

"I'm young yet. I'm a baby. I have later," he said.

Mr. Holder, who is 46, mimed a baby

Barry M. Brown and Fritz Holt, the revivals of "Gypsy" and "The Boys run theaters in the Berkshires, when they saw the Proposition Company, something called "Soap." The company only improvisations, but "Soap," which less a parody of a soap opera (in this opera is called "The Wanton Wind") improvisation. The rest is written by who founded the Proposition Company and Mr. Holt will now bring "Soap" to in November. The other thing they to Garson Kanin about "Ho! Ho! Ho! Gordon wrote.

"Ho! Ho! Ho!" in which Miss G Broadway producer's cook, ran in Stoc where the notices were generally good Cape Cod, where they were better. N is Miss Gordon's husband, directed it. is to tinker with "Ho! Ho! Ho!" a bit bring it to Broadway.

This is the plot: three former show old Irish rebel, who is still full of t Ireland, in a funeral parlor on the U.P. The play is called "A Hit on Wall Str by Denise Collette Bishop, who was o in "Ziegfeld Follies" and "I'll Abner a performer in more than 15 wester were made in Italy. "A Hit on Wall s done by The Spectrum Theatre in the at 248 East 31st Street, and will r through Sundays for three weeks, begi Arthur Whitelaw, who started ou "Best Foot Forward" Off Broadway in 1 Liza Minnelli made her debut) and the Broadway, returned to New York the 6 more than four years in California, e enchanted with the movie business a I had to put up with, and I missed B Whitelaw said. He also said he had as yet untitled comedy by Stan Hart, produce on Broadway this season.

BELMONT PARK IS ALSO A MUSIC FESTIVAL

It all takes place at America's most beautiful race track in a country setting of green grass, lovely trees, fresh air and sunshine. Along with the thrill of Thoroughbred racing, it's all for the $2 grandstand admission.

THIS WEEKEND

Sat., Sept. 11th

THE LIONEL HAMPTON ORCHESTRA

BEAUTIFUL BELMONT PARK

Fine music starts every day at 12:15. First race 1:30. Every day but Sunday.

Exxon Corporation sponsors Town Hall Matinee. A series of entertainments for Senior Citizens.

Hildegard
Tuesday, at 2:00, September 14
"The incomparable" Hildegard adds her vitality and charm to the songs which made her a legend in her own time.

Ruth Gordon
Tuesday at 2:00, September 28
"My Side" — The great lady of the American stage and screen shares her experiences in the theatre as described in her new autobiography, "My Side."

Celeste Holm
Tuesday at 2:00, October 12
Combining all of her talents as an actress in comedy, drama and musicals, Celeste Holm charms her audiences with an entertaining song-and-story program, "Just Ask Me."

Betty Walker
Tuesday at 2:00, October 26
"Hello, Cain!" — Famous for her hilarious telephone conversations to her best friend Cain, Betty Walker, the singer, the actress and the comedienne has brought laughter to millions.

Lee Castle & His Fabulous Jimmy Dorsey Orchestra
Tuesday at 2:00, November 16
A nostalgic hour of sentimental music with the fabulous Jimmy Dorsey Orchestra directed by trumpeter Lee Castle.

Individual ticket for senior citizens, $1.25. For groups of 10 or more, $1.00. (Not only are admission prices low, it's half fare time on New York subways and buses.) Individual tickets for non-senior citizens, $2.00 available day of performance only.

For ticket information call JU 2-4536. At Town Hall, 113 West 43rd Street, New York, New York 10036

TOWN HALL & TON
DIV
THE OUTRAGE
WC
BEHII
70 E 43rd St.
Phone 392-1111

TOWN HALL
Awarded to ELENA CARNegie
at 8
Tickets: Bo

"SUF
SE
PERVI
CH
YU 8

Feel run aw fre hon

To Walk martre. the Greek Miami, Las wherever y little feet i to take you! Make you point the T. tion of the New York You'll get j ideas from staff writers of advice fr travelers. As and pages c tissements fr areas, resort sportation li travel agents anxious to m happy and c ble in you away from ho

The New Hor
America's bigge best-read vari

2025

WEEKEND MOVIE CLOCK

MANHATTAN

Below 42d Street
ART (R 3-514)
Fri. Sat. Silent Movie (PG) 1:15, 2:30, 3:45, 5:00, 6:15, 7:30, 8:45, 10:00

Upper East Side

BECKMAN (R 7-282)
Fri. Sat. Silent Movie (PG) 12:15, 1:40, 2:05, 2:30, 2:55, 3:20, 3:45, 4:10, 4:35, 5:00, 5:25, 5:50, 6:15, 6:40, 7:05, 7:30, 7:55, 8:20, 8:45, 9:10, 9:35, 10:00

Upper West Side

CINEMA STUDIO (R 47-444)
Fri. Sat. Silent Movie (PG) 12:15, 1:40, 2:05, 2:30, 2:55, 3:20, 3:45, 4:10, 4:35, 5:00, 5:25, 5:50, 6:15, 6:40, 7:05, 7:30, 7:55, 8:20, 8:45, 9:10, 9:35, 10:00

Specials

MUSEUM OF MODERN ART (R 64-707)
Fri. Sat. Silent Movie (PG) 12:15, 1:40, 2:05, 2:30, 2:55, 3:20, 3:45, 4:10, 4:35, 5:00, 5:25, 5:50, 6:15, 6:40, 7:05, 7:30, 7:55, 8:20, 8:45, 9:10, 9:35, 10:00

BRONX

BAIRNBRIDGE (R 9-283)
Fri. Sat. Silent Movie (PG) 1:15, 2:30, 3:45, 5:00, 6:15, 7:30, 8:45, 10:00

BROOKLYN

BAY RIDGE-ALPINE (R 4-200)
Fri. Sat. Silent Movie (PG) 12:15, 1:40, 2:05, 2:30, 2:55, 3:20, 3:45, 4:10, 4:35, 5:00, 5:25, 5:50, 6:15, 6:40, 7:05, 7:30, 7:55, 8:20, 8:45, 9:10, 9:35, 10:00

QUEENS

ASTORIA-ASTORIA (R 4-107)
Fri. Sat. Silent Movie (PG) 12:15, 1:40, 2:05, 2:30, 2:55, 3:20, 3:45, 4:10, 4:35, 5:00, 5:25, 5:50, 6:15, 6:40, 7:05, 7:30, 7:55, 8:20, 8:45, 9:10, 9:35, 10:00

QUEENS (Cont'd)

ESKO PARK - UA LEFRAK (Z7-444)
Fri. Sat. Silent Movie (PG) 12:15, 1:40, 2:05, 2:30, 2:55, 3:20, 3:45, 4:10, 4:35, 5:00, 5:25, 5:50, 6:15, 6:40, 7:05, 7:30, 7:55, 8:20, 8:45, 9:10, 9:35, 10:00

STATEN ISLAND

NEW DORP-NYLAN CINEMA (R 47-601)
Fri. Sat. Silent Movie (PG) 12:15, 1:40, 2:05, 2:30, 2:55, 3:20, 3:45, 4:10, 4:35, 5:00, 5:25, 5:50, 6:15, 6:40, 7:05, 7:30, 7:55, 8:20, 8:45, 9:10, 9:35, 10:00

LONG ISLAND

NEW HYDE PARK-HERRICKS (R 62-600)
Fri. Sat. Silent Movie (PG) 12:15, 1:40, 2:05, 2:30, 2:55, 3:20, 3:45, 4:10, 4:35, 5:00, 5:25, 5:50, 6:15, 6:40, 7:05, 7:30, 7:55, 8:20, 8:45, 9:10, 9:35, 10:00

WESTCHESTER

BEDFORD-PLAYHOUSE (R 4-200)
Fri. Sat. Silent Movie (PG) 12:15, 1:40, 2:05, 2:30, 2:55, 3:20, 3:45, 4:10, 4:35, 5:00, 5:25, 5:50, 6:15, 6:40, 7:05, 7:30, 7:55, 8:20, 8:45, 9:10, 9:35, 10:00

FAIRFIELD

BRIDGEPORT-BEVERLY (R 64-970)
Fri. Sat. Silent Movie (PG) 12:15, 1:40, 2:05, 2:30, 2:55, 3:20, 3:45, 4:10, 4:35, 5:00, 5:25, 5:50, 6:15, 6:40, 7:05, 7:30, 7:55, 8:20, 8:45, 9:10, 9:35, 10:00

LONG ISLAND (Cont'd)

THUNDERBOLT & LIGHTS (R 4-200)
Fri. Sat. Silent Movie (PG) 12:15, 1:40, 2:05, 2:30, 2:55, 3:20, 3:45, 4:10, 4:35, 5:00, 5:25, 5:50, 6:15, 6:40, 7:05, 7:30, 7:55, 8:20, 8:45, 9:10, 9:35, 10:00

WESTCHESTER

BEDFORD-PLAYHOUSE (R 4-200)
Fri. Sat. Silent Movie (PG) 12:15, 1:40, 2:05, 2:30, 2:55, 3:20, 3:45, 4:10, 4:35, 5:00, 5:25, 5:50, 6:15, 6:40, 7:05, 7:30, 7:55, 8:20, 8:45, 9:10, 9:35, 10:00

FAIRFIELD

BRIDGEPORT-BEVERLY (R 64-970)
Fri. Sat. Silent Movie (PG) 12:15, 1:40, 2:05, 2:30, 2:55, 3:20, 3:45, 4:10, 4:35, 5:00, 5:25, 5:50, 6:15, 6:40, 7:05, 7:30, 7:55, 8:20, 8:45, 9:10, 9:35, 10:00

Portrait of a man, likely related to the 'THE RETURN' advertisement.

BURT REYNOLDS IS 'GATOR'
EXCLUSIVE ENGAGEMENT!
CRITERION
BROADWAY AT 45TH ST.
582-1795

WHERE 'WESTWORLD' STOPPED
FUTUREWORLD
NOW AT A THEATRE NEAR YOU!
Mr. Friends is 'UPROARIOUSLY FUNNY'...

RICHARD HARRIS
'THE RETURN OF A MAN CALLED HORSE'
EXCLUSIVE ENGAGEMENT!
THE FAIRFIELD
120 W. 43rd St.
7-38, 8-15, 7-26, 8-12

LIBRARIANS
You'll find jobs advertised on the Classified Pages every day, in The Week i...
The New York Times

LONGHORNS
Meet the biggest guys together for the first time!
KING KONG SALUTE TO WARNER'S LITTLE CAESAR
THRU SAT. LITTLE CAESAR
THEY DRIVE BY NIGHT
REGENCY THEATRE

Opera: A 'Figaro' Greatness

Baritone Buffs

ST FIGARO, opera buffa in four acts (by Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, text by Lorenzo Da Ponte) after the play by Beaumarchais, is presented by the Paris Opera in American performance. In the directorial ego trips we are having here and abroad, the traditional, steady performer, the Mozart opera; and what ideas it did have worked in sight. Curiously, the directorial ego trips we are having here and abroad, the traditional, steady performer, the Mozart opera; and what ideas it did have worked in sight. Curiously, the directorial ego trips we are having here and abroad, the traditional, steady performer, the Mozart opera; and what ideas it did have worked in sight.

Harold C. Schonberg

returned to the world of opera night with the "Nozze di Figaro" presented by the Paris Opera in American performance. In the directorial ego trips we are having here and abroad, the traditional, steady performer, the Mozart opera; and what ideas it did have worked in sight. Curiously, the directorial ego trips we are having here and abroad, the traditional, steady performer, the Mozart opera; and what ideas it did have worked in sight.

Mirella Freni in the Paris Opera's "Le Nozze di Figaro"

In addition there was Kurt Moll, from Germany, as the Bartolo. Jane Berbié as Marcellina, Michel Sénéchal as Basilio, Jules Bastin as Antonio, Jacques Loreau as Curzio and Daniele Ferriers as Barbarina rounded out the cast. All of the singers provided ensemble work of a high order. This was a superbly rehearsed company: good actors all, handsome figures on stage, each meshing with one another and with the conductor's baton.

Naturally special interest was focused on certain singers. Miss Freni, for instance, was singing in New York for the first time in eight years. She always has been a favorite, and she is considered the greatest living Susanna. She is much as she formerly was: pert, adorable and a consummate artist, though her voice has darkened a bit, and no longer has a soubrette quality.

were a few unconventional in Act I, at Figaro's "Se vuol le lusinghe" and his scrupulously backed by a arted, vital overview.

last act two cuts were opened. In Mr. Strehler's hands the going on with clarity and. At the very end, the entire forward, and while they are the final chorus the houselights his too is unconventional—and st was international, with only in a leading role. That is, the Count. The Italian Mirella Freni the American Frederica von Cherubino; and from England. Countess, Margaret Price.

Charles Bronson is Ray St. Ives

He's got a half-finished novel in his typewriter. $100,000 bucks in a bag. And everyone in town on his tail.

St Ives
CHARLES BRONSON
ST. IVES
A KOHNER BECKERMAN CANTER PRODUCTION
JOHN HOUSEMAN • HARRY GUARDINO • HARRIS YULIN
DANA ELGAR • MAXIMILIAN SCHELL
JACQUELINE BISSET
PANTHO KOHNER • STANLEY CANTER • BARRY BECKERMAN
TECHNICOLOR From Warner Bros. A Warner Communications Company

2nd WEEK!
at these FLAGSHIP Theatres!

AMERICAN CINEMA 10 10th St. & 4th Ave. 11:30, 2:30, 5:30, 8:30	AMERICAN CINEMA 11 11th St. & 4th Ave. 11:30, 2:30, 5:30, 8:30	AMERICAN CINEMA 12 12th St. & 4th Ave. 11:30, 2:30, 5:30, 8:30	AMERICAN CINEMA 13 13th St. & 4th Ave. 11:30, 2:30, 5:30, 8:30
--	--	--	--

"Magnificent. An overwhelming accomplishment. One that nobody interested in any aspect of artistic creation can afford to miss."
—John Simon, New York Magazine
"Trip on the borders of genius and insanity."
—London Telegraph

EDWARD MUNCH
A FILM BY PETER WATKINS
AMERICAN PREMIERE SUNDAY

THE festival
For special group arrangements call 581-1264.

JAMES CAAN ELLIOTT GOULD
MICHAEL CAINE DIANE KEATON
An elegant safe-cracker, two would-be con men and a dedicated do-gooder, in a race to rob the toughest safe in the world.

HARRY & WALTER GO TO NEW YORK
NOW AT COLUMBIA PREMIERE THEATRES

AMERICAN CINEMA 10 10th St. & 4th Ave. 11:30, 2:30, 5:30, 8:30	AMERICAN CINEMA 11 11th St. & 4th Ave. 11:30, 2:30, 5:30, 8:30	AMERICAN CINEMA 12 12th St. & 4th Ave. 11:30, 2:30, 5:30, 8:30	AMERICAN CINEMA 13 13th St. & 4th Ave. 11:30, 2:30, 5:30, 8:30
--	--	--	--

Sweet Cakes
THE IDENTICAL TWIN SISTERS SET SWEET CAKES FAR ABOVE OTHER PERIODS. THERE IS SOMETHING IN SWEET CAKES FOR EVERYONE—SIZZLING HOT SEX, MANY BEAUTIFUL GIRLS, LUSH SETTINGS, EXQUISITE PHOTOGRAPHY AND GREAT VALUE. —AL GOLDSTEIN
"HUSTLER'S HIGHEST RATING"
—FRANK FORTUNATO

BINGO LONG
A UNIVERSAL PICTURE
TECHNICOLOR
PG

Walter Reade Theatres
LOCKMAKER
RETURN OF THE CALLED HORSE SESSION
ERT MOVIE
KASEKI
CASALS

GONE WITH THE WIND
CLARK GABLE
VIVIEN LEIGH
LESLIE HOWARD OLIVIA DE HAVILLAND
UA Rivoli
CINEMA 10
CINEMA 11
CINEMA 12
CINEMA 13

Radio City Music Hall
"Worth its weight in pirate gold."
"la fantasia du cirque"
Produced by John H. Jackson featuring The Rockettes, Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Will Sommers

2 FIRST RUN HITS
"KINKORAMA"
ALL NEW FIRST BONUS FEATURE
"TEENAGE BEAUTIES"

ROD HARRIS
RETURN OF THE CALLED HORSE
The opening massacre is a heart-rending masterpiece.

BRARIAN
The opening massacre is a heart-rending masterpiece.

Guess who's coming to breakfast?
The New York Times
Just call toll-free 800-325-8400.
Or mail this invitation.

The New York Times
Home Delivery Dept., Times Square
New York, N.Y. 10036

Please arrange to have The New York Times delivered to my home as checked:

Every morning Weekdays Sundays

Name _____
Address _____
City _____
State & Zip _____
Appt. if any _____ Telephone _____

Home delivery of The New York Times is available through independent route dealers for an extra service charge in most of the New York metropolitan area and in key cities throughout the U.S.

If you liked Richard Brown on NBC-TV this summer you'll love him at The New School this fall.

During the past year, Richard Brown has been a featured guest with Barry Grey, Tom Snyder and Barbara Walters. This summer he created and hosted the highly praised interview series Dialogue 200. This fall he returns for his fourth year at The New School where he will be joined by his friends from the media and motion pictures including Alan Arkin, Candice Bergen, Richard Dreyfuss, Robert Duval, Marvin Hamlisch, Erica Jong, Madeline Kahn, Angela Lansbury, Louise Lasser, Mike Nichols and Gloria Steinem.

In the words of a leading film journal, "As an interviewer, Brown is brilliant... as a teacher, (he) is mesmerizing." In addition to penetrating interviews and interesting classes, each series includes a weekend festival of new motion pictures, opening with The Incredible Sarah, the powerful screen biography of Sarah Bernhardt starring Glenda Jackson.

- Filmmakers on Filmmaking (#55) Thurs., 8-9:50, $120. Begins Sept. 23, 15 sessions plus screenings. Weekend screening followed by classroom analysis and discussion with the top creative talent currently making movies: directors, writers, technicians and stars.
- The Electric Mind: A Penetrating Look at Our Media Environment (#52) Wed., 8-9:45, $120. Begins Sept. 22, 15 sessions plus screenings. Fascinating guests from the theater, films, print and television provide insight on the creative process and how the media affect our lives. Weekend screenings and activities.

The New School
America's First University for Adults
66 West 12th St., N.Y. 10011

"Richard Brown may be the best film teacher; he is surely the funniest... the only stand-up professor."
—Met Brooks

To join this unique experience, register at The New School: Monday-Friday Sept. 13-17: 1-8 p.m. • Sept. 20-Oct. 1: 10 a.m.-8 p.m. Saturday Sept. 18, 25, Oct. 2: 9 a.m.-1 p.m.

Sept 10 1976

New York City Sound Country

JOHN S. YILSON

ears, the Rainbow Grill, longingly westward from the 65th floor perch on the city, has finally decided that the kind of music it played beyond the Hudson. The Grill normally offers singers with a distinctly urban feel, featuring country music and to the next two here is an awakening re-entire music," explained the Grill with Brian Daly, oper- the Rainbow Grill and the Rainbow Room. "It's being more than just music music," continued Mr. May, "to people from what a Neapolitan song by music that the Rainbow Grill, however, will not be. The music may have try soil but the musicians, native or emigrant, are playing during the fest- the Simmons and Slewfoot, group led by a 21-year-old artist and singer who has led by Waylon Jennings, and Bo Diddley's western Country long and tomorrow night, they led by Whiskey Hill, a group of progressive country music. Simmons identifies with Kings and Jerry Jeff Walker. Hill will also appear next Friday and will be back the ek from Sept. 21 to 23. The groups will also share the Grill. Mr. Simmons's band (with Mike Baldwin and Smoke) plays country rock, will Tuesday, Wednesday and on Sept. 24 and Sept. 25. Ferguson, Sue Smith and Gentlemen—purveyors of honky-tonk," according to us—will be heard next Sept. 17 and 18, and will pt. 20.

New York Times/Claudio H. Harris Jr. Simmons, country music Rainbow Grill this weekend

these groups, which have local followings playing at a country music club at Avenue (near 48th Street), games in the country field. The name value of its enter- tainment patrons.

we put on a well known Mr. May declared, "the Grill customers wouldn't do. So we might as well names because we're doing new."

n to the two groups each club's show includes a pair dancers, Nancy Wallach, der, who, besides dancing encourage people to get up "to create a feeling of con- tr. May says.

as the Music o the country flavor, Mr. expanded the room's regular include such country special- k bean soup, crab cakes, fried chicken, chili, spare, peapies, pecan pie and, at request of Mr. Simmons, rains.

ation to try country music bow Grill struck Mr. May when he went to O'Luna, Michael Simmons's father, and Lampoon and who was the Diners Club. He was the atmosphere he found ferred from O'Lunney's bow Grill but Mr. May has fine at the full sartorial at- O'Lunney's. No T-shirts, bow Grill, jackets are re-with country music. "meys," Mr. Simmons point- can get very busy and have with the audience. I don't we can do that at the trying to be as loose as I ons, a reformed rock and n, was introduced to coun- when he was 11 years old. WWVA, the 50,000-watt, ic station in Wheeling, W. unistor radio with earplugs as supposed to be asleep. ne year, he formed his first k group, Charlie Brown and, which played Monkees' he led a "serious" rock nce and the Arabians (al- points out, "everyone in he 1960's, he began moving and into country as a result Bob Dylan's record, "Nash- on which Johnny Cash stonished to hear country 1 by people with long hair."

Now on Sale from TWA.

The spectacular West is now on sale at TWA. There's no better time to see it. Because right now TWA's Discover America fares are the lowest they'll be for the year. And you can fly any day of the week, any time of the day.

Once you get where you're going, you can take a TWA Freewheeler vacation. The most flexible, value-packed fly/drive in the business. Whether you want to just fly to the West or tour it at your own pace, you may never get another chance like this.

Airfares are subject to change.

TWA's Discover America Night Coach Excursion Fare.

Save 25%

Reservations for TWA's Discover America Fares must be made at least 14 days before you want to fly. In order to save 25% off the regular Coach fare, you must book on a TWA Designated Night Coach. Tickets must be purchased no more than 10 days after you've made your reservation and at least 14 days before your departure or return. Stay 7-30 days. There's a limited number of seats per flight on which we offer these savings, so make plans early.

New York to:	Adult Round-Trip	Child Round-Trip
Los Angeles	$303	$202
San Francisco	$303	$202
Phoenix	$267	$178

TWA's Night Coach.

The lowest fare we have without restrictions.

Save 20%

This fare has no restrictions whatsoever. You don't have to book in advance, or stay any specified length of time. Just reserve a seat on a TWA designated Night Coach flight.

New York to:	Adult One-Way	Child One-Way
Los Angeles	$162	$108
San Francisco	$162	$108
Phoenix	$142	$ 95
St. Louis	$ 73	$ 49

TWA's Discover America Fare.

Save 20%

New York to:	Adult Round-Trip	Child Round-Trip
Los Angeles	$323	$202
San Francisco	$323	$202
Las Vegas	$296	$185
Phoenix	$285	$178
Tucson	$283	$177
Denver	$229	$143
Chicago	$128	$ 80
St. Louis	$146	$ 91
Kansas City	$170	$106
Albuquerque	$250	$156
Oakland	$323	$202
Oklahoma City	$197	$123
Tulsa	$184	$115
Wichita	$189	$118

When your children fly with you they'll...

Save up to 50%

As you can see above, children (2-11) traveling with you can fly at 50% off the regular Coach fare with our Discover America fares, and 47% off with our Night Coach fare.

The lowest-priced fly/drive program in the business.

Fly/Drive $15⁷⁶ West

a day per person

With a TWA Freewheeler West, you can fly to the West in comfort and save a lot of time and energy for visiting and touring. You'll get an air-conditioned Ramada car with unlimited mileage plus a choice of 264 Ramada, Quality and Best Western Hotels and Motels. (Some hotels have seasonal or year-round surcharges which are payable locally.)

TWA also has two other fly/drive programs so ask your Travel Agent about the Hertz Freewheeler and Hertz Holiday Inn plans, too. Prices are for a minimum of 7 nights, based on double occupancy, and do not include airfare.

TWA's Freewheeler plans are available to Los Angeles, San Francisco, Las Vegas, Phoenix, Tucson, Denver and Albuquerque. So pick the one that's best for you and your family and head West. Ask for Tour IT6-TWFL-6.

By charging these vacations on your TWA Getaway Card, you can extend your payments over time.

Being the best isn't everything. It's the only thing.

TWA

RESTAURANTS CLUBS - HOTELS

Friend's
"Delicious food"
Spain & South
Celebrate with us
ican Festival featuring harpist for your dining 271 Amsterdam Ave.

HELD
"Med. the 50"
Oct. 2nd
DEAN PITHFORD
"The Ball"
"Wonderful Lunch BRUNCH AND DINNER"

HOPPER'S

Sept 15 1977

Treasure into Flag Art

Japanese schools of ideal working art nothing less than the Shinto and Buddhist deities of Shinto and Buddhist nations, nature happy with this, the legend goes, was the an to devise a flag that separated by the Now there are others, many take their hats off to the Museum of Modern Art.

You don't see the theologian of the head, you see the sacred design (that race, organized by the most ethnographic by artists who not corn repeating for organizations and other you think that of their own devising.

Among the 25 flags on show stands European art in the, the designers came up century Shinto and Washington; the city mixture of the, the National Audubon and an unknown architect even designed a crescent to full, white He intended his work "to and celebrate the future of the first colony on the to flags in a big way, and no community activity is considered complete without banners that proclaim or just look attractive. It is all a far cry from the days before the washing machine when New Yorkers called Monday "flag day" in recognition of the wash strung from the lines of all decent tenement-dwellers.

The judges of the competition were Paul Chadbourne Mills, director of the Santa Barbara Museum; Arthur Drexler of the Modern Museum's department of architecture and design; Dr. David Scott of the National Gallery of Art, and Dr. Whitney Smith, director of the Flag Research Center of Winchester, Mass., the only organization in this country that is entirely dedicated to flags, their history, use and whereabouts.

The flags are being exhibited in the museum's second-floor Phillip L. Goodwin Galleries. The museum, at 11 West 53d Street, is open daily (except Wednesdays, when it is closed) from 11 A.M. to 6 P.M.; Thursdays it remains open until 9 P.M. Admission: $2; students, $1.25; under-16's and over-65's, 75 cents. Information: 856-7234.

Among the 25 winners of the first nationwide flag-design competition on view at the Museum of Modern Art are (clockwise from upper right) Donna L. Bott's flag for the City of Pittsburgh, Virginia Lamm's for the Veteran's Administration, Joan Allabe's for the State of Alaska, Gary Morgan's for the Audubon Society and Richard J. McKee's for the Grand Rapids, Michigan, Art Museum.

An Old-Fashioned Circus Pitches Big Top in the Big Town

An old-fashioned tented circus—the kind boys used to dream of running off with, the kind not seen in New York in 40 years—is coming to town this weekend. Bears and elephants, trapeze artists and jugglers, clowns and fire eaters will be entertaining children of all ages, starting tomorrow afternoon, when the traveling show pitches its canvas big top in an empty lot on Second Avenue and 190th Street.

The troupe is called Circus Vargas after its owner, Cliff Vargas, and bills itself as the largest tented circus in North America. And now, after having traveled more than 35,000 miles to 100 cities in the last three years with 150 performers, three herds of elephants, 700-pound Syrian hears and Andalusian horses, it is making its metropolitan area debut. The circus will give two shows daily until Thursday at 4:30 and 8 P.M., except tomorrow, when there will be shows at 1, 4 and 7 P.M.

was going to circuses and hoping one day to own one. When he grew older, he worked for a number of circuses before buying a small one in 1972. It didn't come with a tent, but a year later Mr. Vargas bought one large enough to hold 5,000 people and began to travel around the world to find performers.

"American circus was born in a tent," Mr. Vargas said. "It's completely different from being in a building because you actually become a part of the act. You're within 20 feet of the performance, and you can smell the animals, see the expressions of the people as they perform."

Tickets to Circus Vargas may be bought only at the box office—$6.50 for adults; $3.25 for children 11 and under; for reserved seats, add $1.10.

...ational season is ... Japan ... East 47th ... on view ... country ... Shinto ... the pa- ... qualified ... usually ... therefore, ... on ... and its ... National ... even ... taught ... and ... excited ... many an- ... centuries ... of miles ... in an ... of ... had a pri- ... an abso- ... of the rarest ... was re- ... satisfaction ... as usually ... that harmo- ... nature was ... of the ... of great ... they had ... eight- ... "Mibongi" ... for all ... leading over ... there were ... of the ... of which was ... appears ... trans- ... known ... and ... were ruled ... Add to this ... class, the ... of Japan, is ... grandson. ... recipe ... of the ... we can ... and tomor- ... today, I ... free ... in date ... to the ... of Shinto did ... their ... when ... and ... light- ... part of the ... family ... the ... who born ... to be real-

Looking for more teaching opportunities to choose from?

Look in The Week in Review (Section 4) every Sunday.

Look in the "About Education" feature every Wednesday.

Look in the Classified Pages every day of the week.

The New York Times

AIR-INDIA ANNOUNCES ANOTHER CHOICE LONDON THEATRE SEASON.

If you're looking for an 8-day London Theatre Tour, choose the one that gives you some choice.

The Air-India 8-day London Theatre Tour. We give you four theatre tickets. Three tickets to any plays you want to see. If the play's running and if there are tickets available, you've got it. (Only exceptions: no opera, ballet or Royal Shakespeare Company.)

How about that fourth ticket? It's to a performance at the exciting new National Theatre. And, as a bonus, Air-India also gives you a guided tour of this incredible new theatre complex.

How does all this stack up to other airlines' theatre tours? Well, some of them don't give you as many tickets. And some of them don't give you as much choice. In fact, some of them don't give you any choice at all.

An Air-India 8-day London Theatre Tour also gives you a great flight round-trip, 7 nights in a good hotel with private bath, an Avis car for three days (that's right, three days), transportation to your hotel from the airport and to the airport from your hotel—and a bunch of extras.

We do all this for the same—or perhaps less—than the airlines that don't give you so much choice. Which makes the whole thing an easy choice, right?

See your travel agent or fill in the coupon.

AIR-INDIA
666 Fifth Ave., New York, N.Y. 10019 (212) 751-6200

I believe in freedom of choice. Please send me information on your London Theatre Tours.

Name _____
Address _____
City, State, Zip _____
Travel Agent's Name _____

ANTIQUES

ANT TAG SALE
ON, CONN.
furniture, silver, sa, hande cou- bound books, bracs, handreds of Dr. and Mrs. Jeron Fowler.
State Boutique, Sharon, Conn.
12 @ 16 to 5 daily
Machens Ave., New York
89-5757

THE ANNEX
ANTIQUA FAIR & FLEA MARKET
EVERY SUNDAY
FROM 10 AM TO 7 PM
till end of October
24th St. & Ave. of the Americas
"FREE ADMISSION"
Quality Dealers • Free Parking
—Dealer Info—
OR 5-3860
from 2 to 8 PM
925-8144 after 6 PM

HATCHCOVERS FROM WORLD WAR II LIBERTY SHIPS
$115
COMPLETE, FINISHED WITH LEGS
Beautiful desk, dining, coffee table, a lot of the seven sets at a price everyone can afford. While you're here, buy your browse thru 5 acres of antiques, furniture, farm tools, books, stained glass, medals, fabrics, reproductions, and junk. Open Thursdays & Mondays. Write for free literature. WHITE HOUSE WAREHOUSE CO. 226 South St., Station 11, 10020 Philadelphia (215) 348-3377

ESTATE AUCTION
SUNDAY SEPTEMBER 12
VIEWING 9:30 PM TILL SALE 7:30 PM
HOLIDAY INN MOTEL
OLD COUNTRY ROAD, WESTBURY NY
Lower Level-Lone Island Room FURNITURE ACCUMULATION FROM VARIOUS ESTATES AND PRIVATE COLLECTIONS. REMOVED TO MOTEL. ALL TO BE SOLD TO HIGHEST BIDDER. Furniture, silver, books, glass, paintings, gold & silver jewelry, diamonds, rubies, sapphires, pearls, Antiques of all descriptions. Bronzes, signed art glass, crystal, ivory and Onyx, Art Deco, Art Nouveau, Victorian, clocks, porcelains, pottery, original oil paintings, engravings, maps, calligraphy, lamps, chandeliers. Terms of sale 50% cash deposit for bidding number receivable at any time if not successful at bidding or apply to bill, balance cash on check, immediate removal. Trucking available. Catalogues $1 each. St. Gooden Auctioneer 516-583-9147

WANTED
NATIONAL MARKET ENDING
T. 18, 1976 to the deserty Co-Op City and by all major traf- We are seeking (and craftsmen to a wide variety of quality merchandise. Information Call 6092 and (212) 851-2200

Courses at The New School
BY EDITH FRANKEL
of E. J. Frankel—Oriental Arts of Chinese Antiques (beginning Sept. 22) of Japanese Antiques (beginning Sept. 22) of Lectures & Field Trip— Tues. 7:45-9:15 p.m.
With lectures in the Fields of Tribes, Painting, Sculpture, Ceramics, Pottery, (beginning Sept. 27)
Registration now!
THE NEW SCHOOL
66 West 23rd St., New York, Telephone (212) 851-2200

ANTIQUA AUCTION
SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 10:30 P.M.
Large amount of the American Pottery, Fine Linen and Fine Woodware, Fine Crystal, Fine Glass, Fine Silver, Fine Jewelry, Fine Art, Fine Books, Fine Maps, Fine Reproductions, and Fine Carpets. Large lot of new Sterling including service for 12, George Jensen Silverware, Royal Winton, and more. BERNARD'S BARN 4 Denny Street Dover, NJ 201-851-9114
Col. Ed. Barnson, Auctioneer 50 min. 60¢ Bridge on Rt. 90 Cash on Certified Checks Only

Placing a classified ad? Call OX 5-3311 between 9 A.M. and 5:30 P.M.

9004
ORIGINAL 25th ANNUAL ANTIQUE NATIONAL GUILD SHOWING WESTERN AVENUE, NEW YORK, N.Y. SEPTEMBER 14, 15 & 16. Time 10:00 AM to 5:00 PM. DEARLY WANTED: 100 NORTH BROADWAY, NEW YORK, N.Y. DORA SEELY, MANAGER, 100 NORTH BROADWAY, NEW YORK, N.Y. 10013

THE BIG SHOW
NEXT SUN. SEPT 19TH
ROOSEVELT RACEWAY.
WEST 111th St.
Plan & Party 212-352-3282

BRONXVILLE
ANTIQUES FLEA MARKET
Sun. Sept. 19, 10AM-5PM
DAILY OR BY APPOINTMENT
100th St. & Broadway, Bronxville, N.Y.
Admission 212-238-2200

MID-IS. PLAZA MALL
HICKSVILLE, N.Y.
35+ DEALERS-FREE ADMISSION
BY WEDNESDAY 5PM-9PM

Placing a classified ad? Call OX 5-3311 between 9 A.M. and 5:30 P.M.

9006
TOP CASH PRICES
GIVEN FOR YOUR USED AUTHENTIC ORIENTAL RUGS
Call for appointment
NEW YORK ORIENTAL RUG CO.
422 W. 11th St., New York, N.Y. 10011
WANTED—MECHANICAL BANKS
Private collector interested buying antique mechanical coin banks in good condition. Write giving description: 1980 TIMES
CAMERAS Wanted—Antiques & Collectibles
Describe year, model, condition, price. Home Collectibles, 233 N. 25th St., N.Y. 10010
BARBOD FISHING BOATS
BEELS, 30' 3000'S, ETC.
COLLECTOR PAYS $25 UP
Send for list of items. Send to purchase. Oriental Rug Dept., 233-0140

6TH Annual Antique Show at 100th St. & Broadway, Bronxville, N.Y.
Sun. Sept. 19, 10AM-5PM
DAILY OR BY APPOINTMENT
Admission 212-238-2200

FLEA MARKET
SEPT 23rd SEPTEMBER 23rd
100th St. & Broadway, Bronxville, N.Y.
Admission 212-238-2200

FLEA MARKET & CRAFT SALE
MAHOPAC FARM & MUSEUM
RTE 6, BALDWIN PL., N.Y.
09012
EVERY SAT-SUN
INFO: (914) 628-7811 (914) 628-7812

Placing a classified ad? Call OX 5-3311 between 9 A.M. and 5:30 P.M.

9036
Wanted: Allen Pea wants 300 CRAFT DEER, antiques, maps, etc. Write: Allen Pea, 100 North Broadway, New York, N.Y. 10013
2nd Annual Antique Show & Sale Sept 12-13-14 Sun. 12-5 PM, Sat. 10-5 PM, Fri. 10-5 PM. 100th St. & Broadway, Bronxville, N.Y. 10019. Contact: Gary Secor, 212-238-2200

There's a lot more to a great music station than great music.

George Edwards
Chopin and galoshes.

News, Views and Reviews Around the Clock. With Bill Blair, Casper Citron, Clive Barnes and Jane Lebowitz.

Karl Haas. He knows more about the first performance of Beethoven's 9th than the people who were there.

Robert Sherman. Prima donnas tell him things they wouldn't want other prima donnas to hear.

Duncan Pirnie. He conducts a tasteful medley of good music, good food and useful information.

George Jelinek. He knows a voice when he hears one.

Free Home Delivery of the New York Philharmonic, and the Boston, Cleveland, Philadelphia and Israel too.

A great music station should bring you great music. That's its primary job. And WQXR does that job. But we think a great music station should be a great station, too. Which means it should be a vivid tapestry of music, insight into music, and fascinating personalities.

It should please, delight, inform and enrich its listeners. That's what we aim for. And succeed at. We're unique. Because there may be other stations in New York that play great music. But there's only one great music-station that's a great station, too.

The Metropolitan Opera. Live in your living room.

WQXR

1560 AM 96.3 FM STEREO

The classic stations for classical music.

THE RADIO STATIONS OF THE NEW YORK TIMES

Handwritten signature or mark.

The Pop Life

John Rockwell

Dolly Parton Disk And News of Other Women Singers

Dolly Parton's latest album might have been expected to vary the pattern of most of her records up to now. Regarded by many observers as the most original and evocative songwriter and singer in country music, she has received increasingly adulatory notices in the last year. Now, with a new syndicated weekly television show, beginning locally tomorrow night at 11 on Channel 5, she might have made a firm move in the direction of general pop accessibility.

But on "All I Can Do," her latest record, she has done no such thing. In general, country singers pay less self-conscious attention to their albums than the big pop stars do these days. Back in the 1950's, pop albums were collections of filler material around a hit single or two, and were conceived as a way to amplify the sales success of the singles. Disco albums still follow that principle, and so do country albums. Country stars crank out their product almost indiscriminately, twice or three times a year.

Willie Nelson and some other "progressive" country singers have begun to emulate the post-"Sergeant Pepper" pop stars with long-playing records conceived as entities. But Miss Parton, for all her extraordinary gifts, is still very much a mainstream Nashville artist in her social and business affairs and, apparently, in her self-conception as an artist. Thus her albums are generally very short, and contain only one or two of her special, haunting songs. The rest is given over to formula country laments and up-tempo efforts—some of which become hits on the country sales charts, although generally her hits coincide with the songs that appeal to noncountry listeners, as well.

"All I Can Do" has two songs that transcend conventional country, one of them interesting and the other up in the league of Miss Parton's best. The interesting (if ultimately unconvincing) song is Miss Parton's version of Emmylou Harris's "Bolder to Birmingham." Miss Parton subjects this song to a slow, inflated, rhetorical reading, bringing the last possible drop of sentiment from a song better sung—as Miss Harris herself sings it—more simply. Still, Miss Parton's gifts as a singer, with that unusual little nasal vibrato, make her attempt worth hearing.

The great song is "Falling Out of Love With Me," with its haunting tag at the end of otherwise completed phrases showing that Miss Parton has lost none of her ability to find a "hook" that sticks in the memory.

One wonders what will eventually become of Miss Parton. She has such enormous talent, yet clearly she fears venturing beyond the identity and the audience that have brought her this far. Her loyalty to the country audience is commendable, but after a point she is simply denying her own gifts. It's not that the new album isn't perfectly pleasant and listenable to on repeated hearings; it is. But her best work invariably shows her capable of so much more than one wishes some day soon she would take the risk.

Here are some reflections on other new albums by women singers:

Dolly Parton was the Country Music Association's leading female vocalist last year; Crystal Gayle, who is a younger sister of Loretta Lynn, was the association's most promising new female vocalist. So far, she is singing songs by others, and on "Crystal," her second album, she sings them beautifully. Miss Gayle has a clear, flexible soprano with a sweetly delicate vibrato. Her taste in songs is wider than that of some country singers, and her current hits sound more like Berlin between the wars than Grand Ole Opry. There is some schlock in the songs and the arrangements—here, but Miss Gayle

Dolly Parton
"Capable of so much more"

Crystal Gayle
"Can rival the best pop singers in the nation" clearly has it in her to rival the best pop singers in the nation.

Jessi Colter is married to Waylon Jennings, and because of that is lumped in with the recently successful "country outlaws" group of singers. But on her own, in "Diamond in the Rough," she is no such thing. This is a conventionally sentimental, decently realized but in no way exceptional country album.

Twiggy—yes, Twiggy—the former 1960's model; has put on some womanly weight, looks better than ever and turns out to be a not bad singer at all. In a new disk called "Twiggy," she steers her way through a countryish collection that gives her the credentials to challenge Olivia Newton-John and others of the personality-celebrity school of singing.

Dorothy Moore emerged from obscurity with one of the year's biggest singles a few months ago, so it's no surprise that her first album, "Misty Blue," makes that hit the title track. Miss Moore proves she is no fluke: This is fine, full-throated, gospel-tinged ballad singing of a type that should ensure her continued presence for a good long time.

Gloria Gaynor is one of the big names on the disco circuit, but most of her album "I Got You" is formula packaging of a danceable but not very listenable to sort. The final cut, however, "Talk, Talk, Talk," rises above the thudding bass and canned murk of the rest into something genuinely distinctive.

Candi Staton pays homage to disco here and there on "Young Hearts Run Free," and she does it with a seriousness and subtlety that generally elude Miss Gaynor. Miss Staton is a wider-ranging singer than the confines of disco so far allow, and this is a most appealing collection as a result.

Christine McVie's "The Legendary Christine Perfect Album" is "legendary" because it has been a collector's item among import-record enthusiasts since it was released in Britain six years ago; it is "perfect" because that was Mrs. McVie's maiden name. This is indeed an attractive collection of British blues stylings, finally released in this country now because of the recent commercial success of Fleetwood Mac, Mrs. McVie's band.

When this reviewer heard Jane Olivor live a while back, he considered her the most mannered yet of the phony-theatrical, impossibly self-indulgent New York cabaret artists, and the necrophilous cover of her first record did little to whet the appetite. But within the stylistic context in which she works, "First Night" is a fine record. Miss Olivor's voice is attractive, the mannerisms seem somewhat contained, and the collection of show tunes and cabaret tearjerker works decently well.

Country Music continues its restless growth in New York City. In addition to the start of country music shows at the Rainbow Grill, of all places, there will be a "country-disco" night, of all things, tonight at O'Lunney's, 915 Second Avenue, near 48th Street, the city's leading country-music club.

The propagator of this is named Erse! Hickey, and he has put out a single on the Ramones II label to herald his innovation. His song, "Waitin' for Baby" is really more country than "disco" in any stylistic sense, although the bass is grunted out to encourag

Beethoven Inspires A New Fan Club

By ROBERT SHERMAN

Ludwig van Beethoven, of all composers, would seem to be least in need of a society to preserve, promulgate and perpetuate his music. But he has one all the same. The Beethoven Society is now growing to the point where it bids fair to make a potent impact on the Metropolitan New York cultural scene.

Three months after its launching, the organization already boasts a roster of 400 members, with new applications flowing in every day. Its summer meetings were filled to overflowing; in fact, so many people had to be turned away that the society has taken the giant step of scheduling its next program on Sunday afternoon at 3 P.M. in the 1,100-seat auditorium of the Martin Luther King Jr. High School (on Amsterdam Avenue, between 65th and 66th Streets, just west of Lincoln Center).

The performers will be the conductor and author David Randolph, who will do a musical analysis at the keyboard of the three periods of Beethoven's piano sonatas, and Michael May, pianist, who will offer the Sonatas No. 7 (Op. 10, No. 3), No. 12 (Op. 26) and No. 31 (Op. 110).

Society members will be admitted free; nonmembers will be asked for a $3 contribution. Since there are no reserved seats, early arrival is recommended.

A Beethoven Convert

The Beethoven Society is the creation of an advertising executive and music buff named Robert Becker. A little like the mountain climber who scaled Mount Everest because it was there, Mr. Becker founded the Beethoven Society because it wasn't there. A fairly recent convert to the master's music, he was distressed to find no organization functioning on Beethoven's behalf in the United States. "Even more astonishing," he said, "there seem to be only three others in the entire world: the Beethoven Haus in Bonn, the Beethoven Society in Vienna, and the one in Paris."

Actually, there was a Beethoven Association active in New York between the two world wars. Among other worthy deeds, it made grants to the music collection of the New York Public Library and saw to the translation and first American publications of Thayer's "Life of Beethoven" which was dissolved in 1929 and Mr. Becker stepped in to revive it.

His first step was to create Haas, the pianist and whose syndicated program in New York on WOR's reaction was "a Beethoven what for?" Mr. Haas gradually I was completed by this man's devotion to cause. I also began to see Beethoven had done for people all over the world, now, namely inspire them of his incredible, spiritual, cal power. We began to do Organizing Programs.

Within a few months, had turned into an incorporate An "ambitious set of goals formulated Karl Haas has artistic director (Robert E as the society's president), visory Board was formed expertise of such notables: neri Quartet, Eugene Orm Serkin and Isaac Stern, the Bonn and Vienna Sc brought into the fold. and the first open meeting of Society was held at a sun the East side.

So far, each of the r consisted of a mini-lecture discussion and a recital session presided over by The Guarneris, Joanna Nadden, Marian Hahn and are among those who have their performing services. mar. Three more program planned for Sundays November and December. Plans for the Future

The society sees the m ings as only the beginni thovias adventures. "We significant funds through and government organiz Haas says. "We've already an active liaison with ti Haus in Bonn, and we wa scientific research here on perhaps undertaking an manuscripts, facsimiles at able Beethoven memorabi floating around in this cc

The Beethoven Society: 299 Park Avenue, telephone 8900.

From "Ludwig van Beethoven," portrait. Beethoven and his original manuscript of the Piano Sonata No. 31 (which will be performed Sunday at the Beethoven Society.)

ART

At The New School this Fall, you can meet and talk with prominent members of New York's art community, in the classroom, or in their own galleries, studios, and museums. Guests for these special courses include artists, art dealers, museum directors and curators, and art investment specialists.

The Art World Comes to The New School

Art and Money (#8)
8 Thursdays, 7:45 p.m., $60.

Conversations with Architects and Critics (#517) 8 Wednesdays, 7:45 p.m., $60.

Chicose Antiquities: History and Culture Viewed Through Art Objects (#3860)
8 Wednesdays, 7:45 p.m., $55.

Japanese Art: Five Guest Lecturers (#3863)
8 Tuesdays, 7:45 p.m., $55.

The Creative Visual Artist Today (#9080)
7 Thursdays, 6:00 p.m., $60.

WORLD ART MARKET CONFERENCE
On October 29-30, The New School and The ARTInstitute will sponsor an innovative two-day conference on the rapidly growing business of art. Guest speakers include prominent members of New York's art community. Fee for the two-day program: $200 (incl. 2 luncheons). For more information, call 682-8226.

Classes start September 18.

Registration by Phone: Master Charge and BankAmericard holders may register by calling 741-8610, 9:30-3 through Sept. 10.

In Person: Sept. 13-18: Mon.-Fri. 1-8 p.m., Sat. 9 a.m.-1 p.m.

The New School is located in the heart of Greenwich Village.

NEW JERSEY RESIDENTS: You can easily reach The New School via PATH trains at 14th St., 6th Ave., Station.

The New School
America's First University for Adults
66 West 12th St., N.Y. 10011

WALLY FINDLAY GALLERIES
17 EAST 57TH STREET NEW YORK
New York, Paris, Chicago, Palm Beach, Beverly Hills

INVEST in ART and SAVE

Substantial Reductions

An Outstanding Group of Oils Watercolors, Gouaches, Drawings By World Famous Artists

Lithographs 50% Off

Also Featuring FRENCH IMPRESSIONISTS, POST-IMPRESSIONISTS AND MODERN MASTERS

MON. THRU SAT. 9:30 TO 5:30 (212) 421-5390

FIVE YEAR EXCHANGE PLAN

PACESSETTERS IN ART SINCE 1870

JASPER GALLERIES

Jean Poller

OILS AND WATERCOLORS

42 EAST 57th PL1-8230

WILDENSTEIN
THE WORLD'S FOREMOST ART CENTER

Scenes of France

19th and 20th Century Paintings and Drawings from the Gallery's Collection

September 7 - October 2

19 EAST 64TH STREET, NEW YORK

GENESIS GALLERY
41 EAST 57, 212-751-7174

"THANKS!—Capitol Hill"—Sept. 15-Oct. 2

A SPECIAL BENEFIT EXHIBIT FOR ARTISTS RIGHTS TODAY, INC. $15 per ticket. Evening Sept. 14, 1976-5:30-8:30 pm

Including - new works by: ARAKAWA • CHAI • INDIANA • LICHTENSTEIN • MARISOL • MOTT • OLDENBURG • RAUSCHENBERG • RIVERS • GUIST • SEGAL • WARHOL AND WESSELMANN.

Gallery Hours Tues. to Sat. 10:00 A.M. to 6:00 P.M. Evening

GROUP SHOW
American & European
AVERY, BLUMNER, O'KEEFE, HOFMANN, BURCHFIELD, MARSH, NEVELSON, DUBUFFET, others

SID DEUTSCH
43 EAST 80 ST. 861-4429
TUES.-FRI., 10-5:30

Gallery Group

NANCY HOFFMAN GALLERY
420 WEST BROADWAY
NEW YORK 666-6676

A PATRIOTIC SHOW
Sept. 11-Oct. 9

LEARNER-HELLER
956 MADISON
861-9010

THE BRONX MUSEUM OF THE ARTS
UNIVERSITY ARTISTS/TEACHERS '76
UNIVERSITY COUNCIL FOR ARTS EDUCATION
SEPTEMBER 3 thru OCTOBER 5, 1976
The Bronx Museum of the Arts
851 Grand Concourse
Bronx NY 10451
212-681-6000

3-shows
GAIL VON DER LIPPE
SALLY FISHER
J. NEBRASKA GIFFORD
Sept. 4-22
(Tues-Sat. 11-6)
55 MERCER
NYC 226-8513

Larry Zox
Andre Emmerich
41 East 57

Rafael Mahdavi
Recent Paintings
September 11-30

Tibor de Nagy
29 West 57th Street
212/421-3780

FAMOUS ARTIST MOVING
GIVE-AWAY ART SALE
Essential paintings, Come, name your own price.
Saturday & Sunday 12-5 P.M.
Further information: ES 2-1954
GREENWICH VILLAGE
SEABATE, BROOKLYN, NY 11224
4316 Atlantic Ave.
CALL FOR APPOINTMENT

GALLERY WHICH IS FULLY CAPABLE TO RELOCATE TO THE BURNETT QUADRON AND WOULD LIKE TO INTO A JOINT VENTURE FOR FURTHER INFORMATION
CALL Y 7885 TIMES

People Grace Glueck

It is a work of art these days... sometimes more expensive... buying it. And that's the deep regret of artists...

"We expect the Biennials to continue to be different, depending on our aim each year," explains Mr. Armstrong...

And here's further news from the Whitney front: Undaunted by poor attendance figures for its show this summer...

How big is the New York art world? No one knows. But it's a great deal bigger than it was in what is now called "the heroic age"...

It is with these people in mind that the New School, 66 West 12th Street, is running a course called "Inside New York's Art World"...

ART

The Wood/Yoko Gallery presents paintings by David De Vary and Warren Ward-Perkins

Now through September 23 JOAN PALEY one-woman show of paintings. Nena's Choice Gallery On the Bridge

NANCY HOLLAND WATERCOLORS UNTIL SEPTEMBER 25 FAIR GALLERY 1014 MADISON AVENUE

Sugar Loaf Crafts Village 6th Annual Art Show September 11, 1976

OLD & NEW PRINTS SIGNED GRAPHICS DALI & ALL MAJOR ARTISTS

PHYLIS LUCAS GALLERY 981 2nd AVE (52 St) NEW YORK CITY 10022

MARCIA HAFFI DRAWINGS SONNABEND

Hand-signed, serially numbered, mounted lithographic prints of each of the 20 'Tall Ships' may now be acquired at $50 each or $900 the complete set.

Announcing The Collectors' Edition Frank Braynard's Tall Ships

Frank Braynard, noted marine artist and historian, and driving force behind Operation Sail 1976, created these stirring sketches of the twenty 'Tall Ships'...

To Order Your Prints Now - Call Collect 212-267-5553 (On Sunday call 212-688-5753) forward remittance with coupon. You may select individual ships by name from miniature reproductions below.

A form for ordering prints, including a table with columns for Ship Name, Quantity, and Price @ $50 each price. The table lists 20 ship names and their respective prices.

How to have an art-full weekend

Be sure to read the art news and advertising every Friday right here in the pages of 'Weekend'... and every Sunday in the Arts and Leisure section of The New York Times

ART

Paintings... American Investor and... Club...

EDWARD MUNCH A FILM BY PETER WATKINS AMERICAN PREMIERE SUNDAY

Lotte Jacobi Kimmel Cohn PHOTOGRAPHS

ATTENTION: Queen Artists/Craftsmen THE QUEENS MUSEUM

ART AND ANTIQUE BARGAINS FAMOUS NAMES

AVEDISIAN CARO DELAP DRAPPELL KAUFFMAN MARTIN ROTH WESLEY WITKIN

AVAILABLE Jerry Space... 78th 1140

GRAPHICS Reduced Prices DUFFY • KONOSCHKA LAURENCH • MASSON RAUSCHENBERG • REDON

POT POURRI Handmade studio and gallery of five contemporary artists

DEALERS-COLLECTORS Leaving city, selling assemblages & constructions

Painting & Sculpture Staempfli

FIBER SCULPTURES IN WHITE by MARY ANN GILLIES

09/12/78

Brentano's on Fifth Ave.

50th Birthday Celebration

COME TO THE FAIR

Join the celebration, Sept. 12 through Sept. 17—6 days chock full of special events! There's something for everyone—craft demonstrations, sports celebrities, clowns, magicians, famous authors and more. Don't miss the fun. It all begins Sunday, Sept. 12 with a fabulous Street Fair and continues through Friday, Sept. 17 at Brentano's, 536 Fifth Ave. (between 47th & 48th Streets).

SUNDAY, SEPT. 12 • STREET FAIR DAY

From 2 p.m. until 4 p.m.

- Meet Thelma Newman, author of Paper As Art And Craft and Contemporary Decoupage. A noted teacher and lecturer, Ms. Newman will demonstrate both these art forms.
- Meet Carol Cutler, author of The Six Minute Souffle. She'll demonstrate the art of gourmet cooking made quick and easy for today's busy person.
- Meet Toni di Marco, author of The California Way To Natural Beauty. An international fashion model's discussion of beauty and nutrition secrets.
- Meet Dr. Leon Tec, author of Fear of Success.
- Meet Dr. Wayne Dyer, author of Your Erroneous Zones.
- Meet Denise Carcel and David Markoff, authors of Total Recall. Techniques for developing a powerful, photographic memory. To master memory is to invite success in business, in education and in relations with other people.
- Meet Irving Howe, author of the bestselling book, World of Our Fathers. The unforgettable story of the journey of the East European Jews to America and the life they made.
- Meet Bill Bradley, New York Knick superstar and author of Life On The Run. He'll give you fascinating insights to the game of basketball and the men who make the game.
- Meet Tom Sullivan, blind singer, composer, athlete and author of If You Can See What I Hear. Presently co-starring in "Airport '77," he'll be autographing his book and also be giving Mastermind demonstrations for the blind.
- Meet Alfred Allen Lewis and Julienne Kornoff, authors of Everybody's Weaving Book. An introduction to handweaving that covers all the basics with a full explanation of the appeal of this most traditional, yet most innovative of crafts.
- See a Mastermind demonstration by Les Ault, the original Mastermind creator.
- Meet Xenia Ley Parker, author of Creative Handweaving. Plus: Bill Zinns Original Rag Time String Quartette, Schirmer Classical Quintette, Randi the Magician, Townsend the Clown, a Jumble Tournament, Champion Dart Thrower Conrad Daniels, etching techniques by Jo-Anne Isaacs, game demonstrations and more.

TUESDAY, SEPT. 14 • STORE EVENTS

From 11:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.

- 11:30 to 2:00 Meet Bob Freeman, he'll play, demonstrate and challenge the game of backgammon on beautiful sets from All-Mart.
- 12:00 See a Mastermind demonstration by Les Ault, the original creator of Mastermind.
- 12:30 Meet Judith Guest, author of Ordinary People. Written with humor and compassion, here is the story of social normalities placed on ordinary people and how one family deals with the extraordinary circumstances in their lives.
- 12:30 Meet Tom Sullivan, author of If You Can See What I Hear.
- 1:00 Meet Richard Schickel, author of P.D.Q. Bach. The uproarious story of the last and unquestionably the least of the great Johann Sebastian Bach's children. The author succeeds in ripping the veil of obscurity from the most unusual composer in the history of music.
- 1:30 Meet Ruth Rouffberg, author of Kitchencraft Workshop. Projects from basic, inexpensive materials found in any kitchen.
- 2:15 Meet Uta Hagen, actress and author of Uta Hagen's Love For Cooking. As professional in her kitchen as she is on stage, Ms. Hagen offers recipes to both the neophyte cook and the more accomplished chef.
- 3:00 Meet Erica Jong, well known and most widely acclaimed novelist. Author of Fear of Flying, Fruits & Vegetables and Half-Lives. Plus: Magician Bill Noble, a stained glass demonstration, an etching demonstration and more.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 15 • STORE EVENTS

From 11:30 a.m. until 2:00 p.m.

- 11:30 Meet Robert Flaminio, author of Scarlett, Rhett, and A Cast of Thousands. The inside story of how producers and stars were made and broken and how Margaret Mitchell's Gone With The Wind became one of the greatest box-office successes of all time.
 - 11:30 Meet Dan Greenberg, author of Something's There. A delightful, irreverent and often spooky record of a skeptic's discovery of the occult.
 - 11:30 Meet Gael Greene, a prizewinning journalist. Her novel Blue Skies, No Candy is an original literary excursion into the sexual experience of woman.
 - 2:30 Meet Nick Lyons, author of The Sony Vision. The story of the Sony Corporation's part in an economic saga that turned the words "Made in Japan" from a joke to a hallmark of excellence and ingenious design.
- Plus: Mastermind demonstrations, Magician Bill Noble and Counterstrike demonstrations by Roger Tuckerman.

FRIDAY, SEPT. 16 • STORE EVENTS

From 11:30 a.m. until 2:30 p.m.

- 11:30 Meet the author of Arson!, Deputy Chief Fire Marshal of N.Y., John Barracato. Arson is the hardest crime to prove although 1/2 the fires in the U.S. are deliberately set. Who are the arsonists and how are they caught?
- 12:00 Meet Bella Scharf, author of Patchwork Crochet. The versatile art of patchwork crochet.
- 12:30 Meet Bob Reed, author of Sand Creatures and Castles. The perfect beach activity for the entire family with step-by-step guide for creating sculptures in the sand.
- 12:30 Meet Isaac Asimov, famous science fiction and scientific writer. He'll autograph his Tales of the Black Widowers and The Caves of Steel.
- 1:00 Meet James Monaco, author of The New Wave. His theory of a new wave of consciousness in the film industry has led him to an in depth study of the careers of 5 major directors who are shaping the way we see the world.
- 1:30 Meet Claudia Jessup and Genie Chips, authors of The Woman's Guide to Starting a Business. For every woman who has dreamed of having a business of her own—a detailed explanation of how to turn an idea into a profit-making enterprise.
- 2:00 Meet Barbara Howar, author of Laughing All The Way. A real insider's look at the many public and private guises in Washington, D.C., a place where survival necessitates "a fine madness and a sense of humor."

THURSDAY, SEPT. 16 • STORE EVENTS

From 11:30 a.m. until 2:00 p.m.

- 11:30 Meet Elizabeth J. Musheno, author of Colonial Needlework. The author shows today's needleworker how to adapt colonial needlework to modern ideas. With useful advice on threads, yarns and other fibers.
- 12:00 Meet N.Y. Knick star Bill Bradley, author of Life On The Run.
- 12:30 Meet Rhoda Lerman, author of The Girl He Marries. Tackles every aspect of the sexual encounter scene and proves that getting what you think you want isn't always the answer.
- 1:30 Meet Linda Cirino and Susan Edmiston, authors of Literary New York. Practical field guide to New York as "the writer's mecca" and peerless entertainment for the lover of books.
- 1:30 Meet Jethro K. Lieberman, author of Milestones. Here are some of the best (and worst) moments in American law—all the milestone events of our 200 years of American history.
- 2:00 Meet John Toland, author of Adolf Hitler. Based on extensive new research and 150 interviews, reveals a figure more frightening than the traditional caricature.

Brentano's

Fifth Avenue between 47th & 48th Streets only live. Walls for covers rated with ables were there. Much live the in- of the ster: Brent Czechoslovak enough of ve learned joining the to restore artistic past signed old image, much out.

oy trips to for his con- anyone want- e Bohemian April. Infor- search office travelers to a still three agencies in 1, 1471 First 5 East 74th el Bureau, tween 76th have run for to something bureau for st communi- migrants now slovakia to making the people. We than a travel They bring ask us how sized harder store travel- area to sell Epikases are leral "technic" ag in turn are price and ex- have to draw alk Yorkville nd without a restaurant. meta. Though the neighbor- connections— East Avenue, & his wife. He has a Czech- wife's Czech- agreed on the right of their also mention her's small and a Slovakia. at he, while you like premium the food serv-

Mr and Vasata not work well the hillside. A huge area hangings and for polakinky, classic arzo.

Their Cra

f of the art. st- ublic that you you are not

ll. Mrs. War- 3 thought of others.

Robert, made one paints. He has a poster show new craft & weaving.

in the last 10 Eastern Shore let carving of build craft. The Atlantic Parkway the best spot of them.

erway shows and wampous he shows that together carrying by, at Saraburo her is planned Ann of Natural. and peak, in 14 the show that showing piece- them from 10 to and Sunday 6 on Monday charge of $2.50 in Fifth Ave.

he made it his ad and rust the ad. The mat- & he soon cur- sals and new- s. (There is a in the combin- term "book") leaves House at Street. Brent- 10 33 Union Street. Tiffany's as much as a hach figures as as. Lovel and at. Eventual- it had. August it had. Youngst be- was a head of 190. Follow- 190's moved to it to an present. Monday very carnant and J. P. Mer- owners. Cruise and a consider- ed. I agree. Also, he was. I'm surprised it was 12 books has always in the shop and writing met and space.

As for the in existence. what un- and the family. But she says that what- takes. Brentano's

Bridge: Science Loses to Tradition

In Playoff of a Von Zedwitz

By ALAN TRUSCOTT

In a playoff match for the Von Zedwitz double knockout team championship at the Cavendish Club here Wednesday night, tradition scored a victory over science.

A group of canny veterans, headed by Larry Blum and including Manny Reiss, Norman Neiger, Dr. Norman Buch, Paul Chook and Lu Krieger, came from behind a foursome led by Judi Solodar and including Kathie Wei, Dave Berkowitz and Jerry Shakofsky.

The Blum team trailed into the final 11 deals by 25 international match points, but picked up 49 points to win by 23. However, the Solodar team was previously unbeaten and the two teams will play again Monday night to decide the title.

9-Point Lead Held

Going into the final deal of the match, the Blum team was leading by nine points. Although the players did not know this, they could judge that the deals had favored Blum and that a swing at this point might be decisive.

One might expect North-South to reach six spades, a contract that depends in principle on declarer's ability to handle the trump suit. The slam can be made by playing the queen first and then running the ten later, but this needs good guessing. In practice, six spades failed when attempted by the Solodar team.

Blum landed in six clubs, as shown. Two clubs was a strong two-bid, and three clubs was an ace-showing response. Six clubs was an aggressive shot, made in the belief—unfounded as it turned out—that he needed a swing to win the match. He could not be sure that the opponents would not take the first two spade tricks, and, as it turned out, they nearly did.

If West had led a club, a diamond or a heart, the declarer would eventually have had to guess the spade situation. But he selected the spade ace,

NORTH
♠	K7652
♥	Q842
♦	85
♣	A5
WEST
♠	AJ4
♥	A973
♦	874
♣	886
EAST
♠	9
♥	KJ1065
♦	J10952
♣	107
SOUTH (D)
♠	Q1083
♥	—
♦	AKQ
♣	KQJ432

Neither side was vulnerable. The bidding:

South	West	North	East
2♣	Pass	3♣	Pass
6♣	Pass	Pass	Pass

West led the spade ace.

which was the make-or-break lead. West now shifted ill-advisedly to the heart ace, and that was that. Blum ruffed and drew trumps to make the slam.

West should have reasoned that South would not have bid six clubs, missing both major-suit aces, unless he was void in hearts. So the only hope for the defense was a second-round spade ruff in spades.

Blum gained 14 points on the deal, and it was a crumb of consolation for West that his misjudgment had not affected the result of the match.

The Knickerbocker championships of the Greater New York Bridge Championships begin today at the New York Hilton Hotel, with the following schedule:

Today—Men's pairs and women's pairs, 2 P.M.; lecture on "Valuation" by Dorothy Hayden Truscott, 7:15 P.M.; newcomers pairs and mixed pairs, 8 P.M.
Tomorrow—Open pairs, 1:30 P.M. and 7:30 P.M.
Sunday—newcomers pairs 12:30 P.M. and Swiss teams, 12:30 P.M. and 6:30 P.M.

Music: Israeli Zeal and Warmth

By ALLEN HUGHES

THE Israel Philharmonic Orchestra, which was last here in 1974, is back for another American tour, and it played the first of two Carnegie Hall concerts on Wednesday night, under the direction of Zubin Mehta, its music adviser and conductor and the music director-elect of the New York Philharmonic.

The program began with the first New York performance of Oedon Partos's "Paths" (1969), moved on to Bruch's Violin Concerto No. 1 and ended with Bruckner's Symphony No. 7.

This was a concert with an agreeable aspect throughout. As is well known, the Israel Philharmonic is an orchestra of more than routine interest. Including, as it does, musicians who emigrated to Israel from several countries, it seems to play with a zeal and warmth of tone that orchestras of more ordinary composition find difficult to achieve. Even if this impression results in part from subjective considerations on the part of the listener, it still works to the advantage of the Israelis.

Although the playing was appealing and the surfaces of the performances were generally quite attractive, these qualities were not enough to make the concert altogether satisfying.

After the rather synthetic amalgam of exotic color and modernity that constitutes Partos's "Paths" and the obvious, if lovable, grandiloquence of the Bruch Concerto (played with customary vigor and virtuosity by Itzhak Perlman), a profound interpretation of Bruckner's Seventh was needed to give substance to the concert.

But Mr. Mehta seemed content with an account of the work that turned up nothing new in regard to it and, in fact, failed to make points about it that are known to others. He underscored the obvious factors, but showed insufficient interest in enlivening counterpoints and colors and was not very successful at making the work's more discursive portions seem logical.

His was, at best, a respectable, straightforward reading of a sprawling, loosely organized composition that requires a maximum of focus, concentration and perception on the part of the interpreter to present it in the best possible light.

She was the scandal of old Nantucket. She lived the 18th century as if it were the 20th Kezia Coffin was married young—and unhappily—to a rough, older whaling captain who didn't love her. Their wedding night was a disaster, and Kezia blamed herself. She decided that if they couldn't consummate their union through sex, they could do it through money. While her husband was at sea, she immersed herself in his business, and made a fortune at it. In time, she also discovered that she was not the sexless freak of nature her husband had led her to believe. And so, in full bloom and with great vigor, Kezia set forth to enjoy her womanhood among the handsome men of Nantucket, London and Philadelphia.

Suggested to the author by the diary of the real Kezia Coffin's daughter, Nantucket Woman is the story of a lusty, bold, yet enormously endearing heroine who would be equally at home in Tom Jones' England... Scarlett O'Hara's South... or here and now. "A pulsating story. Gaines' period detail is convincing... This is the adventure story in which the adventurer that court Kezia's a remarkable woman strong sexual appetites, gent, and the mistress of h —BARBARA A. BA Publishers A Woman Today Book Selection. $8.95 at book

Nantucket Woman

a novel by DIANA GAINES

Thomas Condon

"A rare kind of book that you never want to end"
—Saturday Review

THE RUNAWAY BESTSELLER! BY THE AUTHOR OF THE FAMILY ARSENAL

PAUL THEROUX THE GREAT RAILWAY

BY TRAIN THROUGH ASIA

Exotic worlds populated by strange and wonderful characters come brilliantly alive in Paul Theroux's riveting account of his four-month solo journey from London's Victoria Station to Tokyo Central and back.

"Funny, sardonic, wonderfully sensuous and evocative in its descriptions, casually horrifying in its impact... Theroux is an exceptionally good writer." —New York Times Book Review

A new paperback bestseller by the author of THE FAMILY ARSENAL

$1.95 wherever paperbacks are sold

BALLANTINE BOOKS

Was Hollywood's biggest star really a sex murderer?

In 1921 Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle was Hollywood's top comedian, rivaled only by Charlie Chaplin. But as Buster Keaton put it, "One day all of the laughter stopped." Banner headlines proclaimed Arbuckle a monster who had raped a 27-year-old actress, and killed her. What really happened?

Using exclusive interviews, grand jury transcripts and material thought destroyed long ago, film writer David Yallop recreates the most sensational and outrageous courtroom trial ever to come out of Hollywood—on film or in real life. For seven long months, lying witnesses, an ambitious D.A., and a hungry press kept Arbuckle fighting for his career in Hollywood and for his life in the courts.

Filled with stars and sex, scandal and chicanery, The Day The Laughter Stopped is... a fascinating story of a witch-hunt and a thorough vindication of a man! —Publishers Weekly

THE DAY THE LAUGHTER STOPPED

The True Story of Fatty Arbuckle
by David Yallop $12.95 at bookstores

ST. MARTIN'S PRESS 175 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10014

"A superior novel to Erich Segal's Love Story"
—King Features Syndicate

SIX WEEKS
a contemporary love story by Fred Mustard Stewart author of The Mephisto Waltz and The Mannings

The candidate, the heiress, the 11-year-old enchantress—in a six-week encounter that becomes a lifetime. Selected by Doubleday Book Club and Compact Library Book Club. To be a major movie from Columbia Pictures. $7.95 at bookstores

ARBOR HOUSE

#1 FROM COAST TO COAST!

FRANK SHEPHERD

$10.95 at bookstores

MARY STEWART'S NEW BESTSELLER

"At the top of her romantic form... fascinating characters and an ingenious plot... literature, utterly engrossing."
—Publishers Weekly

Mary Stewart Touch Not the Cat

5th BIG PRINTING $8.95

Selected by two major book clubs.

WILLIAM MORROW

"...West's most exhilarating performance... something of an adult 'Lord of the Flies'..."
—WILLIAM HOGAN, San Francisco Chronicle

MORRIS WEST The Navigator

by the bestselling author of The Devil's Advocate, The Shoes of the Fisherman, The Salamander, and Harlequin

"Hypnotically readable... will enthrall as straight adventure and set you thinking on the strengths and frailties of our civilization."
—John Barkham Reviews $8.95

WILLIAM MORROW

THE PEOPLE'S ALMANAC!
DAVID WILKINSON AND JOHN WILSON

The #1 bestseller that's "fun to have around!"

Like Anne de Lenclos, the legendary French courtesan known as Ninon, whose story starts on page 997 of the 1,500 page PEOPLE'S ALMANAC—the phenomenal nine-month-old bestseller that gives you thousands of hours of facts and fun. 600,000 copies in print; $7.95 paperback.

DOUBLEDAY

E=mc²

"supersedes the work of Dr. Albert Einstein."
"can be readily understood by a college student of physics."
"successfully discloses the special theory of relativity by citing experimental proof."
"the most unique contribution to science in the entire history of man."
"superior to current theory."
"places physical science theory ahead of technology."
"the greatest scientific contribution of all time."
"comes as a shock to the scientific world."

New York City high school science teacher disputes Einstein's theory of relativity and develops new theory based on Newton's experimental proof shown in sections 12 and 14. Read more Concepts in Physical Science. A course in college physics for the complete understanding of 30-page booklet. Intended for scientists, teachers and college-level students of physics and by mail only to: L. Meier, 108-11 68th Ave., Forest Hills, N.Y. 11375. 2 weeks from today's newspaper date. Send $3.00 (plus cover cost, handling and mailing charges).

Handwritten signature or note at the bottom of the page.

Wantucker... were the... Books of The Times... Women... INES

Books of The Times

By CHRISTOPHER LEHMANN-HAUPT

South... or here... Gaines... period... convincing... adventure story... Kezia's... strong sexual... gent... and the... —BARBARA... A Woman... Selection...

As well as been any self as one whose body happens to have been broken and incompletely mended. Indeed, Mr. Brickner seems to have used his wheelchair as Thoreau used Walden Pond: His withdrawal to it serves to intensify the essentials of living rather than to avoid them; in its confines he discovers human nature. Thus, his autobiography is at its best exploring love, art and fate—not these subjects spelled out in capital letters, but as they manifest themselves in the humdrum details of the quotidian. "Did I have the accident or did it have me?" Mr. Brickner asks on the very first page of his memoir—and proceeds to convince us simultaneously of the simple brutality of random chance ("... things happen, things will happen") and of the psychological appropriateness of his own particular fate (in his mother's "extraordinarily apt and comprehensive phrase," he had as a child "an unrealistic attitude toward gravity").

Was it really so extraordinary that he became a writer instead of a lens grinder? Not at all, he suggests. To be an artist demands contemplation, the study of one's imagination, the chance "to become fully peculiar." In a parallel life he would have remained "too restless for seriousness." "My accident gave me permanent pause." Of love he learned what most must eventually discover. He could be loved; he could love, but he could also not love. "I learn to be a less polite mistake-maker," he writes in celebrating his bachelorhood. "Whatever it is I may give to her, or to him, I am allowed to stop giving it. ... I learn to reject the vanity that has made me frightened of my power. I learn that my rejections do not cause plague. I am not Oedipus, a murderer, a bomb."

Letter to His Daughters

ING DAUGHTERS. Advertising. By Ralph Schoen... pages. Farrar, Straus & 95.

enstein has committed a... a love letter to his... the internal evidence, Mr... ems to have led a blame... happily married, never... stronger than Ovaltine... of his adulthood writ... one in agreeable Prince... is approved of by his... e and Debbie, for whom... morning at six o'clock to... last while singing "Come... even when he trifles with... a nervous breakdown—... are growing up, I will... it's over in 24 hours... "Just watch me when I... eye his wife, Judy, "and... w it's supposed to be... insufferably benign: not... how to have around when... you a karate chop... "My Darling Daughters" con... siders in the history of... Each chapter is served... the starch of life but... huckles. There is Mr... ving to get Kate into the... Nursery School and try... able into the Princeton... 's Christmas production... cler": dealing with dirty language, first dates, rock music, a 12-degree curvature of the spine and a Judaeo-Christian "Chanukkas"; attempting to sell his house and going miserably off on his first vacation without the girls. To say that he is a permissive father is rather like saying that Custer was permissive at Little Big Horn. They walk all over him and, unlike Custer, he enjoys it. As far as cute misspellings and prepubescent witticisms go—which usually is not very far when they are the misspellings and witticisms of other people's children—those of Debbie and Kate range from the tolerable to the pretty good. The affection in the book is palpable. Mr. Schoenstein mists our eyes the way apartment-dwellers mist their potted plants, and we are made to feel better, greener. It comes as no surprise that "Yes My Darling Daughters" has been purchased by CBS for a situation comedy series in the fall of 1977. Where and when it will probably do no more harm than a Walt Disney movie. Then why is it a dangerous book? Because admitting your happiness out loud is pushing your luck. There is always the chance that you will be punished. Mr. Schoenstein tells his wife: "Life has whatever meaning we impose on it." She replies: "You've been eating Chinese."

ROSSWORD PUZZLE

Edited by WILL WENG

ROSSWORD PUZZLE grid with clues: 28 Plants of a region, 30 Carb., 31 Turkish title, 32 Nameless Jane, 33 Windward island, 35 Family member, 36 Legal matter, 37 Pineapple, to a soldier, 41 Defeat, 42 Br. lawmakers, 45 — but the brave..., 46 Capital of Jordan, 48 Chimney output, 49 Grass tract, 51 Peter or frying, 52 Now, in Madrid, 53 River near Paris, 55 Customers, 57 Quality of good taste, 59 Terrapin, 61 Come earlier in time, 62 Cleaning the blackboard, 63 Trip-inducing drug, 64 Work on the lawn, 65 Letters, 66 Work on edging, 7 Word on a parcel containing glass, 7 Part of the psyche, 8 Goes astray, 9 Genus of water plants, 10 Pygmalion's creation, 11 Tossil's neighbor, 12 Natural or laughing, 14 Laid by, 16 Downtown street sign, 20 Prefix for logy orology, 21 Teacher's org., 22 Unit of work, 23 Call-acid initials, 25 Peter, Jane or Henry, 29 Scottish island, 32 — good deed, 34 Poetic word, 35 Laughed like a villain, 37 Initials for a nation's output, 38 Restless ones, 39 Intertwined, 40 Napoleon or Jones; Abbr., 41 Sea cow, 42 Like a bright night, 43 Lairs, 44 Depot; Abbr., 47 Navigator's ood, 48 Incubations, 49 Part of Indochina, 52 Tapestry, 54 Kind of plasma, 56 Piece of earth, 57 U.N. license-plate initials, 58 Evergreen, 60 N.C.O.

Twenty-seven years of marriage prepared Sheila Callahan for just about anything. Anything but widowhood.

Without warning, Sheila Callahan's handsome, philanthropic but still lovable husband has a fatal heart attack. Suddenly she must earn a living; cope with a hostile, dropout daughter and a troubled teen-age son; adjust to the changed attitudes of old friends. She must live through the trauma of an affair with a younger man, and overcome the loneliness and emotional insecurity of her new role as a single woman.

her a special sense of compassion and insight into modern women's problems. THE BEST PLACE TO BE fulfills these expectations, as Helen Van Slyke explores the pain, bewilderment, anger, and ultimate strength of a woman forced to accept a shocking legacy, which finally becomes the gift of a whole new life.

Reviewers have called Helen Van Slyke "a novelist who could make a romantic out of anyone," and "an author who knows women." The millions of readers who made Bestsellers of The Heart Listens and The Mixed Blessing have come to expect from

The Best Place to Be by Helen Van Slyke Author of The Heart Listens

$8.95 at all booksellers DOUBLEDAY

Love, fame, fortune they're all in the game.

Behind the easy volleys and lobbed balls are the games—on and off the courts—that started these players toward Wimbledon. From their amateur days they have moved painfully, slowly upward, lured by fame and fortune, haunted by disaster and disaster. Now, they'll play out the game... winners and losers, while you watch. "The characters are solid and the location and action are authentic. ... I like it." —ARTHUR ASHIE "Absolutely authentic." —PETER DUCHIN "A rare, witty bit of spic." —CLARK GRABNER "The most authentic novel on the game." —BUD COLLINS $8.95

The Circuit A novel by Ralph M. Demers A RICHARD SEEVER BOOK

VIKING ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE: 1. TIGRIS, 2. AIME, 3. GIAN, 4. SCALE, 5. DIET, 6. PIRA, 7. AMONTI, 8. FUNDI, 9. DAYS, 10. RELATE, 11. MADE, 12. YAP, 13. SLAY, 14. SET, 15. ENG, 16. STE, 17. EVER, 18. SITIA, 19. LUSH, 20. ERIS, 21. CLAROR, 22. DICE, 23. IN, 24. AB, 25. REGION, 26. BARRIO, 27. WIE, 28. WIND, 29. BRITTO, 30. MELL, 31. KRAS, 32. AMP, 33. JOA, 34. PPSI, 35. S, 36. NIO, 37. CRIS, 38. ONI, 39. TID, 40. EYER, 41. NOW, 42. AND, 43. THE, 44. IN, 45. NITRA, 46. ERAL, 47. ATRIA, 48. DIETS, 49. DIEBS, 50. S, 51. URS

THE SECOND COMING OF KAPLAN by Leo Rosten. "A masterpiece of humor." —E. A. Bergman, Philadelphia Bulletin. "Remarkably fresh and funnier than ever. There'll never be another Leo Rosten." —Richard Armour, Los Angeles Times. "Hyman Kaplan is alive and well. Actually he seems more alive and better than ever." —Louis Untermeyer. "Here are new characters that are gems, episodes and stories that are side-splitting, plus many of Mr. Kaplan's fellow classmates, all back again, and as funny as ever. As an added treat, a remarkable Author's Confession tells how it all came about. The wise, compassionate, hilarious Hyman Kaplan tales have gifted generations of readers with laughter. This new volume, a singular American classic, "will keep your grand-children laughing until the 21st century." —N.Y. Times Book Review $10.95 at bookstores, 2nd printing Harper & Row 10 E. 53rd St., New York 10022 1817

THE SCENE Reports on Post-Modern Art by Calvin Tomkins author of Lung Well Is the Best Revenge "Calvin Tomkins is the liveliest report on the art scene, which is odd, since his is also the most objective in a field where partisanship and backbiting usually account for whatever liveliness there is." —JOHN CANADAY 53 photographs $12.50 VIKING Follow fashion with BERNADINE on the Family/Style Page The New York Times

FIRE AND ICE Photographs $10.00 The Bestseller About Charles Revson The Man Who Built the Revlon Empire by Andrew Tobias "A classic bio... turning the pages is as much fun as counting money." "... Almost everything outrageous you've ever heard about Charles Revson turns out to be true." —GAIL GREENE "AARON LATHAM" of New York Magazine WILLIAM MORROW

Jerry A Taps H Messag

By JENNIFER DU

A conversation with the dancer, is likely to be no fewer minutes while he tries to demonstrate a silver routine, arms slicing the pattering lightly over a with chairs and tables.

This weekend, metropolitan Yorkers will have a chance to see the debut of a new tap company in their debut mount Manhattan Theatre Street. The group may be a professional company in-t voted to tap dancing today and tomorrow a Sunday at 3. Tickets cost: 865-7925.

The program of the group is graphed by Mr. Ames, a point of departure the style of traditional tap styles to show that tap is he said. "We do a w American Irish jig, jai espagnole. We tap to c too." His favorite piece "Footin'," a short dance on the beat rhythms intricate patterns to Gen Noise From Winnetka.

Jerry Ames, dancer
Struggling to keep tap c

"Taps are percussion it be used to the fullest," I plained. "I want to show ing is very difficult when full rhythmic potentials." mount performances, ther a traditional challenge ses dancers try to best one specialty effects, but ther improvisation session.

Was in 'Tap Happening'

Once the company is est Ames wants to have as formers some of the grea living in this area—Cl Rhythm Red, Sandman Sim Slyde, to mention a few— he appeared, as the only v in "Tap Happening," a a revue that ran Off Broadv

"Irish step dancing and dancing came together dance in American tap," said. "Along with jazz, t the indigenous American a around 1943, tap went int After 'Oklahoma!,' it was sicals, and then jazz dance the 1950's." Doors were most of the white dance field. Many veteran black in this area continue to p art, but there are few outl talent.

The Jerry Ames Tap Dan includes five young men i chosen by audition. Mr. Ar has been dancing for 42 yea at the age of 4 at a ne dance school in Queens. A in a Broadway chorus line studied tap with the celel Draper. That Mr. Ames ha much influenced by early t is evident in his style, b a deep interest in more tap styles.

Co-Author of a Book

He has just finished w Jim Siegelman, "The Book, Recovering America's : L Dance," which will be pu the David McKay Compa vember. It has an introducti nor Powell, who has taken in the company. "The great t have the responsibility to tap," he said. "The dedic woman like her means so m "I was lucky," Mr. Am speaking of tap's lean days, working, on cruise ships, in shows, at club dates. I've slw But so many of the black dat through a period when they themselves working as eleva tors and messengers. It was f for guys who had given the an art form which require daily practice as ballet. Peo go to see Bunny Briggs at out the booking agents w treated in tap. "Tap Happen a revival. You still have to with ignorance, though." "Tap can't depend on most innovative. There must be i can't just lament tap dancing art."

Conversation over, he made out to the gray street. "It's for tap," he announced, tra umbrella over his arm and lo' all the world as if he were burst into "Singing in the Ra Outstanding books. Significant savings. Book-of-the-Month Club®

HAVE YOU EVER experienced the great good fortune of finding the very book you're shopping for "on sale"? That's the kind of pleasure you'll enjoy again and again when you shop in America's Bookstore—the Book-of-the-Month Club. You start by choosing four books you're eager to read—all for only $1. Then, as a member, you'll regularly be offered a choice of the best books published almost always at substantial savings. If you continue your membership past the trial period, you'll be eligible for our unique Book-Dividend® plan—a delightful way to save even more, at least 70% of bookstore prices.

As your introduction to membership you are invited to choose

ANY 4 FOR ONLY $1

THE SUGGESTED TRIAL. You simply agree to buy four Club choices within a year at substantial savings on most books you choose.

151 Pub price $8.95	181 Pub price $7.95	190 Pub price $2.50	244 Pub price $15	404 Pub price $10	500 Pub price $7.95	523 Pub price $14.95	588 Pub price $12.95	606 Pub price $10.95	713 Pub price $15	737 Pub price $8.95	800 Pub price $11.00	822 Pub price $8.95	820 Pub price $11.00
152 Pub price $14.95	182 Pub price $12.95	191 Pub price $10	245 Pub price $15	405 Pub price $10	501 Pub price $7.95	524 Pub price $14.95	589 Pub price $12.95	607 Pub price $10.95	714 Pub price $15	738 Pub price $8.95	801 Pub price $11.00	823 Pub price $8.95	821 Pub price $11.00

Prices shown are publishers' U.S. prices. Outside the U.S., prices are generally somewhat higher.

SOME OF THE BENEFITS OF MEMBERSHIP...

- In addition to getting four books for $1 when you join, you keep savings substantially on most of the books you buy.
- And there are rare savings because every book offered is a special member price. Not membership, but a special price.
- You'll learn about the coming Selection and Alternates in the Book-of-the-Month Club News, a literary magazine sent to you fifteen times a year (approximately every three and a half months).
- If you don't want the Selection, you need do nothing—it will be shipped to you automatically.
- If you do not want the Selection—or you'd like one of the Alternates or no book at all—simply indicate your decision on the reply form enclosed with the News and mail it to us.
- It's because of like mail delivery of the News you should receive it whether you want it. That Selection may be returned at Club expense.

BOOK-OF-THE-MONTH CLUB, INC.
Camp Hill, Pennsylvania 17012 64132-41

Please enroll me as a member of the Book-of-the-Month Club and send me the four volumes whose numbers I have indicated in boxes below, billing me $1.00 for all four volumes. I agree to purchase at least four additional Selections or Alternates during the first year. I am a member, paying in most cases special member prices. My membership is cancellable any time after I buy these four books. A shipping charge is added to all shipments.

INDICATE BY NUMBER THE FOUR BOOKS YOU WANT:

YES	<input type="checkbox"/>	NO	<input type="checkbox"/>
YES	<input type="checkbox"/>	NO	<input type="checkbox"/>
YES	<input type="checkbox"/>	NO	<input type="checkbox"/>
YES	<input type="checkbox"/>	NO	<input type="checkbox"/>

Name _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____ Zip _____
Send no money now. (Please print plainly)

Handwritten signature or mark at the bottom of the page.

Jerry Taps Mess

WELER IS PLACING SS ON COMPACTS 7 LINE IS SHOWN

AR'S FUTURE IS HAILED

Short-Term, Special Efforts Made to Sell More of Company's Bigger Autos

By WILLIAM K. STEVENS... Chrysler Corp. introduced its 1977 models today.

On the other hand, like Ford... smaller cars—compacts...

Expectations Vary... Augustin's forecast that compact car sales...

Officials point out that General Motors... line of big cars has a wheelbase...

Consolidated trading of stocks listed on the exchange...

Center of North America logo and text.

Chiff Rhome logo and text.

Standard Security Life Insurance advertisement.

Table titled 'How Income Is Distributed' showing post-tax income for the poorest and richest 10 percent of households in various countries.

In France, the Income Disparity Is Great

By CLYDE H. FARNSWORTH... In France, the newly appointed Prime Minister, Raymond Barre...

more than 4 percent of the French work force that is unemployed.

Continued on Page D9

Market Profile chart showing volume and price movements for NYSE and other markets.

Management Alternative Sources of Energy Growing

By ELIZABETH M. FOWLER... Although oil, natural gas and coal are the basic fuels used to energize most of the nation's factories...

An experimental windmill, used for generating electricity, in operation in Sandusky, Ohio.

MARKET DEPRESSED BY INFLATION FEARS

Stocks Open and Remain Lower—Dow Average Off 6.07

By ALEXANDER R. HAMMER... Concern over a possible increase in inflation sent stock prices lower yesterday in slower trading.

Continued on Page D2

General Electric, which already operates a solar energy system at its Valley Forge, Pa., plant...

Continued on Page D11

West German Tank Here for Tests

By JOHN W. FINNEY... WASHINGTON, Sept. 9—Amid a gathering squall of Congressional protest, West Germany delivered today a new main battle tank to be judged against tanks being developed by the United States Army.

Amex Trading Due In Options of Gold And Silver Bullion

The American Stock Exchange said yesterday that it was planning to start trading next year in options contracts for gold and silver bullion...

The exchange said it expected to be the only one trading in options on the precious metals themselves rather than on futures contracts for the metals.

BRITISH SEEK BLOCK OF SEAMEN'S STRIKE

Planned Stoppage Could Have Broad Economic Ramifications and Trouble Labor Government

By ROBERT B. SEMPLE JR... LONDON, Sept. 9—The Government and its allies in the labor movement held urgent meetings today in an effort to avert a strike that could damage Britain's economic strategy...

Air New England's Problems

Air New England is finding problems have resulted from its change in status to a certified airline.

U.S. LIFTS ESTIMATE OF SOVIET GRAIN CROP BY 10 MILLION TONS

OUTPUT IS NEAR MOSCOW'S GOAL

Jump in '76 Harvest Could Reduce Import Purchases From American Farmers by 2 Million Tons

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 (UPI)—The Agriculture Department today raised its estimate of 1976 Soviet grain production to 205 million metric tons...

Harvest Outlook Improved... The main reason for the 10-million-ton increase since an August forecast...

Satellite Reports Received... Experts here also get regular satellite reports on Soviet wheat acreage...

The new forecast of Soviet production was issued on the eve of the Agriculture Department's September estimate of American crop production.

Analysts said Soviet domestic grain needs for the coming year were estimated at 180 million metric tons...

In a companion report, officials said that Poland's prospective 1976 grain harvest had been reduced again...

Continued on Page D9

AMETEK advertisement for advanced technology.

BUSINESS INSURANCE advertisement.

Foreign Agencies Ranked Second In Holdings of Federal Securities

Foreign institutions such as central banks and other official agencies have become the second largest holders of United States Government securities...

holders with a total of $10.3 billion in United States Government securities. Next was the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries...

Market Place Merger Plan Lifts Cook Shares

By ROBERT METZ

Shares of Cook Industries soared yesterday following the company's announcement on Wednesday that it would seek shareholder approval of a plan to become a private company.

reports the company had discussed its thoughts on the subject. The more recent of the two 10-K reports was sent to shareholders last week...

Edward W. Cook of Cook Industries recent years to restore public companies to private status and many such attempts have been resisted by minority shareholders...

NEW ISSUES IN-BOND GET GOOD RECEIPT

Prices of Credit-Market Securities Unchanged After Release Money-Supply Figure

By VARTANIG G. VARTANIAN New-issue offerings met a reception yesterday, while pricing credit-market securities virtually unchanged after release of weekly money-supply figures...

Advertisement for The Royal Bank of Canada featuring a cartoon character and the slogan 'We know the tricks of trade.'

In May of this year several Cook executives bought thousands of the company's shares at prices ranging from 14 to 16. The company's fiscal year ends May 31.

Highs and Lows

Table listing stock prices for various companies, categorized into Highs and Lows.

MARKET DEPRESSED IN SLOWER TRADING

"have been conditioned to take quick profits." He said that yesterday's selling, however, lacked conviction and that "we may be very close to an upside breakthrough over the 1,000 level in the Dow."

New Bond Issue

Table listing utility bonds and other financial instruments with their respective prices.

Large advertisement for Gulf Resources & Chemical Corporation, offering 1,250,000 shares of $1.60 Cumulative Convertible Preferred Stock for $20.00 per share.

Advertisement for The Flintkote Company, detailing a new bond issue and providing contact information for the company.

Advertisement for LIBRARIANS! and other services, including book offerings and contact details.

Supply Executive World

Handwritten signature or scribble at the bottom of the page.

NEW ISSUES GET GOOD Service Reports Money Supply Dropped for 2d Consecutive Week

on's money supply declined for consecutive week, the Federal reported yesterday. The narrow money supply—demand deposits, currency, and known as M-1—decreased by $100 million in the week ended Sept. 6, compared with a revised $900 million increase the previous week. Under the new M-2, including time deposits, rose $1.5 billion in the week ended Sept. 6, compared with a revised $1.5 billion increase the previous week. The M-2 average was slightly above the $709.5 billion target of the Federal Reserve. The M-1 category, however, fell $12.9 billion, money-market balances, however, rose $1.5 billion.

Reserve Report

Table with columns: Reserve Report, in billions, DAILY AVERAGES, Labels, Prev. Week, Year Ago. Rows include: All. Credit Proxy, Monetary Base, Treasury Deposits, etc.

Short-term interest rates posted very small changes in the latest statement week. The sensitive Federal funds rate dropped three basis points—hundredths of a percentage point—to an average of 5.25 percent. This key indicator of monetary policy has fluctuated within five basis points of this average for the last two months.

Business Briefs

To Weigh Request

LONDON, Sept. 9 (Reuters)—A committee of the European Community will discuss a request for the International Fund to slow down its gold purchase plans for closer examination.

Steel Output Up 2%

Sept. 9 (UPI)—Steel output averaged 374,800 tons a day last week, an increase of 2 percent, according to figures by the British Steel Corporation and the British Independent Iron and Steel Producers' Association today.

Argentine Plant

rded $59.3 Million International Telephone & Telecommunications Administration said it was informed by the Argentine Government that it had agreed to sell a 50 percent stake in a new telecommunications plant for $59.3 million.

Federal Reserve Statement

Table with columns: (millions of dollars), Daily Averages for the weeks ended: (Sept. 6-'76) (Sept. 1-'76) (Sept. 18-'75). Rows include: Reserves, Loans, Securities, etc.

NEW ISSUE

September 10, 1976

Public Service Electric and Gas Company

First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds, 8.45% Series G due 2006

Due September 1, 2006

Price 100%

(Plus accrued interest from September 1, 1976 to date of delivery.)

PSEG

Copies of the Prospectus may be obtained in any State in which this announcement is circulated from only such of the undersigned or other dealers or brokers as may lawfully offer these securities in such State.

Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith

Kidder, Peabody & Co.

- List of financial institutions: Bache Halsey Stuart Inc., The First Boston Corporation, Salomon Brothers, etc.

NEW ISSUE

September 10, 1976

Public Service Electric and Gas Company

8.70% Cumulative Preferred Stock—$25 Par

Price $25 Per Share

(Plus accrued dividends, if any, from September 16, 1976 to date of delivery.)

PSEG

Copies of the Prospectus may be obtained in any State in which this announcement is circulated from only such of the undersigned or other dealers or brokers as may lawfully offer these securities in such State.

Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith

Kidder, Peabody & Co.

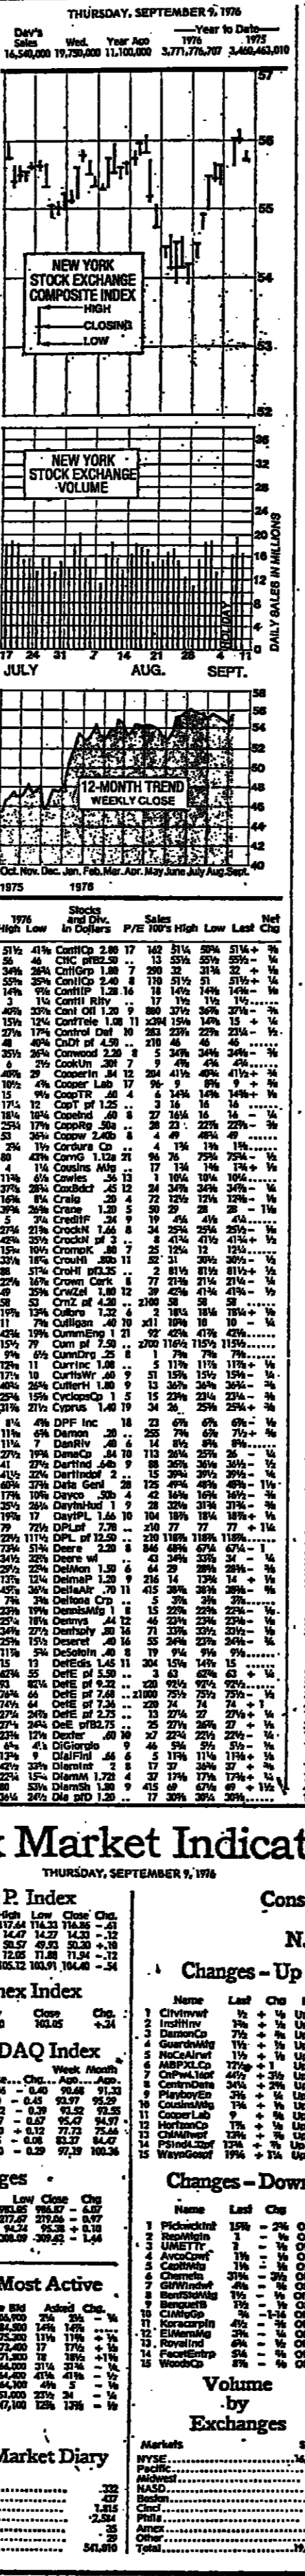

- List of financial institutions: Bache Halsey Stuart Inc., The First Boston Corporation, Blyth Eastman Dillon & Co., etc.

New York Stock Exchange Issues

CONSOLIDATED TRADING

1976 High	Low	1975 High	Low	1974 High	Low	1973 High	Low	1972 High	Low	1971 High	Low	1970 High	Low
34 1/2	34 1/4	130	128	130	128	130	128	130	128	130	128	130	128
17 1/2	17 1/4	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132
17 1/2	17 1/4	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132
17 1/2	17 1/4	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132
17 1/2	17 1/4	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132

1976 High	Low	1975 High	Low	1974 High	Low	1973 High	Low	1972 High	Low	1971 High	Low	1970 High	Low
100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4
100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4
100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4
100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4
100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4	100 1/2	100 1/4

1976 High	Low	1975 High	Low	1974 High	Low	1973 High	Low	1972 High	Low	1971 High	Low	1970 High	Low
17 1/2	17 1/4	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132
17 1/2	17 1/4	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132
17 1/2	17 1/4	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132
17 1/2	17 1/4	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132
17 1/2	17 1/4	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132

1976 High	Low	1975 High	Low	1974 High	Low	1973 High	Low	1972 High	Low	1971 High	Low	1970 High	Low
17 1/2	17 1/4	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132
17 1/2	17 1/4	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132
17 1/2	17 1/4	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132
17 1/2	17 1/4	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132
17 1/2	17 1/4	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132

1976 High	Low	1975 High	Low	1974 High	Low	1973 High	Low	1972 High	Low	1971 High	Low	1970 High	Low
17 1/2	17 1/4	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132
17 1/2	17 1/4	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132
17 1/2	17 1/4	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132
17 1/2	17 1/4	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132
17 1/2	17 1/4	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132	134	132

Stock Market Indicators

N.Y.S.E. Index				S. & P. Index				Amex Index				NASDAQ Index
Index	High	Low	Chg.	Index	High	Low	Chg.	Index	High	Low	Chg.	Index	High	Low	Chg.
Industrial	117.1	116.8	+0.3	147.1	146.8	+0.3	147.1	146.8	100.0	99.8	+0.2	100.0	99.8	+0.2	100.0
Transport	41.2	41.0	+0.2	52.1	51.9	+0.2	52.1	51.9	10.0	9.9	+0.1	10.0	9.9	+0.1	10.0
Finance	54.7	54.5	+0.2	54.3	54.1	+0.2	54.3	54.1	10.0	9.9	+0.1	10.0	9.9	+0.1	10.0

Changes - Up				Most Active				Changes - Down				Market Diary
Name	Last	Chg.	Pct.	Name	Vol	Last	Chg.	Name	Last	Chg.	Pct.	Name	Last	Chg.	Pct.
1 Chrysler	26 1/2	+1/4	+0.4	1 IBM	1,123,000	117 1/2	+1/4	1 Ford	1,000,000	26 1/2	+1/4	1 IBM	1,123,000	117 1/2	+1/4
2 General	27 1/2	+1/4	+0.4	2 AT&T	1,000,000	27 1/2	+1/4	2 General	1,000,000	27 1/2	+1/4	2 AT&T	1,000,000	27 1/2	+1/4
3 DuPont	28 1/2	+1/4	+0.4	3 IBM	1,000,000	28 1/2	+1/4	3 DuPont	1,000,000	28 1/2	+1/4	3 IBM	1,000,000	28 1/2	+1/4
4 General	29 1/2	+1/4	+0.4	4 IBM	1,000,000	29 1/2	+1/4	4 General	1,000,000	29 1/2	+1/4	4 IBM	1,000,000	29 1/2	+1/4
5 General	30 1/2	+1/4	+0.4	5 IBM	1,000,000	30 1/2	+1/4	5 General	1,000,000	30 1/2	+1/4	5 IBM	1,000,000	30 1/2	+1/4

Control

MICO

Sept 10 1976

Product Quality Control Is Plaguing Eastern Bloc

MALCOLM W. BROWNE

Special to The New York Times

RADE, Sept. 9—The clerk at the department store took the bulb a customer had handed it into a test socket, and failed to light, tossed it away.

The customer handed him three more bulbs off the shelf, each also failed to light. Finally, the bulb worked, and the customer want good bulbs," the clerk in a wry grin, "you go to Europe. Some in Eastern Europe have a habit of referring to Western products simply as 'Europe'."

problem of quality control really bad when we turn to foreign trade.

"The worst of it is," he added, "Socialist products have acquired a very unenviable reputation on world markets, even when they do not deserve it. People think of our products the way Americans used to think of Japanese-made goods before World War II—badly made and likely to fall apart at the first use."

In general, the quality of manufactured goods in Yugoslavia is probably superior to that of goods made in most other Communist countries.

But even here, poor workmanship is so serious a problem that the Belgrade Government has seen fit to enact a new "law of standardization" that will come into force later this year to penalize poor quality control.

Enforcement of the new law is supposed to "restore consumer confidence in Yugoslav standards."

Last year Government quality-control inspectors confiscated more than $8 million worth of substandard goods in tests of some 30,000 Yugoslav products. According to statistics disclosed recently, an examination of 3,600 items of one kind of product resulted in the discarding of more than 2,000 as faulty.

In the Communist world, as in those nations where capitalism prevails, different manufacturing enterprises maintain different standards of quality. Much seems to depend on the caliber of management.

Economists in both East and West see one of the main problems in Communist countries as the political necessity to provide employment for every citizen. (An exception is Yugoslavia, where there is a chronic and enormous unemployment problem.)

Thus, even the most inefficient and outdated plants are often kept in operation by the state simply to soak up labor—a practice possible in a social system where there is supposed to be no such thing as bankruptcy.

There is also a huge political investment in the management of most Communist manufacturing enterprises, and jockeying for power is often at the cost of efficient production.

The main criterion for success as a Communist manager is still the meeting or "overfulfilling" of the officially planned production goals. Today, as a half-century ago, these achievements are still often measured purely according to the number of units produced, without taking into account the number that must be rejected later as unusable.

Finally, the incentive for most people to work hard is small in Eastern Europe, because income is assured no matter how poor the work, and there is always more money than goods, in any case.

During the last year, some countries, notably Czechoslovakia, have reported official campaigns to thwart lazy workers who sneak out of their factories for most of the day.

In Yugoslavia, a greater share of the blame is being placed on office workers and administrators than on the producing workers themselves.

But despite signs that the Soviet Union and most of the other Communist nations in Europe plan new camaigns to improve the quality of their products, many local experts are skeptical of the results.

"The day when I can walk into the GUM [state-owned] department store on Red Square in Moscow and buy a battery that will make a flashlight bulb glow brighter than a faint flicker—that will be the day when quality control has begun to work," one said. "The rest, like so much else here, is just talk."

The Kissell Company

6% Subordinated Floating Fund Debentures Due July 1, 1980
Notice is hereby given that, pursuant to the provisions of Article Four of the Indenture dated as of July 1, 1976, between The Kissell Company and Irving Trust Company, as Trustee (the "Trustee"), the Trustee has drawn by lot for redemption on October 1, 1976, 100% of their principal amount, plus accrued interest to October 1, 1976, out of moneys in the sinking fund, $234,000 principal amount of said 6% Subordinated Floating Fund Debentures Due July 1, 1980, bearing the following distinctive numbers:

Table with columns: Coupon Debentures of $1,000 Denomination to be redeemed in whole, and Coupon Debentures of $500 Denomination to be redeemed in whole. Lists serial numbers and amounts.

Registered Debentures to be redeemed in whole or in part

Table with columns: Serial, Amount, and Registered. Lists serial numbers and amounts for registered debentures.

Holders of coupon debentures called for redemption are required to present and surrender same with all coupons appertaining thereto maturing after October 1, 1976, at the office of Irving Trust Company, Corporate Trust Department, One Wall Street, New York, N.Y. 10011.

Holders of registered debentures without coupons, of which portions are being called for redemption, are required to present same at the address of the Trustee for payment of the redemption price, including accrued interest to October 1, 1976, on the principal amount called for redemption, and there will be issued a new debenture or debentures in principal amount equal to the unredeemed portion of the debenture or debentures so presented.

From and after October 1, 1976, interest on the debenture or portions thereof so called for redemption shall cease to accrue.

Dated: September 10, 1976 THE KISSELL COMPANY

If you ask Craig Claiborne an interesting question, you might get an interesting answer in "De Gustibus" on the Family/Style Page Monday in The New York Times.

Shopping in Belgrade

Shopping in Belgrade, and other Eastern Bloc countries are frequently criticized for shoddy goods.

Communist manufacturers of the Russian Revolution. It has particularly critical recently of the increasing dependence of Communist countries on trade with the West, which demands access to Western currency, which can be used to buy goods manufactured in Europe for a formidable competitive market.

ave to admit," a senior official in one of the Soviet-bloc countries privately acknowledged, "we do not meet international standards of quality for many of our products. That is a nuisance for our own people, but it is

MONSANTO TO LIFT PRICES OF PLASTIC PRODUCTS

Chemicals Company, an operating unit of the Monsanto Company, will raise prices of its line of gelatin polyvinyl alcohol resins 3 1/2 cents to 5 1/2 cents a pound, effective Sept. 27.

The resins are used in emulsion polymerization adhesives and a variety of coatings and sizings for the textile and paper industries.

In Palo Alto, Calif., the Hewlett-Packard Company said that it was reducing prices of three of its calculators next Monday. The company's products known as the "22 Business Management Pocket Calculator" will be cut to $125 from $185; the "27 Scientific Plus Pocket Calculator" to $155 from $200 and the "91 Portable Printing Calculator" to $425 from $500.

Monsanto Polymers and Petronaconda Company, announced that it would increase prices of a pound of all standard-size products, effective Sept. 20. Extra sizes will be raised an average of 15 percent. The increases do not include stock sizes of sheet and pipe and copper water tube and fittings. The company also said it would increase prices of a pound of oxygen-copper alloys. No changes will be made in prices of Monsanto Polymers and Petro-

AUTO OUTPUT SCHEDULED TO RISE 5% IN WEEK

Special to The New York Times

DETROIT, Sept. 9—The auto industry is scheduled to build 148,710 cars this week, up 5 percent from last week's 141,642, but down 11.1 percent from the 167,350 cars built in the year-earlier week, according to Automotive News.

The trade paper said that even though plants were closed last Monday for the Labor Day holiday, that output is up this week over last because 15 plants would be on Saturday overtime. The plants are stepping up production of 1977 models.

Only two plants are still closed for changeover—the South Gate plant of the General Motors Corporation in California, which is being converted from production of small to full-size cars, and the Chrysler Corporation plant in St. Louis, which is being converted to production of the new small Plymouth Volare and Dodge Aspen.

Production thus far this year totals 5,924,517 cars, an increase of 34.1 percent from the 4,413,504 cars built by the American auto plants at this point in 1975.

In the opinion of Bond Counsel, interest on the Bonds is exempt from federal income taxes under existing statutes and court decisions, except that no opinion is expressed as to the exemption from such taxes of interest on any Bond for any period during which such Bond is held by a person who, within the meaning of Section 103(f)(7) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, is a substantial user of facilities with respect to which the proceeds of the Bonds were used or a related person.

NEW ISSUE

RATINGS: Moody's: Con. (A1) Standard & Poor's: AA

$53,000,000

Connecticut Resources Recovery Authority Greater Bridgeport System Bonds, Series A

Dated September 15, 1976 Due November 15, as shown below

The Authority, a public instrumentality and political subdivision of the State of Connecticut, is responsible for implementing solid waste disposal and resource recovery systems and facilities and services which are necessary and desirable throughout the State. The Authority is empowered to fulfill these responsibilities by utilizing private industry to construct and operate the solid waste disposal and resource recovery facilities and to market the products derived therefrom so long as the Authority retains overall control and supervision. The purpose of the Series A Bonds, the Authority's first issue of long-term obligations, is to finance the acquisition and construction of a solid waste disposal and resource recovery system to serve the City of Bridgeport and the towns of Darien, Easton, Fairfield, Greenwich, Monroe, Stratford, Trumbull and Westport. The products recovered from the solid waste processed in the system will include a powder-like fuel to be co-fired with oil in generating electricity at the Bridgeport Harbor Station of The United Illuminating Company, and ferrous metal, glass and aluminum.

Principal and semi-annual interest, due each May 15 and November 15, (first coupon May 15, 1977 representing 8 months' interest), will be payable at the principal office of Hartford National Bank and Trust Company, Hartford, Connecticut, as Trustee, or, at the option of the holder, at the principal office of Hartford Trust Company of New York (A Limited Purpose Trust Company), New York, New York, as paying agent. The Bonds are issuable in form payable to bearer, with coupons attached, in the denomination of $5,000 each, registrable as to principal only, or in fully registered form, without coupons, in denominations of $5,000 or any integral multiple thereof. Bearer Bonds and registered Bonds will be interchangeable as further described in the Official Statement.

The Bonds are subject to redemption prior to their maturity at various premiums, or at 100% of their principal amount under certain circumstances, as more fully set forth in the Official Statement. The Bonds due November 15, 1999 are also subject to redemption in part by lot on any November 15 and after November 15, 1992, at 100% of their principal amount, from mandatory Sinking Fund Installments as more fully set forth in the Official Statement.

Serial Bonds

Table with columns: Year, Amount, Interest Rate, Price. Lists serial bond details for years 1979 through 1987.

Term Bonds

$30,000,000 6 3/4% due November 15, 1999—Price 100% (Plus accrued interest)

The Bonds are offered here, as and if issued and received by the Underwriters, subject to approval of legality by Messrs. Hambrecht, Delahaye & Wood, New York, New York, Bond Counsel, and certain other conditions. It is expected that the Bonds in definitive form will be available for delivery in New York, New York on or about September 22, 1976. The offering of these Bonds is made only by means of the Official Statement, copies of which may be obtained from such of the undersigned as are registered dealers in securities in this State.

The First Boston Corporation

- The Connecticut Bank and Trust Company, Bache Halsey Stuart Inc., Bank of America
Bankers Trust Company, Bear, Stearns & Co., A. G. Becker & Co., Blyth Eastman Dillon & Co.
J. C. Bradford & Co., Alex. Brown & Sons, The Chase Manhattan Bank, N.A., Chemical Bank
Continental Bank, Dillon, Read Municipal, Donaldson, Lufkin & Jenrette, Drexel Burnham & Co.
The First National Bank, The First National Bank of Chicago, Goldman, Sachs & Co.
Harris Trust and Savings Bank, Hornblower & Weeks-Hemphill, Noyes, E. F. Hutton & Company Inc.
Kidder, Peabody & Co., Kuhn, Loeb & Co., Lazard Freres & Co., Lehman Brothers
Loeb, Rhoades & Co., Matthews & Wright, Inc., Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith
Morgan Guaranty Trust Company, W. H. Morton & Co., The Northern Trust Company
John Nuvren & Co., Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis, R. W. Pressprich & Co., Reynolds Securities Inc.
L. F. Rothschild & Co., Salomon Brothers, Shearson Hayden Stone Inc.
Smith Barney, Harris Upham & Co., Thomson & McKinnon Auchincloss Kohlmeier Inc., Weeden & Co.
Wertheim & Co., Inc., White, Weld & Co., Dean Witter & Co.
The Colonial Bank & Trust Co., The Connecticut National Bank, The State National Bank of Connecticut

Advertisement for Montgomery Ward Credit Corporation. Includes text: "This is neither an offer to sell nor a solicitation of an offer to buy these securities. This offer is made only by the Prospectus." $50,000,000 M'CC Montgomery Ward Credit Corporation 8 1/2% Senior Subordinated Notes, Series A, due September 15, 1986 Price 99.375% (Plus accrued interest, if any, from September 15, 1976). Lists various financial institutions as underwriters.

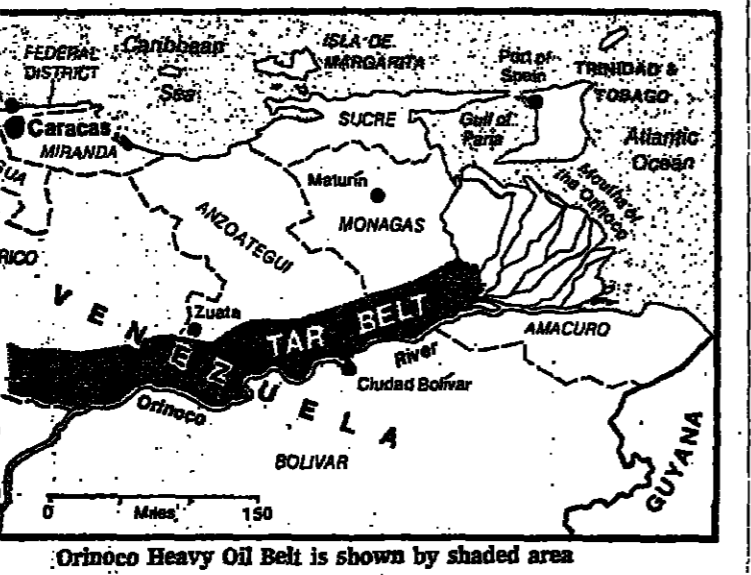

Advertisement for Canal Electric Company. Includes text: "This advertisement is neither an offer to sell nor a solicitation of offers to buy any of these securities. The offering is made only by the Prospectus." $35,000,000 Canal Electric Company (A subsidiary of New England Gas and Electric Association) First and General Mortgage Bonds, Series B 8.85% Due 2006 Price 101.055% (plus accrued interest from date of original issue). Lists various financial institutions as underwriters.

Trading

Ocean of Heavy Oil Challenge for Venezuela

Venezuela, Sept. 9—With the broad plains north of the Orinoco River basin of petroleum—so vast that the reserves of Saudi Arabia are dwarfed by the world's largest exporter of oil—the amount of oil in the Orinoco Heavy Oil Belt is another. The crude is thick and cannot easily be pumped to the coast. It is a minimum of 700 billion barrels in the 13,000-square-mile Orinoco Heavy Oil Belt, Venezuela's most important oil field. The figure is based on the findings made along the strip, and the region's reserves may go as high as 1 trillion barrels. The United States has about 35 billion barrels of proven reserves, Saudi Arabia has about 550 billion barrels of proven reserves—19 times the amount of the Orinoco Heavy Oil Belt.

With current technology only about 10 percent of the total reserves of the Orinoco Belt can be recovered, Government experts have said. According to Francisco Gutiérrez, head of the Government's research division for the Orinoco Heavy Oil Belt, production from the region now stands at around 150,000 barrels a day, only a fraction of the country's daily average production of 2.2 million barrels. Experts point out, however, that in order to convert the belt into a major factor in national oil production and to refine its unconventional crude profitably, the Government must invest several billion dollars. These outlays would be beyond the $4.5 billion to $7 billion that the Government will have to spend over the next decade to maintain the efficiency of its state-run industry—now controlled by a holding company called Petroven—add new refineries and find new sources of conventional petroleum.

Orinoco Heavy Oil Belt is shown by shaded area.

Enterprise, the Government of Carlos Andrés Pérez has placed emphasis on the search for oil and gas. Higher oil prices—expected since 1973—may now heavy investment needed to develop conventional oil deposits such as the Orinoco Belt and the Tar Sands of Canada into production. Geological Challenges Posed by the Orinoco Belt poses a number of technological challenges both for Venezuela and for international oil companies. It is not the kind that can be met by readily available technology. The belt is rich in heavy oil and gas, but it is also rich in sulfur and other minerals. The belt is also rich in heavy metals and other minerals. The belt is also rich in heavy metals and other minerals.

Experts Say It Will Take Six Years to Establish Seabed Mining Unit

WASHINGTON, N.Y., Sept. 9—Experts in seabed mining will take five to six years to establish the Enterprise, a $1-billion, 100,000-ton mining unit, according to a report by the Enterprise's chief engineer. The Enterprise is a joint venture between the United States and several other countries. It is designed to mine the seabed for manganese nodules and other minerals. The Enterprise is expected to be operational by 1983. The Enterprise is expected to be operational by 1983.

United States experts had been telling others that with the required financial means, the Enterprise should be able to buy the technology it needs and to attract the administrative and managerial talent that should enable it to compete with the companies. "In effect the Enterprise should be regarded as another ocean-mining corporation, only one that will operate on an international basis," one American negotiator explained. "With regard to financing, it is said that all countries that will be signing the future treaty will be expected to share the financial obligations involved—and that it would not be only up to a handful of prosperous industrial countries to do so." Details Not Spelled Out Mr. Kissinger apparently did not spell out such points in his talks with key negotiators consulted during his two-day visit. One of them, Evan Luard, British Parliamentary Secretary for Foreign and Commonwealth Affairs who is an authority on seabed matters, said that Mr. Kissinger had dismissed the financing only in the broadest terms, but he said that he was convinced that the participation of the conference regarded the initiative as one of major importance and were weighing the matter seriously.

Charles F. Butler, president of Air New England, at Logan International Airport in Boston.

Air New England Encounters Turbulence In Its Newly Won Role as Certificated Line

BOSTON—In 1974, Air New England, a bustling commuter airline serving the hamlets of the Northeast, managed to produce a modest profit of $78,553. Just a year later, despite a $3.2 million transfusion from the Federal Government and healthy revenues of $13.4 million, the line posted a loss of more than a million dollars. The change in Air New England's fortunes was not the result of recession or natural disaster or any predictable cause, but stemmed instead from one little-noticed change: On Jan. 20, 1975, Air New England became a certificated airline, the first new such carrier within the 48 states in 24 years. (Alaska and Hawaii are special cases.) The transformation, which pushed the airline under the wing of nearly every Government edict applicable to major carriers like Pan Am, has brought staggering new headaches and expenses and, for critics, has made the case a vivid example of Government regulation at its most absurd. Security Checks Take, for example, the pre-departure security check, now, through certification, a part of Air New England's routine. Pan Am, which shuffles millions of passengers a year through its busy terminals, can pay the costs permitted to collect from each traveler. Air New England, on the other hand, has some airports that on a good day see perhaps a half-dozen passengers, but it has had to add the same guards and metal detectors. Last year, the carrier lost nearly $400,000 on security inspections—all to protect planes that in most cases carry only 19 passengers a maximum of 400 miles. Regulation of airlines is a hotly debated subject these days because of proposals from President Ford that some of the most restrictive requirements be relaxed to generate more competition and offer the lines new flexibility. As the rules now stand, certificated carriers must seek Civil Aviation Board approval to raise fares, change schedules and so on. In addition, they face more stringent operational and safety requirements imposed by the Federal Aviation Administration. By contrast, commuter airlines, which is what Air New England used to be, are almost entirely unregulated. "We can't even turn around now without asking someone 'can we turn around,'" said Charles F. Butler, the president, as he sat in his paneled office here, framed against a panorama of Logan Airport runways. "Eventually, it might be a good thing. But for the first year or 18 months at least, it's a hell of a shock to the system."

Why, then, would an airline want to be certificated? Mr. Butler acknowledges that part of the reason was "defensive." The C.A.B. was under enormous pressure from then-Senator Norris Cotton, Republican from New Hampshire, who was eager to improve service in New England. Mr. Cotton, armed with the clout of the chairmanship of the C.A.B. Senate Oversight Committee, wanted a new carrier certificated, even though internal board studies concluded that profitability was dubious. Air New England feared that if it didn't apply for the certificate, someone else would. Another important factor in the decision to go for certification was the subsidies, which are themselves another favorite target of critics. Last year, $80 million was dispensed to local-service airlines to provide flights to small communities whose low levels of traffic would be unable to support profitable service. Air New England received $3.2 million, or $8.93 a passenger—a healthy sum when compared with the $25 that the average passenger on the line pays for his ticket. Nonetheless, Air New England, convinced that the present arrangement is unworkable, has filed a petition with the C.A.B. to create a new category of certificated carrier, an "area air carrier." Basically, the line has asked to be freed from most of the regulatory restrictions while remaining eligible for the bountiful subsidies. Meanwhile, Air New England's experience remains instructive. About $60,000 was spent to rewrite training manuals to conform to Federal Aviation Administration standards. An expensive communications system, costing $18,000 a month to operate, had to be installed. Single page yearly reports became 60-page monthly reports and a computer system was required to supply the data. Dispatchers now have to be licensed, inspectors in addition to mechanics—must be employed, and individual maintenance schedules must be observed for 350 separate parts on the line's larger planes. New Employees Added All told, according to Frank Willkinson, senior vice president for operations, 40 new employees—about 10 percent of the total work force—were needed to comply with the regulations. And the additional cost totaled $4.7 million last year, according to a study by the C.A.B. On the revenue side, the line is now required to offer joint fares with other carriers at considerable discounts, which means millions of dollars of lost revenue. And there are hidden costs: in the old days, for example, the carrier could skip stops if no one wanted to get on or off the plane. Now the C.A.B. insists that the stops be made, despite the wasted fuel and crew time. While Air New England's subsidy is growing rapidly, its service is not. In fact, the line is now being reimbursed to provide virtually the same—and in some cases, less—service than it was providing as an unregulated commuter. Moreover, subsidy dollars are going, for the most part, to help wealthy Manhattanites bound for Martha's Vineyard and Boston executives with business in New Hampshire get to their destinations for less money. What the airline is providing are large airplanes—a condition for C.A.B. certification as a result of Senator Cotton's influence. Unfortunately, the six 43-seat Fairchild FH-227 turboprops that the line bought have proved both too large for the low-density routes and too expensive to operate. "Integrating that airplane has been a lumpy process," Mr. Butler said. "It's not designed for our up-and-down short-haul routes and it's expensive to operate." A nadir was reached last winter when, as only 30 percent of the seats were being filled, the line grounded the big planes until traffic picked up in the summer. "The company was just bleeding to death," Mr. Butler said. The line may not be hemorrhaging these days but there's still a steady flow of blood: The planes cost $3 million to buy and contributed substantially to the company's pressing $8 million debt. Another problem with being a big-time airline is big-time labor relations, meaning the Air Line Pilots Association. "As soon as the C.A.B. order came out, the pilots said their only savior was A.L.P.A.," recalled Oakley Brooks, senior vice president for administration. At the minimum, Mr. Brooks, who has just concluded contract negotiations with the union, feels that pilots, now being paid $21,000 to fly the FH-227, will have to be paid the $25,000 to $26,000 that Ozark and Piedmont Airlines pay for flying the same plane. (At the same time, newly applicable F.A.A. rules have reduced the number of hours pilots fly from about 90 hours a month to 75 hours.) But the change in status might still not counter the latest problem: New commuter airlines. Where once Air New England enjoyed a monopoly on virtually all its routes (and still does among certificated carriers), new commuter lines, operating with the flexibility that Air New England once had, have begun to divert passengers on some of the carrier's most lucrative routes. "This regulation, which was supposed to give us route protection, does not protect us from a commuter coming in whenever they want," said Mr. Butler. "You can skim the best markets by being a commuter."

U.S. Warns Britain On Concorde Ban As Air Talks Begin

LONDON, Sept. 9, (Reuters)—Britain and the United States embarked on aviation talks today with the British side giving notice that it wanted to break what it called American domination of world airline markets. The talks started in an atmosphere heated by official American warnings that British airliners, including the supersonic Concorde, might be barred from United States airports if negotiations broke down. The United States Government showed strong resentment at Britain's move last June to terminate the Bermuda Agreement, which had regulated American-British air traffic since 1946 and set a pattern for American aviation pacts with other countries. This resentment was heightened by a subsequent British order for National Airlines to reduce its flight frequency between Miami and Britain and for Trans-World Airlines to cut frequency between Chicago and London. Confrontation Discounted As the talks opened the leader of the British side, George Rogers, said Britain did not regard the negotiation as a confrontation. "We are simply seeking a more equitable agreement with a better balance of benefits," said Mr. Rogers, head of the civil aviation division in the Department of Trade. Britain has complained that United States airlines make twice as much revenue as the state-owned British Airways from the British-American scheduled routes. For every four passengers carried by British Airways, United States airlines normally carry six. "The Bermuda Agreement, which established United States domination in some places and monopoly in others, was inadequate in present circumstances," Mr. Rogers said. The leader of the American team, Joel Biller, was not immediately available for comment. The American negotiators are said to be apprehensive that a 50-50 shareout with Britain of the rich North Atlantic airline trade would spur other countries to demand similar treatment. The initial talks were mostly procedural. The negotiations are expected to last well into next year at several different sites.

OCEAN RESOURCES POLICY IS URGED BY RICHARDSON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 (AP)—Elliot L. Richardson, Secretary of Commerce, said today that the Government needed a more integrated, comprehensive approach in setting policies on control and use of ocean resources. Mr. Richardson, testifying before a House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Subcommittee, noted that decision-making on ocean policies is now split among a number of agencies, including his department's National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, the Environmental Protection Agency and the Departments of State and Interior. "Certainly, the policies we adopt for the use of the coastal zone should be consistent with those we adopt for fisheries management or for the development of our O.C.S. [outer continental shelf] oil and gas resources," Mr. Richardson said, adding: "Policies with regard to O.C.S. resources should in turn be consistent with those for the control of ocean pollution. And, policies with regard to our merchant marine or deep seabed interests should be consistent with our security and international economic and political interests." To help promote development of an overall oceans policy, the Secretary suggested the formation of a Cabinet level group able to deal with other panels, including the National Security Council, Domestic Council and Energy Resources Council. In opening the session, the subcommittee's chairman, Representative John B.reaux, Democrat of Louisiana, said that his panel was undertaking a series of hearings "to show us where we as a nation should be going in ocean policy."

NOTICE OF REDEMPTION to the holders of CITY OF BERLIN (Stadt Berlin) 4 1/2% Debt Adjustment Bonds, Berliner Verkehrs-Betriebe (BVG) Series Due October 1, 1976. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that the above described bonds in accordance with their terms, will mature on October 1, 1976. On October 1, 1976 the matured bonds will become due and payable at the principal office of Schroeder Trust Company in the City of New York at One State Street, New York, New York 10015. From and after the maturity date, the bonds shall cease to bear interest, the holders of such bonds shall have no further rights thereunder except upon surrender of such bonds to receive payment of the principal thereof, and said matured bonds should be presented for payment in the usual manner. SCHROEDER TRUST COMPANY Paying Agent September 10, 1976

Earn a High School Diploma (Fall term starts September 13) A full program of accelerated high school subjects for adult men and women. Classes meet 2 or 4 evenings weekly. Continuous career and college guidance. Rhodes Evening High School Our 65th year 11 West 54 Street, New York 10019 • (212) 757-7900

Required for Mortgage Investments across Canada 13% Guaranteed Write to: SODEQ 289 4th Street Quebec, Quebec Canada

Buying? Whatever the shape, whatever the size, take your pick of pedigreed dogs from the big selection advertised in The New York Times Sports Pages every Thursday and Sunday. Selling? Call (212) OXford 8-3311 between 9 A.M. and 5:30 P.M., to place your advertisement.

American Stock Exchange Transactions: Consolidated Summary of Yesterday's Trading

Main table of stock transactions with columns for stock name, price, volume, and change. Includes sub-sections for 'A-B-C-D', 'E-F-G-H', 'I-J-K-L', 'M-N-O-P', 'Q-R-S-T', and 'U-V-W-X-Y-Z'.

Results of Trading in Stock Options

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1976

American Stock Exchange

Chicago Board

Table showing results of trading in stock options, including columns for option type, price, volume, and change. Includes sub-sections for 'Philadelphia Options' and 'Q-R-S-T'.

Every mon an average 39,600 apartment ads appear The New York Times Classified Pages

It's the place to look for the apartment of your choice... It's the place to advertise for quick and profitable response.

Handwritten signature or mark at the bottom of the page.

Journal 130

Stock market data table with columns for High, Low, and various stock symbols.

FE WILL BUY STATES HOLDINGS

Concern to Get Oil and Pertles in the West in Million Agreement

LARRY M. RECKER... Industries, a Chicago-based company, announced yesterday a definitive contract for the domestic oil and gas...

Services to Buy Year Rental Unit

Agreement in principle to buy and invest itself by Dec. 31 of a rental operation because of a trust consent decree.

Plans to Acquire Cristina Inc.

Alga-Palmolive Company is to go to its leisure-entertainment arm, Cristina Inc., and its distributors of women's swimwear.

Drug Buying Giant Stores

A big store Northwest Inc. yesterday that it had reached an agreement to buy the drug store chain owned by...

Drugs to Merge Eckerd Corp.

Eckerd Corporation of Clearwater and Eckerd Drugs Inc. of St. Petersburg, Fla., have agreed in principle to merge in an exchange of stock...

Business Records

PROCEEDINGS... COURT REPORT... 100-122 Lexington Ave., N.Y. 17111...

Advertising Good Housekeeping to Lift Price

By WILLIAM D. SMITH

Good Housekeeping will raise its newsstand price of 95 cents a copy in October from its present 75 cents...

Total circulation of the book has risen by 6.1 percent to 5,312,449 in the first six months of 1976 from 5,009,003...

Mr. Carter, an energetic man, is understandably eager to display the facts of his first year in office at his third major woman's book.

West German Tank Here for Test Amid Rising Protest in Congress

Continued From Page D1

At a time when he said, "the tank balance is tipped dramatically against us," Defense Intelligence officials presented the committee intelligence estimates...

Maj. Gen. Robert J. Baer, manager of the XM-1 tank program, acknowledged that he had "twinges" of concern about delaying the tank program...

Leopard 2 made by West Germany

Statistics Show Briton's Living Standard Fell 0.7% in '75 With Spreading Inflation

LONDON, Sept. 9—The effects of inflation, which has been hitting the wealthier Britons for a decade, caught up with the working population in 1975, according to official statistics published today.

On average there had been an increase in the standard of living of 3.2 percent each year from 1965 to 1973, while in 1974, a tough year for the small middle-income professional class, the general living standard rose 1.9 percent.

British Seek to Halt Seamen's Strike

Continued From Page D1

one side and the Government and the majority of other unions on the other arises from the Government's rejection of the seamen's demand for an immediate increase of $11 a week.

Gross National Products Rises... The country's gross national product rose in money terms in 1975 to $24 billion, of about $1,680 a person, compared with $1,340 a person in 1974.

F.D.A. Data Is Awaited

It is apparently still too soon to tell if the study by a panel of experts advising the Food and Drug Administration that more powerful ingredients be allowed in cough, cold, asthma and allergy medicines will have any effect at the advertising end.

A number of pharmaceutical companies said that they were still going through the 1,100-page report, and until they complete that are reserving any or all comment.

Child Abuse Campaign

If you haven't already seen it, the new public service campaign being conducted by the Advertising Council, is on the problem of child abuse.

People

Frank Stanton has been elected to the board of the Interpublic Group of Companies Inc. Alfred Eisenpreis named vice president of retail marketing for the Newspaper Advertising Bureau Inc.

Gap in France Between Rich And Poor Big

Continued From Page D1

inequality gap in France is even larger than in Spain, where social progress had been encumbered by four decades of autocratic right-wing rule until early this year.

There are a number of ways of measuring income distribution. Mr. Sawyer, with data from the member governments adjusted to make the figures as nearly comparable as possible, uses all major techniques to reduce value judgments that might detract from impartiality.

Markets

Outside Europe... Data on 170 countries, including Europe, G.N.P., Tourism, Prices, Economy, Agriculture, 448 pages, many photos. $30. + $5. shipping.

SHOPPING SUGGESTIONS

For the Man... NEW! French Cut... Custom made. Your individual style, modern, imported fabrics, slacks $49, jackets $79. Client's own materials welcome, alterations accepted. "Dressify" 254 Lee, Av. (97) 57

MOVED!

WHOLESALE ONLY OFFERINGS TO BUYERS -3600- WHOLESALE ONLY BUYERS WANTS -3500-

BRUSSELS, Sept. 9 (UPI)—The dollar slipped on most European money markets today. Gold closed at $112.35 an ounce in Zurich, up from yesterday's close of $111.65 and it closed at $112.50 in London up from $111.50.

Advertisement for US News World Report featuring a woman and the text 'Our kind of people. They spend the big travel dollar.'

STOCK UP ON MARKET NEWS.

Advertisement for Dial Dow Jones Report (212) 999-4141, featuring a cartoon character and text about stock market news.

Advertisement for Planastik plants, featuring images of plants and text: 'HAS TRUCKLOADS OF NEW PLANTS FOR OUR FALL PREVIEW'.

Advertisement for Parkchester Technonics, featuring an image of a mobile phone and text: 'Now, Take Your Phone Anywhere!'.

Advertisement for 'The Going Out Guide' with text: 'The Going Out Guide tells you what's in Monday through Thursday and Saturday, too, in The New York Times'.

Over-the-Counter Quotations

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1976

Quotations supplied through NASDAQ as of 4:00 P.M. Quotes do not include retail markup, markdown or commissions. Volume represents shares that changed ownership during the day. Figures include only transactions effected by NASDAQ market-makers but may include some duplication where market-makers traded with each other.

Table of stock quotations with columns for Bid, Asked, and Change. Includes various stock symbols and their corresponding prices.

MUTUAL FUNDS section containing a list of various mutual funds and their current prices.

Table of stock quotations, continuing from the first table, listing various companies and their market prices.

U.S. Government and Agency Bonds section, listing various government bonds and their yields.

Supplementary O-T-C section, listing additional over-the-counter transactions and prices.

Drop Year

Handwritten note: 10/1/76

Lockheed Defers Introduction of EK8 Camera

R. Sept. 9 (UPI)—East-“top-of-the-line” EK8 in- will not be sold in the and Canada this year earlier, company offi- ay.

on for the Rochester-based giant said demand for two camera, EK4 and EK6, instant print film “have sections.

intention to concentrate attention on these cur- g products,” he added, this, we are deferring duce the EK8 instant some time in 1977.”

folding model camera, ufactured at Kodak fa- mpany. The company an- us that a limited quan- eras would be sold in ies this year.

duced its instant photog- April. Since then, it has in a legal tangle with orporation, the originator ography equipment, over

The Emergency Financial Control Board, which oversees Lockheed's finances on behalf of the Government, said that it was prepared to extend a total of $250 million in loan guarantees to Lockheed until the end of 1977 provided it made no more questionable payments.

But if Lockheed makes any more improper payments, then it will default under a 1971 guarantee pact, which could eventually force the company into bankruptcy as the aircraft maker does not yet have the resources to repay the loan.

Meanwhile, it was reported that the Lockheed affair threatened to become an issue in West Germany's general election on Oct. 8 when a Frankfurt newspaper alleged that Defense Ministry commissions were paid during the purchase of Lockheed Starfighters.

It was also reported that two former Lockheed representatives in Japan had been offered immunity from prosecution in exchange for their testimony, but it was not known immediately whether they had accepted the offer.

pany also said it would begin construction of a $1 million building next spring to house a new flight crew to be domiciled in Cleveland. United now has a total of 1,350 employees and an annual payroll of more than $18.5 million in Cleveland.

Vauxhall Motors Signs Truck Deal With Bulgaria

Vauxhall Motors Ltd. of London said it had signed an agreement with a Bulgarian state foreign-trade corporation under which Bulgarian fork-lift trucks would be introduced into General Motors plants worldwide and Vauxhall's Bedford division heavy trucks will be sold to Bulgaria. Vauxhall is a unit of the General Motors Corporation.

Vauxhall said the agreement was a general one “creating an operating basis, and specific numbers on either side cannot be quoted at this time.”

Duplan to Halt Production Of Its Textured Yarns

The Duplan Corporation announced that it would halt the production of textured yarns, consolidate much of its fabric operations and dispose of or halt certain segments of its other businesses. “The operations affected have generally been either unprofitable or only modestly profitable,” the company said.

The changes are subject in certain cases to the approval of the Federal Court as the company is now operating under Chapter XI of the Federal Bankruptcy Act. The actions would result in writedowns and reserves that would “produce a pro forma deficit stockholders equity in excess of $25 million as of April 4, 1976.

Alaska Pipeline Report Is Called 'Erroneous'

A report critical of construction of the trans-Alaska Pipeline that was published by a Congressional subcommittee was “unsupported, erroneous and based on gossip and rumor,” the chairman of Alyeska Pipeline Service Company said in Anchorage yesterday.

E. L. Patton, the Alyeska executive, objected that the report was given to the press before it was presented to the subcommittee.

Earlier this week, investigators for the House Subcommittee on Energy and Power were reported to have raised a number of questions that could prevent completion of the Alaska oil pipeline. The investigators asserted that Federal inspectors were still not keeping proper control over the way pipeline sections are being welded.

Lockheed Offers Warrants

Lockheed announced yesterday that it had filed with the Exchange Commission offering of 833,332 cash purchase warrants. Each is the holder to purchase ABC common stock at $10.00.

The warrants expire Jan. 2, 1982. The company will manage a public offering of warrants. The remainder of the offering will be publicly offered.

Celanese Cuts Staff

Celanese Canada Ltd. said it was reducing its staff at its strike-bound fiber and fabric plant by 29 percent in Drummondville, Quebec. Employment will be terminated for 73 persons, while “a number of employees will take early retirement and certain vacancies will not be filled,” the company said. The Canadian company is 57 percent owned by the Celanese Corporation.

Surveys in China Sea

Allan G. Hatley of Cities Service International Inc. said in Manila that more surveys and drilling were needed to decide whether the two “finds” in the South China Sea this year were commercial. However, the “finds” could be enough to generate more exploration, he added.

United Staff Grows

United Airlines announced yesterday in Cleveland that it would increase its annual local payroll by $3 million and add nearly 1,000 employees to its staff there in the next five years. The com-

Reports 17.6% Profit Drop Quarter but 58.4% Gain in Year

By CLARE M. RECKERT

Company, the largest in New York area, reported a 17.6 percent drop in earnings for the fourth quarter, but a 58.4 percent gain in year-over-year earnings.

The company's earnings per share for the quarter ended in July were 67 cents, compared with 80 cents for the quarter ended in July 1975.

After a 17.6 percent drop in earnings for the quarter, the company reported a 58.4 percent gain in year-over-year earnings.

The company's earnings per share for the quarter ended in July were 67 cents, compared with 80 cents for the quarter ended in July 1975.

Commenting on business during August, Mr. Levitt said sales were down in the New York area but were generally satisfactory elsewhere. But since Macy's New York and Bamberger's combined do almost two-thirds of the company's business, the results of the metropolitan area have a vital bearing on the results for the entire company, Mr. Levitt noted.

The executive said September had begun to show some strength and a good pickup was noted, this week. This is expected to continue as shipping begins in earnest and customers get back into a buying mood after the recent difficult months, he said.

The apparel field, such as sportswear, junior and children's wear are the best sellers with a good pickup in cosmetics and home furnishings in particular. The big ticket items, however, are still below average, Mr. Levitt said.

As for the first Sunday opening at its Herald Square store, he said business during five hours was on a par with that of Saturday, when the store is open eight hours. Mr. Levitt explained that the company's stores in California had been on a seven-day week for about two years and that around the country its stores were open where the laws permit.

The new Chrysler Volare, on display yesterday for newsmen in Detroit, has a “T-bar” roof. Panels over the front seats can be removed to make the car a semiconvertible.

CHRYSLER IS PLACING STRESS ON COMPACTS

Continued From Page D1

of the Monaco nameplate to what used to be the intermediate-sized Charger. Chrysler expects that its cars, as a group, will deliver about 16 miles per gallon in 1977, compared with 18.3 miles per gallon for General Motors and 17.1 for Ford. All of the auto makers are required to achieve 20 miles per gallon by 1980.

Missing from the Chrysler lineup this year will be the familiar compacts, the Dodge Dart and Plymouth Valiant. Born in the early 1960's and highly rated by such magazines as Consumer Reports, the Dart and Valiant were the basis for Chrysler's sustained, strong performance in the compact field. Chrysler views the Volare and Aspen as their successors.

Auto Pact Viewed as Threat

OTTAWA, Sept. 9 (UPI)—The auto pact between the United States and Canada was a multibillion-dollar boon to this country during the boom years but may be a threat in the current slow-growth period, according to a study released today by the Economic Council of Canada.

Management: Alternative Sources of Energy

Continued From Page D1

calling for a tax exemption on devices to transfer or store solar energy. Most of the new state laws provide for municipal options on the tax deductions.

Several bills are pending in Congress to offer tax credits on Federal income taxes for costs involved on solar energy equipment.

amount each year — $21,000, for example.

Meanwhile, the actuarial equivalent of the total company must set aside for the man's basic pension remains in trust. If the trust earns enough to cover the $21,000 each year, fine. The total amount, estimated by Mr. Stout at $265,000, remains intact for his heirs, but if the trust earns less than enough, the principal will be invaded.

covering the proposed new class action legislation will be submitted to state legislatures for action in January or later.

John McCabe, legal director for the 85-year-old law organization, believes that most corporate managements, and especially their legal departments, will want to take a look at the new uniform class action code.

One of the most hotly contested questions, according to Mr. McCabe, was what happens to a large sum of money awarded in a class action case if all the members of the class cannot be reached.

For example, suppose a utility is ordered to return money to all of its one million customers and cannot reach hundreds of them. Does the state receive the money or is it returned to the company? The conferees decided to compromise on the issue in the uniform class action code and “leave it to the court” to decide, giving the judge a list of items to be considered, such as the company's willingness, other claims pending against it, the size of the loss suffered by the individual and other items.

Usually it takes quite a few years for all states to adopt a uniform code. For example, the National Conference introduced the Uniform Probate Code in 1968 and so far it has been adopted by only 11 states.

Estate-Building Aided By Option on Pension

Donald F. Stout, president of a small Erie, Pa., maker of electronics components called Biley Electric, worried some years ago about the difficulty top and middle management often had building up estates for their heirs despite good salaries in the years before retirement.

He did not think the company's pension plan helped enough so he revised it in 1973, with Internal Revenue Service approval.

He added an option that permits a retiring executive to arrange his pension so that a lump sum probably will remain after death for his heirs.

On the telephone yesterday, he gave this example: An executive with a salary of $40,000 a year could expect a pension of about $28,000 based on years of service. Instead of taking this pension, he exercises the new estate-building option and takes a lower

Draft Is Completed On Class Action Act

Class action suits—suits brought by one or more persons on behalf of a large group—have long been a source of concern for managements. The National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws has completed a draft of a new Uniform Class Actions Act that it will work to have adopted by all of the states. Once the November elections are out of the way, bills

FLORIDA AND BACK WITHOUT GETTING BURNED. $109. ROUND-TRIP COACH.

Amtrak offers you a way to collect shells on Florida's beaches without shelling out a lot of money. Our fares are lower than the lowest airline fare and probably less than driving. Kids get to travel for half the fare and have twice the fun. (Don't forget to take them to Walt Disney World in Orlando.) Just leave any day of the week and return by December 17th.

Taking Amtrak to Florida is probably the most comfortable and relaxing way to travel. Where else but on a train do you have the freedom to move around and meet new friends while discovering a little more of your country? Amtrak has wide comfortable reclining seats that stretch all the way back to make sleeping easy. There's a special dining car where you can have a leisurely meal, and a lounge car where you can get a quick snack. All at reasonable prices. Amtrak goes to Miami, Tampa, St. Petersburg, Fort Lauderdale, Orlando (Walt Disney World) and other Florida vacation centers.

For information and reservations call Amtrak at (212) 736-4545. In New York State, outside N.Y.C. and in New Jersey call (toll-free) 800-523-5700. In Connecticut call 800-523-5700. Or your travel agent. Amtrak's $109. round-trip coach excursion fare is too hot to pass up!

Penn Station, 8th Ave., W. 31st-W. 33rd Sts. Amtrak Ticket Office, 12 W. 51st St.

REPORTS	1976	1975	1976	1975
COLUMBIA PICTURES INDUSTRIES (U)
Qtr. sales	$25,000,000	$23,000,000	$25,000,000	$23,000,000
Net income	$4,000,000	$3,500,000	$4,000,000	$3,500,000
Share price	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2
HARRIOTT (E)
Qtr. sales	$25,000,000	$23,000,000	$25,000,000	$23,000,000
Net income	$4,000,000	$3,500,000	$4,000,000	$3,500,000
Share price	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2
MIDLAND MORTGAGE INVESTORS (M)
Qtr. sales	$25,000,000	$23,000,000	$25,000,000	$23,000,000
Net income	$4,000,000	$3,500,000	$4,000,000	$3,500,000
Share price	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2
PEAVEY (P)
Qtr. sales	$25,000,000	$23,000,000	$25,000,000	$23,000,000
Net income	$4,000,000	$3,500,000	$4,000,000	$3,500,000
Share price	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2
GRANTREE (G)
Qtr. sales	$25,000,000	$23,000,000	$25,000,000	$23,000,000
Net income	$4,000,000	$3,500,000	$4,000,000	$3,500,000
Share price	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2
PROCTER & GAMBLE (P)
Qtr. sales	$25,000,000	$23,000,000	$25,000,000	$23,000,000
Net income	$4,000,000	$3,500,000	$4,000,000	$3,500,000
Share price	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2
E & S SUPERMARKETS (S)
Qtr. sales	$25,000,000	$23,000,000	$25,000,000	$23,000,000
Net income	$4,000,000	$3,500,000	$4,000,000	$3,500,000
Share price	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2
ERKENRICH PHOTO-OPTICAL INDUSTRIES (A)
Qtr. sales	$25,000,000	$23,000,000	$25,000,000	$23,000,000
Net income	$4,000,000	$3,500,000	$4,000,000	$3,500,000
Share price	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2
RESISTOFLEX (A)
Qtr. sales	$25,000,000	$23,000,000	$25,000,000	$23,000,000
Net income	$4,000,000	$3,500,000	$4,000,000	$3,500,000
Share price	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2
TRICORP (T)
Qtr. sales	$25,000,000	$23,000,000	$25,000,000	$23,000,000
Net income	$4,000,000	$3,500,000	$4,000,000	$3,500,000
Share price	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2
FLICKINGER (F)
Qtr. sales	$25,000,000	$23,000,000	$25,000,000	$23,000,000
Net income	$4,000,000	$3,500,000	$4,000,000	$3,500,000
Share price	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2
ELIJAH'S (E)
Qtr. sales	$25,000,000	$23,000,000	$25,000,000	$23,000,000
Net income	$4,000,000	$3,500,000	$4,000,000	$3,500,000
Share price	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2
G & K SERVICES (G)
Qtr. sales	$25,000,000	$23,000,000	$25,000,000	$23,000,000
Net income	$4,000,000	$3,500,000	$4,000,000	$3,500,000
Share price	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2
MESSE'S (M)
Qtr. sales	$25,000,000	$23,000,000	$25,000,000	$23,000,000
Net income	$4,000,000	$3,500,000	$4,000,000	$3,500,000
Share price	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2
LANCASTER COLONY (L)
Qtr. sales	$25,000,000	$23,000,000	$25,000,000	$23,000,000
Net income	$4,000,000	$3,500,000	$4,000,000	$3,500,000
Share price	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2
TELECOM (T)
Qtr. sales	$25,000,000	$23,000,000	$25,000,000	$23,000,000
Net income	$4,000,000	$3,500,000	$4,000,000	$3,500,000
Share price	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2
WETCO OFFSHORE INDUSTRIES (W)
Qtr. sales	$25,000,000	$23,000,000	$25,000,000	$23,000,000
Net income	$4,000,000	$3,500,000	$4,000,000	$3,500,000
Share price	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2
TEXAS GAS (T)
Qtr. sales	$25,000,000	$23,000,000	$25,000,000	$23,000,000
Net income	$4,000,000	$3,500,000	$4,000,000	$3,500,000
Share price	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2

Soybeans Pace Commodities Gains

CHICAGO, Sept. 9 (AP)—Most farm commodity-futures prices improved today, led by a late rally in soybeans. Soybeans, which had fallen more than 10 cents early in the day, closed with a gain of 12 cents a bushel. Soybean meal advanced 2 1/2 cents a ton, and soy oil rose some 75 points, or 3/4 cent a pound.

EXTRA IMPORTS OF FOOD NEEDED BY THE E.E.C.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 9 (Reuters)—The European Economic Community will have to import extra food and animal fodder this year to make up losses from Europe's worst drought in decades, E.E.C. Farm Commissioner Pierre Lardinois warned today.

Bloomingdale Opens Store in Washington

Special to The New York Times WASHINGTON, Sept. 9—Bloomingdale's opened its first complete department store outside the metropolitan New York area today.

People and Business

Johns Manville Top Officers Are Realigned by Pres.

The executive hierarchy at the Johns-Manville Corporation shifted quickly yesterday as John A. McKinney, president, announced a realignment of top officers in the wake of the resignation last Friday of W. R. Goodwin, the man whose management style displeased the company's directors.

Donald Paarlberg Retail food prices may be the size of the...

GRAINS & FEEDS CHICAGO BD. OF TRADE

Table with columns for Wheat, Corn, Soybeans, and Soybean Meal, showing prices per bushel or ton.

Prices of Commodity Futures Thursday, September 9, 1973

Large table listing various commodity futures including Pork Bellies, Hogs, Cattle, and various oils, with columns for contract type and price.

WOOD CHICAGO MERC. EXCH.

Table listing wood futures prices for various grades of lumber and plywood.

Dividends Announced

Table listing companies and their announced dividends, including dates and amounts.

KANSAS CITY BD. OF TRADE

Table listing grain and feed prices for Kansas City.

CHICAGO MERC. EXCH. LIVESTOCK

Table listing livestock prices for Chicago.

Open Interest

Table showing open interest for various commodity futures.

METALS COMMODITY EXCH. (N.Y.)

Table listing metal prices for copper, nickel, and tin.

LONDON METAL MARKET

Table listing metal prices for London.

LIVESTOCK CHICAGO MERC. EXCH.

Table listing livestock prices for Chicago.

Cash Prices

Table listing cash prices for various commodities.

Foreign Stock Index

Table listing foreign stock indices for various countries.

Foreign Stock Index

Table listing foreign stock indices for various countries.

UNITED STATES

Table listing stock prices for various US companies.

Other U.S. and Foreign Stock Exchanges

Table listing stock prices from other US and foreign exchanges.

AMSTERDAM

Table listing stock prices for Amsterdam.

CAROL BELLAMY

State Senator EDWARD N. COSTIKYAN Vice-Chairman, N.Y.C. Charter Commission HERBERT TENZER Former Queens Congressman

JUDGE SPIEGEL

FOR SURROGATE, DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY, SEPT. 14

PHILADELPHIA

Table listing stock prices for Philadelphia.

MONTREAL

Table listing stock prices for Montreal.

BRUSSELS

Table listing stock prices for Brussels.

BUENOS AIRES

Table listing stock prices for Buenos Aires.

FOREIGN

Table listing foreign exchange rates.

Foreign Exchange

Table listing foreign exchange rates.

TOKYO

Table listing stock prices for Tokyo.

TORONTO

Table listing stock prices for Toronto.

NEW YORK (AP) — Money rates for Treasury money market index 3.24 down 1/8 from Wednesday.

Sept 10 1970

Hospital and Transit Budgets Sent Back

THOMAS R. WEISMAN has rejected the most... submissions from the... Corporation and the... as lacking "sufficient... dependent agencies were... revised financial plans... week.

The corporation will also... more specific its proposals... measures included in its... financial plan showing how... about closing its overall $83 million... deficit. But hospital officials said... proposals were voted on yesterday... by the directors of the corporation, which... runs the 16 municipal hospitals. Chief... among these measures are plans to... increase the patient load—and therefore... the income—of several of its hospitals.

The Transit Authority submitted its... plans for a $1.3 billion budget this year... and next, a city budget official said, but... failed to account for a $4 million deficit... problem.

Task Force Named to Aid WNYC

An 11-member task force headed by... Arthur R. Taylor, the president of CBS, has... been named by Mayor Beame to... recommend a future course for the city-owned... Municipal Broadcasting System, whose... budget has been cut by a third in the... city's fiscal crisis.

John Jay Iselin, president of Channel 13... Martin E. Segal, chairman of the city's... Commission for Cultural Affairs, Arnold... Labaton, director of communications... for the Municipal Broadcasting System.

One Instant Winner Of the New Lottery Is New York State

By ROBERT D. McFADDEN The state's new instant lottery had... another $1-million sales boom on its... second day of operations yesterday as long... lines of players queued up at ticket outlets... and numerous vendors in the city and... upstate sold out their ticket supplies.

Cooke Assails Sunday Store Hours

By ARI L. GOLDMAN of the world," said the Cardinal, who... is the Archbishop of New York. The... statement released yesterday was made... before a group of lay leaders at St. Patrick's Cathedral on Wednesday.

Librarians!

See the job offerings in the "About Education" news and advertising feature—every Wednesday. The New York Times

Work Not Required, Stores Say

Spokesmen for several major department... stores declined to comment on the... Cardinal's statement. Korvettes, Gimbels, Abraham & Straus and other stores have... begun opening New York City and suburban... outlets on Sundays in the last few weeks.

Representatives of the department stores... have said that the Sunday work is on a... voluntary basis and that employees do not... work on the day get another day off.

Dividend

At the United P... Agriculture, Don... a small caution... year's retail... the September... shows that... prospective... around 6... warned... "nudge... price fore...

Task Force Named to Aid WNYC

John Jay Iselin, president of Channel 13... Martin E. Segal, chairman of the city's... Commission for Cultural Affairs, Arnold... Labaton, director of communications... for the Municipal Broadcasting System.

Many Other Winners

Mid-afternoon tabulations also indicated... that there had been at least 15 winners... of $1,000 each, 20 winners of $500 and... hundreds of winners of $5 and $2 prizes.

Work Not Required, Stores Say

Spokesmen for several major department... stores declined to comment on the... Cardinal's statement. Korvettes, Gimbels, Abraham & Straus and other stores have... begun opening New York City and suburban... outlets on Sundays in the last few weeks.

Work Not Required, Stores Say

Spokesmen for several major department... stores declined to comment on the... Cardinal's statement. Korvettes, Gimbels, Abraham & Straus and other stores have... begun opening New York City and suburban... outlets on Sundays in the last few weeks.

Work Not Required, Stores Say

Spokesmen for several major department... stores declined to comment on the... Cardinal's statement. Korvettes, Gimbels, Abraham & Straus and other stores have... begun opening New York City and suburban... outlets on Sundays in the last few weeks.

Automobile Exchange

Automobile Exchange advertisement with columns of car listings including Cadillac, Ford, Lincoln, and Chevrolet models with prices and descriptions.

Never been to an auction? Advertisement for an auction event, including contact information and details about the auction process.

Selling your car? To place your ad call OX 5-3311

AUTOMOBILE EXCHANGE

Car Leasing advertisement with '100% DELIVERY' and 'NO RENT INCREASE' text.

GOLDSMITH Cadillac advertisement for '76 CADILLACS' and 'NEW '76 CADILLACS' with prices starting at $7995.

SPECIAL SALE! 1976 CLOSE-OUT advertisement for Granada, Monaco, Bobcat, Comet, and Maverick models.

REEDMAN CORPORATIONS advertisement listing various car models like Jaguar, Chevy, and GM with prices.

Park Ridge Limousine Service advertisement offering 24 hours a day service for weddings and events.

Ford Trucks Manhattan advertisement for 1976 Cadillac Seville, priced at $10,397.

1977 LEASE SPECIAL advertisement for 1977 Cordoba with a 14-month lease for $1999.

Challenge Avis advertisement featuring a map of the United States and text about their car service network.

BMW advertisement listing various models like the 7 Series and 5 Series with prices.

DATSUN advertisement listing various models like the 280Z, 280ZX, and 280SL.

Nelson Balmer Cadillac advertisement for a 1976 Cadillac Seville with a $300 off offer.

LEASE FOR LESS advertisement for a 1977 car with a 14-month lease for $1999.

12 Month Lease 1977 GRANADA advertisement with a price of $22670.

Spring advertisement for Mercedes-Benz cars with a price of $2470.

BMW by PACE advertisement listing various BMW models and their prices.

DATSUN advertisement listing various models like the 280Z, 280ZX, and 280SL.

IN STOCK SALE! Fiat-Lancia advertisement listing various models and their prices.

Mercedes advertisement listing various models like the 280S, 280E, and 280SL.

Mercedes advertisement listing various models like the 280S, 280E, and 280SL.

Peugeot advertisement listing various models like the 405, 405L, and 405S.

Mercedes advertisement listing various models like the 280S, 280E, and 280SL.

Peugeot advertisement listing various models like the 405, 405L, and 405S.

COBRA 427 AC 1967 advertisement for a classic sports car.

DATSUN advertisement listing various models like the 280Z, 280ZX, and 280SL.

JAGUAR advertisement listing various models like the XJ6 and XJ12.

LANCIA advertisement listing various models like the Gamma and Thema.

Mercedes advertisement listing various models like the 280S, 280E, and 280SL.

Peugeot advertisement listing various models like the 405, 405L, and 405S.

Handwritten signature or note at the bottom of the page.

ing your car?
See your ad call
OX 5-3311

AUTOMOBILE EXCHANGE

INTRODUCING THE LIMITED EDITION AUDI 100LS. NOW $1000 WORTH OF OPTIONS FOR ONLY $200.

On the limited edition Audi, you get air conditioning, automatic transmission, cruise control, wheel covers.

A total of $1,000 worth of options for only $200. But that's not all you get. The limited edition Audi isn't a stripped-down car.

steering, the most direct type of steering system there is. Dual diagonal brakes, where in case one circuit fails, the other still operates.

Like power steering. Power brakes. Fuel injection. Electric rear window defogger. Tinted glass. And steel-belted radials.

So visit your local Audi dealer soon and test drive the limited edition Audi 100LS. But hurry.

And, of course, all Audis give you the excellent performance and handling characteristics of precision German engineering.

You'd be amazed at how fast a luxury car loaded with so many options can move.

Like front-wheel drive for greater tracking and cornering. Rack-and-pinion

At Your Participating Audi Dealer. *This offer ends November 20.

AUTHORIZED NEW YORK, NEW JERSEY AND CONNECTICUT AUDI DEALERS

- NEW YORK CITY: Brooklyn, Aldan Porsche Audi, Inc., Porsche Audi of Bay Ridge, Inc., Manhattan, Porsche Audi Manhattan, Queens, Porsche Audi of Queens, Inc., Richmond, Staten Island Small Cars, Ltd., LONC ISLAND, Amityville, Amity Porsche Audi, Inc., Great Neck, Great Neck Porsche Audi, Inc., Hewlett, Island Porsche Audi, Inc., Huntington Station, Huntington Porsche Audi, Inc., Riverhead, Don Wald's Autohaus, Southampton, Lester Kaye Motors, Ltd.

- NEW YORK STATE: Albany (Colonie), Langan Porsche Audi, Inc., Binghamton, Roger Kreege, Inc., Buffalo, Jim Kelly Porsche Audi, Inc., East Rochester, Irmer Porsche Audi, Inc., Elmira (Horseheads), C. C. McLeod, Inc., Elmford, Howard Holmes, Inc., Ithaca, Ripley Porsche Audi, Massena, Seaway Porsche Audi, Middletown, Glen Porsche Audi, Inc., Oneonta, Volkswagen of Oneonta, Inc., Plattsburgh, Northway Porsche Audi, Poughkeepsie, Empire Porsche Audi, Syracuse (De Witt), Competition Porsche Audi, Ltd., West Nyack, Grossman Porsche Audi, Inc.

- CONNECTICUT: Avon, Porsche Audi of Avon, Inc., Fairfield, Traynor Porsche Audi, Greenwich, Pray Porsche Audi Corp., Groton, T.N.M. Lathrop, Inc., New Haven, Brandon Porsche Audi, Watertown, Pioneer Volkswagen Corp.

- NEW JERSEY: Bernardsville, Gardner Motors, Inc., Cherry Hill, Willis Porsche Audi, Inc., Fair Lawn, Jack Daniels Porsche Audi, Ltd., Flemington, Sunya Volkswagen, Inc., Maplewood, Esser Sports Cars, Inc., Millville, Bill Magarity Porsche Audi, Inc., Newton, Porsche Audi of Newton, Oakhurst, Precision Porsche Audi, Parsippany, Herman + Miller Porsche Audi, Inc., Trenton, W-H Porsche Audi, Washington, Warren Volkswagen, Inc.

LEASE A NEW '77 FANTASTIC PRICE FORD T-BIRD $149 per mo. Monte Carlo $149 per mo. Price based on 36-mo. net closed-end lease. Cars equipped with engine, auto. trans., power steering, power brakes, radio, tinted glass, whitewalls, rear defogger.

ALL-STATE'S Pre-New-Model Introductory SALE. It's not too early to save on your '77 car lease. Closed-End Lease, $1,000,000 Insurance, Full Maintenance, Replacement Vehicle. That's our deal. Call 212-937-7500. ALL-STATE VEHICLES, INC. 42-01 Northern Blvd., Long Island City, N.Y.

IF YOU'RE THINKING OF BUYING A CUTLASS, MONARCH OR GRANADA, STOP. A Volvo can go from 0 to 0 in 10.1 seconds! That's 24 feet shorter than a Cutlass can stop. And 33 feet shorter than Granada or Monarch.

Mercedes-Benz advertisement with various car listings and contact information for dealers in New York City and Manhattan.

Volvo advertisement featuring 'VOLVO SUMMER CLEARANCE SPECIALS' and 'VOLVO P1800 SUPER SPECIALS' with detailed pricing and contact information.

Toyota advertisement titled 'TOYOTA 1976' listing various models like Corolla, Camry, and 4Runner with prices and features.

Volvo advertisement for 'VOLVO 1976' models including the 740 GLE and 740 GLE Turbo, highlighting their performance and features.

Volvo advertisement for 'VOLVO 1976' models including the 740 GLE and 740 GLE Turbo, highlighting their performance and features.

Advertisement for 'VOLVO 1976' models including the 740 GLE and 740 GLE Turbo, highlighting their performance and features.

Advertisement for 'VOLVO 1976' models including the 740 GLE and 740 GLE Turbo, highlighting their performance and features.

Placing a classified ad? Call OX 5-3311 between 9 A.M. and 5:30 P.M.

NATHANIEL PHILLIPS, 91, HELPED IMMIGRANTS

Labor Lawyer Founded the League for American Citizenship in 1913

Nathaniel Phillips, a lawyer who helped hundreds of thousands to become American citizens, died Monday at Mount Sinai Hospital. He was 91 years old and lived at 860 United Nations Plaza.

Mr. Phillips, who was brought here from Russia at the age of 1, founded the National League for American Citizenship in 1913.

Since then the league has enabled large numbers of immigrants to acquire American citizenship. In its report for 1935, for instance, the league noted that in New York City alone it had helped 36,000 persons with naturalization that year.

A specialist in labor law, Mr. Phillips was a graduate of City College and the New York University Law School. He had been a practicing attorney in New York City since 1907, and also served several terms as a special State Attorney General in 1933, 1935, 1936 and 1938.

In 1928 he was named chairman of the Mayor's Committee on Reception of New Voters.

He was a former director of the City College Association.

Among his clients in the labor relations field were Associated Bakers Incorporated and the Restaurant Builders and Equipment Association. In 1933, in his capacity as its counsel, he prepared a code of fair practices for the Metalware Manufacturers Association.

Although he primarily represented management in labor negotiations, Mr. Phillips had great sympathy for organized labor.

In a 1933 report he wrote to the Trade and Commerce Bar Association as chairman of its committee on industrial relations, Mr. Phillips said that the warfare existing between the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations "has been a tragic blow to the cause of union labor."

He urged that William Green, then head of the A. F. of L., and John L. Lewis, head of the C. I. O., "get together on some formula that will bring to a close this destructive warfare."

He is survived by his wife, the former Ruth Simon.

Edward Verplanck, 86, Surveyor Descended From Dutch Settlers

He Was the Founder and Vice President of the Mount Guilian Society, a Private Group that Restored and Preserved the Verplanck Homestead in Fishkill, N.Y.

Edward Fenno Verplanck, a direct descendant of Abraham Verplanck, one of the original Dutch settlers who came to what is now New York City in 1638, died Wednesday at Stamford (Conn.) Hospital. He was 86 years old and lived in Darien, Conn.

Mr. Verplanck, a 1912 Columbia University civil engineering graduate, for the past four years was the oldest registered land surveyor in New York and Connecticut.

He was the founder and vice president of the Mount Guilian Society, a private group that restored and preserved the Verplanck homestead in Fishkill, N.Y.

The land on which the homestead stands was acquired from the Indians in 1682 by Gulian Verplanck, Abraham's son.

Mr. Verplanck was also a member of the Society of the Order of the Founders and Patriots of America.

He is survived by his wife, the former Rosamund Sherman, who is a direct descendant of Roger Sherman of Connecticut, a signer of the Declaration of Independence.

Other survivors are a son, John F., a daughter, Mrs. John S. Durland, three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

A memorial service will be held at 12:30 P.M. Monday at the Mount Guilian homestead in Fishkill.

JOHN R. SCOTTFORD, 88; CHURCH BUILDING EXPERT

The Rev. John R. Scottford, a Congregational minister and an expert on church architecture, died yesterday at his Hamilton, N.Y., home. He was 88 years old.

A graduate of Dartmouth College and Union Theological Seminary, Mr. Scottford was ordained in 1912.

He served churches in Kingfisher, Okla., Dallas, Texas, Wauegan, Ill., and Cleveland before turning to church editorial work in 1931, when he started a 12-year tour of duty as editorial secretary of the Congregational Church Mission Board.

From 1943 to 1950, he was editor of The Advance, the national organ of the Congregational Christian Church.

In 1950, Mr. Scottford became a consultant on church construction and advised on the building of 1,400 churches of all denominations throughout the country.

The Church Architectural Guild of America awarded him its Conover Award in 1958 for his contribution to church architecture.

He is survived by his wife, the former Mabel Matson; two sons, John R. Jr. and David M.; a daughter, Ruth Hartshorn, eleven grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Werner Lieb, a Horticulturist, Dies on Cape Cod at Age of 93

Owned Lieb's greenhouses in New Rochelle, N. Y., from 1922 until his retirement in 1957, died Tuesday in a nursing home in South Yarmouth, Mass. He was 93 years old and lived in Truro on Cape Cod.

Mr. Lieb was born in Barmen, in what is now West Germany, and received his horticultural training in that country. Before coming to the United States in 1922, he had practiced horticulture in Morocco, Brazil, Uruguay and Argentina.

In this country, Mr. Lieb developed Lieb's winter marigold for florists and credited with popularizing through his displays at the Grand Central Palace flower shows the bright green, bushy houseplant known as the piggy-back (Tolmia).

He was a fellow of the Royal Horticultural Society of London and a founding member of the Orleans Man's Garden Club on Cape Cod.

In addition to his wife, the former Margaret Richter, he is survived by two daughters, Dr. Margaret Lieb of South Pasadena, Calif., and Anne Wolff of Yonkers, N. Y., and three grandchildren.

HELENE BERG, 92, WIDOW OF COMPOSER, IS DEAD

Helene Berg, widow of Alban Berg, the composer, died in Vienna on Aug. 30, it was learned today. She was 92 years old and had been ill for a long time.

Mrs. Berg was a controversial figure in the years after her husband died in 1935. She had refused to release for performance the last act of his opera "Lulu." It is customarily presented in a truncated form. It will enter the repertoire of the Metropolitan Opera for the first time next March.

Mrs. Berg turned over the composer's musical and literary effects, valued at $6 million, to the Austrian National Library recently.

Mrs. Berg, whose maiden name was Nahowski, was generally thought to be a natural daughter of the Emperor Franz Joseph and Bruno Walter, the conductor, states it as a fact in his autobiography, "Theme and Variations." When Mrs. Berg's husband died, she established a foundation designed to help young composers.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Sept. 9—The administrative judge of Superior Court in Fairfield County was disbarred as a lawyer and fined $250 today following his conviction on charges of having improperly notarized a signature.

The judge, Samuel J. Tedesco, who last June became the first sitting judge in Connecticut history to be convicted of a crime, wept and protested his innocence today after the sentence was imposed in the case, which is still clouded by puzzling and unanswered questions.

The rare nature of his conviction and disbarment left it unclear today whether he could continue in office. State law requires that judges be lawyers, but the State Constitution stipulates that judges can be removed only by impeachment in the General Assembly.

Judge Tedesco, one of the state's most widely respected jurists, suspended himself from most court duties after state police organized-crime detectives arrested him at his chambers here last January.

The judge, a slightly built 61-year-old man who was Bridgeport's Mayor for four terms and then was Lieutenant Governor before he was appointed to the bench, spent this morning after being sentenced and attempted to read a brief statement.

When he broke down and began to weep, the statement was read by one of his attorneys, Bernard Peck.

"At no time did I intend to commit any violation of the law," the statement said. "I have throughout my life tried to be an exemplary citizen as a member of my community, state and country. My dedication to public service is well known to the inhabitants of this area."

"My record has always been unblemished and I intend to take whatever steps are legally possible to clear my name and reputation."

Later, after Judge Tedesco recovered from what he called a "state of shock," he said he still could not comprehend

HELENE BERG, 92, WIDOW OF COMPOSER, IS DEAD

Helene Berg, widow of Alban Berg, the composer, died in Vienna on Aug. 30, it was learned today. She was 92 years old and had been ill for a long time.

Mrs. Berg was a controversial figure in the years after her husband died in 1935. She had refused to release for performance the last act of his opera "Lulu." It is customarily presented in a truncated form. It will enter the repertoire of the Metropolitan Opera for the first time next March.

Mrs. Berg turned over the composer's musical and literary effects, valued at $6 million, to the Austrian National Library recently.

Mrs. Berg, whose maiden name was Nahowski, was generally thought to be a natural daughter of the Emperor Franz Joseph and Bruno Walter, the conductor, states it as a fact in his autobiography, "Theme and Variations." When Mrs. Berg's husband died, she established a foundation designed to help young composers.

Judge in Connecticut Is Disbarred For Notarizing Forged Signature

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Sept. 9—The administrative judge of Superior Court in Fairfield County was disbarred as a lawyer and fined $250 today following his conviction on charges of having improperly notarized a signature.

The judge, Samuel J. Tedesco, who last June became the first sitting judge in Connecticut history to be convicted of a crime, wept and protested his innocence today after the sentence was imposed in the case, which is still clouded by puzzling and unanswered questions.

The rare nature of his conviction and disbarment left it unclear today whether he could continue in office. State law requires that judges be lawyers, but the State Constitution stipulates that judges can be removed only by impeachment in the General Assembly.

Judge Tedesco, one of the state's most widely respected jurists, suspended himself from most court duties after state police organized-crime detectives arrested him at his chambers here last January.

The judge, a slightly built 61-year-old man who was Bridgeport's Mayor for four terms and then was Lieutenant Governor before he was appointed to the bench, spent this morning after being sentenced and attempted to read a brief statement.

When he broke down and began to weep, the statement was read by one of his attorneys, Bernard Peck.

"At no time did I intend to commit any violation of the law," the statement said. "I have throughout my life tried to be an exemplary citizen as a member of my community, state and country. My dedication to public service is well known to the inhabitants of this area."

"My record has always been unblemished and I intend to take whatever steps are legally possible to clear my name and reputation."

Later, after Judge Tedesco recovered from what he called a "state of shock," he said he still could not comprehend

Kaufman Asks Code Requiring Lawyers To Volunteer Aid

Chief Judge Irving R. Kaufman of the Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit has proposed that lawyers "develop a tradition of tithing," requiring them to provide free legal services to "worthy endeavors."

"Our profession is blessed with an enormous wealth of talent and resourcefulness, and we must implement appropriate mechanisms to insure that some small fraction of that treasure is applied to worthy endeavors," said Judge Kaufman in a speech made available here yesterday.

"He will deliver it today to 70 Federal judges and 250 lawyers attending the annual judicial conference of the Second Circuit—which embraces New York, Connecticut and Vermont—in Buck Hill Falls, Pa."

Proposals similar to Judge Kaufman's have occasionally been made in the past and have generally elicited unfavorable, and even angry, responses, from members of the bar.

Lawyers in the public-interest field said yesterday that they could recall none of the previous proposals coming from an individual as firmly established in the Country's judicial hierarchy as Judge Kaufman.

His proposal also goes much further than most of the suggestions to finance public-interest legal work that are now being discussed by bar associations and public-interest groups.

"It may come to pass that this proposal will not endear me to the hearts of some members of the bar who are reluctant to divert their energies even slightly from the attainment of personal ends, but I think we all agree that it is the least we can do to remain true to our ideals in this Bicentennial year," the judge said.

A Chance to Promote Change

"We should grasp this opportunity to promote change from within our ranks, lest, due to our inertia, it is imposed from without," he continued.

In his speech, Judge Kaufman alluded to a 1975 resolution of the American Bar Association that said "it is the basic professional responsibility of each lawyer engaged in the practice of law to provide public interest legal services" without a fee or at a substantially reduced fee.

Generally, public-interest law is defined as efforts to provide legal representation to previously unrepresented groups and interests, such as the poor, environmentalists, consumers and racial and ethnic minorities.

While some lawyers have long devoted part of their time to representing clients for no fee, only in the last decade has public-interest law emerged. Its growth has been steady, if not explosive.

Country's judicial hierarchy as Judge Kaufman.

His proposal also goes much further than most of the suggestions to finance public-interest legal work that are now being discussed by bar associations and public-interest groups.

"It may come to pass that this proposal will not endear me to the hearts of some members of the bar who are reluctant to divert their energies even slightly from the attainment of personal ends, but I think we all agree that it is the least we can do to remain true to our ideals in this Bicentennial year," the judge said.

A Chance to Promote Change

"We should grasp this opportunity to promote change from within our ranks, lest, due to our inertia, it is imposed from without," he continued.

In his speech, Judge Kaufman alluded to a 1975 resolution of the American Bar Association that said "it is the basic professional responsibility of each lawyer engaged in the practice of law to provide public interest legal services" without a fee or at a substantially reduced fee.

Generally, public-interest law is defined as efforts to provide legal representation to previously unrepresented groups and interests, such as the poor, environmentalists, consumers and racial and ethnic minorities.

While some lawyers have long devoted part of their time to representing clients for no fee, only in the last decade has public-interest law emerged. Its growth has been steady, if not explosive.

Country's judicial hierarchy as Judge Kaufman.

His proposal also goes much further than most of the suggestions to finance public-interest legal work that are now being discussed by bar associations and public-interest groups.

"It may come to pass that this proposal will not endear me to the hearts of some members of the bar who are reluctant to divert their energies even slightly from the attainment of personal ends, but I think we all agree that it is the least we can do to remain true to our ideals in this Bicentennial year," the judge said.

A Chance to Promote Change

"We should grasp this opportunity to promote change from within our ranks, lest, due to our inertia, it is imposed from without," he continued.

In his speech, Judge Kaufman alluded to a 1975 resolution of the American Bar Association that said "it is the basic professional responsibility of each lawyer engaged in the practice of law to provide public interest legal services" without a fee or at a substantially reduced fee.

Generally, public-interest law is defined as efforts to provide legal representation to previously unrepresented groups and interests, such as the poor, environmentalists, consumers and racial and ethnic minorities.

While some lawyers have long devoted part of their time to representing clients for no fee, only in the last decade has public-interest law emerged. Its growth has been steady, if not explosive.

Deaths

PERY—Virginia, on Sept. 7, 1936, at Southern, Conn. ...
PERRY—Virginia, on Sept. 7, 1936, at Southern, Conn. ...
PERRY—Virginia, on Sept. 7, 1936, at Southern, Conn. ...

Deaths

PERY—Virginia, on Sept. 7, 1936, at Southern, Conn. ...
PERRY—Virginia, on Sept. 7, 1936, at Southern, Conn. ...
PERRY—Virginia, on Sept. 7, 1936, at Southern, Conn. ...

RELIGIOUS SERVICE

PARK AVENUE SYNAGOGUE
50 East 87th Street
Dr. Judah Nadich, Rabbi
David Lefkowitz, Cantor
The Congregation invites its friends and neighbors to meet with the Membership Committee
Sunday, September 12—10:00 to 12:00 noon
Monday, September 13—8:00 to 10:00 P.M.
Mr. Martin Leitching, Executive Director
TELEPHONE EN 9-2600

HIGH HOLY DAY SERVICES
Sabbath Service—September 18, 10:00 P.M.
Rosh Hashanah—September 25 and 26
Kol Nidre—October 4
Yom Kippur—October 4

Deaths

PERY—Virginia, on Sept. 7, 1936, at Southern, Conn. ...
PERRY—Virginia, on Sept. 7, 1936, at Southern, Conn. ...
PERRY—Virginia, on Sept. 7, 1936, at Southern, Conn. ...

Deaths

PERY—Virginia, on Sept. 7, 1936, at Southern, Conn. ...
PERRY—Virginia, on Sept. 7, 1936, at Southern, Conn. ...
PERRY—Virginia, on Sept. 7, 1936, at Southern, Conn. ...

COLLEGE STUDENTS

College students and young adults are cordially invited to be guests of the 122nd Street V at religious services, on Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur, in the Kaufman Auditorium Synagogue. For guest tickets please fill out the form below and mail to Mr. Sidney Lowenberg, YM-YWHA, 1395 Lexington Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10028, enclosed self-addressed stamped envelope. Guest tickets will be mailed on a first come, first served basis.

Name: _____
Address: _____
City: _____
State: _____
College or University: _____

STEPHEN SYNAGOGUE

The Congregation invites its members and friends to attend the Sabbath at 8:15 and 10:15 A.M.
Rosh Hashanah—September 25 and 26
Kol Nidre—October 4
Yom Kippur—October 4

SUTTON PLACE SYNAGOGUE

225 East 51st Street
Rabbi David B. Kahane, Cantor Nista Raitzin of the Metropolitan Opera and the Kadimah Choir will officiate during the coming High Holy Days.
For membership and seating reservations contact Synagogue office 569-3900.
Saturday, September 11, 10:30 A.M., Remembrance Sabbath for Victims of the Holocaust.
Rabbi Kahane will speak. "Memories Are Made of This."
SELECTION SERVICES SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 10 P.M.
Cantor Nista Raitzin and the Kadimah Choir will conduct the Selection Services. Free admission by reservation card. For admission card write or call 569-3904.

Pi E Syna

Congregation 183 E. 5th St.
Arthur Opp.
Sabbath at 8:15 and 10:15 A.M.
Rosh Hashanah—September 25 and 26
Kol Nidre—October 4
Yom Kippur—October 4

HIGH HOLIDAY SERVICES AT CONGREGATION HABONIM

At the Temple
44 West 64th Street, N.Y.C. and at TOWN HALL
123 West 43rd Street

Congregation Habonim upholds the ancient and beautiful traditions of the Jewish people and offers a full range of educational and cultural programs designed to meet the needs of contemporary Jewry. For information regarding membership, High Holy Day services, etc., write to: Temple Habonim, 44 West 64th Street, N.Y.C. Telephone 787-3347.

TEMPLE ISRAEL 112 E. 75 St. 248-5000

DR. MARTIN J. COHN, RABBI
DONALD H. RUBIN, ASSOCIATE RABBI
CANTOR JAMES J. JAVNA

JOIN US FOR THE HIGH HOLY DAYS
RELIGIOUS SCHOOL REGISTRATION
Monday thru Friday, 9 A.M. to 5 P.M.

"RE-CREATION OF THE WORLD"
Lectures by Rabbi Eli Guttman
(Rabbi of Haleside, New Jersey)
Thursday, September 16, 1936
at 8 P.M.
at Congregation Kehalath Jacob,
105 West 73rd Street,
New York
Admission free. All are welcome.

PARK AVENUE SYNAGOGUE

50 East 87th Street
Dr. Judah Nadich, Rabbi
David Lefkowitz, Cantor
Daily Services at 8:45 A.M. and 7:45 P.M.
SABATH SERVICES
Sabbath at 8:45 A.M.
Sabbath at 7:45 P.M.
Sabbath at 6:45 P.M.
Sabbath at 5:45 P.M.

TEMPLE OF THE BLESSED

15 FIFTH AVENUE
FRIDAY NIGHT SERVICES
FRIDAY NIGHT SERVICE
FRIDAY NIGHT SERVICE
FRIDAY NIGHT SERVICE
FRIDAY NIGHT SERVICE

RIVERSIDE

Memorial Chapel Inc./Funeral Directors

MANHATTAN: 180 West 76th St. (at Amsterdam Ave.) N.Y., N.Y. EN 2-6600

BROOKLYN: 310 Conny Island Ave. (Ocean Parkway at Prospect Park) Brooklyn, N.Y. J.U.L. 4-2000

BROOKLYN: 1963 Grand Concourse (at 179th St.) Bronx, N.Y. J.U.L. 3-6300

FAR ROCKAWAY: 12-50 Central Ave., Far Rockaway, N.Y. J.F.A. 7-7100

And The Westchester Riverside Memorial Chapel Inc.
21 West Broad Street, Mt. Vernon, N.Y. (914)MO 4-6800

Chapels in Miami, Miami Beach, Hollywood, Sunrise, Florida

Emtau-EI

DAILY SERVICE 5:30 P.M.
FRIDAY NIGHT SERVICE 8:00 P.M.
SABBATH SERVICES
Sabbath at 8:00 A.M. and 6:00 P.M.
Sabbath at 7:00 P.M.
Sabbath at 6:00 P.M.

TEMPLE OF THE BLESSED

15 FIFTH AVENUE
FRIDAY NIGHT SERVICES
FRIDAY NIGHT SERVICE
FRIDAY NIGHT SERVICE
FRIDAY NIGHT SERVICE

SEYMOUR SYNAGOGUE

100 East 51st Street
Rabbi David B. Kahane, Cantor Nista Raitzin of the Metropolitan Opera and the Kadimah Choir will officiate during the coming High Holy Days.
For membership and seating reservations contact Synagogue office 569-3900.
Saturday, September 11, 10:30 A.M., Remembrance Sabbath for Victims of the Holocaust.
Rabbi Kahane will speak. "Memories Are Made of This."
SELECTION SERVICES SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 10 P.M.
Cantor Nista Raitzin and the Kadimah Choir will conduct the Selection Services. Free admission by reservation card. For admission card write or call 569-3904.

People
Ford and 3 Friends
Move Into a Townhouse

As moved out of the... into an Alexandria, Va., townhouse with three classmates... Service detachment... in the basement of the President's 19-year-old... are the rent for three... for women, but she... and the University of... in January.

Daniels, a vice president... HUGH HEFNER... and chief executive... signing... and publisher of... another Knight-... will assume Mr. Ford's duties.

Stuart D. Shaw Marries
Linda Robins, Professor... Linda Robins, associate professor of French at the Bergen Community College in Paramus, N. J., was married last evening to Stuart Darling Shaw...

an W. Vessey Jr., who... in command of United Nations forces... and R.L. Henry B. du... as a "critical" head...

BUCKLEY SAYS CURBS IMPEDE BUSINESSES

Calls for Changes in Tax, Spending and Regulatory Policies to Help
Companies Provide Jobs

Senator James L. Buckley, Conservative-Republican, called on Congress yesterday to reform the nation's taxing, spending and regulatory policies, which "have impeded the ability of the financial community to function efficiently."

He said these policies had also inhibited industry from attracting the capital the nation needed "so desperately if we are to provide employment for each American who wishes to work."

Representative Peter A. Peyser, the Westchester County Republican who is sponsoring Mr. Buckley for the party nomination, repeated yesterday his appeal to President Ford to allocate emergency funds to New York City to fight crime, and he urged Mayor Beame to make a personal plea to the President for the money.

"I am convinced we can get help if you act now," he told Mr. Beame in a telegram. He cited the attack by blacks in Washington Square Park Wednesday as "another clear indication that violent crime is out of control in New York City."

Democratic Senate Hopefuls Debate a 2d Day in Row

By FRANK J. FRIAL
Meeting for their second public debate in two days, four of the five candidates for the New York Democratic Senatorial nomination reiterated well-known positions on various issues, and then concentrated on sniping at each other.

The four were Representative Bella S. Abzug, Ramsey Clark, City Council President Paul O'Dwyer and Daniel P. Moynihan. Abraham Hirschfeld was updating seeking to garner votes for the primary next Tuesday.

The meeting was at a lunch of the Deadline Club, an organization of journalists and public relations executives at Mama Leone's Restaurant, on 48th Street east of Eighth Avenue.

Mr. Clark, a former United States Attorney General attacked Mrs. Abzug for having voted to increase Congressional salaries when "there are millions of citizens unemployed" and when her husband "earns an independent salary and she received almost $15,000 for outside lectures," the maximum permitted members of Congress each year.

Mr. Moynihan also had a few sharp words for Mr. Clark, who had summoned up a quote from Edmund Burke to make the point that a good Senator represents all the people, not just narrow constituencies. Mr. Moynihan, an academician when he is not in public service, suggested that the quote was not entirely appropriate.

AGREEMENT REACHED ON TAX REVISION BILL

Continued From Page A1

significant relief from taxes paid at death for all modest-sized estates, and particularly for those left by owners of farms and small businesses. For the very big estates, and their heirs, the present law would be toughened in several respects.

The conferees decided this morning to tackle the estate tax issue, even though the House bill on the subject has become stalled in a procedural problem because Senate conferees unanimously insisted that this highly politically sensitive issue must be dealt with this year.

Representative Al Ullman, Democrat of Oregon, chairman of the House conferees, reluctantly agreed to include estate tax reform in the big tax revision bill, taking a risk that the whole package might be voted down in the House as a result.

These were the highlights of the compromise estate tax reform on which the conferees were working: The exemption from estate tax, now $60,000, would be converted into a tax credit that would be the equivalent of an exemption of $120,000 next year rising to $175,000 by 1981, where it would remain.

Shipping/Mails

Table with columns for Incoming and Outgoing shipping services. Includes ship names like DORIC, OCEANIC, and destinations like Bermuda, Nassau, etc.

Table with columns for Shipping/Mails. Includes ship names like DORIC, OCEANIC, and destinations like Bermuda, Nassau, etc.

Table with columns for Shipping/Mails. Includes ship names like DORIC, OCEANIC, and destinations like Bermuda, Nassau, etc.

Table with columns for Shipping/Mails. Includes ship names like DORIC, OCEANIC, and destinations like Bermuda, Nassau, etc.

Weather Reports and Forecast

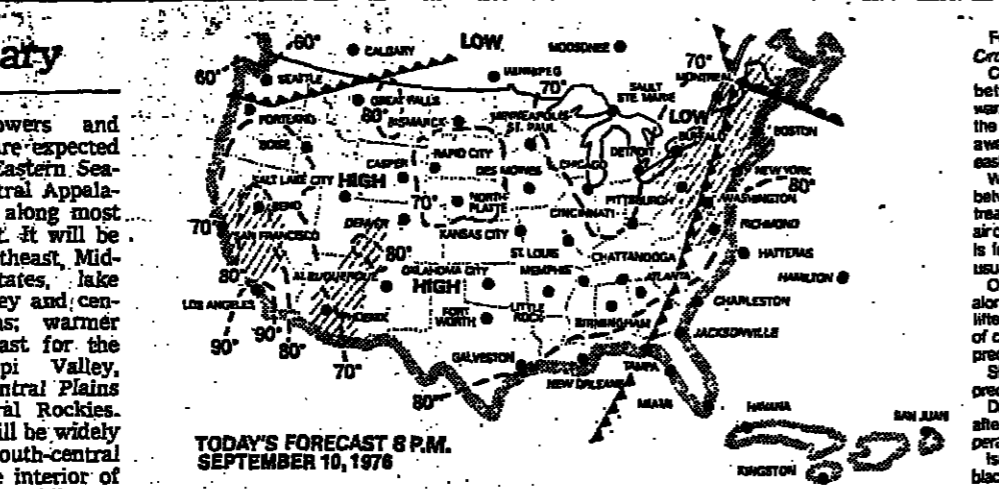

Figure shows Station... Today's Forecast 8 P.M. September 9, 1976. Includes details on temperature, precipitation, and wind patterns across the country.

Yesterday 2 P.M. September 9, 1976. Includes details on temperature, precipitation, and wind patterns for the previous day.

Extended Forecast (Monday through Tuesday). METROPOLITAN NEW YORK, LONG ISLAND AND NORTH JERSEY: Fair and cool Sunday; daytime highs will average in the low 60's...

Yesterday's Records

Table showing temperature and precipitation records for various cities on September 9, 1976. Columns include city name, temperature, and precipitation.

Table showing precipitation data for various cities on September 9, 1976. Columns include city name and precipitation amount.

Table showing Sun and Moon information for September 9, 1976. Columns include sunrise, sunset, moonrise, and moonset times.

Table showing Planets information for September 9, 1976. Columns include planet name and visibility details.

SLOW STATE PAYMENTS
HURT CITY, GOLDIN SAYS

The "incredible and maddening delay" by New York State in reimbursing New York City for its deficit... City officials have caused the city to lose $55,000 in interest over the last 30 months...

Under the compromise that the conferees approved, the gain in value from an asset was required until the date of death would not be taxed to the estate as a capital gain, leaving present law intact on that point.

But there will eventually be a change as far as the heirs are concerned. Now, the "basis" value of the asset to them is the date of death, meaning that all

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING INDEX

Table listing classified advertising categories and their corresponding page numbers. Includes categories like Public Notices, Commercial Notices, and Lost and Found.

Public Notices - $100
MISS MARY CRAIG NELSON. An action has been instituted in the Court of Sessions, Scotland, by the Executors of the late MARY CRAIG NELSON...

Commercial Notices - $100
AACAAC Auto All Gas Insured. (212) 254-7777, nyc, 220 West 41st St. N.Y. 10018.

Lost and Found - $100
FEMALE GERMAN SHEPHERD. Black face, brown eyes, may have the name 'Braney' & 'Riviera'...

The

"...my husband beats me twice a week."

"First it was his forehand. Then it was his backhand. But when he added an overhead smash, I knew I had had it.

That's what I get for indulging in a whim and letting my husband teach me tennis.

I'm glad I did. Because win or lose, I enjoy playing the game.

And that's what really counts.

That's our philosophy off the court, too.

We work hard. We play hard.

We try to take advantage of all life has to offer.

Sometimes that means going to the theater and a concert in one week.

Or, throwing an impromptu wine party.

We've even been known to fly off for an impromptu tennis weekend because we need the extra practice on our ground strokes.

I guess we know what we want from life.

And we believe in doing as much as we can today, because there'll be something new to do, tomorrow."

The way Robin and Joe feel about life is an example of the new values many young adults share today.

And because Psychology Today responds to those values, it attracts over four and a half million people every month.

People who believe in living their dreams today, not tomorrow.

For example, according to Simmons, more PT readers are into sports, entertaining and travel, than the readers of just about every other major magazine.

Our readers are young, affluent and always in the market for quality products and services.

And PT readers set the trends others follow.

PT readers live their dreams today, not tomorrow. Psychology Today

A Ziff-Davis Publication

Catholic Clerics
By Ford Sappor

Barrett...
It's... by Judy

Ministry
...ance

09/10/76